DEMONSTRATION FARMS FOR PITT

Farmers Should be Glad to Get the Benefits of This Work.

Dr. C. R. Hudson, specialist of the United States department of agriculture, was Monday making arrangements to have established about twenty-five demonstration farms in this county.

The object of this work is to be before the farmers of the county practical object lessons illustrating the best methods of producing such standard crops as corn and cotton, and to induce farmers to use the same methods on a few acres on their own farms. The farmer can compare results and decide for himself as to the value of the methods that are being advocated. The average farmer can properly be approached and shown actual experience that better methods give better results.

The demonstration farms will show that better and larger crops can be grown and at a vast-greater net profit per acre. They are designed to prove that there is no necessity for the widespread deterioration and general poverty of the masses on the farms. Like all other reforms, this demonstration work cannot be done for people to be benefitted, it must be done by them. The farmer must take the medicine he is to secure the benefit from.

Several meetings will be held in the county to explain the movement and to secure the cooperation of all farmers who care to cooperate in the work. Mr. F. Evans has been appointed to have charge of the work, and will travel through the county and establish the demonstration farms. Any one who can attend the meetings can take up the work by sending in to Mr. Evans their proper names, postoffice address and stating how many acres of corn they propose to devote to the work. However it would be much better to attend the meetings and get the methods at first hand. This is an opportunity for the farmers of Pitt county to obtain, without expense, the best methods known to the farming world. These methods do not originate at Washington, but all the methods already in use by the most successful farmers in the South.

The civilization of a country, as a whole, can rise no higher than the earning capacity of the farmer to support that civilization. This work is designed to increase his earning capacity without increasing his cost of production. The records kept of this work for five years show conclusively that the objects are being accomplished.

This work was started in eight counties in the Piedmont section of the State last fall. It will be extended to eight more counties this season, including Pitt.

Mr. Freeman Coming.

The many friends of Mr. H. H. Freeman, of Washington, D. C., will be delighted to know that he will give another of his beautiful organ recitals in Jarvis memorial church on the evening of Nov. 11th. He is so well known and so much appreciated by the people of Greenville that he will have a certain lighted audience at this, his first appearance in this church. We understand that the program will be furnished. The Reflector will be glad to publish a few days.

Rocheville, N. C., Oct. 29, 1908. We had very heavy rains last Thursday night and Friday. A. J. Flanagan, of Marlboro section, came over Friday evening and took Mrs. Pattie F. Smith, Mrs. B. P. Willoughby and children and Miss Lou Crawford home with him to be at the yearly meeting at Marlboro Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Pattie Smith, of Maple Cypress, returned home Friday. R. E. Willoughby went to Greenville Saturday on business. Mrs. C. E. McLawhorn and children went to C. L. Tyson's Saturday evening and returned Sunday evening in time for Sunday school.

C. E. McLawhorn went to Greenville Saturday on business. Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Smith went to Marlboro Saturday morning to attend the yearly meeting and returned home Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith went to Greenville Saturday morning and returned home in the evening.

B. P. Willoughby went to the yearly meeting at Marlboro Sunday and took his wife and children home in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Mills Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Smith attended the yearly meeting at Marlboro Sunday.

B. P. Willoughby went to Greenville Monday to sell tobacco and reports prices good on common grades. Mrs. Mills Smith and children went to visit her sister, Mrs. R. A. Nichols, in Poketink Saturday morning and returned in the evening.

And it came to pass a few days ago when the 1 o'clock westbound freight train pulled in at Arthur, that some cars were sidetracked for C. D. Smith to load with lumber, that the men got to looking in one of the cars and saw a man crouched in one corner of the car, and he moved from one corner to another where he could not be seen so easily. But one of the train men looked in and saw him and said that was all right, for they don't have to pay for riding in a box car and of course that made the man feel easy. In a short time he learned that the train was nearly to Farmville. He said he was going to Rocky Mount and went up the railroad in that direction on foot, so he failed to beat a ride Rocky Mount.

We had it rainy again yesterday and last night and today. R. E. Willoughby went to Farmville Monday and took a load of fence wire home with him for fencing his pasture.

The young men of Ayden certainly have a good band, and considering that they have been organized only a few months their music is remarkable. At several places in the county during this campaign they have furnished music for the speakings and added much to these occasions. While in Greenville between trains this morning the band played several selections at The Reflector corner, and the crowd that gathered around greatly enjoyed their good music.

THE WADESORO PLAN.

Combination Between Farmers and Merchants to Hold Cotton.

A plan has been provided by co-operation between the business men of Wadesboro and the farmers to hold cotton for higher prices. If business men and farmers would combine as has been done in Wadesboro there would be no cause for such trouble. The following is the plan: On each bale stored the farmers receives an advance of twenty-five dollars in cash, and a bond from the company that the cotton will be fully insured and protected from fire and theft, and in case of loss, the farmer receives full price for the cotton. The entire cost to the use of the farmer, including storage, insurance and the use of the money advanced is two dollars ($2) a bale. There is a pretty good profit in this charge to those who are advancing the money, but all who desire are invited to go into the combination and each one who advances money to loan to the farmers, will receive his share of profits on what they put in whether it be five dollars or five thousand. Farmers are invited to join in as well as merchants. The plan is to help the farmer hold his cotton.

The farmers' organization say that they believe cotton will go to twelve cents a pound if it is held for three months. If it does here is what the farmers gain after paying the two dollars a bale:

One five hundred pound bale of cotton at twelve cents $60.00
 If sold at nine cents would bring 45.00

Loss to farmers now $15.00
 If held for three months on a payment of two dollars a bale saves the farmers thirteen dollars a bale clear profit.

If at the end of three months the farmers wants to hold the cotton one or more months he can have it held at a reduced rate of one dollar and fifty cents for three months which would be less than two cents a day per bale, and this guarantees the farmers against all loss.—Ansonian.

Hallowe'en Party.

The Hallowe'en party in the vacant store next to the postoffice this afternoon and tonight promises to be a great success. As usual the ladies of the End of the Century Book Club are sparing nothing to make it worth the price paid. It is true they are working for a charitable cause—the public library—but they believe in giving value received, so you will gain an evening of pleasure by patronizing the party.

There will be a trick tent in the room where you can go and witness, or indulge in, if you like, all the weird games peculiar to the old time Hallowe'en party. Refreshments will be served also and you will get only the very best. If you are too busy to indulge in the fun and amusement then drop in and take supper anyway. Everything will be presided over by beautiful young ladies and they will serve you. Remember the hours, from 4:30 to 12 o'clock.

Sacred Concert.

A sacred concert will be given at the Christian church Sunday night. Splendid music has been prepared. A program will be printed tomorrow. The public is cordially invited.

Governor Jarvis Speaks.

Fayetteville, N. C. Oct. 29—The centennial celebration of Methodism in Fayetteville was concluded today with lectures this morning by Dr. W. H. Moore, of Rockingham, and Dr. L. L. Nash, of Gibson, and a splendid address tonight by Ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis on "The Possibilities of Methodism."

Will Preach in Greenville.

Rev. J. N. H. Summerell, who once served the Presbyterian church here, was recently installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church in New Bern. We understand that Dr. Summerell will again devote one Sunday in each month to the Greenville church, and this gives pleasure to our people.

The Synod.

The North Carolina Synod of the Presbyterian church has had an interesting gathering this week at New Bern. The meeting next year will be held at Red Springs.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Oct. 29.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say for Richmond and vicinity: Trade conditions generally in nearby districts are about the same as reported for the past week, showing in most staple lines a decrease since the first half of the month, while in outlying districts a decided improvement is noted specially in southern Virginia and in North Carolina, where tobacco is being marketed in large quantities at prices that show an advance over those of a similar period of last year. In North Carolina the cotton crop is considerably short of the yield estimated early in the season. Manufacturers of vinegar, extracts and grocers specialties report an increase in demand. Produce and fruit are plentiful and in fair demand, present cooler weather favors this line and will improve retail trade during the remaining days of the week. In all lines conservatism in buying is a feature. Some manufacturers in anticipation of increased demand after the election are accumulating stocks beyond the current demand. Orders for dry goods and shoes show a decrease. The improvement in collections that was expected with the advance of the fall season has not occurred and a slowness is still noted in practically all lines.

FRIDAY, OCT. 30, 1908.

Taft will get a frost Tuesday.

All together men, and give Pitt county the largest Democratic majority in her history.

Plenty of people will be short on sleep next Wednesday morning, after being up the night before to hear the election returns.

Wish we could tell you, but cannot do so with positiveness until next Wednesday morning. However, we are believing it is going to be Bryan.

Possibly the president is waiting until after the election to give out his Thanksgiving proclamation. The result of the voting may have much to do with its tenor.

A man died of excitement at one of Taft's up-State speakings in New York. More of his followers will be practically scared to death when the election returns come in.

One Republican newspaper says, Taft radiates cordiality as a depot stove radiates heat. Wonder if the author of that squib had in mind the kind of depot stove we have down this way. If he did Taft is a mighty cold man.

A mammoth cotton conference will be held in Memphis November 10, 11, 12. A number of delegates have been appointed from North Carolina, and there will no doubt be a large attendance from the cotton growing States.

Every county is entitled to 1 vote in the State convention for every 150 votes cast for the Democratic candidate for governor. In 1900 Pitt county cast 3,433 votes for Governor Aycock which gave the county 23 votes in the State convention of 1904. The vote fell off to 2,298 for Governor Glenn in 1904, hence this county's vote in the State convention of 1908 was reduced to 15. Lets make it larger than ever this time and cast enough votes for Governor Kitchin next Tuesday to give Pitt as many as 25 votes in the State convention of 1912.

The Problem of Rural Happiness Solved

We are told that immediately following the election, the members of President Roosevelt's Farmer's Uplift Commission will start South on its mission of gathering information as to how the life of the farmer and his family can be made happier than it is. This scheme of the president has been exploited more or less in The Chronicle, and when his commission reaches Charlotte, we can take the members out into the country and show them how, already, the farmers and their families are happy, and what contributed to this condition. First of all—good roads. Then the telephone and electricity. Many farm houses around Charlotte have discarded by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

kerosene for electricity. The farmer does not need to come to town to find out the state of the market. He can "call up" by 'phone." And there are churches and school houses at his door. So, his wife and his daughters can converse with neighbors in city or county. The rural carrier brings the mail each morning, and in short, the Mecklenburg farmer lives at home and enjoys himself. The farmer's uplift problem has long since been solved in Mecklenburg and President Roosevelt can get all the information here about it that he may want.—Charlotte Chronicle.

More Well-Managed Cities.

As has been the case after every fair trial of the commission plan town or city government, a trial of six months finds Leavenworth, Kan., greatly pleased. Results "far beyond expectations" have been achieved by the new administrative body, composed of a mayor and four commissioners, all good business men. The city is being greatly improved, city business of every sort is conducted with an efficiency heretofore unknown, and taxes are already lower. One of the best results is declared to be "the good feeling existing between all citizens, as a result of the disappearance of the old and bitter political feuds and rows, which, in many people's estimation, actually prevented the city's growth and development."

On October 6th Haverhill, Mass., became the first New England city to adopt the commission form of government. Commission government for cities, variously known otherwise as the Galveston, Houston or Des Moines plan, now has a foothold in every section of the country, including the South Atlantic States. It goes marching on.—Charlotte Observer.

"A good many people outside the legal fraternity have always felt that lawyers enjoy many special privileges and immunities. Whether this is true The Landmark will not stop to inquire. But it is preliminary to remarking that when they look up lawyers in the common bastille of a small municipality, as was done in Sanford the other day because a disciple of Blackstone refused to pay water rent; when they lynch the legal lights, as was done in Tennessee the other day because they had secured the passage of a special act protecting the property of a client; and when they send them to the penitentiary for robbing a client, as was done in New York the other day—if this sort of thing isn't stopped it can with truth be said that the lawyers have no more rights and hardly as many—as the common herd.—Statesville Landmark.

The British political party corresponding to the Democratic party of the United States, has been in power for the past four years. The Canadian political party corresponding to the Democratic party of the United States has just received a fresh lease of power. Let's elect Bryan and Kern Tuesday and make the thing unanimous.—Charlotte Observer.

Mr. H. A. White,
Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: During the summer you prevailed on me to buy a disability policy in the Maryland Casualty Company. Within a very short time after purchasing same, I found that it was necessary for me to have a slight surgical operation performed on account of which it was necessary for me to remain away from my business for a period of about two weeks.

The check presented me to-day in full settlement of lost time, also covering cost of operation is very much appreciated, and I can highly recommend the Maryland and yourself for the prompt service rendered.

Very truly yours,

GOOD WATER

MEANS

Good Health

Analytical tests made by the Director of the STATE LABORATORY OF HYGIENE under the control of the NORTH CAROLINA BOARD OF HEALTH at RALEIGH, N. C., shows that the water supplied by the Greenville (municipal) water works is PURE.

For the protection of patrons samples of water are submitted monthly and the reports of the Chemist are always on file in the office of the Commission for inspection.

Discard the old well or pump and get the benefit of the advantages offered by the Water Department. It not only means that you will always have good water to drink, but it will prove a great convenience. Nothing to do but turn the spigot. No more pumping and drawing.

We furnish 3,000 gallons per month for $1.00 and allow you a discount of 10 per cent. if bill is paid by 5th of month succeeding month in which service is rendered. This makes the cost only 90 cents.

Information gladly furnished to anyone regarding cost of making tap, etc.

THE GAMING PASSION

Incidents in Actual Life That Outstrip Fiction.

A COLD BLOODED MONARCH.

Louis XV. and the Dead Man at the Card Table—A Woman Who Gambled on Her Deathbed—Lord Denison's Play While His Bride Waited at the Altar.

If the full story of the card table could be written it would surely be the most startling revelation of human cupidity ever published, and almost every page of it would be marked by some incident which would outstrip fiction.

When Louis XV. was at the card table the fascination of the game made him absolutely dead to all externals and even to decency and humanity. On one occasion when he was playing for heavy stakes one of his opponents, overcome by excitement, collapsed in his chair in a fit of apoplexy. His majesty affected to ignore the incident until some one exclaimed, "M. de Chauvein is ill!" "Ill?" retorted the king, casting a careless glance at the stricken man; "he is dead. Take him away. Spades are trumps, gentlemen!"

Equally weird is a story Goldsmith tells. When the clergyman arrived to prepare a lady parishioner who had a passion for gambling for her approaching death the lady after listening for a short time to his exhortation exclaimed: "That's enough! Now let us have a game of cards." To humor her the parson consented to play. The dying woman won all his money and had just suggested playing for her funeral fee when she fell back and expired.

In the early years of last century a whist club composed largely of clergymen used to meet in the back room of a barber's shop in a Somersetshire town. On one occasion, so the story runs, when four of the club members were acting as pallbearers at the funeral of a reverend brother, some delay occurred, and the coffin was set down in the chance. One of them produced a pack of cards and suggested a rubber. The coffin served the purpose of a table, and the players were deeply immersed in the game when the sexton arrived to announce that everything was at last ready.

Mazarin's passion for gambling was so strong even in death that he played cards to the very end, when he was so weak that they had to be held for him, and the "merry monarch" spent his last Sunday on earth playing at basset, round a large table with his great courtiers and other dissolute persons and with a bank of at least £2,000 before him.

The curious fascination cards possess for their devotees is illustrated by the following story of Lord Granville, at the time ambassador to France. One afternoon when he was about to return to Paris he repaired to Graham's to have a farewell game of whist, ordering his carriage to be at the door at 4. When it arrived he was much too deep in the game to be disturbed. At 10 o'clock he sent out to say that he was not ready and that the horses had better be changed. Six hours later the same message was sent out, and twice more the waiting horses were changed before he consented to leave the table after losing £10,000.

An equally remarkable story is told of George Payne, the great turf plunger of seventy years ago. On one occasion he sat down at Limmer's hotel to play cards with Lord Albert Denison, later the first Lord Londesborough. Hour after hour passed. The game proceeded all through the night and long after day dawned, and it was not until an urgent message came to tell Lord Albert that his bride was waiting for him at the altar of St. George's, Hanover square, that the cards were at last flung down. It was Lord Albert's wedding day, and he met his bride £30,000 poorer than when he left her on the previous day.

One of the most romantic of gambling stories is told by Mr. Thiselton-Dyer of a plainly dressed stranger who once took his seat at a faro table and after an extraordinary run of luck succeeded in breaking the bank. "Heavens," exclaimed an old, infirm Austrian officer who had sat next to the stranger, "the twentieth part of your gains would make me the happiest man in the world!" "You shall have it, then," answered the stranger as he left the room.

A servant speedily returned and presented the officer with the twentieth part of the bank, adding, "My master, sir, requires no answer." The successful stranger was soon discovered to be the king of Prussia in disguise.

The most costly game of cards on record was probably that in which the late George McCulloch, chairman of the Broken Hill Proprietary company, once took part. A syndicate of seven had been formed to finance the famous Broken Hill silver mine, and Mr. McCulloch was one of the seven. One day, while sitting in a shanty at the foot of the hill, McCulloch offered a fourteenth share in the mine to a young man named Cox for £200.

Cox would only offer £120, and after much haggling it was decided to settle the dispute by a game of euche. If Cox proved the winner he was to have the share for £120. If he lost he was to pay £750 for it. He won and for the absurd sum of £120 became owner of the share which a few years later was valued at £1,250,000.—London Tit-Bits.

The beginning of excellence is to be free from error.—Quintilian.

STRAUS SAYS IT AGAIN.

Declares Republicans are Raising Big Fund for Bribery.

New York, Oct. 29 - The charge recently made by Nathan Straus, president of the Business Men's Democratic League, and subsequently denied by Treasurer Sheldon, of the Republican National committee, that Wall Street men are being assessed $500 each by the Republican committee, was reiterated by Mr. Straus in a speech before the Commercial Travelers' League today. He declared the Republicans in New York this year "have the largest corruption fund they ever had." He said he was ready to prove that statement. "I am ready to prove now that they not only have levied a tax of $500," said Mr. Straus, "but that they have a sliding scale which runs up to $5,000. I am ready to prove this and the newspapers won't dare print what I say here. I declare here and now that the corruption fund to be used this year in New York is as large as it was four years ago. They won't make public beforehand the contributions because they say it is for legitimate purposes. But they know they are raising the fund for bribery. They are using every unfair means to defeat Bryan. I defy them. I defy the Republican party."

"Associated Press Refuses Story.

"Futile efforts have been made today to get the Associated Press to carry the story. The World management assured me today they had documentary proof for everything printed and that it could be inspected.

"Sherman refuses to make a statement.

"The papers containing the story that went to news stands in Utica, Sherman's home, were bought up and destroyed.

"The Taft papers say not a word.

"No party has ever had a more despicable 'deal' from the press of America than the Democratic party now experiencing."

Profited by Experience of Married Sis.

Late this afternoon we learn that a young man of Rocky Mount engaged to marry Miss Mamie Brown, sister of the lady who jumped off the train near Rocky Mount last week, swallowed laudanum in her presence and was later picked up unconscious, but has since recovered.

Miss Brown intended to marry the young fellow, but after her sister's sad experience decided that it was better to remain single than to marry and communicating this intention to her sweetheart, he threatened to kill himself in her presence.

Suiting the action to the word he went out and procured laudanum which, returning, he drank it where she could see it. Then he left her and was later found on the sidewalk. Doctors pumped it out of him and he will recover. - Wilson Times.

Embarrassing.

A colored woman of Alexandria, Va., was on trial before a magistrate of that town charged with inhuman treatment of her offspring.

Evidence was clear that the woman had severely beaten the youngster, aged some nine years, who was in court to exhibit his battered condition.

Before imposing sentence, his honor asked the woman whether she had anything to say.

"Kin I ask 'yo honah a question?" inquired the prisoner.

The judge nodded affirmatively.

"Well, then, yo' honah, I'd like to ask yo' whether yo' was ever the parient of a puffedly wuthless cullud chile." - Lippincott's.

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Just Like This in Greenville.

Scores of Greenville people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. "What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?"

John G. Latham, 907 Cotanch St., Greenville, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills in my case far surpasses any kidney remedy I had previously used. For some time my kidneys had been in a disordered condition, the secretions being too frequent in action and the passages attended with pain. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills I was so impressed that I procured a box at John L. Wooten's drug store. They went directly to the seat of my trouble and gave me relief in a short time. My kidneys were restored to their normal condition, the secretions gave me no trouble whatever and I felt better in every way. My wife also used Doan's Kidney Pills when suffering from dull nagging backaches accompanied by headaches and the results derived were highly satisfactory."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
