GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 6, 1909.

NUMBER 540

THE LEGISLATURE IN SESSION.

EX-JUDGE GRAHAM ELECTED SPEAKER OF HOUSE.

Other Officers of House and Senate—
W. E. Hooks, of Pitt, Engrossing Clerk of Senate.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 6th, 1909. —The 1909 session of the General Assembly of North Carolina met at noon today and organized in accordance with the caucus held last night and given below. As early as Monday morning the members began arriving, and they continued to come by every train until last night. The candidates came also, for there were many applicants for every position to be filled. As the number grew there was a proportionate increase of interest and larger volume of electioneering.

While every candidate for each position was himself, and had his friends, at work in his behalf for the place he desired, the chief interest was as to who should be speaker of the house of representatives. There were three candidates for this honor, ex-Judge A. W. Graham, of Granville; W. C. Dowd, of Mecklenburg, and R. H. Hayes, of Chatham, all able men with a strong following. With this three cornered contest it was impossible to foresee accurately what would be the outcome of the caucus, and every candidate and his friends expressed confidence of success.

HOUSE CAUCUS.

It was 8:20 o'clock when the caucus of the house was called to order by Representative Morton, of New Hanover, and ex-Speaker R. A. Doughton, of Alleghany, was elected chairman of the caucus by acclamation. Representative Green, of Craven, was elected secretary.

Representative Turlington, of Iredell, explained that a wreck had occurred between Durham and Raleigh which for a time detained some members enroute who had telephoned a request that the election of a speaker be deferred, until they arrived to participate in it, and he offered the motion that the election of other officers of the house be proceeded with first and the speaker left for the last. This motion was adopted.

The roll of counties electing Democrats was called and 81 Democrats were present, a few being absent.

The election of officers then took place as follows:

Chief clerk T. G. Cobb, of Burke, by acclamation, Reading clerk R. M. Phillips, of Lee by acclamation Engrossing clerk, M. D. Kinsland, of Haywood by acclamation. The first contest came for the position of sergeant-at-arms. Then Confederate soldiers who had made brilliant records were presented, George L. Kilpatrick, of Lenoir; John A. Lisk, of Montgomery, and John H. Kerr, of Caswell. The first ballot resulted Kilpatrick 35, Lisk 24, Kerr 19. Second ballot Kilpatrick 48, Lisk 22, Kerr 7 and Kilpatrick was declared elected.

Three Confederate soldiers were also presented for assistant door keeper, D. H. James, of Halifax; John A. Lisk, of Montgomery, and J. D. Boney, of Duplin. The first battle resulted James 37, Lisk 27, Boney 14. Second ballot James 55, Lisk 18, Boney 6, and James was declared elected.

It was near 10 o'clock when nominations for speakers were declared in order Representative Murphy, of Guilford, presented the name of R. H. Hayes, of Chatham; Representative Doughton, of Allegheny, presented the name of W. C. Dowd, of Mecklenburg; Representative Currie, of Cumberland, presented the name of A. W. Graham, of Granville. The nominating speeches showed at once that there are men of ability on the floor of the house. The first ballot was as follows: Graham 31, Dowd 18, Hayes 19. The second ballot: Graham 36, Dowd 33, Hayes 11. Third ballot Graham 43, Dowd 36, Hayes 2, and Graham was declared elected. On motion the election was made unanimous.

A committee was appointed to wait on the speaker-elect and invite him into the hall. Ex-Judge Graham came forward amid applause and thanked the caucus in a neat speech for the honor conferred upon him. Representative Dowd was also called for and said while he could not feel cheerful at his own funeral, he had never seen the hour when he was not ready to submit to the will of a majority of the Democratic party. He pledged for himself and the friends who stood by him most loyal support to the speaker in making this one of the best sessions of the legislature. Representative Hayes was also called for and in a brief eloquent speech thanked his friends and pledged support, to the speaker.

At 11 o'clock the caucus adjourned.

SENATE CAUCUS

The senate caucus was also held with Senator J. A. Long chairman; resulting in the following elections:

President protem, Senator Whitehead Klutz, of Rowan.

Sergeant-at-arms, R. M. Staley of Wilkes.

Assistant sergeant-at-arms, Nicholas Deboy, of Wake.

Chief clerk, A. J. Maxwell, of Craven.

Engrossing clerk, W. E. Hooks, of Pitt.

Reading clerk, Mark Squires, of Caldwell.

BARACA BANQUET.

An Enthusiastic Meeting and a Delightful Feast.

The Baraca Class of the Memorial Baptist church Sunday school held its annual banquet last evening. The class, more than 50 strong, together with a number of their friends, assembled in the basement of the church. A splendid program had been arranged for this meeting, and to say that it was admirably carried out is putting it mildly. The committee who arranged the subjects and the speakers evidently made no mistake, as every one testifies to who was present at this meeting.

The exercises began at 8 o'clock, with Prof. W. H. Ragsdale presiding as toast-master. The first subject "What the Baraca Movement Means to the Sunday school" was to have been discussed by Prof. G. E. Lineberry, but the inclemency of the weather prevented his being present, and Prof. Ragsdale took his place, and enthusiastically showed that the movement meant, extended influence of the school, social up-lift, more enthusiasm, and a religious up-lift both to the Sunday school and to the individual.

The teacher of this class, Dr. J. W. Bryan, was then called upon and asked to talk upon the subject "This Class." The doctor has always been enthusiastic about his class, and has done a great deal to bring the class up to its present high standard, and naturally feels proud of them, and it was a real feast to see how his heart was in everything he said in reference to the class, as he pointed out the good that had already come and would come hereafter from such men banded together as these are, in a great work.

Mr. Z. T. Broughton responded to the toast "Our Sunday School." He is a great believer and worker in the Sunday school and his address last evening was enthusiastic, inspiring and uplifting, as he pointed out the opportunities and the results that would come from a well organized, well equipped Sunday school.

Following this Mr. J. F. Stokes spoke on "Our Difficulties," showing that it is always wise to look for the things that may hinder and be prepared to overcome them. He evidently had given some consideration to these things and his remarks were timely and well received.

Mr. J. E. Hutchings was then called upon and asked to speak upon "Out Siders." Rarely have we heard a more touching address, as Mr. Hutchings related many personal incidents that had counted for much in the lives of individuals by their being associated in the Sunday school work. He showed that he felt every word he said and the audience at times showed that they too were feeling the force of what he said. His speech evidently told for good in this meeting.

The pastor of the church, Rev. J. B. Cook, being called upon, spoke in a most pleasing, helpful and instructing manner to the Baracas, and his ease, smoothness in manner and elegance of language lifted his hearers upon higher plains, and made them feel that the ideal life only is the life that is patented after "the man, Christ Jesus." Mr. Cook has already won the affections of his congregation and the Sunday school, as was shown by their appreciation of him last evening.

Rev. Mr. Huske being present, was called on and responded, as he always does, most happily. His enthusiasm always gives inspiration to what he says and makes everybody who hears him feel that they are glad that they have had the opportunity.

Supt. H. B. Smith was also present and was called upon and made, for a few moments, a most excellent talk, which everyone present seemed to enjoy.

Those present were then cordially invited to the store recently occupied by T. E. Hooker & Co., where oysters in almost every style were served. This part of the banquet seemed also to be much enjoyed by those present. In fact, taken altogether, there has not been an evening spent in Greenville recently by any number of people that was so filled with pleasure, good will and happiness as this entire banquet.

This class means much to this Sunday school, and the enthusiasm with which they are at work is to be commended. We believe we express the sentiment of everyone present last night when we say that from beginning to end there was not a dull moment in these exercises, and that all present will rejoice when the time comes again for this class to repeat the pleasures of last evening.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town, Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Jan. 5, 1909.

Miss Burruss Sauls, who has been quite sick for a long while is so very much improved that she now comes to her father's store and everyone is pleased to see her. She numbers her friends by the entire population of Ayden and all the surrounding country and has a snug little place in the hearts of all. There are none of us but what will be delighted to note this little girl's entire recovery.

C. O. Armstrong, Dixie Cannon, Allen Cannon and Guy Ross after spending the holidays at home have returned to their respective schools.

Prof. J. A. McArthur, who has been spending Christmas at his home in Fayetteville came in Saturday to resume his place as principal of the graded school.

All the teachers have returned and are at their respective places in the various schools here.

Misses Dora and Ethel Powell, of Goldsboro, who have been visiting Miss Helen Johnson for the past week, have returned to their home.

Mrs. C. D. Rountree, of Greenville, came down yesterday to visit relatives.

Harold McKinney, an old Ayden boy, but now of Baltimore, after spending sometime at Belhaven and Ayden, left yesterday for Chapel Hill, where he is attending college.

Miss Rosa Bland came up from a visit to Kinston Monday.

Ernest Posten, who has been a student in the seminary here left for his home in Leo, S. C., Sunday evening.

Lee Sauls, from Black Creek, was here on business with his brother, Monday.

Henry Manning who has been conducting a shoe shop here for a number of years has moved with his family to the country where he will farm during the present year.

Malone Tucker, of Grimesland, was here Monday.

R. H. Garris left Monday for Newbern to attend Federal court as a juror.

Mrs. Edwin Tripp came up from Grifton Monday evening where she had been on a visit to friends.

Lester Cox who has been spending several weeks with friends in Ayden left for his home in Greensboro yesterday.

Mrs. R. W. Smith and Mrs. W. T. Hart spent Sunday at Hookerton.

Mrs. Sencil Hodges returned Sunday from a pleasant visit in Virginia.

Rev. C. M. Morton of Wilson pastor of the Christian church was here Sunday. He will preach for this church every first, and third Sundays.

Mr. James Fleming died Sunday near here. He was 94 years old. He was a good citizen and a member of the Free Will Baptist church.

Ayden is to have another tobacco warehouse the lot has been secured and work will begin at an early day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tingle who have been visiting in Jones county returned Saturday.

The postal telegraph company will accept free domestic messages with reference to the Italian relief work when offered by regular authorized relief committee or by public officials. 15 dtf. I. L. Odom, Mgr.

BANK VAULTS.

Precautions For the Purpose of Failing the Cracksmen.

Many banks, especially those in cities, have their vaults protected by an elaborate system of concealed wires connected to a central office not so far away, so that the least tampering with the combination lock or any attack upon the door or walls, will give the alarm at the central office, where men are waiting day and night to run to the rescue. The exact method and devices that are used are kept rather secret, for fear the burglars themselves might learn too much about them, but it may be explained that one part of the apparatus is an extremely sensitive relay located at the central office. This delicate instrument closes a local circuit which sounds the alarm the moment there is the slightest disturbance of the hidden wires at and near the vault, so that a gang of burglars could hardly get to work with their drills and their nitroglycerin before the officers of the law would be upon them.

In addition to protecting vaults and safes from the direct attacks of robbers, electricity affords another safeguard by furnishing light which floods the premises with its searching beams. Indeed, many banks, stores and warehouses rely mainly upon the electric light, without which the thickest walls and the strongest and most complicated locks would be useless. They turn it on at night and leave their window shutters wide open, so that the interior may be in full view of the policeman or watchman passing the windows all night. This makes it practically impossible for lawbreakers to work unseen.

To protect the money windows of banks the teller behind the window has a concealed push button at hand, oftentimes placed under the counter where he can touch it unobserved. If any one tries to steal any money, the teller can call an officer instantly in this way. The circuit is sometimes arranged to close the bank doors also by an electrically operated mechanism before the thief has time to get to them and escape.—Harper's Weekly.

Too Much For Him.

"Poor fellow!" said the lady who was being personally conducted through the asylum. "Poor fellow! He is so handsome! He has such noble features, such a splendid brow, such an aristocratic bearing! What a pity that his mind has been wrecked! Was he crossed in love?"

"No," replied the attendant. "He's a poet. It's a very sad case. His friends thought he was going to be the American Byron or Milton or something like that. But one day he wrote a poem which he called 'Lines to a Water Fowl' and sent it to a newspaper or a magazine or something, and when it came out it was headed, 'Lines to a Water Bowl.' The shock upset him, and he hasn't been right since."

Let every member of the Baptist church remember that the pastor of this church has announced a congregational meeting at the church tonight, at which he will outline to the congregation and the church, some of the policies he will pursue as pastor of the church. He ought to be greeted with a large audience.

Notice to our Customers.

Beginning January 1st, 1909, we will charge for all crates and bottles short. Crates at $1.50 each and bottle 5c each. Beg to state that we have been trying to put this rule in force ever since we began business, but as our customers have not been required to keep up with the bottles heretofore, we have been very lenient with them and have not made any charges as yet, therefore we trust they will appreciate our position and will pull with us in taking care of these bottles and will require their customers to bring the bottles back to them, or pay 5c for each bottle short. Trusting this will be satisfactory to all our customers and wishing them all a prosperous New Year, we are,

Congress did the magnanimous thing in appropriating $800,000 to aid the earthquake sufferers in Italy. There is no question about ours being the greatest nation in the world.

The Raleigh News and Observer credits a gentleman who was in Raleigh on the eve of the legislature with saying that $8,000 had been raised to be used to make changes in the prohibition law in relation to cider, and adds "The man seemed to think that the legislature could be induced by the use of money to change the State prohibition law."

We have no doubt there are those opposed to prohibition who would bribe members of the legislature if such a thing were possible, but they are not going to find men in that body who can be thus influenced and it will be dangerous to attempt it.

The next session of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly will be held at Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, June 15 18, inclusive. The management of the hotel promises to place at the disposal of the assembly the old assembly building for its annual meetings. The teachers will thus return to their old home after a six years' absence.

GAVE THE ANSWER.

A Soldier Who Followed the Orders of General Jackson.

Illustrative of the exasperating ease with which eblicens occasionally "come home to roost" is this story from "A Soldier's Letters to Charming Nellie." On a day in June, 1862, in the early part of the civil war General Hood of the Texas brigade halted each regiment in turn and gave his orders. To the Fourth he said:
"Soldiers of the Fourth, I know as little of your destination as you do. If, however, any of you learn or suspect it, keep it a secret. To every one who asks questions answer, 'I don't know.' We are now under the orders of General Jackson, and I repeat them to you."

General Jackson also gave strict orders against foraging, but apples were plentiful, and it was contrary to nature for hungry soldiers not to eat them, and so it came about that on the march to Staunton General Jackson came upon a Texan sitting on the limb of an apple tree busily engaged in filling his haversack with the choicest fruit.

The general reined in his old sorrel horse and in his customary curt tone asked:
"What are you doing in that tree, sir?"
"I don't know," replied the Texan.
"What command do you belong to?"
"I don't know."
"Is your command ahead of you or behind you?"
"I don't know."
"Thus it went on, 'I don't know' given as an answer to every question. Finally Jackson asked sternly:
"Why do you give me that answer to every question?"
"Cause them's the orders our general gin us this mornin', an' he tole us he got 'em that er way straight from ole Jackson," replied the man in the tree.

Disgrusted with a too literal obedience to his own commands, but yet not caring to argue the point, General Jackson rode on.

An Editorial Indorsement.
From a serious minded jester the editor received this note, together with a consignment of humor that was heavy enough to go by freight:
Dear Sir—I read all these jokes to my wife, and she laughed heartily. Now, I have it on good authority that when a man's wife will laugh at his jokes they are bound to be very good—or she is. Yours, etc.

The editor slipped them into the return envelope with the letter after writing on the margin, "She is."—Linnecott's.

50 HEDGETHORN PUNCTURE-PROOF SELF-HEALING TIRES A SAMPLE PAIR TO INTRODUCE, ONLY $4.80
The regular retail price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but to introduce we will give a sample pair for $4.80 (cash with order $4.50).
NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES
NAILS, Tacks or Glass will not let the air out. Sixty thousand pairs sold last year. Over two hundred thousand pairs now in use.
DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and quick riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C. O. D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented. We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump. Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination. We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.
don't buy any kind at any price until you send for a pair of IF YOU NEED TIRES Hedgethorn Puncture-Proof tires on approval and trial at the special introductory price quoted above, or write for our big Tire and Sundry Catalogue which describes and quotes all makes and kinds of tires at about half the usual prices. DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and useful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

Yes, After All,
It's Up to Us!

PROGRESS, which spells PROSPERITY, is but another way of spelling PUBLICITY.

In ADVERTISING, in making things known from man to man, from woman to woman, lies the secret of SUCCESS for which individuals and communities seek.

The day of waiting for BUSINESS to step in at the door and SUCCESS to blow in at the window is past.

We must go out and corral BUSINESS and coax SUCCESS.

And the one way to do it is spelled so:
P-U-B-L-I-C-I-T-Y.

A SUBMARINE GARDEN.

Gorgeous and Cruel Living Flowers of the Tropical Seas.

In the world's vast submarine garden, especially in the tropics, are thousands of organisms which the botanist would naturally call plants. The tulip has been reproduced by what the naturalist says is the hydroid polyp, an ugly name for one of the most exquisite things to which the sea has given birth. Like the tulip, it is found in clusters. The lily of the valley has life in the ocean's depths, where its delicate stem also bends with the weight of the snowy bells.

Besides the microscopic forms, however, are others which are huge in contrast to them because they may be large enough to catch the eye. In the flower garden of the ocean the anemone is even more artistic in shape and gorgeous in coloring than its namesake so familiar in the dooryard. This living flower of the sea has been found in scores of shapes. At times it is a pedestal of pure white or of a grayish tint, bearing a wonderful resemblance to a marble column. It shapes itself into the rose, ready to hold the plant or blossom. Like a bell, it hangs suspended in the waters or again takes a fancy to become the modest but succulent tomato, not only in form, but in color, while the anemone as a salad has indeed an appetizing appearance.

Looking at the various models of this mysterious creation of nature.

only the man of science would believe it to be a thing of life. It is a voracious animal, too, for those beautiful fringes and edgings with which it is adorned are tentacles and stringers, with which it captures the unlucky prey that comes within reach. Its ornate coloring, yellow, purple, pink, green, sometimes a harmonious blend of several tints, is merely a device to lure its victims to destruction. It is a very cruel specimen of sea flower. There are giants in the family also, some of which are as wide as a man's hand. These devour shrimp and small fish.—Day Allen Willey in Van Norden's.

Hands and Pockets.

He was an English tourist, and when the train stopped at a highland station he regarded the lounging natives with a curious interest. Beckoning one of them to him, he said:

"Good gracious, Donald—I suppose your name is Donald or Macdonald—you don't tell me that the misfortune of unemployment has reached so far north?"

"Och, no," said Donald. "It's no so bad as that whatever."

"Well, but," said the investigator, "why is it I see a number of stalwart young men like you standing about with their hands in their pockets?"

"Oh," replied Donald, "it's perhaps because we have na been far enough south to learn to put them in other people's pockets."—Dundee Advertiser.

The Hermit Crab.

The hermit crab is one of nature's freaks. Having no proper shell of his own, he takes possession of the empty house of a sea snail, wrinkle or other mollusc. It is not true, however, that he first kills and devours the owner. There are always plenty of vacant shells to supply him and his kind with a domicile. Like any other crab, he grows, and from time to time he finds himself obliged to move into a larger tenement. He may not always find one that suits him perfectly when he wishes to make a change, just like people, but he must take the best he can find. This will account for the fact that you often see a hermit crab dragging about a dwelling entirely too big for him.

The Rifle.

As early as 1498 the citizens of Leipzig, Germany, possessed the germ of the future rifle, for their arms had a grooved bore, but the groove was straight. Not many years after—about 1520—Augustin Kutter of Nuremberg was celebrated for his star grooved barrels, in which the grooves had a spiral form. From this time on it was simply a matter of improvement, the principle itself having been forever established by Kutter.—New York American.

The Fraction.

"The average family in America comprises 4.6 persons." "I guess I'm the .6 of this family," murmured Paw Hoptoad, a trifle acridly.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Somewhat Negative.

This writer once came across the Kentish multiplication of the negative. He was asking the way of an aged laborer. "You go 'long across the field and git over the stile to the right—no, the left," was the reply. "Then you come to the 'ard road, and you go along till you come to the place where I used to go to school. Then you go 'long, and you ain't got no call not for to ask nobody not afore you git to where Mr. Myan lays at Thurham."—London Chronicle.

TIME TO ACT

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness Profit by Greenville People's Experience.

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are common early symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect this ill. The attacks may pass off for a time but return with greater intensity. If there are symptoms of dropsy—puffy swellings below the eyes, bloating of limbs and ankles, or any part of the body, don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up the treatment until the kidneys are well, when your old time health and vigor will return. Cures in Greenville prove the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

Mrs. J. F. Stokes, Cor. Twelfth and Evans Sts., Greenville, N. C., says: "For some time I suffered severely from kidney complaint. The kidneys were very irregular in action and at times caused me great annoyance. I had bearing down pains through my abdomen and sharp shooting twinges through my loins causing me untold misery. There was a tender spot across my kidney regions and at times my limbs pained intensely. I finally read of Doan's Kidney pills and was so much impressed that I procured them at Wooten's drug store. They soon relieved the pains in my sides and limbs, restored the secretions to a regular and normal condition and at present I am feeling a great deal better in every way. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for the great improvement in my condition."

For sale by a dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THE HONEYMOON PARADE.

Wedding Custom in One Town When the Train is Late.

A small city, which need not be located more particularly than that it is somewhere east of Boston, has its own peculiar way of speeding the newly married on their honeymoon.

For one thing, every one goes to the station to see the couple depart. This is done in many small places. The showering of rice or confetti and the throwing of the old shoe take place, not at the home of the bride, but at the station. To that extent the city referred to is not unusual.

But in this city train schedules frequently go awry, and when they do the unusual happens. The wedding, of course, has been celebrated on time, and the reception has taken as much time as such things usually take. The departure from the bride's home is made in due season to catch the train if it is on time.

The wedding guests rush to the station, where all other inhabitants having nothing better to do have assembled already. It is a free show which no one would miss.

The carriage bearing the newly married pair is drawn by white horses and decorated with white ribbons. Custom demands this, and no one has yet had the temerity to do otherwise.

The carriage arrives at the station, and it is learned that the train is so many minutes or so many hours late. Usually the measure is in hours.

The carriage doesn't wait. It goes parading. It drives around and around a prescribed route, from every point of which the driver can get due notice of the approach of the train.

The crowd remains patiently at the station. Other curious persons station themselves at points along the route just to see the wedding coach pass.

Sometimes two or three carriages, drawn by white horses and decorated in white, swing steadily around this hymeneal circuit. It seems like an endless procession. It is not unusual for a wedding pair to spend the first five hours of their honeymoon just riding round and round waiting for the train.

When the screech of the locomotive finally is heard the driver continues to swing up to the platform just as the train comes to a stop. Then the bride and bridegroom make a mad rush for their car amid a shower of rice and confetti and old shoes. The honeymoon parade is over.—Exchange.

Plenty of Ribs.

Ostend had often said he wanted to be a surgeon when he grew up, and his mother was boasting about his knowledge of anatomy. "My son," she exclaimed before a party of visitors, "a man has how many ribs?"

Ostend looked solemn.

"Well, ma," he replied after a pause, "it just depends on the man. Now, a man called here today who had 129 ribs."

"Ostend," said the mother sternly, "don't fib."

"I'm not fibbing, ma."

"And you mean to say the man had 129 ribs?"

"Yessum. He was an umbrella mender."—Kansas City Independent.

Dry Goods and Ladies Dress Goods.

I have purchased the interest of the late B. E. Patrick in the firm of B. E. Patrick & Co., and will continue to carry on a general dry goods business at the same stand.
