AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsp Notes From a Hustling Town, Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Nov. 27, 1908.

Thanksgiving was observed by our whole community in a way most commendable indeed. All business houses were closed, there were religious services, big dinners, family reunions and a good time generally seemed to be realized by everyone.

C. A. Fair and wife returned Wednesday from their recent visit up in Maryland. We regret very much to learn that Miss Julia Bready will not come back but will remain at home with her father.

Tuesday about 2 o'clock p. m. some thief went to the pen of R. H. Garris, who lives near here, and stole one of his finest hogs. He took the hog just a short distance from the house and after killing it cut it half in two carrying one part away and leaving the other part in the jam of the fence, which when found was still warm. It was a daring and bold thief and we have no doubt had Mr. Garris sent for the hounds at once instead of waiting until next morning, he would have got his man. Mr. Garris, we understand, says will give twenty-five dollars for the apprehension of the thief.

A Mr. Gary was here Tuesday getting a write up of the town which will come out in The Reflector soon.

Miss Margurite Meredith, a trained nurse, who has located here, is quite sick at Hotel Blount. Miss Smith, a trained nurse from Washington came Tuesday night to attend her.

Barnes Sumrell, who has been living near Wharton for some time has moved his family back to Ayden. He says "there is no place like home."

Moving in different sections of the town will soon be the order of day. Then it will be where's who?

J. R. May, a prosperous young farmer and son of Commissioner J. J. May, was on our market yesterday.

Henry West, a clever salesman of J. J. Edwards, returned from LaGrange yesterday where he had been feasting on turkey and cranberry sauce.

Miss Annie Ross is spending sometime in Farmville.

Thanksgiving Ball Games.

There was much interest here in the two games of football played Thanksgiving day between college teams of North Carolina and Virginia. The universities of the two States played in Richmond and the score was 31 to 0 in favor of the Virginia boys.

The A. & M. of North Carolina and V. P. I. of Virginia played in Norfolk, the game there resulting in a score of 6 to 5 in favor of the North Carolina boys.

Visit of Prospective Pastor.

A letter from Rev. Leland W. Smith, of Louisville, Ky., states that he will reach Greenville Saturday evening, and will preach in Memorial Baptist church Sunday morning and night. The church here extended a unanimous call to Mr. Smith to become its pastor, but before giving his answer he decided to visit the church and his coming Sunday is for that purpose.

MR. JAMES WESLEY WHITE.

Delightfully Entertains Audience in Graded School Chapel.

The music loving portion of Greenville's citizens, at least quite a number of them, enjoyed a real feast of music at the graded school chapel, Thursday night, in the singing of Mr. James Wesley White, of Wilmington, and their thanks are due Prof. H. B. Smith, superintendent of the graded school, for securing this pleasure for them. Mr. White has a rich baritone voice, and sings with unusual sweetness and perfect expression. The audience was thoroughly appreciative and so generous with applause that he responded with several encores. His program for the evening was as follows:

1. A Toreador's Love Song Couchois.
- (a) Who is Sylvia } - Schubert
- (b) Serenade } - Schubert
3. Beloved, It is Morn - - - Aylward.
4. Cato's Advice - - - Bruno Huhn.
5. Oh, That We Two Were Maying E. Nevin.
6. Song of Joy } - Chas. Deacon.
- Rose Leaves } - Chas. Deacon.
7. Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind J. Sargeant.

North Carolina at Alaska Exposition.

Seattle, Wash. Nov. 25.—The participation of North Carolina at the Alaska-Yukon-exposition next year would serve to call attention to the vast resources of the South to thousands of visitors from the middle western and Pacific coast states. North Carolina's fine exhibit of tobacco, cotton, woods, minerals and agriculture would prove interesting to persons who have never visited the southern states and would serve as an educational feature inasmuch as it would acquaint the people in one part of the country with the vast resources of another section. The general result would be to familiarize visitors to the 1909 exhibition with progress in all parts of the United States.

The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition commissioners for North Carolina have been appointed and the division of exhibits is in receipt of a letter from P. H. Hanes, of Winston-Salem, a member of the commission, who informs exposition officials that a meeting of the North Carolina commissioners has been called for December 9th, at Raleigh. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, of Chapel Hill, chairman of the commission, has assembled the mineral exhibit for the United States government at previous expositions and is being depended upon to work for an appropriation for Seattle in 1909.

In the state of Washington are many former residents of North Carolina who will visit the exposition next year. With low rates it is very evident that there will be considerable travel from the southern states to the Pacific coast next year. Whether or not North Carolina erects a building a roster of all North Carolinians will be kept and visitors from that state to Seattle will be in a position to locate friends, relatives or acquaintances who have moved to Seattle. The list of former North Carolinians will be arranged alphabetically by individuals and counties.

DAMON AND PYTHIAS TONIGHT.

Promises to be One of the Best Plays of the Season.

To-night the great friendship drama, "Damon and Pythias" will be presented at Masonic opera house.

Every Pythian in Greenville should make it a special point to attend the performance; he should be accompanied by his wife, mother, daughter, sister or sweetheart; he should induce his friends also to be present, as the play is intensely interesting; the lines beautiful and poetic; the situations strong and dramatic, the climaxes thrilling and the story is so simply and beautifully told that a child might understand and appreciate it.

Beside it is the story upon which the order of Knights Pythias is founded, and is exemplified in a vivid manner the principles of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence.

The play will be produced by Mr. and Mrs. Edward D'Oize, of Baltimore, supported by a cast of over twenty people. Handsome and historically correct costumes will be worn, and special attention given to scenic and light effects. Prices, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

You need not lay too much stress on these Republican expressions or wanting to revise the tariff.

If you want to make Greenville a more attractive appearing town, be talking and working in that direction.

When they get to manufacturing paper from cotton stalks in earnest, perhaps we will not have to pay so much for it.

Too bad that our University boys got such a licking at Richmond, but the A. and M. boys came off with the honors at Norfolk.

Greenville should be reaching out to secure the location of the Pythian orphanage. There is not a better location in the State for it.

Tennessee is at it again. A mob at Tiptonville rushed into court where a trial was in progress, dragged out three negroes and lynched them.

This way of spending several times more to get an office than the salary of the office amounts to, does not look good. Naturally there must be an evening up somewhere.

One way to help the looks of the town is to do away with front yard fences. Several property owners have already done this with improved appearance in each instance.

While the president is busy appointing commissions to hunt for worms, he might do the disciples of Izaak Walton a kindness by starting a hunt for a kind of fish worm at which they will be guaranteed to bite.

Governor Glenn gave Thanksgiving pardons to four State prisoners who had made good records since their confinement. In each instance he selected prisoners who seemed to have no friends to take interest in their behalf.

The Charlotte News' cartoonist showed Charlotte's prosperity in 1908 with the picture of a large turkey gobbler. We hope it did not mean to indicate that that prosperity turkey's head would go off along with the other Thanksgiving day victims.

Wake Forest College came out winner in the debate at Raleigh, Thanksgiving night, with Randolph-Macon College, of Virginia. There is more honor and more to be proud of in a victory of this kind than in all the football games that could be played.

About every afternoon paper in the State outside of Charlotte, celebrates today by suspending publication. We hope our brethren of the press will further

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other disease put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hill's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. carry out the Thanksgiving spirit by being conducted to seats in the church. Every editor who does not work on Thanksgiving day ought to go to church and he should know what is expected of him when the what is passed.—Charlotte Chronicle.

We expect you will find the newspaper boys come about as near holding up their end in this respect as any other class.

The next holiday is Christmas, and it is less than a month off.

The Best People.

There has never been a phrase more badly abused than the above. Among a certain element "the best people" means the people who know least about life's real meaning and who contribute least of all to the public good. "The best people," in the society sense, are those too trifling to make a living and too ignorant to discuss a current question with the smallest degree of intelligence. They are those who sleep late, advertise their weakness in the loudness of their clothes, who are skillful in the use of cards, who adore the dance and who emphasize the light things of life and ignore the real things. They grasp at the shadow and lose the substance. They float like foam on the billows and sprawl on the shore when the strong waves they rode rebound into the deep. They are the chaff of human society and glory in the fact that they are not the solid grain. They imagine they are holding the earth together but the only respect or consideration they gain or hold is that of those like themselves who hope to reach their realm. It is a pitifully small soul that can thus idle the days away on things that are not of the least consequence in the world to a human being. The best people are the sensible people of a community. They are those who are neither afraid nor ashamed of honest labor; who add their part to the strength of the State; who honor a man rather than his money and who fear God and love their fellows. We are glad that the froth passes for just about its true worth in North Carolina, and that the light weights who imagine they are so important a factor in our society amount to little more than a hill of beans.—Charity and Children.

Oyster Farming.

Oyster cultivation is not an American idea. History tells of the early Romans having caught oyster fry on branches and raised oysters quite successfully, and from time to time this and other methods of cultivation have been attempted in various European countries.

Oyster farming in America dates back to the year 1851, when certain East river (New York) oystermen, observing that young oysters fastened in great numbers to the shells of other oysters, started the practice of shelling their beds and the ground contiguous to them just before spawning time.

It would be hard to find a better definition of oyster cultivation than submarine agriculture—for as the farmer so must the oysterman prepare, seed and cultivate his land. As with the farmer also, eternal vigilance is the one price of success, for weeds will grow, waste matter will accumulate, enemies will lie in wait.—National Magazine.

Warning to the Public.

If any member of the Lysander John Appleton family invites you to a meal, here's a pointer: Don't accept. The Appletons are adopting the Fletcher method of chewing their food, and in order not to make any mistakes they count as they chew. This is a sample of the conversation heard at the Appleton table: "Have you heard," asks Mrs. Appleton, putting a piece of bread in her mouth, "that—one, two, three, four, five, six" (counting her chews)—"a widow on North Fourth street—seven, eight, nine, ten—is to be married?" She swallows the bread and takes a bite of meat. "I guess it is really—one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve—so. Her mother—thirteen, fourteen—told me so." The bite goes down and the visitor takes a long breath. The guest hears so much counting in the next hour that he doesn't know if he is at dinner or in a kindergarten. Moreover, under Fletcherism the Appletons don't set as good a table as formerly. Their girl refused to wait two hours at every meal while they counted their chews, and quit, and Mrs. Appleton takes so much time in chewing that she has little left for cooking.—Atchison Globe.

TIME TO ACT

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness Profit by Greenville People's Experience.

Occasional attacks of headache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are common early symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect this ill. The attacks may pass off for a time but return with greater intensity. If there are symptoms of dropsy—puffy swellings below the eyes, bloating of limbs and ankles, or any part of the body, don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up the treatment until the kidneys are well, when your old time health and vigor will return. Cures in Greenville prove the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

Mrs. J. F. Stokes, Cor. Twelfth and Evans Sts., Greenville, N. C., says: "For some time I suffered severely from kidney complaint. The kidneys were very irregular in action and at times caused me great a noyance. I had bearing down pains through my abdomen and sharp shooting twinges through my loins causing me untold misery. There was a tender spot across my kidney regions and at times my limbs pained intensely. I finally read of Doan's Kidney pills and was so much impressed that I procured them at Wooten's drug store. They soon relieved the pains in my sides and limbs, restored the secretions to a regular and normal condition and at present I am feeling a great deal better in every way. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for the great improvement in my condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
