FINAL WORD FROM CH'MAN ELLER

TUESDAY'S VOTE WILL PUT END TO REPUBLICAN HOPE

It Will be a Great Day for Democracy—Ninety per cent of Labor Vote for Bryan—Corruption Fund Exposure Against G. O. P.

Raleigh, Nov. 2.—My statement was published in the Sunday morning papers. In that statement I said the result of Tuesday will put an end to Republican hope, and discredit their claims as emphatically as when they claimed that white supremacy would lose in 1900. I said further that every trustworthy and disinterested message that comes from the North and West reveals the truth that the people are with Bryan. The gamblers odds on Taft, though a part of the game, have dropped. The resort to a vast corruption fund has been exposed. Every man who has faith in the American people already foresees a crushing rebuke administered next Tuesday to the corruption of the ballot. Ninety per cent of organized labor for Bryan is the latest estimate of the leaders of this great movement. A telegram just received from New York states, "In a speech at Buffalo denouncing Gompers last week Mr. Taft declared that John Mitchel, James Duncan and Max Morris, members of the executive council, had repudiated the policy adopted by the Federation of Labor. Last night Mr. Gompers made a great speech here and read telegrams from all of them saying Taft's statement conveys a wrong impression. John Mitchell added in his telegram, 'I am in full sympathy and accord with the political policies of the American Federation of Labor as it has been outlined and promulgated by the executive council.' Taft's misrepresentation of labor, if not his last blunder, is certainly his fatal blunder. At the polls is the place for all Democrats tomorrow." A. H. Eller.

MR. ELLSWORTH HERE

Inspecting Sites Offered for Public Building

Mr. G. D. Ellsworth, representative of the treasury department of the government, arrived here today to inspect the sites offered the government for the location of a public building in Greenville. At the last session of Congress an appropriation of $10,000 was made to purchase a site here, and in response to advertisement several sites were offered. While here Mr. Ellsworth will carefully inspect all of the sites offered and make his recommendation to the government as to which location is most suitable for the building. In the event none are found satisfactory he will solicit and receive other proposals. Mr. Ellsworth will be at the Hotel Bertha today and tomorrow possibly Wednesday and will be glad to talk with any citizen regarding this matter of such vital importance to Greenville.

An Awakener

An Irishman, more patriotic than clever, enlisted in a dragoon regiment with the intention of becoming a gallant soldier. The fencing instructor had experienced rather a difficult job in the matter of explaining to him the various ways of using the sword. "Now," he said, "how would you use the sword if your opponent feinted?" "Bedad," said Pat, with gleaming eyes, "I'd tickle him with the point to see if he was shamming."—Tit-Bits.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Issued Saturday by President Roosevelt.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31.—The President today issued the annual Thanksgiving proclamation in which he pointed out the steady growth of the nation in strength, worldly power, wealth and population and that our average of individual comfort and well-being is higher than that of any other country in the world. For, he declares, Americans owe it to the Almighty to show equal progress in moral and spiritual things.

The proclamation follows: "By the President of the United States of America:

"PROCLAMATION:

"Once again the season is at hand when, according to the ancient customs of our people, it becomes the duty of the President to appoint a day of prayer and of thanksgiving to God.

"Year by year this nation grows in strength and worldly power. During the century and a quarter that has elapsed since our entry into the circle of independent peoples we have grown and prospered in material things to a degree never before and not now known in any other country. The thirteen colonies which straggled along the seacoast of the Atlantic and were hemmed in but a few miles west of tide-water by the Indian-haunted wilderness, have transformed into the mightiest republic which the world has ever seen. Its domains stretch across the continent from one to the other of the two greatest oceans, and it exercises dominion alike in the arctic and tropic realms. The growth in wealth and population has surpassed even the growth in territory. Nowhere else in the world is the average of individual comfort and material well-being as high as in our fortunate land.

"For the very reason that in material well-being we have thus abounded, we owe it to the Almighty to show equal progress in moral and spiritual things. With a nation, as with the individuals who make up a nation, material well-being is an indispensable foundation. But the foundation avails nothing by itself. That life is wasted, and worse than wasted, which is spent in piling, heap upon heap, those things which minister merely to the pleasure of the body and to the power that rests only on wealth. Upon material well-being as a foundation must be raised the structure of the loft light of spirit, if this nation is properly to fulfill its great mission and to accomplish all that we so ardently hope and desire. The things of the body are good; the things of the intellect better; but best of all are the things of the soul; for, in the nation as in the individual, in the long run it is character that counts. Let us therefore as people set our faces resolutely against evil, and with broad charity, with kindness and good will toward all men, but with unflinching determination to smite down the wrong, strive with all the strength that is given us for righteousness in public and private life.

"Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, do set apart Thursday, the 26th day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and on that day I recommend that the people shall cease from their daily work, and in their homes or in their churches, meet devoutly to VISIT FROM DR. BLACK.

Preaches to a Large Congregation in Presbyterian Church.

Dr. William Black, State evangelist, preached in the Presbyterian church here Sunday to a large congregation. Dr. Black has held meetings here on two occasions and Greenville people are exceedingly fond of him. Mr. Burr, who accompanies Dr. Black as a singer in his evangelistic work, was with him Sunday and they sang two beautiful songs together during the service.

In the introductory remarks to his sermons Dr. Black referred very pleasantly to his former visits to Greenville and said he always holds our people in loving remembrance for their great kindness to him. He and Mr. Burr went out to Falkland Sunday afternoon and held services there at night.

Railway Mail Clerk Arrested.

Asheville, Oct. 30.—Mr. W. R. Baird, a railway postal clerk, running between Asheville and Columbia, was arrested here this morning about 9:30 o'clock by Postoffice Inspector F. W. Smith, of Washington, and Postoffice Inspector Samuel W. Kingsmore, charged with rifling the United States mails. The arrest of Baird occurred on Park Square and was the result, it was stated this afternoon, of a bit of clever work on the part of the two inspectors. It is said that Baird had been under surveillance for the past week and that during that time he was seldom, if ever, from under the eye of the inspectors. The evidence against the postal clerk, the inspectors say, is strong.—Correspondence of The Observer.

Duke and Miss Elkins to Wed Secretly.

Naples, Oct. 29.—The latest sensation to be reported concerning the Duke of the Abuzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins is that the couple will marry privately and unknown to the public in order to escape the curiosity of the crowd. Then, after the occurrence, they will announce the fact officially, giving at the same time the date of their union.

It is reported also that the Duke and his wife will land at Naples on their arrival from America and for a short time be the guests of the Duke's brother and his wife, the Duke and Duchess of Aosta.

From the way shares of stock are being spoken for, the sixth series of The Home Building & Loan Association, to begin next Saturday, is going to be the largest since the first. It is a good thing and every person interested should take some shares. See the secretary and he will give you full particulars.

ANOTHER SONG SERVICE.

Choir of Christian Church Delight Large Congregation

Sunday night the choir of the Christian church gave a special song service that was enjoyed by an audience that taxed the capacity of the building. Such services as this show to what extent people love music, and it is apparent that much good is being accomplished.

The program as previously published was well rendered. While the songs by the entire choir were excellent, the solos by Miss Vernessa Smith and Mrs. W. L. Hall were especially pleasing. The instrumental part of the music was rendered by Miss Minnie Funstall on organ, Mr. J. B. Moore on cornet and Prof. Bailey on trombone.

The address of Prof. H. B. Smith was exceedingly timely. He spoke of the value of such services to a community, and said that good instrumental musicians are rarely found where singing was not first cultivated. He said it is a fact that Greenville perhaps has more pianos than any other town its size to be found and our people spend money very freely for instrumental instruction, but no great musicians have been developed because singing has not been more cultivated. He was glad to see a change coming in this particular and our people giving more attention to vocal music. Parents make a mistake in telling their children they cannot sing. Every normal human voice can sing, and what is needed is cultivation and development of this natural talent.

Will Call Pastor.

The pulpit committee composed of the board of deacons of Memorial Baptist church will meet tonight at 7 o'clock, in the office of Prof. W. H. Ragdale, to make up their report on the ministers who are being considered for pastor of the church. This report will be presented to the church for action at a conference meeting of the church on Wednesday night, at which time it is important that every member of the church who can possibly do so should be present. None should stay away from this conference, as the calling of a pastor is an important matter that concerns all.

MONDAY, NOV. 2, 1908.

It is all over now but the voting and the shouting.

One thing this campaign will likely do is to put the finishing touches on Hearst.

About midnight tomorrow night the Republicans will be wondering what struck them.

The ballots will be like silent snow flakes tomorrow, and we hope will prove a burial of Republicanism.

Now get to work for improvements as actively as you have been at work for candidates, and you will see things come to pass.

The Republican candidates in this county will tomorrow get a deserved rebuke for the campaign of misrepresentation they have made.

For the last time let us remind every Democrat to do his duty at the polls tomorrow. Put in the entire Democratic ticket without a scratch.

Democrats of Pitt county, go to the polls tomorrow and let's roll up such a majority for the entire ticket as will make Pitt the banner county of the east. We can do it if every man will do his duty. To the polls, men, and work as you never did before.

A clean, aggressive campaign has been conducted by the Democrats of Pitt county, and the work of Chairman F. C. Harding has proven that the executive committee made no mistake in selecting him to lead the forces in this county. He has had the support of a good working committee, and much credit is due him and them for their untiring efforts in the cause of Democracy and good government.

Some time ago a decision of the State Supreme Court brought out the fact, which had been ignored by most of the counties in the State, that the constitution limits the poll tax for State and county purposes to $2. The question then arose whether in levying the special taxes voted for educational and other purposes a tax could be levied on the poll if this levy raised the amount of poll tax to more than $2. The Supreme Court has decided this question in the case of Perry vs. the Commissioners of Franklin county. It holds that the article of the constitution restricting State and county poll tax to $2 for general purposes, does not prohibit the levy of a special tax on the poll in excess of that amount when the special tax is voted by the people for some specific purpose, as provided in another article of the constitution. For instance, special taxes may be voted for roads, schools, or municipal purposes and this tax can be levied on the poll in excess of the $2 for State and county purposes. The special question was with by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 7c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

reference to special taxes for schools in school districts, and this decision means that the special tax can be levied on the poll although the extra levy is in excess of the $2 for general purposes.--Statesville Landmark.

With the exception of Washington, who died at the age of 67 two years after leaving office, most of the early presidents lived to advanced years. John Adams was 60 when his term was done and lived to be 90; Jefferson was 66 and lived to be 88; Madison was 66 and lived to be 85; Monroe was 67 and died six years later; John Q. Adams was 62 and lived to be 80; Jackson was 70 and lived to be 78; Van Buren was 59 and lived to be 79; Tyler was 55 and lived to be 72; Polk was 28 and died the year of his retirement; Fillmore was 53 and lived to be 74; Pierce was 53 and lived to be 64; Buchanan was 70 and lived to be 77; Johnson was 61 and lived to be 66; Grant was 55 and lived to be 63; Hayes was 58 and lived to be 70; Arthur was 55 and died a year later; Harrison was 59 and lived to be 67; Cleveland was 60 when he finished his second term and lived to be 71.

During the summer you prevailed on me to buy a disability policy in the Maryland Casualty Company. A Curious Spanish Custom.
Ellen Maury Slayden in the Century in an account of her own and her husband's lavish entertainment in a Spanish household says:

"No custom of the house was so unaccountable as that of having people come 'to see you eat.' Enjoying a square meal while our guests inhaled cigarette smoke seemed so inhospitable that I sometimes playfully insisted upon their having something with us.
It was always laughingly declined, except once when a particularly lively youth took a piece of ham and ate it with all sorts of self-conscious little antics, as if he were acting a pantomime."

Shortening of the Day.
It has long been known theoretically that the tides act as a brake on the rotating earth and tend to lengthen the day. The effect, however, is so slight that it cannot be measured in any length of time at man's disposal.
It may be estimated with the aid of certain assumptions, and, using the data available, W. D. MacMillan made the necessary computation by the formulas used by engineers. He finds for the increase of the length of the day one second in 400,000 years.

Waiting.
"Where are you lunching now?"
"Over here at one of these places where you wait on yourself. Where are you eating?"
"Oh, I'm still over there where you wait on the waiter."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Good Guesser.
Aubrey—I say, old chap, I suppose you can't lend me a fiver? Plantagenet —No, my dear boy, but a man with your capacity for guessing the right thing ought to be able to win a fortune on the turf.—London Telegraph.

Expert Criticism.
"I don't like that judge," said the smooth crook; "his speech is so jerky."
"I would say," remarked the Boston burglar, "that, though they are unheterical, I rather like his short sentences."—Baltimore American.

BATHING AT DIEPPE.

When the Comtesse de Boigne Tried It In the Year 1806.

The Comtesse de Boigne in her memoirs gives an account of a visit she paid in 1806, which is interesting in view of the position Dieppe now holds among French watering places.

"The poverty of the inhabitants," she says, "was frightful. The Englishman, as they called him (and for them he was worse than the devil), was cruising incessantly before their empty harbor. With much difficulty a boat was able to escape from time to time and go fishing, always at the risk of being captured by the foreigner or confiscated upon the return journey if the telescopes of the watchers had seen it approach a vessel.

"As for the comforts arranged for the convenience of bathers which Dieppe has since organized, they were nonexistent at that time. My brother was able to find a little covered cart, and with great trouble and great expense, notwithstanding the universal poverty, a man was hired to lead the horses down to the sea and two women to go into the sea with me.

"These preparations raised the public surprise and curiosity to such a pitch that my first bath was watched by a crowd on the shore. My servants were asked if I had been bitten by a mad dog.

"I aroused extreme pity as I went by, and it was thought that I was being taken down to be drowned. An old gentleman called on my father to point out to him that he was assuming a great responsibility in permitting so rash an act. It can hardly be imagined that the inhabitants of a sea-shore could be so afraid of the sea.

"But at that time the people of Dieppe were chiefly occupied in keeping out of sight of it and in protecting themselves from the disasters which they feared the sea might bring, so that it was for them nothing more than a means of annoyance and suffering. It is curious to think that ten years later bathers were arriving in hundreds, that special arrangements were made for their convenience and that sea bathing of every kind went on without producing any astonishment in the neighborhood.

"I have thus attempted to point out that the custom of sea bathing, which is now so universal, is comparatively recent in France, for Dieppe was the first place where it began."

TREE DWELLING ANTS.

South American Insect That Acts as Plant Guardian.

Ant defenders of plants and trees are some of nature's pretty marvels. The Cecropia adenopus is a remarkable tree of south Brazil, widely distributed through the tropics. Its slender trunk is crowned with long leaves at the ends of the branches.

A few active ants run continually along the branches and the leaves, but if the tree is shaken slightly an army of ants rushes out by small apertures ready for a savage assault on the intruder. The ant is the terrible guardian that the tree has retained to protect it from its most formidable enemy, the leaf cutter ant.

The defenders rarely leave their retreat, where they live on small whitish egg shaped bodies about one-twelfth of an inch long, known as Mueller's corpuscles. These are formed of delicate tissue, rich in proteids and all, as rations for the garrison of defender ants to feed upon. The curious arrangement by which entrance is made to the hollow stem has been studied by W. Schimper.

Just above the point of insertion of each leaf extends nearly to the superior node a superficial groove, at whose end is a rounded depression. There the tissue is thin, like a diaphragm in a tube, and it also is soft. The hole by which the ant enters is always pierced at this spot. The ants seem to have made their entrance through the groove originally because it was at the top. In the course of this plant's further development natural selection augmented these natural advantages, so that finally the thin, frail diaphragm as it exists today was developed.—Chicago Tribune.

Married the Day They Met.

Horace Greeley and Mary Young Cheney were married the first day they met. They had corresponded for some time, a common friend who was something of a matchmaker having brought this about. She was all his fancy painted her, but she was much disappointed in his appearance, so much so that when he appeared before her, having proposed and been accepted by letter, she frankly told him that, although she married him, she was not in love with him. Their married life was long and happy, and the loss of his wife was a blow which Greeley did not long survive.

Tommy's Lunch.

Uncle (who left his nephew "refreshing")—Well, Tommy, you see I'm back. Are you ready? What have I to pay, miss? Waitress—Three buns, four sponge cakes, two sandwiches, one jelly, five tarts and—Uncle—Good gracious, boy! Are you not ill? Tommy—No, uncle, but I'm very thirsty.—London Tit-Bits.

British Pride.

British hypocrisy is gradually disappearing. Until a few years ago most Englishmen fancied that to be born in the United Kingdom was to be a paragon of all the virtues.—Brussels Solr.

Envy.

"Don't be covetous," said Uncle Eben. "Envyin' what yoh neighbor has is mighty apt to put de opportunity in yoh neighbor's way for handin' yoh a gold brick."—Washington Star.

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Just Like This in Greenville.

Scores of Greenville people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

John G. Latham, 907 Cotanch St., Greenville, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills in my case far surpasses any kidney remedy I had previously used. For some time my kidneys had been in a disordered condition, the secretions being too frequent in action and the passages attended with pain. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills I was so impressed that I procured a box at John L. Wooten's drug store. They went directly to the seat of my trouble and gave me relief in a short time. My kidneys were restored to their normal condition, the secretions gave me no trouble whatever and I felt better in every way. My wife also used Doan's Kidney Pills when suffering from dull nagging backaches accompanied by headaches and the results derived were highly satisfactory."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Stones and Glass Houses.

The origin of the saying, "Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones," is as follows: At the time of the union of England and Scotland, London was inundated with Scotchmen, and London roughs used to go about at night breaking their windows. Buckingham being considered the chief instigator of the mischief, a party of Scotchmen smashed the windows of the duke's mansion, known as the glass house. The court favorite appealed to the king, who replied, "Steenie, Steenie, those who live in glass houses should be careful how they fling stones!"

Just What He Needed.

An invalid called on a physician for advice. The doctor wrote out a prescription, charging the patient 2 guineas for it. Some time afterward they met in the street.

"Well," said the doctor, "you are looking 100 per cent better! That medicine, though a little expensive, was just what you needed."

"Doctor," replied the patient, "after I had paid you the 2 guineas for the prescription I couldn't afford to have it made up, so I didn't take a single dose!"—London Answers.

If you intend to do a mean thing wait till tomorrow. If you intend to do a noble thing do it now.
