AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Feb. 12, 1909.

It seems to be the prevailing disposition among many of our legislators to have changed several sections of our constitution. Should there be any changes, in our opinion, there could be none better than that relating to the "claim and delivery proceedings" where a magistrate has only fifty dollars jurisdiction. There may have been a time when this was sufficient but at this time and in this day of advancement and business hustle it by no means meets the requirements. Justices should have two hundred dollars jurisdiction, just as in other civil proceedings, and if the change is made we believe it will not only result in much good to all classes but the farmer and merchant, the sinews of the land, would derive special benefit.

Wednesday night W. E. Worthington, living about four miles from Ayden, had the misfortune to lose his residence and smoke house with entire contents by fire. His barns, stables and other out buildings caught fire several times and it was only by the most heroic efforts these were saved. Mr. Worthington is a very poor man and this loss falls heavily on him, leaving him and family, consisting of wife and three small children, entirely homeless. His loss is about $800, with an insurance of about $200 in the Pitt county insurance company.

Miss Nellie Barnhill, of Greenville, is visiting the family of L. Sumrell.

The Townsend-Windham real estate agents are here making preparation for their big sale of town lots which will take place very soon. They have some nice property and those who wish to invest either in homes or for speculation would do well to be present at their sale.

Mr. Thompson, wife and child, of Greenville, were here visiting friends Wednesday.

W. H. Kilpatrick was here from Greenville yesterday buying cotton.

The old bachelor business is the devil. How nice a cosy little home of your own must be!

F. Lilly has returned from Norfolk.

Mrs. Maud Thompson, of Wilson, is visiting the family of Rev. J. R. Tingle. Mrs. Thompson, one time taught school here in C. C. College. She was then Miss Koonce.

W. F. Hart is on the sick list. Our fisherman promise to launch the pitch kettle seine next week. We may then expect shad.

A small derangement in the dynamo engine caused us to be in the dark Monday night.

A runaway team came in contact with an electric light pole Thursday and there was quite a smash up. "Dats what makes me spise a mule."

John T. Thorne was in town Thursday.

Notice.

We wish to announce to the public that the firm of Taft and Vandyke are a separate and distinct firm as they have always been and that E. H. Taft and Z. P. Vandyke are the sole owners and managers of the firm of Taft & Vandyke.

If tomorrow's weather is as fine as today's there should be a large number of teachers here.

WITH MR. AND MRS. JEFFRESS.

They Give Many Friends a Delightful Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Overbey Jeffress entertained at cards on Wednesday evening in honor of their guests, Miss Irma F. Jeffress, Miss Mary D. Burwell and Mrs. A. L. J. Boswell, of Chase City. This was the largest card party of the season, six hand euchre was played and seven tables were necessary.

The entire lower floor was thrown open to the guests, and the brilliantly lighted rooms, combined with the soft frou-frou of elegantly gowned women made a lovely scene. An elegant menu was served at the close of the game.

The score cards were unique and attractive. Miss Annie Beaman making the highest score won the first prize, a lovely collar, while Mr. Charles James was the fortunate winner among the men, receiving a beautiful pack of cards.

Dainty prizes were also presented to each honor guest. Mr. R. C. Bagby, Mr. Wyatt Brown, Mr. Frank Wooten, Mr. J. B. James and Miss Lottie Skinner were each called on by the host, who made a few happy remarks introducing each one and they in turn made very eloquent laughter provoking speeches on presenting the different prizes, much applause greeting each one.

The evening was one of much merriment and enjoyment. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffress proved most charming hosts, and the many guests who were invited to enjoy their delightful hospitality were Misses Lottie Skinner, Helen Forbes, Daisy Minor, Winnie Skinner, Annie Beaman, Nell Skinner, Katherine McEnery, Glenn Forbes, Lizzie Jones, Lottie Blow, Irma Cobb, Hennie Ragsdale, Janie Brown, Mary James, Argen Hardy, Mrs. Iren Skinner, Mrs. R. J. Cobb and Mrs. A. S. Dockery, of Rockingham; Messrs. Ben Higgs, Harry Skinner, Wyatt Brown, Cary Warren, F. M. Wooten, A. M. Moseley, W. B. Wilson, Jr., Will Lipscomb, S. T. White, Robert Howard, Charles James, R. C. Bagby, Andrew Moore, T. M. Hooker, F. D. Foxhall, W. E. Hooker, W. H. Ragsdale, W. L. Best, Hugh Ragsdale, J. B. James, Dr. J. E. Nobles, Dr. L. C. Skinner, Thomas Moore, of Wilmington; Vernon Ferrell, of Farmville; F. J. Jeffress, of Robertsonville.

TYPHOID IN MINERAL WATER.

The State Chemist Finds Typhoid in Thirty Five Out of Forty Seven.

A bill was reported favorably this morning in the senate, which provides for an analysis of all mineral waters offered for sale for resorts in the state, and if found bad the analysis will be published in the Health Bulletin. It provides also that the owner of a spring may have the water analyzed three times and if found pure it will be so stated in the Health Bulletin.

But here is the most interesting matter of the whole thing under discussion: Dr. Lewis finds that of the 47 mineral waters being sold in this state, 34 are polluted with typhoid germs, and actually dangerous. Few will read this, comparatively speaking, but it is of vital importance.

It goes without saying that the Scott bill will pass both houses. Just think of people going to a health resorts to drink typhoid germs.—Raleigh Times.

TO ROCKEFELLER'S CHURCH.

Rev. John E. White, of Atlanta, Formerly of North Carolina, Called to His Pastorate.

Throughout North Carolina both in Baptist circles and among the people generally there will be great interest in the report, made on what is stated to be good authority, that Rev. Dr. John E. White, at present the pastor of the Second Baptist church in Atlanta, will be extended a call to Euclid Avenue Baptist church in Cleveland, Ohio, to succeed Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, who in turn is to go to Madison Avenue church in New York city to succeed the late Rev. Dr. George Lorimer, recently deceased. It is the report that Dr. White will accept the call.

An interesting point in connection with these proposed changes is that Mr. John D. Rockefeller is a prominent member of the congregation and a mainstay in its financial support. The salary paid to the pastor is said to be one of the largest received by any minister in the United States. For several months last summer Dr. White and Mr. Rockefeller were much thrown together as companion golf players and later on Dr. White wrote an article warmly defending the oil king and his religious methods.

Dr. White is a native of North Carolina, his birth place being Clayton, and he is an alumnus of Wake Forest College, from which he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1890. He first prepared himself for law, but instead entered the ministry, being licensed in August of 1891 and ordained in June of 1892 at Apex. He was pastor at Wilson from 1892 and 1893, at Edenton from 1893 to 1896 and has been corresponding secretary of the Baptist State Convention. He has been in Atlanta five or more years.—Raleigh News & Observer.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

New Bern, N. C., Feb. 11.—The House of Alfred Stevens, negro, at Riverdale, was destroyed by fire last night and a young child was burned to death. The parents were barely able to save themselves and two other children. Fires have been numerous in the neighborhood of that fire and incendiaryism is suspected.

Mooresville, N. C., Feb. 11.—A terrible accident occurred at the Lorene Oil mill here, this afternoon when Fred Perry, eighteen years old, was instantly killed by becoming entangled in a belt.

Special Brotherhood Service.

On Sunday night, Feb. 14th, at 7:30 o'clock there will be a special service at the Episcopal church. All persons are welcome, but men are especially invited to be present. The subject of the sermon will be Brotherhood Work.

Scotland's Patron Saint.

Why was St. Andrew chosen as the patron saint of Scotland? This question has been asked many times, but the archdeacon of whom Dean Hole tells may be considered to have discovered the most satisfactory solution of the problem. "Gentlemen," said he (he was speaking at a St. Andrew's day banquet at the time), "I have given this difficult subject my thoughtful consideration, and I have come to the conclusion that St. Andrew was chosen to be the patron saint of Scotland because he discovered the lad who had the loaves and fishes."

THE LEGISLATURE.

What Our Law Makers Are Doing at Raleigh.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY.
SENATE.

The more important bills introduced were: relating to the directors of corporations; to amend section of the revisal relating to copies of public records used as evidence; to amend charter of the North Carolina Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co; an act relating to motor vehicles (by Senator Blow); to provide for the inspection of illuminating oils and fluids; to amend the law relating to the sale of merchandise in bulk; an act calling for a constitutional convention to be held the first Thursday in June, 1911; to amend the constitution of North Carolina to provide for quadrennial elections and quadrennial session of the legislature.

Senator Barringer's bill to make a new judicial district out of Alamance and Guilford counties failed to pass on third reading.

HOUSE.

Among the new bills in this branch were: To aid law school at the University; to establish a card index in the secretary of state's office; to authorize the state board of education to join Hyde county in draining lands; to amend the law as to sale of land for taxes; to require educational qualification for architects.

The contested election case from Dare county came up for final hearing and the majority report in favor of Williams was adopted.

Why the Preacher Was on the Gang.

The overseer of the Gaston county chain gang, at work on the road near Cherryville, tells us that he has every trade and profession represented in his crew except lawyers and he can't see how they always manage to escape their just deserts. He has two preachers; one white and the other colored, both good at praying and preaching. He said the white preacher was the best worker he had ever had; always ready to go to work, and while at it steady, industrious and quiet. We thought it strange for a white preacher to be sent to the gang and on enquiring "how come?" were told that he had three living wives all in Gaston county. Then the mystery of his being so quiet and contented was easily understood. Any man that would be fool enough to provide himself with three talking machines should welcome a sentence to the chain gang for the rest he would get.—Lincolnton Times.

Will Not be Confirmed.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—Judge Pritchard, Marion Butler and Receiver Duncan of the Seaboard Air Line need not bother themselves any more about the confirmation of the nomination of Herbert F. Seawell as judge of the Eastern district.

The nomination of Seawell died today when Senator Simmons made known the fact that if it should become necessary he would oppose confirmation. The senior Tar Heel senator takes this position in response to requests from leading members of the bar in the State. Letters have been coming in for the past week from some of the best known lawyers in the State, who oppose confirmation on the ground that Seawell is not big enough for the judgeship.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

 FRIDAY, FEB. 12, 1909.

The legislature is getting down to politics now.

Added to her other causes of excitement, Charlotte now has a mad dog scare.

As an analysis has disclosed that nearly all the mineral waters contain typhoid germs, lets all make up our minds to stay home next summer and drink pure city water.

Some of the papers say that the recently discovered pellagra is just a new name for cramp colic, and the Durham Sun wants to know if by that name it will hurt more or cost more. Likely the latter, Jim.

That petition sent up to a legislator from certain citizens of Pitt county, asking that a law be enacted to prohibit barbecuing pigs for public occasions, and to make wives be obedient to their husbands, is hardly more ludicrous than some other matters that get before the law making body.

This way of different people having the same name causes trouble sometime. A Colorado young woman committed suicide because she thought her affianced had obtained license to marry another than herself. It developed that another young man of the same name as her affianced had obtained a license to marry, and the young lady reading of this jumped out a six-story window.

Proper School Age.

The proper age to begin education is wholly misunderstood. Of course a child begins to learn the minute it takes its first breath, and its first three years it probably learns more than in any other subsequent three of its existence, but it understands little of the phenomena it perceives. Until it is 9 or 10 years old its whole purpose in life is learning its environment, and sometimes it is ten years more before it really understands the simplest thing it has learned. It is, therefore, not at all strange that if a child is kept out of school until its brain is fairly well grown, say until 9 or 10, that its subsequent growth is greater than that of children who must often unlearn many of the absurd conceptions they formed in the first years of school life. We must realize that until 9 or 10 the school is merely a nursery to relieve mothers of the home care of children, a species of socialism to which Americans are wedded. Studies now given to these tots might be postponed until 10 to 13, and subjects now given to these children are really appropriate for the ages of 14 to 17, and so on. Every time a teacher reads absurdities in examination papers she should realize that the child is generally too young, and that the whole system must be changed.—American Medicine.

$100 Reward $100.
 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Charlotte in the Lead.

An interesting fact concerning the building and loan associations of this city and the amount of stock subscribed in these concerns by the people appears in a neat folder issued by the Jefferson County Building and Loan Association, of Birmingham, Ala., which is as follows:
 "Philadelphia is the great home-owning city of this country, building and loan associations did it. In New Jersey the people have invested in the stock of the building and loan associations $17 for every man, woman and child in the State. In North Carolina they have invested only $2 per capita. But in Charlotte, the most prosperous and flourishing city in the State, what do we find? In Charlotte the people have paid in on this stock $42 per capita and have subscribed for $100 per capita. No wonder that town, even with the low wages of a cotton mill town, grows and prospers."
 —Charlotte Observer.

Unpunished Murderers.

Nowhere except, perhaps, in Corsica of Sicily are murderers so leniently treated as in America. Human life has become an exceedingly cheap commodity in this country, which in so many other respects is a leader in enlightenment and civilization. Too few murderers are punished. Kill and go free has come to be a most unfortunate rule. Take a human life on any flimsy pretext, set up a more flimsy wail of insanity or self-defense, get expert testimony on brain storms, confuse the jury, and the murderer is at liberty. Just where the fault lies is difficult to say. But as things go now the American jury system is a failure in this one respect at least. The same evidence that would inevitably hang a man in England, and hang him quickly, would not convince an American jury in nine out of ten cases.—Philadelphia Press.

There is now the talk that should the Senate fail to confirm Crum's appointment Taft will appoint him to some office at the North. That would be a victory for the people of Charleston and of the South. They don't care how many negroes are appointed to offices located beyond the Potomac.—Wilmington Star.

What Changed the Old Town's Name?

Mr. Brown of SLEEPYTOWN,

He wouldn't advertise;
So along came Mr. Strong
And took him by surprise.

Mr. S., as you may guess,
Was strictly up to date;
Knew the game and played the same
At early hours and late.

Strong is still in WAKEFULVILLE,
The merchant of the town;
He advertises and still surprises
Such chaps as Mr. Brown.

FOUR BOXES.

An Effective Quartet of Great Governing Powers.

"The world is governed by three boxes," said an American wit of a century ago, "the cartridge box, the ballot box and the handbox."

Between the first two of these great governing powers no one questioned the natural alliance, but that the sex whose box was the handbox should also claim a right to use the ballot box was in his day undreamed of. Half a century later, during the civil war, Horace Greeley, the famous editor, held the old opinion.

"Madam," he said bluntly at a public meeting to the pioneer suffragist, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, "the bullet and the ballot go together. If you want to vote, are you ready to fight?" "Certainly, sir," replied the quick witted lady, to the delight of the audience. "I am ready to fight just as you have fought—with my pen."

Not all the early women suffragists would so readily have countenanced warfare, even in jest, for a notable number of them were Quakers or of Quaker ancestry, to whom force was abhorrent. In the Society of Friends the rights of men and women have been always absolutely equal, so that, as Lucretia Mott declared, it seemed but natural to wish to counsel and act with men everywhere on even terms, as she had always done in Nantucket.

One Quaker philanthropist, Abby Hopper Gibbons, who had never been identified with the "woman's rights" women, yet acknowledged with demure humor that, although she talked little about her rights, she had "been in the habit of always taking them" when she could.

Once, however, she failed to take a very important one when she was summoned to do so. She had a singularly bold and firm handwriting, easily mistaken for a man's, and often signed business communications simply A. H. Gibbons, so that she one day found herself, as a citizen and a taxpayer, imperatively required, in the name of the law, to furnish reasons why she should not serve as a juror.

"I know of none," she wrote serenely at the foot of this formidable document and sent it back. But the official who read this apparently impertinent response must have investigated the record of his correspondent and found a reason, for A. H. Gibbons, householder of New York, was excused from service in that fourth box, so important in civilized communities—the jury box.—Youth's Companion.

THE COBRA STONE.

A Ceylon Story About the Reptile and Its Shining Lure.

Every one knows that Ceylon is famous for the amount of queer and rare precious stones found in the sands of its dried up river beds. Among these is one called "chiorophane," a rare variety of fluor spar, which shines at night with phosphorescent light. There has long been a tradition among the natives that a certain species of cobra makes use of this stone to attract insects in the darkness. Indeed, the name given it is "naja-kaller," or cobra stone. A scientist resolved to test this wonderful story during a stay in the island, so offered any cooly 5 rupees to point out a stone carrying cobra. In about a week an old Tamil came in and offered to show him one. He followed this guide, and, sure enough, there, under an immense tamarind tree, he saw a little point of steady greenish light and could faintly distinguish behind a cobra coiled and slowly waving its head from side to side. It would have been desperately dangerous to approach the reptile, and the cooly begged him not to do so, saying that next night he would himself get the stone. He did so, and in rather clever fashion. Before dark he climbed into the tree, carrying a large bag of ashes. After nightfall the cobra turned up, as usual, and deposited its treasure, which it carried in its mouth, before it. Thereupon the cooly emptied his bag of ashes over the shining object, and the frightened reptile, after a wild but fruitless search crept back into the jungle. The cooly descended, searched the ashes, found the stone and received his promised reward.—London Telegraph.

Lively Checco.
"How did you find the Stilton I sent you?"
"Find it? We didn't find it! As soon as ever my wife's back was turned it jumped from the pantry shelf, ran down the garden, out of the gate and was last seen chasing a frightened dog down the road."—London Scraps.

THE CONCIERGE.

Tyrant Rule of the Autocrat of the Parisian Flat House.

The "concierge" is considered to be the bane of the Parisian flat dweller's existence. His functions are supposed to be the following:

The first and most important is to collect the rent on quarter day; after that he must see that the tenants do not surreptitiously remove. The latter precaution seems to be somewhat unnecessary, as rents in Paris are always paid in advance.

He should also bring up your letters at least twice a day, but as the concierge is generally a stout, middle aged woman who has a decided objection to climbing stairs the latter regulation remains somewhat of a dead letter.

In Paris the front door of most houses is generally closed at 10 o'clock. After that time admittance can only be obtained by ringing a bell. The concierge is obliged to open the door, and she does this, as soon as she is awake, by pulling a rope which hangs by her bedside.

If she is a sound sleeper and you are accustomed to come home late at night, the best thing to do is to look for another flat, as the concierge will put you down as a "bad tenant" and make things as unpleasant for you as possible.

If you never stop out late at night, receive very few friends and fee her heavily at Christmas, the concierge will consider you as a "good tenant" until you give notice to leave, when her interest in you suddenly vanishes.

As there is nothing more to be expected from you and the incoming tenant is obliged to give a substantial tip, called a "denter a Dieu," she is anxious to "speed the parting guest" as much as possible.

The concierge does sometimes make a final effort to extract something more from you by attempting to make you pay a franc for every nail knocked in the walls of your flat, but this has been decided to be illegal and may be safely resisted.

But the Parisian concierge is really unpopular because she represents a landlord.—London Mail.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Program for Saturday, February 13th, 1909.

10:30 a. m. Devotional exercises, Rev. J. H. Shore.
Reading minutes.
How should we teach agriculture, Supt. J. C. McArthur.
Geography, round-table talks, led by Prof. F. C. Nye.
Language in the first grade—Miss Annie L. Irvine.
Literature in the 6th and 7th grades—Miss Cora Moore.
Primary arithmetic—Miss Lillie B. Grant.
1:30 p. m. Adjournment.
2 to 3 p. m. Informal conference upon matters intimately connected with school work.
The above program promises an exceedingly interesting and profitable meeting.

On account of inclement weather a number of teachers failed to come to the last meeting. We are very anxious that this meeting may be largely attended. It will be seen from the program that we are to have an afternoon session, strictly from 2 to 3 o'clock. There is a demand for this second session upon the part of the teachers. Some of them do not get in early enough to attend all of the morning session, and therefore hardly feel paid for coming. A large number have to remain in town until the late afternoon trains and they would prefer having this afternoon session. We believe that this informal conference will be found to be just what most of our teachers who are interested in their work desire. We are hoping for a great day on the second Saturday. Let every teacher assist in making it such.

W. H. Ragsdale,
County Superintendent.

Yet They Needed Exercise.

Two men whose offices were on the second floor were on the first floor waiting for an elevator. Long and impatiently they waited.
"You're not looking extra well, London," remarked the lawyer.
"No, Rangle," replied the real estate man. "Think I'll join an athletic club. I need the exercise."
"Me too."
Still they waited for the elevator.—Kansas City Times.

A STEADY DRAIN.

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid and Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Great Greenville cures prove it.

James Hardison, 319 E. Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says: "My kidneys were weak and the secretions passed too frequently, especially at night when I was forced to rise several times. In the morning my back was very lame and I was subject to pains through my loins. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wooten's drug store, restored my kidneys to a normal condition. I am now able to sleep well and the lameness and soreness across the small of my back has entirely disappeared. I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to live up to representations and I have no hesitation in giving them my endorsement." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
