BUILDING AND LUMBER COMPANY.

A Home Concern That Brings Credit to the Town.

It will be recalled that when the bids were opened last June for the erection of the East Carolina Teachers Training School, that there were eighteen bidders—some from Georgia, some from South Carolina, some North Carolina, some from Virginia—and some from New Jersey—and that the bids ranged from $117,500 down to $81,500. The bid of the Building and Lumber Company being the lowest it was accepted and that company gave the required bonds for a faithful compliance with their contract to do the work according to the specifications of the architect. There were those who felt some apprehensions that this company did not possess the skill and ability to do as big a job of work as this in a skillful and workmanlike manner. There is an old adage "the proof of the pudding is eating the bag." This company has given equally as good proof of their ability and integrity of purpose. The buildings are there to speak for the company, and speak they do. Those who went through them last Thursday and examined the work were loud and unstinted in praise of their beauty, of the splendid material used and of the high order of the workmanship. There is nothing common or skimpy to be found about them anywhere. The execution committee, whose report we hope soon to publish, reported to the board of trustees that weekly inspection of the material used and the work done, had been made by the architects and that architects and contractors had lived up to their contracts in good faith.

We write this because it is true and we are sure the people of Greenville and Pitt county will be glad to hear it. We are all glad to know that we have a company here in our midst able to take a contract like this away from large and experienced contractors and then do the work in a manner entirely satisfactory to all concerned.

The way to build up enterprises in our community is to give them our support and encouragement when they show they are worthy. "United we stand, divided we fall." We should ever be united in our support of that which is good and helpful and worthy.

Baraca Banquet.

The Baraca Class of Memorial Baptist Sunday school will have a banquet Tuesday night, to which the Philathea Class and the officers of the Sunday school and some other guests have been invited. There will be a program of songs and speeches in the class room at the church followed by the banquet in Perkins' hall with W. H. Ragsdale, toast master. Following is the program:

- Song by class.
- Prayer by pastor.
- Quartette.
- Addresses:
 - What the Baraca Movement Means to the Sunday School G. E. Lineberry.
 - "This Class" J. W. Bryan.
 - "Our Sunday School" Z. T. Broughton.
 - "Our Difficulties" J. F. Stokes.
 - "The Outsiders" J. R. Hutchings.
 - "Pastor to Baracas" J. B. Cook.
- Supper. Perkins' hall.

SANS SOUCI CLUB.

Reported for Reflector.

The Sans Souci club met with Mrs. F. J. Forbes on Dec. 31 and the program was suggestive of the day. Miss Jones and Messdames Dail and Wilson read poems on New Years day. Mrs. Carper read the new year's resolution, copies of which will be given to each member of the club. Miss Ragsdale, the president, gave an interesting talk on benefit of clubs to women, after which the club adjourned to meet with Miss Janie Brown on Jan. 5th.

Immediately after the meeting Misses Forbes and Smith gave several musical selections. Delicious refreshments were then served and the members departed wishing the hostess a happy new year.

Grimesland.

Grimesland, Pitt county, is in the center of the healthiest and most productive part of the Pamlico section. It is on the Norfolk and Southern railroad, and at the head of deep water navigation on Tar river. It is ten miles by rail and eight miles by water from Washington, N. C.

In the heart of a great bright tobacco growing, trucking, general farming and timber section and with railroad and deep water transportation Grimesland enjoys unusual advantages as a business center and shipping point, and offers a most inviting opportunity for business men or home makers.

It has for more than a century been the chief trading point in this section. It has had for many years daily boats to and from Washington, and freight, fertilizer and lumber barges from Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and other places find their way to this point, insuring always cheap water transportation. Being at deep water it is an ideal site for large lumber and wood working plants: as lumber on the creeks above and tributary to Tar river can be easily and cheaply floated to this point.

The poor crops of the past three years have had a depressing effect upon our people, but during the last year a number of residences have been erected here, and Messrs. J. O. Proctor & Bro., the leading merchants, have built a mammoth brick store building and also warehouses.

A large and commodious school building is now nearing completion. Surrounded by a highly prosperous community the steady certain growth of our town is assured. Grimesland is now the distributing point for the rural mail routes of this section.

W. S. Galloway, Mayor.
—Raleigh News and Observer.

Better Mail Facilities.

The railway postal service that goes into effect today on Norfolk & Southern trains Nos. 14 and 15 between Raleigh and Washington, will put The Reflector in Grimesland the same evening it is printed, and to subscribers on the rural routes supplied from that town the next morning, a day sooner than heretofore. This ought to give us many more subscribers in that section of the county.

We hope our subscribers will not let the new year get for advanced before they come in for a receipt. Drop in the office any time when you are in town, and if you are not coming to town soon send the money to us by mail.

The Productivity of N. C. Farms.

Seven crops in North Carolina, corn, wheat, hay, tobacco, oats, Irish potatoes and rye, had a value in 1908 of $68,259,000. This indicates a large increase in agriculture production in the State, but, as the Manufacturers' Record declares is an exhibit of productivity indicative more of potentiality than of actual results.

The total crop of corn, 50,166,000 bushels, was considerably above the average of the past ten or twelve years. The value of the crop of 1908 was $39,631,000.

Although it was not a first-rate year for wheat in all the country, the crop of 1908 was better than that of 1907, being 5,680,000 bushels, value $6,078,000.

There has been a notable increase in the growing of forage crops. In North Carolina the hay crop amounted to 262,000 tons, valued at $3,537,000.

The tobacco crop amounted in 1908 to 134,000,000 pounds whose value was $14,070,000.

North Carolina produced in the past year 3,300,000 bushels of oats valued at $2,079,000.

There is a constantly increasing production of potatoes. In 1908 the crop amounted to 1,975,000 bushels, value $1,521,000.

Although rye has never been one of the largest crops in the State, in 1908 it amounted to 125,000 bushels, value, $122,000. —Raleigh News and Observer.

Notice to our Customers.

Beginning January 1st, 1909, we will charge for all crates and bottles short. Crates at $1.50 each and bottle 5c each. Beg to state that we have been trying to put this rule in force ever since we began business, but as our customers have not been required to keep up with the bottles heretofore, we have been very lenient with them and have not made any charges as yet, therefore we trust they will appreciate our position and will pull with us in taking care of these bottles and will require their customers to bring the bottles back to them, or pay 5c for each bottle short.

Trusting this will be satisfactory to all our customers and wishing them all a prosperous New Year, we are,

Very truly yours,

MONDAY, JAN. 4, 1909.

The faces of the legislators are turned toward Raleigh.

We hope the legislature will not develop any seekers after notoriety.

Getting time somebody was inaugurating a new enterprise for Greenville.

The papers have to tell every time Mr. Taft plays golf, just like it was something.

The Stateville Landmark tells of a negro being shot in the heel and dying from the effects of the wound.

Congress and the State legislature both resume business this week, and there will be something to look for from the law making bodies.

We believe that the legislature which meets this week will be a conservative body and do what its members think is for the best interest of the State.

If President elect Taft's brother had got that Ohio senatorship you would have heard no end of talking about it. But brother Charley wanted it bad enough, just the same.

One thing we hope the legislature will give attention to is the jury system. There certainly should be such a change as will place the State on an equal footing with defendants in the matter of challenging jurors.

The issue of the Raleigh News and Observer for Sunday was twenty-four pages, many of which were filled with splendid articles showing the progress of North Carolina during the year 1908. It is a fine showing, and the compilation is interesting. Such publications as this is one of the many instances in which the News and Observer does its State a great service.

You do not want any better evidence of the good effects of prohibition than was shown in Greenville Saturday, the first Saturday on which no whiskey was sold here. The drunkenness that could formerly be seen was missing, and some of the merchants say it was noticeable that certain people spent more money for groceries Saturday night than formerly.

Editor Josephus Daniels, of the Raleigh News and Observer, who was a guest here on last Thursday when the Board of Trustees and State Board of Education met to inspect the buildings of the East Carolina Teachers Training School, has an interesting and very complimentary article about Greenville and Pitt county in the Sunday issue of his paper. The Reflector will give the article to its readers.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

GOOD TIMES IN 1909.

There is general agreement among the leading financiers and heads of the large establishments in Chicago that the year 1909 will be one of general and great prosperity. With political uncertainty removed by the national election business men see little to fear and much to hope for in the prospect of legislation.

Some leading Chicago houses state that the purchasing power of the farming class has increased so greatly that it more than compensates for the loss of purchasing power by the manufacturing class.

That there has been a gradual but certain improvement in business generally in the last six months of the year is generally agreed in the business world. The national election of November disappointed enthusiasts who expected an immediate resumption of unparalleled activity that existed in the first six or eight months of 1907. But to the more sober minds among the leaders of industry a boom period is not desirable.

"I do not look for any marked increase in business immediately following January 1 next," said Ernest A. Hamill, president of the Corn Exchange National Bank. "Our crops have been good and are bringing good prices. Upon them, of course, rests the continued prosperity of our country. Our farmers have enjoyed abundant crops for several years and are in excellent financial condition. Indeed, you might now say that they are the bankers of the country, for they have money to loan.

"Under the conditions I have mentioned I do not see how we can fail to have a continued improvement in all lines of business during the coming year, but such improvement must come gradually, and will, therefore, be of a more healthy character."—Chicago Dispatch to N. Y. Herald.

It is possible to make at one small profit above actual factory cost. You save a profit of $5 middlemen's profits by buying direct of us and have the manufacturer's guarantee behind your bicycle. DO NOT BUY a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone at any price until you receive our catalogue and learn our unheard of factory prices and remarkable special offers to rider agents.

YOU WILL BE ASTONISHED when you receive our beautiful catalogue and see the prices we can make you this year. We sell the highest grade bicycles for less money than any other factory. We are satisfied with $5.00 profit above factory cost. BICYCLE DEALERS, you can sell our bicycles under your own name plate at double the price. 50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY $4.80

The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will give a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.55).

MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES—Tacks or Glass will not let the tire out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year, or two hundred thousand pairs now in use.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with special quality of rubber, which never becomes brittle and which closes up small punctures without affecting the tire to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than ordinary tire, the puncture resisting quality being given several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to you. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented. We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you will send CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one set plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

IF YOU NEED TIRES don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and find at the special introductory price quoted above; or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle until you have a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful tires we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

Breakfasting With Whistler.
The was a foreign painter who used to breakfast at Chelsea, and when Mr. Carr asked him if he had been there lately he replied: "Oh, no; not now so much. He ask me a leetle while ago to breakfast, and I go. My cab fare, two shilling, 'arf a crown. I arrive, very nice. Goldfish in bowl, very pretty. But breakfast—one egg, one toast—no more! Oh, no. My cab fare, two shilling, 'arf a crown. For me no more!"—London Telegraph.

With a String.
"Do you trust your husband implicitly?"
"What a question! Why, of course I do—to a certain extent."—Cleveland Leader.

It is best to profit by the madness of others.—Pliny.

Hot Stuff.
The great editor looked up impatiently.
"Boy," he said, "what is that rustling in the wastebasket—a mouse?"
The boy after examining the basket answered:
"No, sir; it's one o' them poems o' passion throbbin'."
"Well, pour some water on it and then drop it out of the window," said the editor. "The building isn't insured."—Kansas Independent.

Cheap Riding.
Uncle Zeke (back from the city)—You talk about cheap ridin'! I rode twenty miles on a street k'yar, an' all it cost me was a nickel.
Uncle Jed—Gosh! That ain't nothin'. When I was thar last year I rode to the top of the tallest buildin' in town, an' it didn't cost me a blamed cent!

THE REAL BOWERY.

Swiftly Passing, It Has Never Been Wholly Revealed.

The real Bowery has never been written up, and probably it never will be, because it is swiftly passing. Hundreds of attempts have been made by those who have not even penetrated the surface of its reserve. Its heart and soul—for the Bowery has both, as well as reserve—are a sealed book to the writers. It is a Sargasso sea littered with derelicts of all worlds, drifting back and forth with the endless ebb and flow of the tide, while all about them is the ceaseless activity of commerce, of development, moving onward and upward despite the ceaseless cross current, which no literary mariner, cruising in these uncharted waters, can understand.

Those who know it best and have some skill in writing as well as some understanding are so overwhelmed by its endless complications, its infinity of contradictions, its astonishing goodness and its frightful depravity, the baffling mystery of its wonderful humanness and its fantastic mystery, that they do not dare attempt to write even what they know. Only one man in all literature could have interpreted the Bowery—and Balzac is dead.

Most of us know the Bowery through fugitive newspaper sketches and fear-some lurid melodramas. The sketches present certain phases more or less intelligently, but the melodramas are weird burlesques, unworthy even of being scoffed at, so far as any consideration of truth is concerned. But these cheap melodramas, endlessly repeated, have built up a fiction that has come to be accepted as the reality.—Everybody's Magazine.

East India Company.

Although the East India company nominally ceased to exist in 1858, it had virtually ended its long career twenty-five years earlier, for in 1833 parliament robbed it of its trading powers and interfered with its governing privileges. From that year it paid its proprietors out of taxes levied on the people of India and had its battles fought by the imperial forces. Such a condition of things could hardly be expected to endure, and after the mutiny the government, in spite of a desperate resistance on the part of "John company," took over all the functions of government.—London Chronicle.

Bluestockings.

Boswell in his "Life of Dr. Johnson" states that in his day there were certain meetings held by ladies to afford them opportunity of holding converse with eminent literary men. The most distinguished talker of these gatherings was a Mr. Stillingfleet, who always wore blue stockings. When away his absence was so felt that the remark became common, "We can do nothing without the blue stockings;" hence the meetings at which he figured began to be called "bluestocking clubs" and those who frequented them bluestockings.—New York American.

He who has once done you a kindness will be more ready to do you another than he whom you yourself have obliged.—Holmes.

A ONE NIGHT CONVERT.

Incident in the Temperance Career of Father Mathew.

In 1843, when Father Mathew was crusading for total abstinence in London, he created no small amusement for a large party at the hospitable mansion of an Irish nobleman by his attempts, partly playful, but also partly serious, to make a convert of Lord Brougham, who resisted good humoredly, but resolutely, the efforts of his zealous neighbor. The incident is related by Katharine Tynan in her biography of Father Mathew.

"I drink very little wine," said Brougham, "only half a glass at luncheon and two half glasses at dinner. And, though my medical adviser told me I should increase the quantity, I refused to do so."

"He was wrong, my lord, for advising you to increase the quantity, and you were wrong in taking the small quantity you do," said Father Mathew, "but I have my hopes of you."

And so, after a pleasant resistance on the part of the learned lord, Father Mathew invested his lordship with the silver medal and ribbon, the insignia and collar of the "new order of the Bath."

"Then I will keep it," said Brougham, "and take it to the house, where I shall be sure to meet old Lord — the worse for liquor, and I will put it on him."

The announcement of this intention was received with much laughter, for the noble lord referred to was notorious for his potations.

Lord Brougham was as good as his word, for on meeting the veteran peer he said, "Lord —, I have a present from Father Mathew for you," and passed the ribbon rapidly over his neck.

"Then I tell you what it is, Brougham. I will keep sober for this night," was the peer's unexpected response. And he kept this vow to the amazement of his friends.

TIME TO ACT

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness Profit by Greenville People's Experience.

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are common early symptoms of kidney disorder. It's an error to neglect this ill. The attacks may pass off for a time but return with greater intensity. If there are symptoms of dropsy—puffy swellings below the eyes, bloating of limbs and ankles, or any part of the body, don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up the treatment until the kidneys are well, when your old time health and vigor will return. Cures in Greenville prove the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

Mrs. J. F. Stokes, Cor. Twelfth and Evans Sts., Greenville, N. C., says: "For some time I suffered severely from kidney complaint. The kidneys were very irregular in action and at times caused me great annoyance. I had bearing down pains through my abdomen and sharp shooting twinges through my loins causing me untold misery. There was a tender spot across my kidney regions and at times my limbs pained intensely. I finally read of Doan's Kidney pills and was so much impressed that I procured them at Wooten's drug store. They soon relieved the pains in my sides and limbs, restored the secretions to a regular and normal condition and at present I am feeling a great deal better in every way. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for the great improvement in my condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.
