WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C., Nov. 7, 1908. R. Coom returned from a visit to his old home in Lenior Friday afternoon.

A large delegation from the Baptist church here attended the Neuse Atlantic Association which convened in Kinston this week. They report a most excellent meeting. Winterville will be honored with this meeting next year.

Last Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Harriss awoke and found their baby dead in bed. Heart failure was thought to be the cause of its unexpected death. It was buried Sunday afternoon in Reedy Branch church cemetery. The parents have our deepest sympathy in their sad loss.

A. G. Cox accompanied Rev. T. H. King to Greenville last Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of Ola Forbes.

Mrs. W. B. Edmundson and son, Larry, of Eureka, spent some time here with her son, Frank, this week.

The residences of Mrs. Maggie Butt and G. Tucker are rapidly going up.

Dr. C. S. Blackwell, of Norfolk, will come in this afternoon where he will aid Rev. T. H. King in a series of meetings next week at the Baptist church here. Surely there is a treat in store for all who hear him. All are most cordially invited to attend these services.

Perry Coley, of Eureka, an old pupil of W. H. S. came in yesterday afternoon and is stopping with F. A. Edmundson.

Misses Hattie Kittrell, Kate Chapman, Hulda Cox and Miriam Johnson have begun their respective schools.

Election of Deneen to be Contested.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The election of Governor Charles S. Deneen to serve another term as governor of Illinois will be contested by his Democratic rival, according to a signed statement issued tonight by Charles Coeschenstein, chairman of the Democratic State central committee. The statement follows:

"I am convinced that with a correct count and an honest canvass Adlai E. Stevenson has a plurality of the vote cast in the election last Tuesday for governor of Illinois. The demand for a recount will be made upon the legislature as provided for in the statutes."

Governor Deneen's plurality is estimated at from 23,000 to 26,000. Ben H. Atwell, secretary to Chairman Coeschenstein explained that errors in the count had already been discovered in several precincts and it was calculated that if only three ballots in each of the 4,040 voting precincts in Illinois were taken from Deneen and given on recount to Stevenson the latter would be found to have won the election.

Englishman Searching Relatives in N. C.

Attorney General F. S. Iredell, wife and daughter, of Brighton, Sussex, England, passed through here on the N. & S. train Friday evening going to Raleigh. General Iredell has relatives in North Carolina, and his visit is in search of these. Iredell is a familiar name in North Carolina and he may not find much difficulty in locating relatives. His daughter, Miss Violet Iredell, is a noted singer who has made quite a reputation in London.

BOLD HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Snatched Valuable Papers From Expressman.

A bold highway robbery was committed at the Express office, near the union depot, at about 5:30 o'clock this morning.

The Express Company was loath to give out any information, hence the facts are meagre. It seems that Mr. Johnson, who is the night man, met the Southern train from Greensboro and received two satchels, one with money in it, and the other full of valuable papers. As he drew near the door of the office, which is only a few yards from the shed, an unknown man grabbed one of the satchels and away he went. Luckily for the express company, he got the one full of valuable papers and the one with the money was not bothered. On securing the grip the thief "lit a rag" up the railroad, and, although the police and officers have scoured the surrounding country, he has not yet been apprehended.

Mr. Johnson only got a glimpse of him, but he thinks it was a negro.—Raleigh Times.

$3000 FIRE ON FARM LAST NIGHT.

Barn and Mules Destroyed at the Clark Place.

A fire on the J. E. Clark farm last night, which started just after 6 o'clock, destroyed a large stable, its loft filled with hay and corn, and burned to death six mules. The hay in the loft was baled, and had recently been stored.

The cause of the fire's origin is unknown. The total loss was $3,000. The building being valued at $1,000 the mules at $1,000 and the feed at $1,000. The insurance was $600.—Washington Messenger.

Confide in Your Boys.

A boy is entitled to his father's confidence; it is his right to know his father's nature and experiences; only thus can he be fully heir to all that parenthood can and should bestow. It is for the child's good that we be a parent to him, first and last, not a master, nor yet a hero. As to reverence, I doubt whether a child reverences his parents after he is ten years old. He sees their faults and secretly judges them—often unjustly. Our neighbor Grayson has always exacted a sort of homage from his family. He is out for re-election and yesterday he made a speech before the Sunday school, which somebody was extolling, when his son Harry said with a sneering laugh: "Oh the old man knows how to pull the wool over their eyes!" I'd rather have my children know me as I am than think of me as a hypocrite. Children know you too, pretty well. They have keen insight these days; they are far quicker at mind reading than the children were generations back.

They know more about you than you dream they know; but not being wise enough to give the proper weight to causes and motives, they are apt to misjudge you.

So it is best to be open with them. Frankness on your part will lead to confidence on theirs.—Mary E. Bryan, in Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine for November.

BRYAN WILL NOT RUN AGAIN.

So Thinks Chairman Mack—However, May Be Elected Senator in 1911.

New York.—Chairman Mack tonight expressed his strong belief that Mr. Bryan would not be a candidate for the presidency again.

"I do not believe that Mr. Bryan will again be the candidate of the Democratic party for President," he said. "Should the Legislature be Democratic in Nebraska, when a vacancy occurs in the United State Senate from that State, as will be the case in 1911, I believe Mr. Bryan will be selected to fill the office."

Mr. Mack was asked if he thought the South would be recognized in the next national convention and permitted to name a candidate from that section of the country.

"The most available man will be nominated," he replied, "irrespective of whether he comes from the North or the South, the East or the West. Everything will depend upon his availability any other conditions, of course, which will develop in the next four years."

Was Conscience Stricken.

A remarkable case of restitution came to light last week when a man paid $25 and interest to the family of a man he had defrauded. Six years ago a certain Lexington citizen whose man is omitted, sold to a man in Linwood, now deceased, a piece of real estate. The seller wanted $625 for it, and the buyer offered $600 even. That night the man who owned the property concocted a scheme to get the $625. He told the purchaser next morning that his wife wouldn't sign the deed for less than $625, and he got that amount, although his wife never was told a thing about it. Last week, six years after, he went to the widow of the man, paid her the $25 and interest, saying he couldn't sleep good with the thing on his mind.

Our National Lawlessness

Organized lawlessness is today the national shame of the United States. It is a disgrace in the eyes of the people of every other country that professes civilization. We hold up our hands in horror at an outrage in Russia or a fanatical mob attack in a foreign country, we bristle with an indignation that brings quick apology and reprisals and the punishment of the guilty as a general rule. We can force a Raisuli to free an American citizen from a brigand's stronghold in Morocco but we cannot or do not—protect the citizen from the organized mob at home.—Chicago Record-Herald.

An Error.

His father had found it necessary to rather severely punish Robert, aged five. The little chap came running to me with resentment in his heart.

"Auntie," he sobbed, "did God make you?"

"Yes, Robert," I answered.

"And did He make ma?"

"Yes."

"And did He make me?"

"Certainly, my boy."

"And did He make pa, too?"

"Of course he did."

"Well, sobbed Robert sadly, 'that's when He made a mistake!'"—The December Delineator.

SATURDAY, NOV. 7, 1908.

Lets try and forget it.

Wonder how long Maryland is going to doubt.

They have commenced naming the babies for Taft, the first being reported from Philadelphia.

Do not trouble yourself about Mr. Taft's cabinet. Leave that to him, or at least to Mr. Roosevelt to select for him.

When the street work is finished and the rubbish cleared away, Greenville is going to be a pretty town along the paved portion.

Congressman Fowler, of New York, has announced himself a candidate for speaker. If he beats Mr. Cannon there will be rejoicing the country over.

The Chamber of Commerce should wake up and get to meeting some more. Think about this, business men, and be ready when a meeting is called.

As Taft is elected, we cannot hope for much light to be thrown on that $40,000,000 canal deal from which his own and the president's relatives are said to have been large beneficiaries.

The Manufacturers' Record is among the last we would have thought guilty of being a beneficiary of a corruption fund, yet it seems that paper received a check for $3,000 from Rockefeller for a year's subscription.

We had rather not hear any more about politics in a good long time. Turn your attention to Greater Greenville and push for development and it will put more money in your pocket than all the politics in the country.

Mr. Taft will receive a considerable majority of the electoral vote, but when the actual votes of all the States are computed and the popular vote Mr. Bryan received is made known, it will be seen that the Democratic party in the nation is by no means dead.

Politics Over—Now Business.

Now that the election is over and politics laid on the shelf there are two things the Democrats of the South should do. One is to show the president-that-is-to-be Taft that they fought him on political principles, and as a majority of the people have chosen him as president they are going to take him at his word, declared during the campaign, that if elected he would be the president of no section but of the whole country. They should not handicap him in the outset of his administration by captious objection to his every act just because he was elected as the nominee of the opposing party. They should give him praise for his good deeds as well as censure for those they consider otherwise. Above all things they should have respect for him by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

because of the high office he holds. For two reasons should they do this: First, it is but right and fair; and in the second place, nothing can be lost by it and, perhaps, much gained, for it is human nature that Taft should feel more kindly disposed toward the South if he finds the dominant party here, which was opposed to him, is inclined to give him a fair showing, than if he is encountered with criticism, opposition and censure at every step. It surely is better to accept the inevitable and make the most of the situation. This can be done without self-abasement or giving up party principles.

The other thing for the people of the South to do is, now that the several months' excitement of a political campaign has come to an end, for all to turn their attention to what our section so much needs—united action and activity in industrial and commercial development of our section. They should turn from politics to business, and in this, political lines should be wiped out. They are all Southerners—Democrats or Republicans—and they all want to see the South prosper and progress. This can be brought about only by united action. Then let our people put aside politics and turn to the development of our section. They can do this and yet not yield one iota in their allegiance to their party when the time comes to divide on political questions, but don't let them divide on matters which concern the material interests of all just because they are divided of political questions. —Wilmington Star.

Chairman Eller.

The Democratic party in North Carolina owes a debt of obligations of Hon. A. H. Eller, the State Chairman. Mr. Eller has given all his time to the work since his election and the big victory in North Carolina is largely due to his wise generalship. In nearly every other State the Democrats lost heavily, but in North Carolina the losses were not large and the victory is one that shows the tide against Democracy made little headway in North Carolina.

Mr. Eller is the best type of the militant Democracy in North Carolina. He has the confidence of his home people, has represented them ably in the senate, and when chosen State Chairman undertook the difficult task and has devoted his every energy to securing party success. He found not a few factional troubles in the counties, there were differences to adjust, and so confident were

Dear Sir—

During the summer you prevailed on me to buy a disability policy in the Maryland Casualty Company. Within a very short time after purchasing same, I found that it was necessary for me to have a slight surgical operation performed on account of which it was necessary for me to remain away from my business for a period of about two weeks.

The check presented me to-day in full settlement of lost time, also covering cost of operation is very much appreciated, and I can highly recommend the Maryland and yourself for the prompt service rendered.

Very truly yours,
W. E. HOOKER.

Democrats of victory that even in the counties that were doubtful it was not easy to arouse them. But he did so and, with the efficient assistance of Mr. Fields, Mr. Myers, Mr. Maxwell, Mr. Gardner and others of the headquarters force, he organized the forces that brought out a big Democratic vote—probably the largest that has ever been cast. This called for ability and devotion and zeal, as well as tact and capacity for leadership. All of these he displayed and called to his assistance men of all sections and all differences of view. He has grown in public estimation as a man of affairs and as a man fit for leadership in the great Democratic party of North Carolina. —Raleigh News and Observer.

Discarded Papers.

In Belgium the railroads have a systematic method of collection of newspapers left in the cars, and the papers are afterward turned to account. The year's collection, it is said, amounts to 100,000 kilograms or about 100 tons. After being reduced to pulp the paper is remanufactured into rough paper for way-bills of the state lines, and the tickets are also said to be obtained from the old newspapers.

ROYAL RAGE.

A Story of Emperor William II. and His Mother.

In a character sketch of Emperor William II. in the American Magazine Octave Mirbeau tells an interesting story of the kaiser's relations with his royal mother. The incident was related by Prince Bismarck one night when he had been drinking too much. "And no one," remarks M. Mirbeau, "was more brutally sincere than Bismarck was under the influence of wine." Here is a part of the story:

"The relations between William and his mother, the Empress Frederick, became at last so bitter that William placed spies about her, even in the bedroom of his invalid father.

"Through one of these spies William learned of the existence of a journal which his father had kept for some years. Frederick had a taste for writing, and the fact that there was coldness between him and his son led William to fear that this secret journal might contain some criticism of his conduct.

"The empress, however, was clever enough to conceal the diary before her husband's death. Eluding the surveillance of her son, she sent the papers to her mother, Queen Victoria, or to her brother, then Prince of Wales, I don't remember which.

"Hardly had his father drawn his last breath when William over the dead body performed his first official act.

"It was to demand of his widowed mother the journal, which he termed a 'memorial.'

"The empress feigned ignorance. William insisted. He spoke as master, giving his mother the order to obey. She persisted in declaring that she knew nothing of the papers.

"Well," he commanded, purple with wrath, "you will remain under close arrest until you have obeyed me!"

"Bismarck, arriving at Potsdam two hours after this, found the palace surrounded by squadrons of armed cavalry.

"The emperor, whom he found still exalted, told the old chancellor how he had met the disobedience of his mother.

"And she need not expect pity or consideration until she has obeyed me," he declared. "You understand that, Mr. Chancellor? Until she has obeyed me!"

"The pupil had gone much too far. Bismarck saw at once that the buffoonery continued might mar the whole of William's reign. Later in life, he said, he used to wonder how he kept from laughing in his sovereign's face.

"What he did was to receive William's news with deferential silence and later, when the emperor was calmer, show him that his course was sure to meet with general disapproval. There was a way, he thought, of proceeding much more vigorously and at the same time amicably. Why not rather cut down the income of the empress, suspend her appanages?

"I know her majesty," said the good Bismarck. "She has pride. Forced arrest she can brave out, accepting it as a sort of martyrdom, but the money, sire, the money! Who can resist money?"

"Further, he laid tactful stress upon the probable representations of England. 'Is it really the moment, sire?'

"The kaiser, becoming appeased, listened to Bismarck's counsel. The arrest of the empress was removed. The officers led their cavalry back to quarters, and William turned his attention to the details of his father's obsequies, which he wished to be most fastidious."

The Garrote.

The garrote is a thing that no man of nervous temperament should look at. Once seen it never can be forgotten. Just to think of it months afterward brings up a choking sensation which makes one long to tear away his collar and breathe the free air as deeply as he can. It rests upon a raised platform, an ordinary straight backed chair, with thin iron clasps on the elbows and legs of the chair. These are for the arms and ankles of the condemned criminal. At the top of the back of the chair is a band of iron, one end of which swings out so as to admit of a neck being inserted. This band snaps around in place, and all is ready. A twist of a crank in back and as the band crushes the neck back a pin pierces the medulla oblongata.—New York Sun.

To Cure Hay Fever.

The second day take one-twelfth of one half pint every hour, and on the third day take the same quantity—viz, one-twelfth of one-half pint.—Detroit Free Press.

Fish and Salt.

And the mystery still lingers—why is it necessary to salt a fish caught in the salt ocean? A sea bass caught off Seabright requires just as much salt in the seasoning as a black bass caught in the saltless waters of Lake Erie.—New York Press.

Great Land Sale

On the first Monday in December I will sell, strictly under the hammer, at the court house door in Greenville, more than a dozen small farms. Some for cash, but most of them on long time, with a payment of only one-fourth cash. Remember the date—December 7th, 1908.

Have also some for sale privately on long time between now and above date. These lands are all within from one to five miles of the town of Greenville, and in the best neighborhoods to live to be found anywhere, and are among the best agricultural lands in Pitt county.

This is a great opportunity for young men and others wishing to begin life on the farm.

The splendid Training School will open in Greenville next fall and then you'll want to be convenient to it. You had better buy now while you have the opportunity.

Pots and other information can be had at my office. See also my other notices in The Reflector.
