NUMBER 5309

GRADED SCHOOL ANNOUNCEMENT

Rule as to Free and Pay Pupils—Beginners Must Enter During October.

Editor Reflector:

From the number of inquiries made of me recently, I am of the opinion that section 20 of the rules and regulation of the school board may be of some interest to the people of Greenville. It is as follows: "Any child living outside the district may be admitted free of tuition provided the person with whom he boards shall furnish board and laundry free of charge." The object of the clause is to protect the school so that it may serve as effectively as possible the people of Greenville, and at the same time permit any citizen to take advantage of it for the benefit of relatives and friends, provided such relative and friends may for the time being be considered members of the family.

Each year we have several tuition pupils. Section 2 of the board regulations for pupils reads as follows: "The rates of tuition per month for non-resident children shall be as follows: For primary grades, $1; for grammar grades, $1.50; for high school grades, $2." The first three grades are considered primary, the second three grammar, and the others high school.

Citizens desiring to have their friends or relatives living outside the district to take advantage of the school will find that the rates of tuition furnish no barrier, as they are very low.

Quite a number of people have asked me about the entrance of beginners into the first grade after Christmas. We do not take any beginners except during the first month of school (October). All children in the district who are beginners and who are six years old before Dec. 1st, are entitled to enter school provided they enter during the month of October. No beginners are received after October 31st.

It will be seen that this is a very wise provision by the trustees, as receiving beginners at any and all times during the year would multiply the classes to such an extent that the first teacher could not accomplish anything.

I hope our people will bear in mind the date of the opening, Sept. 24th, and have their children at school the first day, and continuously thereafter. People who are familiar with the workings of schools are not unmindful of the fact that some of the "attractions" to be in town soon are not very conducive to study.

H. B. Smith, Supt.

Threw a Missile at Mr. Kitchin.

Quite an exciting incident occurred while Mr. Kitchin was speaking to the college boys and girls at Mar's Hill. Some sorry fellow from the outside threw a missile at him through a window, but fortunately it did not hit Mr. Kitchin, however the correspondent of the News and Observer caught the full weight of it in his face and neck. This is no reflection on Prof. Moore and his splendid school. Senator Prichard's son, a very manly young fellow, went to Mr. Kitchin after the speaking and assured him it was no Republican boy of the college who did the ugly trick. It did not bother Mr. Kitchin in his speech. He only said it was aimed at him but missed its mark.

ROCHDALE SPROUTS.

Rochdale, N. C., Sept. 10, 1908.

Miss Mary Cassiter left last Friday for her home at Snow Hill.

Mrs. C. L. Tyson and three of her children came Friday to visit her father and other relatives and returned home Saturday morning.

Ulyses McLawhorn, of Ayden, was visiting in Smithtown Saturday evening and Sunday.

Mrs. I. T. Smith and children, of Ayden, came Saturday evening to visit at Ivy Smith's.

Joe Moye, of Grimesburg, was visiting in Smithtown Sunday.

A good many of us Rochdaleites went to May's chapel Sunday, hoping to hear some preaching, but failed to do so. The preacher failed to get there, we suppose on account of high water in the river.

Joe Cobb and Miss Lillie Tucker, of Standard were visiting in Smithtown Sunday evening.

B. P. Willoughby went to Ayden Saturday.

Mrs. I. H. and Miss Mertie Flanagan were visiting at B. P. Willoughby's Sunday evening.

R. A. Smith, of Farmville, was in our town Sunday evening.

Lloyd Smith went to Farmville Friday to sell tobacco.

C. D. Smith went to Greenville Monday to sell tobacco.

Mrs. I. T. Smith, of Ayden, spent Sunday night at Mrs. Smith's and left for her home Monday morning. She had been visiting at Middlesex and Farmville about two weeks.

Joe Smith and Walter Shepard left Monday on the one o'clock train for Durham to take a collegiate course.

J. B. Joyner had a very fine horse to die Monday with blind staggers.

B. P. Willoughby went to Greenville yesterday.

Mrs. C. E. McLawhorn and Miss Mattie Little went to A. J. Flanagan's Monday and to C. L. Tyson's Tuesday and returned home in the evening.

Mills Smith went to Greenville Tuesday on business.

R. E. Willoughby and Mills Smith went to Greenville Wednesday to sell tobacco and report prices good on low grades.

Mark Smith, of Smithtown, has been sick for nearly a week.

It seems as if the tobacco has turned its course, for the most of it is going towards Greenville for the last few days, instead of towards Farmville.

I think Stokestown has about as many Stokes as Smithtown has Smiths.

Another New York Murder Mystery.

New York, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Ashton Harvey, wife of the wealthy and socially prominent lawyer of No. 33 Broadway, was found dead today, under circumstances which the police are investigating, in a pond near her country home at Short Hill, N. J., where the family has been all summer. The woman left her home yesterday afternoon to visit a friend at Madison. When she failed to return for dinner, a search was begun but no trace of her could be found. Early this morning the body of the woman, clothed in a handsome afternoon gown, was found at the bottom of the pond.

A Woman's Heroism.

History has presented few examples of greater heroism than that of Mrs. S. J. Rooke, the telephone operator of Folsom, N. M., who, when warned by a resident of the hills to flee for her life from the flood speeding to engulf the valley, rejected the opportunity to save herself and employed the hour that intervened between the warning received and her own death by drowning in calling up subscribers by telephone and acquainting them of their danger. More than 40 families have already acknowledge their lives saved through the magnificent courage of one frail woman, whose lifeless body, with the telephone headpiece still adjusted to her ears, was found 12 miles down the canyon.

PHILADELPHIA HAS FATAL FIRE.

One Man Loses His Life and a Number of Persons Seriously Injured.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—One man was burned to death, two women seriously injured and several others more or less so in a fire which destroyed the building of the Philadelphia Cricket Club this morning. The members of the club had all gone home and only employees were in the building. Thomas McHenry, a waiter, was burned in his bed. Mrs. Hollis, the caretaker, was burned and bruised by jumping from the second story window. Mrs. Driscoll had a leg broken. When the women were awakened all chance of escape, except from the second-story windows, thirty five feet above the ground, was cut off. They would not wait for help, but jumped.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 9, 1908. Pradsreet's Saturday will say for Richmond and vicinity:

Little change is noted in trade generally since last week. Orders for near future shipments of dry goods continue to come in in fair amounts. However, the volume is far below a comparative period of last year. Wholesale of shoes have had a fair season, and some houses have travelers out with spring samples. Produce and fruit show more activity, considerable shipments of Virginia apples are noted. In North Carolina the offerings of loose tobacco are larger and prices well maintained. Dealers in and manufacturers of paints and oils report active business. Retail trade is dull; collections are slow and show no improvement.

CROP REPORT.

Tobacco is being cured; in Virginia the crop has not been as seriously injured by storms as at first thought. Peanuts are reported in good condition. In North Carolina the injury to the cotton crop by storms and high water will average about fifteen per cent.

Richmond Blues Lose Uniforms.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 10.—Arriving in this city shortly before daybreak this morning the Richmond Blues, composed of the members of the first families of old Virginia, had their biggest military parade ever given in a northern city outside of New York spoiled when their train caught fire at the New Haven union depot and the cars containing all their brilliant uniforms were burned. The train of blues came here as the guests of the governor's footguard and the biggest military parade ever held in this city was planned for this afternoon. It was the first appearance of a southern military company in this city since the civil war and New Haven was en fete to honor the southerners. The elaborate bearskin and gorgeous costumes of the Blues were to be worn at the crowning dress parade feature of the march and governor's foot guard of this city had its most elaborate uniforms ready for a companion gorgeous military display.

Old Man Joe.

If old man Joe Cannon does not watch out they will get his tag this time in Illinois. When they beat him it will be the elimination of the greatest old humbug that ever lived—Greensboro Record

THEY WILL COME IF INVITED.

Some people wonder why there is so little trade going on when the farmers are daily selling great loads of tobacco here and going home with much money in their pockets. That is easy to explain. What are you doing to invite these farmers to trade here and spend a reasonable portion of their money with you? Are you paying them any attention? Are you putting forth any effort to show them that Greenville is a good town to trade in, that there are plenty of goods here, and that these goods can be had as cheaply as elsewhere? There is much you can do to help build up the business of the town, and your first duty is to see that you do your part. The farmers like Greenville. They come here to sell their produce, and they can also be induced to trade here if the effort in that direction is made. Invite them to visit your place of business, and there is no better way to give them this invitation than through your home papers.

Massachusetts has lynched another negro, and former United States Senator W. V. Sullivan led the mob the committed the deed. The senator did not try to conceal that part he took in the affair and said of it: "Yes, I led the mob and am proud of it. I did all that I could to see that the man was lynched. I saw his body dangling from a tree this morning and was glad of it. I would not mind standing the consequences for lynching a man who cut a white woman's throat. I will lead a mob in such a case any time." This in Massachusetts, mind you.

Judge J. D. Murphy, of Asheville, who was recently appointed by Governor Glenn to succeed the late Judge Fred Moore, will have only a short term on the bench, the judicial convention of the Asheville district having nominated another than Mr. Murphy for judge, J. S. Adams being the lucky man.

The Republicans of the fourth district have nominated for congress Willis G. Briggs, postmaster at Raleigh. We are willing to go a wager that he is not going to resign his present job on the prospect of being elected to congress.

We see the statement made in a Raleigh letter that "the A. & M. College students decided unanimously to abolish all hazing at that institution." You can listen for something to happen the first time the faculty is off guard.

As the platform of neither party has much to say about it, prohibition may be regarded as a settled question in North Carolina.

Now they have a great big story going about some one trying to shoot the president while he was out riding.

Greensboro may have 42,000 folks, within as many miles, but Charlotte is ahead with a real live ground hog.

Guess it gives Hearst something like a jolt to see that no attention is given to his attacks on Bryan.

It is said that both parties are after the negro vote in New York. Neither of them are after much.

We have not seen a name from Greenville mentioned in the list of contributors.

We are not betting on who will get left at the primary tomorrow.

The Republican platform adopted by the recent State convention at Charlotte advocates the giving free to every child in the public schools all the necessary text books. This would be quite a heavy expense to the State and one that those who pay most of the taxes will not be willing to bear. If the State is to furnish free to every child his or her school books, then the next step will be to furnish free the necessary clothing to every child attending the public schools!

Many white tax-payers do not relish the idea of paying taxes to send colored children to school, and many more will seriously object to paying for the school books for the colored children. Then again, many persons will object to paying taxes to buy school books for the children of parents who are rich and well able to buy them. We hardly think that this plan in the Republican platform will win for that party many voters among the great body of our tax-payers.—Pittsboro Record.

Lack of Duty Not to Force 'Em.

Durham county is after its tax dodgers with a sharp stick. It could hardly be at better business. A man who will try to shirk paying his fair share of the cost of government must be utterly lacking in self-respect and there is no other way to get them to do their duty but to force them to do it. The county which does not so force them is not doing its duty by its citizens who do meet their obligations.—Greensboro Telegram.

We are not given to making campaign predictions, but conditions certainly, at this time, point to Mr. Bryan's election. One most significant sign is that the republicans are for the first time in years, on the defensive. That they are scared, too, is indicated by Mr. Taft taking the stump.—Raleigh Times.

THE PARROT TALKED.

And the Girl Learned Something New About Herself.

"If I wished to change my vocation," said the tall girl, "I could go right downtown now and get the queerest position imaginable. It seems that I have a peculiar talent. I just discovered it yesterday. It came to light while I was waiting for an elevated train.

"At the station at the same time was a boy carrying an unusually large birdcage in which swung an unusually large parrot. Many persons gathered around the cage to admire the bird and to ask questions. I asked a few myself.

"Does he talk?" said I.
"The boy answered very patiently. 'Not any more,' he said. 'He hasn't talked for two years. He is a South American bird. We brought him here from Guayaquil two years ago, and he has never talked since. I guess he must be homesick.'

"Several men and boys hovered over the cage, one after the other, and attempted to engage Polly in conversation," but he blinked at them all in contemptuous silence. By and by I spoke to him.

"Hello, Polly," said I. "How do you feel today?"

"Hello yourself," said Polly.
"The boy nearly fainted. 'Why, miss,' he said, 'whatever did you do to him?'

"I assured the lad I had done nothing that I was aware of and that I was as much surprised as anybody at my success in eliciting a reply.

"Try him again," said the boy. "See if he will say anything more."

"I did try again, and every time I spoke the bird talked back. The unexpected loquacity on the part of the parrot inspired numerous witticisms among the men. 'It's a case of like curing like,' murmured one rude wretch on the outskirts of the crowd. 'It's a wise bird that recognizes a kindred tongue,' said somebody else. But there was one man present who descended to no such levity. He approached me in a serious manner and handed out a business card.

"I am the manager of this place," he said. The address was that of a large bird store. "Any parrot," he went on, "that has stopped talking or that is just learning to talk will talk better for a woman than for a man. But even among women there are a certain few that exercise a peculiar influence over the birds. I can't explain why. Nobody can explain it. It simply is so. I have in my store now," he continued in direct conversation with me, "several parrots that so far cannot be induced to talk. One is a beautiful Mexican parrot. He belongs to a doctor, who would pay a good round sum to anybody who would teach the bird to talk. Would you mind trying your peculiar powers on him?"

"Of course I declined the offer. I didn't feel particularly proud of certain mysterious qualities that appealed exclusively to the minds of poll parrots. Still, it is consoling to know that if I ever need a new position I am competent to fill one in which there will be but little rivalry."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Straightening It Out.

"I see," he said to the reporter of a daily paper, "that you have been writing up a shark story."

"Yes, I tried my hand at that."

"But you are a nature fakir, sir. You have a shark sweep a man off a raft with his tail and then eat him up. It is the alligator that uses his tail in that fashion."

"Are you sure about it?"

"Of course I am. What are you going to do about it?"

"Why, I'll have to write another story tomorrow and have the shark put the man back on the raft and then make some arrangements with some alligator to get hold of him in the proper way."—Kansas City Independent.

A Free Translation.

"And you say the lib of a teacher told you that you had an extravagant fool of a father?"

"That's what he meant."

"But what did he say?"

"He said it was criminal folly to waste money on the education of such a chump as I am."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Farmers Consolidated Tob Co.

(HOME OFFICE, GREENVILLE, N. C.)

WILL OPERATE WAREHOUSES THE COMING SEASON AT Greenville, Robersonville, Wilson, Kinston

It is the experience of every stockholder in this company that he never made a better investment, for the five years of its operations the original stockholders have been paid 113 1-2 per cent in cash dividends. That is the result of co-operation, good management and sound business methods.

Again it is the experience of every farmer who has sold his tobacco at the warehouses of this company that he received higher prices than other houses could obtain. For the coming season the company is prepared to even surpass the fine record it has made in the past, hence it is to the interest of the farmers to sell their tobacco with this company.

THE GUM WAREHOUSE

on the Greenville market, will this season be in charge of that prince of warehousemen, Capt. J. R. Hutchinson, formerly of Wilson, whom you have only to try to be convinced of his ability to please you.

THE STAR WAREHOUSE

on the Greenville market will again be in charge of that veteran warehouseman and champion of high prices, F. D. Foxhall, whose record in the past is a guarantee of what he can do for you in the future.

The warehouses at Robersonville, Wilson and Kinston will be under capable and efficient managers who will carefully guard the interests of all who sell with them. The wise farmer will sell his tobacco with GRAFTING.

A Lesson in Horticulture With One Serious Omission.

My neighbor Brown came to the garden fence and said:

"How do you do your grafting?"

"My grafting?" said I.

"Yes—grafting apple trees. I want to try it myself."

"Oh!" I exclaimed. "Yes, yes! Well, in the first place, I begin by lying—that is, I lie in bed to think the whole thing out in every detail. I watch my opportunity, and on the first fine day I steal a few hours from my business. Then I borrow a saw—a steel one—and with it I rob the tree upon which I want to graft of some of its larger branches. This I try to do in such a way that the loss of the branches will not be noticed. These limbs should not be left lying—that is, lying on the ground. They are unsightly and may attract the attention of passersby. They should be hustled behind the lattice-work screen at once. So far so good. Now, let me see—oh, yes! I rob another tree of a few twigs having buds on them and insert them in the ends of the sawed branches on the tree. Then I take some beeswax and tallow and melt them together. This must be thoroughly mixed. Work it for all you're worth to make it pliable. Finally with this I try to hide all appearance of the graft, from sunlight and air, and there you are—the job is done."

"I see," said Brown, "and I think I'm foxy enough to do the trick the first time trying. Many thanks."

Shortly after I heard Brown telling his wife how I explained the process. This is the way he had it:

"First," he says, "you must be a good liar; then you watch your chance and steal a half day from the company's time; then you steal a saw; then you defraud the tree of some branches, which you must hide, so nobody will get on; then you rob somebody's tree of twigs, put them in the ends of the branches and cover your tracks with beeswax and tallow."

Said Brown's wife: "I don't think that man can be trusted. He has two kinds of grafting mixed, and, besides, he didn't tell you where to steal the apple trees."—Judge.

Bargains In Heathen Deities.

There is an old curiosity shop in London which makes a specialty of heathen deities. All kinds of images, small and large, handsome, hideous and grotesque, are on view. You can choose an antique Aztec god from Mexico, carved in heavy stone and hideous enough to scare a burglar; you can purchase a marble deity from Mandalay, a wooden atrocity from the Ju Ju land of west Africa or a gilt joss from the Chinese temple.

When the Adames Move.

Mrs. K., while telling her children about Adam and Eve and the beauties of the garden of Eden, was interrupted by one of the tiny tots saying, "Oh, mamma, when those Adames move away let us get that place to live in."—Dellinger.

BRICK TALK, No. 10

Sometime ago a contractor saw our brick and then bought elsewhere with these parting words:

"If I were building for myself I would take your brick because they are worth more but I have secured a cut on some inferior ones that will do as well, for my contract does not specify the kind and 'I'M AFTER THE DOUGH'"

Contractors study their side. Why not study your side and insist that YOUR house have the same good brick that he wants in HIS.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Greenville People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back, The weariness, the tired feeling, The pains and aches of kidney ills Are serious—if neglected Dangerous urinary troubles follow.
Mrs. C. C. Joyner, 322 Eastern Ave., Rocky Mount, N. C., says: "I think a great deal of Doan's Kidney Pills having received much benefit from their use. I suffered for a long time from dull pains in my back and loins and frequently on arising in the morning, I was so lame and sore that I could hardly stoop to put on my shoes. If I made a quick movement or performed any work that required the use of the muscles of my back I was rewarded with sharp twinges throughout my body. I had no strength or energy and felt generally run down, but was at a loss to know how to obtain relief. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and believing that they might help me, I procured a box. Since using them I have been free from backache and have had no trouble from the kidneys. My advice to anyone afflicted with kidney complaint is to use Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milb Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
