WITH THE ALDERMEN.

They Have Lengthy Session Thursday Night.

The Board of Aldermen met in regular monthly session Thursday night with all the members present, and the meeting was prolonged until midnight owing to the amount of business before them.

R. O. Jeffress appeared before the board in regard to having the street improved leading from Dickinson avenue to the factory of the Imperial Tobacco Company, and the matter was referred to the street committee.

E. H. Evans appeared with a request that the board aid Hope Fire company in the purchase of a fire hose wagon. A committee was appointed to confer with Hope Fire company in regard to the matter and also as to the receipts from the recent carnival.

D. R. King was granted permission to run a delivery wagon for the sale of bread and cakes.

G. E. Harris appeared in regard to repairing Short street leading to the wharf, and this was referred to the street committee.

The finance committee reported that reports of officers and bills for the past month had been examined and were found correct.

The building committee reported that they had conferred with the finance committee and concurred with the latter in the matter of erecting a municipal building on the property belonging to the town on Fifth street.

The mayor and clerk were authorized to execute three notes in favor of the Austin Machinery company, payable in one, two and three years, in payment for the street sweeper purchased by the town.

The market committee reported that one front stall in the market house was vacant.

A communication from W. H. Coburn and others asking that a street be opened from "Higgstown" to "Perkinstown" in West Greenville, was referred to the street committee.

A communication was read from the water and light commission in regard to extending the water main from the corner of Evans street on Twelfth street to the corner of Washington street and then on Washington street to the corner of Eleventh street, two fire hydrants to be placed on the extended line. This was referred to the water and light committee.

The salaries of the police officers were increased to the same figures as last year, chief $60 per month, assistants and night police to $50 per month.

The mayor was instructed to draft an ordinance in regard to surface privies, to spitting on paved sidewalk, and to have owners of abutting property to sweep paved sidewalks on Evans each Saturday night so they will present a cleanly appearance on Sunday.

The proposition of R. T. Evans to sell the town his lot and building used as a photograph gallery on Dickinson avenue for $750 so that a sidewalk could be opened there was accepted; also the proposition of E. B. Higgs to give the town $235 for the remainder of the lot and building after the town has taken off 10 for the sidewalk. This leaves a net cost to the town of $515 for the property for opening the sidewalk.

The chief of police was ordered

PITT COUNTY'S VOTE.

These figures show that Taft lead the Republican ticket nearly a hundred votes. There is not a township in the county that gave the Republican ticket a majority. Shortly The Reflector will print a table showing the vote of the county by townships.

CRAWFORD AND BROOKS LEFT.

Republicans Get Three North Carolina Congressmen.

It was known early that Hackett had been defeated by Cowels in the eighth district, and official returns show that the Republicans also carried the fifth and tenth districts.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 5.—John G. Grant, of Henderson county, has been elected to the National Congress of the United States from the tenth North Carolina district by a majority of 355.

The official returns from all the thirteen counties in the district with the exception of Clay, have been received at Republican Congressional headquarters here, and estimating Clay for Crawford by a majority of 88, which the Democrats claim, Mr. Grant has carried the district by 355.

The greatest surprise to the Democrats today was the official returns from Cherokee, giving that county to Grant by 413 majority.

The Democrats had been figuring on Cherokee for Grant, by 250 Macon also dished up a surprise for the Democrats. It was first stated that Macon had gone for Crawford, although the Republicans hooted the idea. Macon gives Grant 91 majority.

Rutherford fell off badly in her Democratic majority, while Buncombe went back on Crawford entirely.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 5.—Official returns from all counties in the Fifth district show that Morehead has defeated Brooks by 364 majority. The vote in Fifth district follows:

Brooks' majority: Caswell, 509; Durham, 20; Guilford, 615; Granville, 1,013. Total, 2,156.

Morehead's majority: Rockingham, 217; Surry, 1,001; Orange, 64; Person, 183; Stokes, 681; Alamance, 47; Forsyth, 327. Total, 2,520.

to have restored the foundations under that portion of the stables of E. B. Ficklen on Fourth street which had fallen out by reason of work done by the town in cutting down the sidewalk; and he was also instructed to have the plank sidewalk on Fourth street that needs attention put in good condition.

Next in interest to the election news is the arrest of ex-Senator Marion Butler on a warrant sworn out by Republican State Chairman Adams charging criminal libel and the preliminary hearing of the case before Justice of the Peace Collins, in this city, today. Butler was arrested near his home in Sampson county yesterday while on his way to the polls to vote and arrived in Greensboro this morning, accompanied by Judge W. S. O'B. Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4, 1908, Bradstreet's Saturday will say for Richmond and vicinity:

A dullness is noted in practically all lines this week, due partly to the election period. Continued warm weather has retarded retail trade locally, while in outlying districts a more active trade continues especially in districts where tobacco is being worked in large quantities. Weather favorable to handling tobacco has existed for the past week and large offerings are expected. Jobbers of practically all staple lines report a decrease in orders for the last half of October. Produce is plentiful and in fair demand. Building shows a decrease. Collections are slow.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

Mrs. L. C. King, of Farmville, spent Thursday with friends here.

Mrs. O. B. Baines, of Spring Hope, is visiting Mrs. L. W. Tucker.

VILLAGE OF CLAY HOUSES.

Novel Project Started in New Jersey—Fire Danger Averted.

An unusual undertaking, the building of a fireproof village, is in progress at Mountain Station, on the border line between Orange and South Orange, N. J. Six houses are well on the way to completion already and they are all made of burned clay in the form of hollow blocks. The roofs are of either asbestos shingles or slate.

Nowhere else in the country, it is said, are there so many fireproof dwelling houses in one group. The scheme is the result of the study of improved methods of construction within the last few years.

The heirs of the Henry A. Page estate are carrying through the undertaking. One of the Page heirs who has been interested, for several years, in developing the properties of the estate, formerly put up a house of reinforced concrete. Recently he retained an engineer to make a special investigation of fireproof materials and building methods, for the purpose of comparison. The consequence of the investigation was the terra cotta blocks, instead of concrete, were chosen for the Jersey dwellings. Squires and Wynkoop and Rossiter and Wright are the architects.

Each of the houses now being built at Mountain Station has eight or ten rooms. All partitions, as well as the floors and outside walls, are of terra cotta, so that a fire could not spread from one room to another. In one of the houses is a floor with a span of eighteen feet, the longest span ever made with this type of construction. Altogether, the National Fireproofing Company has furnished nearly 40,000 square feet of the hollow blocks for the six buildings.

FRIDAY, NOV. 6, 1908.

We had rather hear business talk now than politics.

As the Republicans won out all right you will not hear much more about reforming the tariff.

Those factories that were going to resume operations as soon as Taft was elected should be getting a move on.

If everybody will get to work now to bring more capital and more business to Greenville it will do more good than political agitation.

The bulk of the northern vote is purchasable, and the favored trusts and protected monopolies can put up the money to buy them and hardly miss it.

Of course the South does not expect much from the government, but she is pretty well able to take care of herself, and "chip in" her part of the taxes, too.

Republican candidate for governor, Cox, is reported to be expressing much satisfaction over the result. He certainly did get beaten bad enough to be satisfied.

The Republicans are asked to send along their promised prosperity. The country needs it, but so far only the trusts and protected monopolies have been getting it.

Several of them are trying to explain how it happened, but we don't see any good to come out of that. Just as well accept the result and go to talking about something else.

The Republicans are always going to do something after a while. Their past election talk is that they will carry North Carolina next time, but there is more in that than in their promise to reform the tariff.

The Republicans did not make public their campaign contributions before the election, and and there is hardly any use of doing so now. But they may give some sort of a garbled report, keeping hid what the trusts and big corporations did.

Though it may not have been intended that way, the Greensboro News came right close to the truth when it said Mr. Bryan "is the best friend the Republican party ever had." The Republican has indeed found much to imitate in the principles and policies advocated by Mr. Bryan, and but for the adoption of many of these principles by the Republicans that party would not have had such a sweeping victory on Tuesday. It is well known that President Roosevelt adopted some of Mr. Bryan's leading ideas as his own.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Equipment for Life.

Professor Kern, superintendent of county schools in Rockford, Illinois, has formulated a new commandment—"Thou shalt enrich and enlarge the life of the country child," and in pursuance of this injunction, the smallest county in Illinois—Putnam—has inaugurated a new order of educational methods by establishing a "consolidated" school. The farmers of Magnolia township—mostly descendants of sturdy Quaker stock—have swept all the small schools of their section into one large one—a substantial building situated on twenty acres of fine forest, furnished with steam heat, gas and running water, and equipped with laboratories, libraries, manual training rooms, play rooms, work shop, cloak rooms and office. The course of instruction includes the preparatory grade and the high school course, with special attention given to agricultural science, horticulture, animal husbandry, domestic science and home economics, the training being such as will tend to conserve what is best and richest in a life distinctly rural. The educational creed thus inaugurated for farming districts is that the country child is entitled to every what as good an educational opportunity as that now enjoyed by the most favored city child now attending the American public schools.—Mary E. Bryan, in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine for November.

Tolerance in Politics.

The growth of tolerance in political affairs has been plainly demonstrated in the campaign which closed yesterday. The freedom with which men have been permitted to express their political views without the danger of wholesale denunciation was one of the marked characteristics of the campaign and in strange contrast with conditions of former days, when, to differ from the dictates of the party bosses was regarded as no less than treason. It is evident that the spirit of commercialism and industrialism has been growing at a healthy rate. There will be more tolerance of individual opinion in politics four years hence than there is now and we believe the country will be the better for it—that its conditions will be better when candidates are selected and voted on for their fitness for the office to which they aspire, instead of being offered as candidates for party reward, as has been too often the case in recent years.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Greenville N. C.
 September the 17th 1908.

Mr. H. A. White,
 Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir—

During the summer you prevailed on me to buy a disability policy in the Maryland Casualty Company. Within a very short time after purchasing same, I found that it was necessary for me to have a slight surgical operation performed on account of which it was necessary for me to remain away from my business for a period of about two weeks.

The check presented me to-day in full settlement of lost time, also covering cost of operation is very much appreciated, and I can highly recommend the Maryland and yourself for the prompt service rendered.

Very truly yours,
 W. E. HOOKER.

FEARLESS AMERICANS.

On Land and Sea They Take Chances With Reckless Courage.

The American people are afraid of nothing under the sun. Notwithstanding the horrors upon horrors on land and sea, involving injuries to hundreds of thousands annually and death to tens of thousands, there seems really to be no scare in us. Excepting a mere handful of nerve wrecked invalids, who take thought of what may happen when on pleasure bent? Who stays away from the theaters because a few occasionally burn down, with great loss of life? Who demands a seat near an exit? Who quits riding on railroads because they kill 10,000 passengers a year and injure 80,000? Who looks for a safe seat? Who is afraid to travel seventy-five miles an hour?

Who chooses his stateroom on a transatlantic liner with a view to safety? Who asks the agent in what part of the vessel lurks the least danger? Who remains awake all night to look out for collisions and icebergs? Who cares if the billows are mountains high? Who hesitates to enjoy the festivities of the saloon, the smoking room or the concert room because of the leviathan's pitching and rolling? Who counts the number of lifeboats or examines the location of the safety devices? Who takes the trouble to inquire if there is a fire fighting apparatus on board? Who gives a rap about the fire drill? Who thinks about anything but a lot of fun and a quick voyage?

Who of all the millions that register in hotels asks about fire escapes? Who feels the slightest uneasiness about the safety of the elevators? Who would refuse an office at the top of a thousand foot tower? Who considers the possible horrors of a flood in a Hudson river tunnel? Who hesitates to cross the Brooklyn bridge, even though experts report its cables far too weak to sustain the burdens imposed upon them? Who's afraid of who anyway? Who's afraid of what? The worst panic is forgotten in a few days. (I do not refer to money panics, which are never forgotten by those on the losing side.)—Exchange.

Sorry For Him.

A laborer was engaged in the grounds of an insane asylum and received instructions to pay no attention whatever to the remarks of the patients.

Some little time after he commenced work the governor of the asylum, a well known doctor, looking at the progress of the work, mildly suggested one alteration. The workman dug steadily on and never lifted his head. The doctor raised his voice, but the man, without answering, went on digging energetically. The doctor threatened, stormed and finally thundered out: "Do you know who I am?"

The laborer straightened his back, looked at him a minute, and, shaking his head, sorrowfully exclaimed, "Poor chap, I am sorry for ye!" and went on calmly with his work.

The Banana.

The banana is said to have thirty-four times the nutritive value of the potato and twenty-five times that of bread. In the West Indies the natives cut the fruit into strips called "pegs," dry these in the sun and grind them into flour, out of which many excellent dishes are made. No cheaper food grows in the tropics. The plant begins bearing fourteen months after being planted. It requires no cultivation and produces harvests uninterruptedly for eleven years. A few feet of ground nourishes a plant, and the space of a dooryard will grow plants enough to maintain a large family.

BLACK FOX PELTS.

Only About Five Skins Are Secured
Each Year.

In the estimation of trappers of the Canadian northland as well as in the eyes of the nobility of Russia there is only one king of beasts, the highly prized black fox. On an average five perfect pelts of this rare fur bearer are brought down from the northland each year and in rare years as many as ten or twelve, though each year thousands of men make a living trapping and the yearly catch of foxskins amounts to over 100,000 from Canada alone.

In no way except in color does the black fox differ from the red fox, whose pelt sells for about $2, or from the gray fox, whose winter coat is valued at from $150 to $400, but whenever a hunter can secure a black fox and remove its skin without marring the fur he is sure of receiving from $800 to $1,500 for his trophy. Not only is every black fox pelt bought as soon as taken, but a dozen Russian noblemen have paid agents travelling in North America all through the winter seeking out remote hillside farms and abandoned logging camps where it is possible that a shy and elusive black fox may have been seen.

Within the last twenty years a number of wealthy men who have owned fenced game preserves have spent vast sums of money in buying foxes alive and turning them loose within private inclosures. By and by it may be that some skilled or fortunate breeder will produce a black pup or perhaps a pair of black foxes may be captured alive, and from these a new breed of black foxes will arise and cause a great panic among the men who hunt for black foxes. He who can wrest the secret of breeding black foxes from nature is assured of riches past counting and can command the worshipful homage of the Russian nobility and aristocracy, who seem willing to sacrifice untold wealth for the pleasure of wearing overcoats made from the pelts
of American black foxes.—Edmonton Cor. Toronto Globe.

GROWTH OF CARICATURE.

John Law's Wild Schemes Gave It a Tremendous Impetus.
Caricature is nowadays one of the principal methods of criticism. No movement can overreach the mark without eliciting dozens of works of art from caricaturists all over this and all other countries.

This branch of criticism and attack dates far back; but the greatest impulse it ever felt came from the age of tremendous speculation, when, in 1719 and 1730, John Law was manipulating things financial in France. Never before had the financial world been so carried off its feet as it was at that time. Members of the nobility were waiting for a chance to purchase shares in Law's schemes. Diebecken and ladies of high renown tried their most persuasive charms on Law in the attempt to get hold of shares. Men hired out their backs for writing desks, so great was the press of business in making contracts, and one hunchback is reputed to have made 100,000 francs in this way in a few weeks. The French went veritably mad over the schemes to become wealthy. Naturally the papers of the time, especially those of Holland, caricatured the state of affairs. There were pictures of all sorts caricaturing Law, the nobility, the schemes and everything connected with them.

It was this tremendous amount of pictorial work that first directed the energies of William Hogarth in London. In this direction, Caricaturing began to be used more and more in the political field, and soon afterward it caused the shelving of Robert Walpole from the English ministry. Ever since then has caricaturing been one of the bitterest and most effectual methods of checking public men and their schemes.

Another Knock.

"Hotel clerks are cold hearted," said
the shabby tragedian, who was traveling with a toothbrush and a compass.
"Speaking from experience, pal?"
asked his landlady.
"Sure! I approached the clerk of the Red Dog inn and told him actors deserved special terms."
"Ah, indeed! And what did he say?"
"He said yes, they deserved six month terms in the county workhouse."—Chicago News.

No Fiction.

It was a clerk in a Detroit bookstore of whom a prim matron demanded a book for her son. "No fiction, please,"
she explained, "but absolute, literal truth, without unnecessary verbiage or absurdly fanciful pictures."
"Well, madam," the bookseller paused, his eye running over his shelves; then, with a flash of inspiration, he took down a volume. "I should think this might meet your requirements," he said, and he handed her a popular geometry.

Feminine Fortitude.

Comparisons of the relative fortitude
of men and women are idle as odious.
Parallel lines never meet, as we all know. Still, no man ever yet smiled with the toothache, while women have been known to manifest continued gayety under the trying combination of new shoes, a violent headache and a pin sticking straight into the shivering spine.—Exchange.

TRACING POISONS.

The Power of Analysis of the Modern Chemist.

The ancients had no knowledge of ptomaines, and evidence points to the fact that most of their poisonings was achieved by the simplest means. We know that powdered glass was used with dire effect. Arsenic undoubtedly was a prime favorite with wicked Italian and French court ladies. It should be remembered that until the second quarter of the nineteenth century arsenic could not be identified with certainty in the body of one who died from it. Now it is the most easily recognized of all poisons.

Taffania, the notorious Italian female poisoner, used arsenic. She gained large sums of money by the sale of mysterious preparations which were merely solutions of arsenic acid. These were sold in small vials bearing the image of a saint.

To detect the presence of poison an analytical chemist may spend many days with test tube, watch glass, reagent and microscope. Even if death has been caused by a poison whose mere smell has been fatal, truth will out, and there is more than one poison of this subtle kind. For instance, oil of almonds—which is used for making toilet soaps and also for increasing the scent of lavender—if inhaled sufficiently causes death by nitrobenzole poisoning.

But the cause can be unerringly ascertained in a postmortem examination. And no less certain of detection are poisons injected by hypodermic syringe.

Extraordinary is the power of analysis that modern science has placed in the hands of the chemist, and few subjects are more interesting than the processes he employs. In the silence and secrecy of the laboratory many a dramatic experiment is worked out.

Take Marsh's famous test. Hydrogen is generated in a flask and the suspected liquid poured in. If arsenic be there the hydrogen seizes on it and forms a gas that will burn. Now watch the analyst as he holds a clean porcelain dish against the flame for a moment. If a brown spot appears in the middle, that is poison, arsenic or antimony; if close to the flame and on both sides of it—a notched spot—it is antimony; if deposited at a little distance from the flame it is arsenic.

Again, chloride of lime dissolves the stain of arsenic, but not that of antimony. On the other hand, protochloride of tin dissolves the antimony, but not the arsenic. Mistake is impossible. And there are scores of similarly unerring, precise experiments.—Baltimore Sun.

Full of Words.

A darcy preacher of Mobile, never at a loss for words, was once commending to his congregation one of the organs of the church, and, according to an Alabama politician, this is how he did it:

"The missionary bulletin of this church needs subscribers. It is young and unfinancial, but through the instrumentality of backbone and grit it will become an ideal. It was ushered into existence out of purely innocent contemplation of moral and religious good, which would in all probability result from carefully agitated principles of righteousness. The bulletin will be observed mingling in social convolutions to furnish society with sheaves of harvest of those reasonable products common to social contingencies. The tone of the whole will be missionary work."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Polite Children.

It is said that when Macaulay, a boy of six, was asked to have some more pudding he politely replied, "Thank you, I have enjoyed an ample sufficiency."

This sage reply is matched by a little Cleveland girl who, when offered a second frosted cake, showed her excellent training by answering, "Mamma has directed me to always refrain from taking a second piece of anything."

It is gratifying to know, however, that the childish nature promptly reasserted itself when the little maid added:

"But you can lay it on my plate, if you please."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Moral of the Garden.

Nothing teaches patience like a garden. You may go round and watch the opening bud from day to day, but it takes its own time, and you cannot urge it on faster than it will. If forced it is only torn to pieces. All the best results of a garden, like those of life, are slowly but regularly progressive.—Exchange.

Experience.

"Experience would be a wonderful asset but for one thing."
"What's that?"
"You never can sell it for what it cost you."—Cleveland Leader.

Priest on Trial for Murder.

Rutland, Vt., Nov. 5.—The trial of Rev. Francis Crociata, an Italian priest, for his alleged connection, with the murder of Accarita Santora, began this morning. Father Crociata has been in jail indicted on a charge of being accessory after the fact. The murder resulting in his arrest was effected by an 18 year-old girl, who lured Santora to a lonely spot where the man was assaulted by two Italians and killed. The crime was first planned in the presence of the priest, it is alleged.

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Just Like This in Greenville.

Scores of Greenville people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

John G. Latham, 907 Cotach St., Greenville, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills in my case far surpasses any kidney remedy I have previously used. For some time my kidneys had been in a disordered condition, the secretions being too frequent in action and the passages attended with pain. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills I was so impressed that I procured a box at John L. Wooten's drug store. They went directly to the seat of my trouble and gave me relief in a short time. My kidneys were restored to their normal condition, the secretions gave me no trouble whatever and I felt better in every way. My wife also used Doan's Kidney Pills when suffering from dull nagging backaches accompanied by headaches and the results derived were highly satisfactory."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
