STEEL BRIDGE SPANS TAR RIVER

IT IS NOW OPEN FOR PUBLIC TRAVEL

Chairman R. W. King Drives First Party Across Early Saturday Evening

There was some rapid work done Saturday on the new bridge across Tar river at Greenville, there being something like 40,000 feet of lumber laid on the flooring that day. The contract made ten days before with the Building & Lumber Co. to have sufficient lumber to complete the flooring delivered at the bridge, was carried out by that firm, and in order to hasten the laying of this flooring Chairman R. W. King, of the Board of County Commissioners, had Superintendent Joe McLawhern to take part of his convict gang there to help do the work, and the result was that all the flooring was down a little after sunset Saturday and the bridge was ready to be opened for travel.

Chairman King invited a party to take the first trip across the bridge with him, and at 7:30 o'clock the guard rails at the abutments were removed and his trap was the first to make passage across the new bridge. With Chairman King were his son, Richard, Engineer D. M. Clark who had supervised the work, Robert L. Coburn, foreman of construction, W. J. Smith, assistant foreman, and D. J. Whitehard, editor Reflector.

The bridge is not finally completed, as there are yet many finishing touches to be put on, but it is ready for passage and can be used without interference with the finishing work. The public was permitted to begin using it Sunday morning and it is now permanently opened.

Chairman King is a very happy man that the bridge is open, for the six weeks of delay beyond the time specified in the contract that it should be open has given him much concern and vexation. The people of the town and those living north of the river are also rejoiced over it, for it restores communication between them that has been more or less broken for several months.

The county is to be congratulated that a splendid steel bridge now spans Tar river here. It is a substantial structure, and in the long run will mean the saving of much money to the county. The bridge was built by the Owego Bridge Co., of Owego, New York, at a cost of $46,000. The length of the bridge is 1556 feet.

Items of Happenings Over the State Gathered from Our Exchanges

Asheville, Sept. 19.—Mr. James H. Osborne, for the past twenty-five years connected with the T. S. Morrison & Co., carriage warehouse of this city and one of the most quiet, unassuming and best known business men in Asheville, committed suicide this morning shortly before 3 o'clock in his apartments in the Y. M. C. A. building on Haywood street. No cause can be assigned for the rash act. Mr. Osborne, a member of the local council, Jr. O. U. A. M., attended lodge meeting last night and afterwards remained in conversation with friends. While Mr. Osborne appeared depressed and worried, he gave no intimation that he contemplated suicide

Mrs. M. G. Byran has returned home from a visit near Stokes. Rev. J. B. Jackson, of Fairmount, came in Wednesday evening to spend a short while with relatives.

Rev. Eugene St. Claire, D. D. will preach the dedicatory sermon at the Free Will Baptist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. At three o'clock Sunday he will also preach a sermon to the Masons at the academy.

Miss Bettie Warren and her Sunday school class spent the day here Wednesday on a picnicking tour.

Mrs. Will Uzzell and children, of Seven Springs, are visiting relatives here this week.

The ministers' conference of the Free Will church was attended by large congregations at each service. Dr. St. Clair preached Wednesday and Friday nights and Elder Peden on Thursday night. The conference closed Friday but there will be services Saturday and Sunday.

Elder Fred McGlohn left this morning for Hickory Grove church to fill his regular appointment today and tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Barnhill left this morning to visit relatives over the river.

H. B. Smith, Supt. Sept. 19, 1908.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Sept. 18, 1908. Roscoe Fleming has gone to South Carolina on business. He will be away a week or ten days. The hoghead industry has grown to be immense.

Mrs. W. M. Forrest will have her millinery opening Thursday and Friday 24th and 25th of September.

Some ten or a dozen people left here Tuesday on the excursion for Norfolk.

Within the past four years Ayden has more than doubled her population and still she grows. Watch her.

Sheriff L. W. Tucker was here Tuesday evening on business.

W. E. Hooks and J. J. Smith are now on the cotton markets in Norfolk preparing for the coming season here. When they return they will be prepared to pay the very best prices for the staple.

We learn that Lorenzo McLawhorn contemplates at an early date erecting a brick block on his vacant lot on West Railroad street. Watch her grow.

Our great big hearted, whole souled, generous farmer friends are all aglow with smiles, and why not? With tobacco selling high, the prospects for cotton doing the same, and a happy new year just ahead, its enough to fetch the smiles, and they are smiling.

Tom Jenkins has got a boy at his house that is going to make a first class pin hooker as well as a jolly good fellow, so says his daddy, and he ought to know.

Why shouldn't Ayden have a cotton factory? Situated right in the center of a rich cotton belt, that produces the very finest staple, with ample railroad facilities, there is no reason why a factory should not pay and pay handsomely. Give it a whoop gentlemen.

Tom Moore, who has been away in the eastern part of the State for the past three weeks canvassing, came home Wednesday.

Roy Cannon has accepted a position in the drug store of M. M. Sauls.

Evans, street and Dickinson avenue are presenting a pretty (?) picture to the crowds of people in town this week.

The Chamber of Commerce and Tobacco Board of Trade will meet together again in the court house at 8 o'clock tonight. The meeting should be a large one.

The Waxhaw Enterprise cheerfully argues that "money is plentiful and reasonably cheap. Banks hold large reserves of cash, and no troubles are expected when the crops begin to move. The abundance of money at the large centres insures low rates during the crop season, and this should help in the effort to take time about disposing of the crop. There has been very little trouble anywhere in the cotton belt since the panic, and the public confidence in the financial institutions is increasing." The right view and the right conclusion. Time was when the farmers had to sell their cotton, whether or not the price suited them, but conditions have changed. The day of rushing cotton to market for emergency money is, happily, a day in the past.—Charlotte Chronicle.

In an address before a chataqua at Bristol, Va., a few days ago, Gov. Glenn stated that when his term expires in January he will enter the field in behalf of the laymen's missionary movement. Gov. Glenn spoke before a missionary conference at Montreat the past summer and those who heard him were so pleased with his effort that, after a conference, it was arranged to guarantee the Governor a salary to devote his time to making a canvass in behalf of the layman's missionary movement, or in other words, to arouse interest in foreign missions and secure subscriptions for the mission cause. The governor agreed to take the offer under consideration and his acceptance is a matter of interest. He is an enthusiastic, stirring speaker and he will make a successful campaign for the mission cause. If the tight-wads among the church members can be moved at all the governor, when he gets on a full head of steam, will open their pocketbooks. If he can't do it the case is hopeless.—Statesville Landmark.

The Presidential Status Now.

How goes the battle? We are not yet prophesying as to the result, but at the conclusion of another week and the entrance upon the sixth week before the election have no hesitation in saying that if the election were to be held next Tuesday instead of six Tuesdays hence Mr. Bryan would come off the winner. He is conducting an exceedingly effective campaign, aggressive and yet judicious. His invasion of the East has been a triumph; his reception marked by a series of ovations. He was never before so cordially welcomed in New York and The Washington Post, which is opposing him, states the case correctly when it says that the enthusiasm with which he has been received in that State "cannot be ignored, by impartial observers;" that "the State was always doubtful and is doubtful now. There may be greater surprises in November," it concludes, "than the carrying of New York by Bryan and Chanler." The Republicans have become alive to the fact that the contest which they thought six weeks ago would be a holiday affair, is a matter of very serious business. Judge Taft has not measured up to public expectation, and the panic, unemployed workingmen and trust affiliation have been pressed upon them with such vigor that the Republicans are plainly embarrassed. In a word, there is everything in the situation today to give the Democrats of the country encouragement.—Charlotte Observer.

Nature Study.

In the village of H— there was much interest in nature study, and through the efforts of the local secretary of the Audubon society the teacher of the primary school took her pupils out for a bird walk. Little Edward, aged three and a half, returned from the walk much excited. "What birds did you see?" asked his mother. He thought deeply for a moment and then answered proudly, "I saw a robin—and a bluebird—and a horse chestnut!"—Lippincott's.

Dear Sir—

During the summer you prevailed on me to buy a disability policy in the Maryland Casualty Company. Within a very short time after purchasing same, I found that it was necessary for me to have a slight surgical operation performed on account of which it was necessary for me to remain away from my business for a period of about two weeks.

The check presented me to-day in full settlement of lost time, also covering cost of operation is very much appreciated, and I can highly recommend the Maryland and yourself for the prompt service rendered.

Electrified Stockings.

Robert Symmer, in 1759, described some most entertaining experiments, making use of the opposite electrifications of superposed stockings of different materials or merely of different colors, the dye matters in the latter case causing differentiation. If in a dry atmosphere a silk stocking be drawn over the leg and a woolen one pulled over it, the two will be found upon being removed to be very powerfully electrified in opposite senses. If the four stockings of two such pairs be used and then suspended together, they will indulge in remarkable antics due to each of the silk stockings trying to attract both of the woolen ones, and vice versa, and, on the other hand, each of each kind repelling the other. The amount of electrical attraction and repulsion produced in this simple way in a dry atmosphere is remarkable. The experiment may also be performed with all silk stockings, one pair white and the other black.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Greenville People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back, The weariness, the tired feeling, The pains and aches of kidney ills Are serious—if neglected. Dangerous urinary troubles follow. Mrs. C. C. Joyner, 322 Eastern Ave., Rocky Mount, N. C., says: "I think a great deal of Doan's Kidney Pills having received much benefit from their use. I suffered for a long time from dull pains in my back and loins and frequently on arising in the morning, I was so lame and sore that I could hardly stoop to put on my shoes. If I made a quick movement or performed any work that required the use of the muscles of my back I was rewarded with sharp twinges throughout my body. I had no strength or energy and felt generally run down, but was at a loss to know how to obtain relief. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and believing that they might help me, I procured a box. Since using them I have been free from backache and have had no trouble from the kidneys. My advice to anyone afflicted with kidney complaint is to use Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Farmers Educational Meeting.

Washington, N. C. Sept. 16, 1908. Editor Reflector:

I am gratified to announce that a Farmers' Educational meeting will be held in Greenville on Friday, September 25th. There will be a morning and afternoon session. The meeting will open at 10:30 o'clock, and it is important that those who expect to attend should be on hand promptly.

Some of the leading experts in agriculture will address the meeting, and will discuss topics of vital interest to every farmer in Pitt county interested in the soil. These engaged in other vocations will also find the meeting extremely interesting.

There will be no politics about the meeting directly or indirectly. The only purpose is to bring benefit to the people.

Respectfully,
Jno. H. Small.

Interested.

"It is amazing the interest a crowd will take in trifles!" exclaimed the first cynic.

"Isn't it?" exclaimed cynic number two. "I quite agree with you!"

"Why," proceeded cynic number one, "as I was coming along just now I saw a fight between a bulldog and a mastiff; and, upon my word, during the fifteen minutes I was watching more than fifty men were standing round! How can people take an interest in such things?"

"I can't imagine. And which dog won?"

The Critics.

Newitt—Yes, he's getting out a book of his poems. Calls the thing "Autumn Leaves," I believe.

Crittick—You don't say!

Newitt—Yes; rather commonplace, don't you think?

Crittick—Yes, and very inappropriate. Autumn leaves are frequently red!—Philadelphia Press.

AN EPISODE OF WAR.

The Only Coward Evans Ever Saw in the Naval Service.

After Admiral Evans had been so grievously wounded in the attack on Fort Fisher during the civil war he was picked up by a marine named Wasmouth and carried into comparative shelter. Wasmouth was killed a few minutes later. Evans' own account continues: "After Wasmouth was killed I soon fell asleep, and when I awoke it was some time before I could recall my surroundings. The tide had come in, and the hole in which I was lying was nearly full of water, which had about covered me and was trickling into my ears. I could see a monitor firing and apparently very near, and the thought came to me that I could swim off to her if I only had a bit of plank or driftwood, but this I could not get. It was plain enough that I should soon be drowned like a rat in a hole unless I managed to get out somehow. Dead and wounded men were lying about in ghastly piles, but no one to lend me a helping hand. By this time I could not use my legs in any way, and when I dug my hands into the sides of my prison and tried to pull myself out the sand gave way and left me still lying in the water. Finally I made a strong effort and rolled myself sideways out of the hole.

"When I got out I saw a marine a short distance away nicely covered by a pile of sand and firing away deliberately at the fort. I called to him to pull me in behind his bar of sand, but he declined on the ground that the fire was too sharp for him to expose himself. I persuaded him with my revolver to change his mind, and in two seconds he had me in a place of safety—that is to say, safe by a small margin, for when he fired the Confederate bullets would snip the sand within a few inches of our heads. If the marine had known that my revolver was soaking wet and could not possibly be fired I suppose I would have been buried the next morning, as many other poor fellows were. As soon as I could reach some cartridges from a dead sailor lying near me I loaded my revolver, thinking it might be useful before the job was finished.

"When I was jerked in behind this pile of sand I landed across the body of the only coward I ever saw in the naval service. At first I was not conscious that there was a man under me, so completely had he worked himself into the sand. He was actually below the surface of the ground. The monitors were firing over us, and as a shell came roaring by he pulled his knees up to his chin, which hurt me, as it jostled my broken legs. I said: 'Hello! Are you wounded?' 'No, sir,' he replied; 'I am afraid to move.' 'All right, then,' I said, 'keep quiet and don't hurt my legs again.' The next shell that came over he did the same thing and the next notwithstanding my repeated cautions. So I tapped him between the eyes with the butt of my revolver, and he was quiet after that."

The Glove on the Pole.

A quaint custom in an English town, Houlton, is "proclaiming the fair." The town obtained the grant of a fair from the lord of the manor so long ago as 1257, and the fair still retains some of the picturesque characteristics of by-gone days. The town crier, dressed in picturesque uniform and carrying a pole decorated with gay flowers and surmounted by a large gilt model of a gloved hand, publicly announces the opening of the fair, as follows: "Oyez! Oyez! Oyez! The fair's begun, the glove is up. No man can be arrested till the glove is taken down." Hot coins are then thrown among the children. The pole and glove remains displayed until the end of the fair.

How Hammer of Death Struck James.

The old parish church of Plumstead is probably at least 1,000 years old. The picturesque churchyard, a cherished haunt of the poet Bloomfield during his visits to Shooters Hill, contains a delightfully choice "derangement of epitaphs." One of these on "Master James Darling, aged 10," teaches a lesson of moderation during the cherry season to the youth of other places besides Plumstead. Speaking from his tombstone, Master Darling exclaims:

The hammer of death was give to me
For eating the cherries off the tree.
—Westminster Gazette.

Had Its Limitations.

A Scottish farmer was proudly showing a visitor an antique clock which had recently come into his possession.

"Isn't that a gran' clock?" he said.

"I bocht it at an auction sale in the town the ither day an' got a rale bargain."

"Yes, but does it keep good time?" the visitor asked.

"Ah, weel, it's no good enough to catch a train or that sort o' thing, but good enough to get up to yer breakfast wt."

A Budding Philologist.

Bobbie, aged five, saw a cow grazing in his mother's flower garden and shouted: "Scat! Scat!"

The cow didn't seem to be much intimidated and calmly ate on. Three-year-old Mary, dancing with excitement, exclaimed: "Tell him to 'scow'."

Wobbie; tell him to 'scow'!—Delinquent.

He Understood.

Newitt—Do you understand where that fellow stood—the one who was just talking to us? Jewett—Sure; he was standing on my feet most of the time.—New York Press.

We are natural believers. Truth, or the connection between cause and effect, alone interests us.—Emerson.

A Watchman at Durham Murdered.

Durham, N. C., Sept. 19.—Jack Robertson, night watchman for the Carrington Lumber company, was found dead this morning at 4 o'clock with two bullets in his body. Robertson made his last round at 11 o'clock. It appears he was in the lumber yard walking through the stacks when a man concealed behind it shot him. Robertson carried a shotgun and turned and fired upon his assailant, missing him. He snapped a second time, then fell near the place he was shot and died.

Representative Smith heard the shots and said he thought there were four pistol and one shot gun report.

This morning men knowing Robertson accused Wesley Bates, a negro, of stealing poles, and declared Robertson told them Bates threatened his life when he took out wages for theft.

Another saw Bates sneaking there last night and found his cap. The coroner's inquest held him for the murder without bail.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

Magnificent Moving Pictures Engaged for the Dixie.

The "Blue and the Gray" is a story of the Civil war scene of which is laid in Virginia. Ned Gray of Virginia and David Stratton are classmates at West Point. Stratton falls in love with Gray's sister, Alice, but is forced to join the northern army at the breaking out of war. He is wounded in battle and is nursed by Alice.

Gray volunteers to carry dispatches through the Yankee lines for Lee but is wounded and hides in his own home. Stratton "the Yankee lieutenant" helps him to escape but he is caught. Stratton is court martialed for giving him assistance and is sentenced to be shot. Alice goes through the Yankee lines and gets a pardon from the president and arrives just in time to prevent her lover being shot and faints in his arms.

This is the finest Civil war picture ever produced and has been very popular wherever shown.

"Talk it over with Willingham"

Gold.

An assayer waved his hand toward the ingots lying in a corner of the room.

"A good assayer," he said, "can tell at a glance whence a piece of gold came, as a good wool sorter can tell what country's soil gave his fleece its color. It is a matter of color. California gold is yellow, Australia gold is red, and the gold of the Ural is the reddest found anywhere. Placer gold is yellower than that obtained from the quartz, and behind you is an Alaskan placer ingot, the yellowest gold in the world."
