The Tradesman Classified Directory of Southern Industries and Buyers' Guide.

The Tradesman Classified Directory of Southern Industries and Buyers' Guide for 1909 is now ready for distribution. In changing the Tradesman to a weekly publication, the publishers announce there has been no advance in the subscription price, but where the directory is included the cost for both is $3.

The directory is the only compilation of its kind issued. It contains 280 pages, some thirty thousand names, embracing fourteen states and twenty industries. As a mailing list and book of reference it is invaluable. All subscribers to The Tradesman can secure a copy by renewing their subscription and paying an additional dollar.

The issue is limited. Copies can be secured only through the subscription department of The Tradesman, whose publication and business offices are at Chattanooga, Tenn.

THE LEGISLATURE.

What Our Law Makers Are Doing at Raleigh.

FORTIETH DAY. SENATE.

Among the new bills were: To provide compensation for vacant land granted by the state; to provide for tax collection after levies on real estate; to forbid the sale of drugs and narcotics to habitual users; to allow domestic bonding companies to issue their own bonds; to provide the Australian ballot.

The bill to allow the town of Greenville to issue bonds passed third reading.

HOUSE.

Among the new bills were: To increase the pension tax to six cents; to prohibit the manufacture and sale of duplicate switch lock keys; to prevent dogs running at large during quail nesting season.

Changed His Mind Twice About the Divorce.

Wilkes always has the right of way in the introduction of new customs, especially in legal proceedings. A recently started divorce proceeding demonstrates the fact that divorce proceedings, like love, do not always run smooth. About two or three months ago a Wilkes man employed a lawyer to procure a divorce for him, paying a retainer of $10. About three weeks ago, the man came back and in a very confidential way instructed the lawyer to stop the proceedings, as he "didn't believe he wanted any 'orce no-how." The lawyer of course "retained the retainer" and the Wilkes man proceeded homeward, apparently "feeling no pain" either of body, soul or heart. But the respite of peace was not to last. A week or so after reaching home, an urgent 'phone message came to the lawyer. It had ginger and determination in it. It ran about like this: "Push the divorce case like hell. I want it through next court in spite of the d—. I want you to understand to do your best and I've got the dough to pay for it."—Wilkesboro Chronicle.

Luck in the Figure Nine.

People who believe in the mysterious properties of figures will be interested in the declaration of a New York business man that this will be a prosperous year for the country because it contains the figure nine, which has always proved a good omen in the history of the country. He cites the business revival of 1839, following the panic of '37, the discovery of gold in California in 1849, the opening of the Colorado mines in 1859, the revival of business in 1869, the era of prosperity which set in in 1879, the boom period of 1889-93, and lastly the boom which set in in 1899, following the Spanish war. It looks as if history would repeat itself in 1909, he concludes. This is the kind of news the country likes to hear, and the figure nine may be assured that it will be given due credit if the omen holds good. There is at least as much justification for prophecy based on lucky numbers as there is for weather predictions based on the wishbone of a goose.—Roelster Democrat and Chronicle.

The ladies of the Methodist church will serve ice cream and cake on Friday night, 26th, in the Carper store. Everybody invited. Doors open at 4 p. m. for the children.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Dunn, N. C., Feb. 20.—On Broad street crossing at 7:30 tonight, freight trains, shifting and backing, ran over Hon. W. A. Stewart, a prominent attorney, crushing him to pieces.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Feb. 20.—A civil suit was instituted here today against the Southern Railway for $10,000. F. S. Cook, the plaintiff, alleges mental anguish as result of a Southern agent refusing to check his trunk to Danville, Va., upon the plea that it contained liquor.

Morehead City, N. C., Feb. 20.—The Bank of Carteret closed its doors this morning, posting a notice signed by the board of directors to the effect that being unable to realize on their securities the bank had been closed by order of the Corporation Commission, and that all depositors would be paid in full. There has been no excitement, the depositors being satisfied with the statement of the directors who are the leading business men of the community.

Concord, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Alida Burkhead, widow of John Whitfield Burkhead and a daughter of the late Capt. John Woodhouse, for many years editor of The Concord Register, committed suicide here to-day by burning herself to death. At 2:30 o'clock she complained and told her 17-year-old daughter, Miss Dora, that she wanted to lie down, going to her home room at the head of the stairway. There she saturated her clothing with kerosene oil and set fire to herself. Before any one could reach her, the flames had burned the flesh on her face, neck and body to the waistband into a crisp.

How Little Can One Live On?

New York World investigations of the cost of living in that city disclose families living successfully on five dollars a week, including a meat diet, which is reckoned a triumph for the housewife. Judge Bennett said in a newspaper communication, and truly, that "we eat too much, habitually," but a family which lives on five dollars a week surely run little risk of indigestion from over-feeding. However, a family, even with everything to buy, can provide subsistence and maintain a measure of strength, with very little money, when put to it. Rice and a soup-bone, for instance, reach a long way.

A North Carolina statesman of not a great many years ago, who, after a long period of public service, was cast up on the shore and yet could not tear himself away from Washington, was said to be able to find out every day where a tplate of the thickest soup in the town could be bought for a nickel. He kept going a long time and when he did die it was not of starvation. Nevertheless he must have had many times internal gnawings of which the world knew nothing. Yes, one can live on very little, a small family on three or four dollars, perhaps, and "we eat too much, habitually," but a family in New York on five dollars a week must surely find itself on short commons.—Charlotte Observer.

MONDAY, FEB. 22, 1909.

A bill was introduced in the legislature Saturday to protect muskrats in Currituck county. Skunks may come along next.

North Carolina used to be called the graveyard of newspapers, and even until this day it has not entirely lost this appellation, for every year there are papers born and papers die. They spring up, apparently flourish for awhile and pass away. Possibly the best explanation of this is overcrowding the field, too many papers trying to exist in communities that can barely support one. Every town that can support a paper should have one, and then get the best results possible from it by giving it hearty co-operation. While many newspapers have died in North Carolina, there are many others that have reached an old age and passed long years of usefulness. This is called to mind by the announcement that the Louisburg Times has just filled out its thirty-ninth year, and for thirty-four years has been edited by the same man—Mr. J. A. Thomas. That is a record to point at with pride, and it is well deserved, for the Times and its editor one among the best in the State and are a power in the advancement of good. Such papers deserve to succeed.

Give Us the Torrens System.

At last the moment looking to the adoption of the Torrens System of registering land titles is beginning to take definite shape in the South. Under the leadership of Hon. Eugene O. Massie the Virginia advocates of the plan will undoubtedly win success at no distant dates in North Carolina General Assembly Hon. R. R. Cotten has introduced and will champion a like measure for the Old North State, and there is not a little interest in the matter in South Carolina and Georgia.

That such a measure ought to pass not only the North Carolina Legislature, but others also, there can be no question. Under our present antiquated system, every time a piece of real estate changes hands, some lawyer must examine into the legality of the title. Old records, running back sometimes for hundreds of years, must be searched at great labor and expense; and the next time the property is sold, and the next, and the next, the same identical work must be done over again, and other big lawyers' fees paid—a system as foolish and uneconomic as paying a man to carry a brick from one side of the street to the other and back again interminably.

Now the Torrens System proposes that instead of this perennial investigation of the same things, this unending, Sisyphean-like job of rolling the stone uphill and then letting it roll straightway down again, and all to no purpose save the paying of unnecessary fees to lawyers who might better serve their fellows in some other way—instead of all this, we say, the Torrens System proposes that the State

 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

shall examine the title once for all, guarantee it and register it, so that forever afterward it may be transferred almost as easily, quickly, and cheaply as a government bond or a share of stock in an incorporated company. The original cost of a Torrens deed, even including the little tax for the guarantee fund, would be little, if any, more than the present cost of a title investigation, and ever after the farmer would be able to transfer his property, or secure loans upon it, at from one-fourth to one-tenth the present cost.

The farmers in North Carolina ought to get behind Mr. Cotten, and the farmers in other States ought to get behind champions of the Torrens idea in their commonwealths, and force the general adoption of the Torrens plan. By making the titles more certain and transfers less difficult, it would increase the value of farm property, and invite immigration of the best sort, but most of all it would (1) save hundreds and thousands of dollars in utterly unnecessary fees, and (2) it would enable the farm-owner to sell land or borrow money on it with the same ease with which a town capitalist now handles his bonds or bank notes.—Progressive Farmer.

An exchange truly says, that as a rule you might as well try to grow fruit on a broom stick as to make a business grow without advertising. Great commercial success in all lines of human endeavor are monuments to good advertising, built on a foundation of honest merchandise. Newspaper publicity is the ladder on which practically all of our merchants prominent in city and village, have climbed to positions of power and affluence. Human nature is the same the world over. We are all susceptible to the same influences which, through good advertising, have never yet failed to produce the desired results; nor will it ever fail as long as this advertising is carried out along judicious lines and appeals to common everyday horse sense.

Yes, After All,
It's Up to Us!

PROGRESS, which spells PROSPERITY, is but another way of spelling PUBLICITY.

In ADVERTISING, in making things known from man to man, from woman to woman, lies the secret of SUCCESS for which individuals and communities seek.

The day of waiting for BUSINESS to step in at the door and SUCCESS to blow in at the window is past.

We must go out and corral BUSINESS and coax SUCCESS.

And the one way to do it is spelt so:
P-U-B-L-I-C-I-T-Y.

One Kind of Friendship.

In the village where I live I was in the habit of visiting two poor, infirm old women, one inhabiting the single downstairs room, the other occupying the garret above her. Each kept a jealous watch as to whether I bestowed more tea or sixpences on the other, and each was sure to tell me every ill trait she could hear of the other. One day the old lady who lived upstairs, thanking me effusively for my visit, said: "You're the only lady ever comes near me, the only friend I have. That one," pointing downward, "has hapes of friends," adding hastily, lest I should be too favorably impressed by that circumstance, "and there's not wan of them but hates her." I thought to myself that such a description of friendship may sometimes apply to higher circles than that of my poor old friend.—London Spectator.

Take it as it Comes.

Once a smart hare met a wise fox. "B-r-r-r!" chattered the hare. "What's the trouble, my friend?" queried the fox craftily. "Why, this weather is terrible. I am almost frozen." The wise fox winked up at the crow in the tree. "In that case, my friend," he chuckled, "I think you will find it warmer inside than it is outside." Without further ceremony he swallowed the hare. Moral.—It is not always a safe policy to complain about the weather.—Chicago News.

The Geese of Nieder-Morlen.

In the little Hessian village of Nieder-Morlen, says the Strand Magazine, between Giessen and Frankfurt, a strange scene may be witnessed every evening at 5.30. Some 2,000 geese, which have spent the day on the river's bank below the village, at a given signal from their leaders make their way homeward with much pomp and circumstance and raucous noise. The strangest part of the proceeding is seen when they reach the village street and, without any guidance or driving, waddle each into its own yard for the night. Like so many squads they break off in their dozens from the main body, knowing instinctively their owners' door and with solemn gait entering in as though conscious of their own innate cleverness.

Too High.

"I thought zis building had only forty stories!" cried the excited foreigner. "It has," said the elevator starter. "Ah, no! You deceive me! I just got on one of your elevators. One passenger said, 'Three, please.' Another said, 'Seven,' another 'Ten.' And zen a man cried out, '1,945!' Sacre bleu! I got out at ze first stop. It is too much of ze risk!" "But '1,945' is an office number," explained the starter. "No! You deceive! I have not ze trust in you! Tomorrow I return to Paris!"—New York Times.

A STEADY DRAIN.

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body--Make You Ill, Languid and Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Great Greenville cures prove it.

James Hardison, 319 E. Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says: "My kidneys were weak and the secretions passed too frequently, especially at night when I was forced to rise several times. In the morning my back was very lame and I was subject to pains through my joints. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wooten's drug store, restored my kidneys to a normal condition. I am now able to sleep well and the lameness and soreness across the small of my back has entirely disappeared. I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to live up to representations and I have no hesitation in giving them my endorsement." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Have you ever thought of how much trouble you give your neighbors by borrowing their telephone? It won't cost you any more than it does them, five cents per day in your residence. 2 22

A SUNDAY STROLL.

This Recreation Was at One Time Unlawful in Maine.
Something of the exact behavior demanded from young people by those in authority in the early days of the nineteenth century is brought to notice in the biography of Peter Edes, a pioneer printer in Maine. Mr. Edes had an apprentice, James Orrock, who enjoyed a walk on Sunday after a week of indoor employment.

Mr. Edes soon found out that this was not permitted at Bangor and wrote a friend of the trouble caused him by his apprentice's apparently innocent amusement.

"You must know," he writes, "that the people are very strict on this day and will not let men walk out, much less boys. James was strolling about and was ordered home by the tything men, but he would not obey them. A complaint was lodged against me on the next day, and I should have been obliged to pay a fine had not Judge Dutton pleaded in my behalf that I did not approve of such conduct and so got clear."

Another interesting incident in connection with life in Bangor at this time is an advertisement which appeared in Mr. Edes' paper, the Bangor Weekly Register, stating that "E. & M. R. Edes have opened a school in the room over the Register office for the instruction of young misses and small children in the useful and ornamental branches of education."

The terms were: "Orthography and plain work, 17 cents per week; writing, English grammar, geography with the use of maps, composition, ornamental needlework, 25 cents per week." This was probably one of the first schools in Maine for teaching young ladies exclusively in the branches of education and also including plain work and fancy needlework.
