HOME GEOGRAPHY.

ESSAY BY MISS ADA TYSON, OF STANDARD SCHOOL.

Read Before the Pitt County Teachers'
Association, Saturday March,
13th, 1909.

The spring is the best time to make an excursion to the farm and gardens. At this season the children can observe the work of ploughing, transplanting and cultivating.

This list of food products around our home may be increased by a list of fruits, cultivated and wild.

Take a grain of wheat as a type food, as all geography should be taught by types, and describe the succession of steps in preparing the ground, drilling, harvesting, threshing, milling, etc., until ready for use.

The farmer's stock, his tools, how he gets his produce to market will be interesting observations. The need of wagons, roads, bridges and markets is made apparent.

The second main topic, building materials, calls for an investigation of the things used in building a house,—pine and hard wood, the varieties of stone used, brick, sand, lime, iron, glass, tin, lead, slate, paper and paint.

It is especially desirable to visit a house under process of construction.

GIVE OUTLINE.

1. The cellar, basement, walls.
2. The frame work.
3. The sheathing, weather boarding, shingling.
4. Window frames, doors, and casings.
5. Plastering, slaking lime.
6. Tinning, spouting, cistern.
7. Painting.
8. Chimneys, heating, ventilation.

A connected description of each of these places should be given by the children after observation.

3. The third topic.

Clothing will have to do with cotton, wool, leather and furs, that are produced at home. Also the silk, linen, straw and rubber goods which are brought from a distance, but are familiar in daily use. The manufacture of these raw materials into clothing should be considered.

4. The fourth topic, roads, bridges, and local commerce can readily be explained by discussing the marketing of the farm products and what the farmer in turn must purchase from the local stores.

5. The fifth topic that requires a detailed treatment is local surface features.

Some may prefer to put this subject earlier in home geography and to this there is no objection if the season of the year is favorable.

If any stream flows near the home all the leading facts connected with such a water course should be observed and described. For example, the current itself with its shallows, rapids and deeper places; the sand-bars, bottom lands and bluff, sloping and tree covered or steep and rocky; the old channels and lagoons; the river as seen at different seasons, floods, high and low water, uses of the river in winter and summer, the river commerce, if it is navigable; the whole river valley with its irregular course as seen from the commanding point. Then there are the smaller streams and valleys opening into the larger. In some places the bottom lands are rich and productive in others sandy or flooded erosion, or the wearing force of water can be clearly seen. Then there may be wooded slopes, brooks and springs, rocky cliffs, and picturesque outlooks.

The characteristic objects of a smaller water course. The difference in soil and consequent differences in products may be discussed.

If we understood how much future geography depends upon this use of home materials we certainly would not neglect them.

6. The sixth topic is home government. The town hall, the court house and furnish the best starting point.

What duties have these people to perform, the mayor, the town council, the county judge, the county treasurer?

What does the town council meet to discuss and decide? (Water works, streets, taxes, etc.) It is not the abstract but the concrete treatment of these subjects that the children need.

7. Still a seventh topic of home geography is found in the observation of sun, moon and stars, and the changing position of sun and moon. We forget that these grand object lessons, some of them, the most beautiful and imposing belong directly to the child's home and is a part of it. Such are a few of the more noticeable constellations, the clouds, the storms, cold, heat and their effects.

If there is any value in careful personal observation or in the principle of going from the known to the unknown, it is fully illustrated in the successive grades of geography study. The home constitutes the first great unit in this great branch of work.

It is difficult to see how a successful study of the home neighborhood can be carried on without excursions. These need be well planned. No more children should be taken at one time than can be personally looked after by the teacher. They should be well cautioned about the dangers that may confront them. The teacher must know pretty clearly what are the chief objects to be seen. It should be as definitely planned as a lesson. If possible, the place would best be visited beforehand by the teacher.

During the excursion it is often desirable to get the children together and direct their attention to certain objects on process. Then take them aside for questions and inquiry.

Such observations and excursions furnish abundant material for language works both oral and written.

After returning to school (the next day perhaps) the observations gathered should be related in class, explanations made faulty notions corrected and many ideas brought out more distinctly.

The teacher may now put an outline of objects on board which she has systematically arranged before hand. Such a discussion may be as helpful as the excursion itself.

In visiting shops, factories, buildings, and even in nature, many objects will be more clearly formed in the mind if the practice of drawing is frequently resorted to, not aesthetic drawing, but mere sketching, diagramming and picturing objects in a crude way.

Children can thus be led to see the wonderful things in nature, the work of the very God we desire them to worship.

PARKER'S CHAPEL ITEMS.

Parker's Chapel, N. C., Mar. 18.

Rev. C. B. Jones filled his regular appointment here Sunday. Israel Moore, of Gardner's X Roads, spent Wednesday night here with the family of H. R. Johnson.

Mrs. Mary Adams, of Chocowinity, is spending sometime with the family of her son-in-law, A. R. House.

Little Miss Allie Moye House is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. R. V. Fleming, near Pactolus.

Jesse L. Warren, of Robersonville, and M. G. Warren, of Parmele, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Jesse Johnston.

L. C. Stokes and C. W. Worthington, of Gardner's X Roads, visited the family of H. R. Johnston Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Hilda Hatton and Clay Wilson, of Pactolus, attended services at Parker's Chapel Sunday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnston is spending sometime with her daughter, Mrs. O. E. Whichard, at Whichard's mill.

J. O. Johnston, of Grimesland, attended church here Sunday.

Misses Fronie and Nonie Whichard, of Staton's mill, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Misses Bertha Lee and Emma Johnston.

Fernando Whichard and sister, Miss Hattie, attended services here Sunday.

Misses Bertha Lee and Emma Johnston spent Wednesday afternoon with their aunt, Mrs. T. L. Little.

H. R. Johnston went to Greenville today.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Whitehurst, of Parmele, were here visiting relatives Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. O. E. Whichard and little daughter, Eunice May, spent Sunday afternoon with her sister, Mrs. T. L. Little.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., March 19, 1909. Bradstreet's Saturday will say for Richmond and vicinity:

Trade in general is not quite as active as has been reported for the past two weeks. Some lines are affected by an end of season lull which tariff agitation appears to have its effect on commodities that are most likely to be considered in this legislation. The majority of the season's tobacco and cotton crops are out of the hands of the producer. Considerable of the latter product remain in the hands of dealers in anticipation of higher prices, however, no advance in price quoted is noted. Dry goods are quiet. Naval stores are firm. Farming operations are reported well advanced for the season. Building is quiet but indications are for early activity in this direction. Retail trade is at the quiet of between season except in millinery and early spring wearing apparel. Collections are fair.

Seawell Not to Get Appointment.

Washington, D. C., Mar. 19.—Information from the white house is that Herbert F. Seawell will not be appointed judge of the Eastern North Carolina district. President Taft has heard something about this judgeship fight and he is impressed with the opinion that Mr. Seawell is not the man for such a high post. It is said that the president will endeavor to pick out a man whose ability is conceded by the bar and who, in his opinion, measures up to the judgeship.

SHARP ACQUITTED.

Mistrial as to Coopers.

Nashville, Tenn, March 19.—The trial of Col. Cooper, Robin Cooper and Sharp, charged with the murder of Senator E. W. Carmack, which has been in progress for eight weeks, came to an end this afternoon. The verdict of the jury was acquittal for Sharp and a mistrial as to the Coopers.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Mount Gilead, March 17.—News reached here this afternoon of a fatal accident which occurred near Nelson Bros.' saw mill, a few miles south of this place. William Sasser, an employe, was with a gang cutting logs when a tree fell on him and killed him instantly. Sasser was married and had a family of eleven children.

Asheville, N. C., March 17.—Chas. Massagee, a white man about town, is in jail tonight charged with an attempt to criminally assault a five year old white child. The alleged attempt at criminal assault occurred late this afternoon at the residence of the child's parents on Merriman avenue, one of the principal residential streets of the town.

Burlington, N. C., March 18.—Last Thursday night Mrs. Julia Franklin Ireland, wife of John Ireland, died at her home near graded school. She was stricken with paralysis Thursday afternoon about four o'clock and never regained consciousness.

Just one day after Mrs. Ireland was buried Mr. Ireland died. The remains were laid to rest in Pine Hill cemetery beside his wife. The funeral was conducted from the home on yesterday afternoon, and the services were held as near like Mrs. Ireland as possible, the same choir, the same songs and the same hour, and the same pall-bearers.

Wilmington, March 18.—The Florida Limited train on the Atlanta Coast Line jumped the track at Pikesville near Wilmington today killing the engineer, fireman and brakeman. The conductor and several passengers are believed to be fatally hurt.

SANS SOUCI CLUB.

Reported for Reflector.

On March 16, the Sans Souci Club held its regular monthly meeting with Miss Irma Cobb. After the business period the program for the afternoon was taken up. Miss Mary Higgs read a very interesting sketch of Jean Ingelow's life, after which Miss Helen Forbes read some of her most beautiful poems.

A "String" contest was then brought in which Mrs. Charlie Forbes and Miss Lizzie Jones tied for the prize. In cutting Mrs. Forbes was the fortunate one, and the prize, a dainty collar, was presented her. Every one cut for the booby and Miss Mary Higgs, cutting highest received it, a little book called "Stung". Dainty refreshments were then served, after which we adjourned to meet with Mrs. Frank Wilson Mar. 30.

That same drainage case occupied the court today with the end not yet in sight.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

J. L. Wooten went to Parmele today.

W. F. Evans went to Rocky Mount today.

Miss Melville Gibson went to Rocky Mount today.

H. B. Phillips and son, H. W. Phillips, went to Suffolk today.

Rev. D. W. Arnold went to Pactolus Thursday and returned this morning.

Mrs. J. S. Tunstall went to Kinston Thursday evening and returned this morning.

Little Miss Bernice Dixon returned last night from an extended visit to relatives in Gilmerton, Va.

Prof. E. M. Rollins, superintendent of Farmville graded school, came down this morning to look after arrangements for the appearance of the Farmville Dramatic Club in "The Country Minister" in the opera house tonight. The visitors should have a large audience, as their play is a good one.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

You may expect to wear tags on your clothes tomorrow.

The choir of the Baptist church will meet for practice tonight at the home of W. M. Pugh.

New spring onions with tops, 15c per dozen, now ready. Phone 269B, D. D. Haskett. 3 15 3rd mwf

Do not miss "The Country Minister" by the Farmville Dramatic Club in the opera house tonight.

J. C. Lanier the marble man, is filling many orders for tomb stones and monuments. A day or two ago he took a wagon load out in the country for delivery.

Rev. J. N. H. Summerell will fill his regular appointment in the Presbyterian church here on Sunday night. At that time he will by special request repeat the sermon he delivered here some years ago from the subject "The Cup Was Found in Benjamin's Sack."

Prof. W. F. Butler, with the Stieff Piano company, will have charge of the music at the opera house tonight. This means that there will not be a single dull moment between acts. See the play and hear the music.

North Carolina Industries.

The Chattanooga Tradesman reports the following list of new industries established in North Carolina during the week ending March 17th:

Blowing Rock—Pipe factory. Spencer—Laundry. Spray—$22,000 amusement company.

Statesville—Bottling works. Bessemer City—$100,000 cotton mills.

Asheville—Mining company. Marion—$500,000 cotton mill.

The Landmark recently printed an item to the effect that a part of the knee joint of Hans Albrecht, a patient in Washington City hospital, who had just died, was cut out and grafted on the knee of Geo. Kelly, a patient who was suffering with a diseased limb. The grafting, it was said, was by consent of Kelly and the relatives and friends of Albrecht, and while the operation was unusual, had probably never been attempted before, it proved successful. Now it is reported that relatives of Albrecht will bring suit against Kelly, to recover the portion of the dead man's knee which Kelly has in use; and that if the courts decline to deprive Kelly of the use of the bone an effort will be made to have him pay an annual rental or royalty for its use. While there seems to be no doubt that the operation was performed as stated, for it was authentically reported at the time, The Landmark cannot vouch either for the statement that the operation was a success or that a damage suit is to be brought: but in these days when damage suits are brought—purely to extort money—for almost everything imaginable, we are prepared to believe the story anent the suit, which is of course only for the purpose of forcing money out of Kelly.—Statesville Landmark.

Bryan on Senatorship.
 Chicago, Ill., March 18.—William J. Bryan in an interview to-day left the impression that he would be a receptive if not an active candidate for the United States senatorship from Nebraska in 1911 to succeed Elmer J. Burkett, Republican.

"I do not know yet whether I shall be a candidate," said Mr. Bryan. "If there seems a good chance to elect to the Senate some other Nebraska Democrat it will please me better than to be a candidate myself. I will not say that I would under no circumstances accept the nomination,

That the superior court judges are determined to "wipe out" the blind tiger nuisance is evidenced by the action of Judge W. R. Allen, who is presiding over the criminal term of Lenoir superior court this week. Three negroes, convicted of the illegal sale of liquor, have been given terms of six months each on the county roads and, though strong appeal was made by their counsel that a fine be imposed, his honor stuck to the road sentence. This will certainly do much to secure the eradication of the blind tiger business. It is a good precedent for the judges of our courts to adhere to and will undoubtedly prove instrumental in preventing so frequent breaches of the prohibition laws.—Kinston Free Press.

Whether the country would be better with equal suffrage is hardly to be discussed at present. Women, as a rule, are not logical beings, and men haven't any too much advantage in this respect. If woman wants the ballot, let her have it, or any other old thing that is lying around loose, provided she lets the man have peace—which she never will.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Charleston Post makes it clear how Mr. Durant landed the job by explaining that "Mr. Durant, who is to be collector of the port of Charleston, kept the score of the golf game president Taft played at Charleston and reported a victory for the then president elect."—Raleigh Times.

PROGRESS, which spells PROSPERITY, is but another way of spelling PUBLICITY.

In ADVERTISING, in making things known from man to man, from woman to woman, lies the secret of SUCCESS for which individuals and communities seek.

The day of waiting for BUSINESS to step in at the door and SUCCESS to blow in at the window is past.

We must go out and coax BUSINESS and coax SUCCESS.

And the one way to do it is spelt so: P-U-B-L-I-C-I-T-Y.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Presence of Mind in the Face of a Terrible Danger.

One of the strangest incidents of the sepooy rebellion is told by William Forbes Mitchell in his "Reminiscences of the Great Mutiny." Mr. Mitchell, who was sergeant of a highland regiment, had the misfortune during a battle to lose the greatcoat which every soldier carried folded in what was known as a "Crimean roll" and strapped to the shoulders in such a manner that it crossed the breast.

Many a man owed his life to the fact that bullets became spent in passing through these rolls. It happened that in the heat of the fight my roll was cut right through where the two ends were fastened together by the stroke of a keen edged tulwar, which was intended to cut me.

As the day was warm, I was rather glad to get rid of it, but by 10 o'clock at night there was a difference in temperature, and when I was relieved from patrol duty and wanted to lie down to sleep I felt the cold, wet grass anything but comfortable, for a kilt is not the most suitable article of dress on a cold November night in upper India.

My company was encamped in and about the tomb of the first king of Oudh. A large inclosure surrounded the building of the tomb itself, and on the inside of this were small rooms built for the accommodation of pilgrims. When I entered the inclosure I noticed these apartments and asked permission to sleep in one of them, but was refused. I had to make the best of my position, but was too uncomfortable to sleep.

It struck me that some of the sepoys might have dropped their blankets in their hurried departure. With this hope I went into one of the rooms where a lamp was burning, took it off the shelf and walked to the door of the great domed mosque or tomb.

I peered into the dark, but could see nothing, so I advanced slowly, holding the lamp over my head, looking cautiously around until I was in the center of the great vault, where my progress was obstructed by a big black heap about four or five feet high, which felt to my feet like loose sand.

I lowered my lamp and discovered I was standing ankle deep in loose gunpowder. About forty hundredweight of it lay under my nose, and a hasty glance around showed me twenty or thirty barrels of the same substance, over a hundred eight-inch shells, all loaded and with fuses fixed, and a profusion of spare fuses and slow matches lying about.

I took in my danger at a glance. There I was, up to my knees nearly in gunpowder, with a naked light in my hand. My hair literally stood on end, and my knees knocked together. Cold perspiration broke out all over me. I had neither cloth nor handkerchief in my pocket with which to extinguish my light, and the next moment might be my last, for the overhanging wick already threatened to send the smoldering red top to my feet, with consequences too dreadful to contemplate.

Quick as thought I put my left hand under the down dropping flame and, clapping it firmly, slowly turned to the door.

Fear so overcame all other sensation that I felt no pain of the burn until I was outside. Then it was sharp enough. I poured the oil from the lamp into my burned hand. Then I knelt down and thanked God.

Next I staggered to Captain Dawson and told him. He did not believe me and told me I had waked up from a dream. I showed him the powder still sticking on my wet feet. He instantly roused the sleeping men and quenched every spark of fire on the premises.

Flowers are the sweetest things that God ever made and forgot to put a soul into.—Becher.

DEVICES OF THE BODY.

The Cough, Sneeze and Sigh Are Measures of Self Protection.

One of the most interesting facts about the human body is its power of self preservation—its power of evading or overcoming the thousand and one conditions which, unless corrected, would be injurious or destructive.

Among the most common of these acts of self preservation are the cough, the sneeze and the sigh. Every one is familiar with these acts, yet few people ever ask themselves the cause, and fewer still could explain them.

One of the simplest of the body's devices for self protection is the cough. The cough is merely a blast of air propelled from the lungs in such a manner as to forcibly dislodge some foreign substance which has been drawn into the throat, the windpipe or the tubes leading to the lungs.

The membranes lining these parts of the body are very sensitive, and when a foreign matter comes in contact with them an alarm message is at once sent to the nervous "headquarters," and the result is the sudden, spasmodic expulsion of breath which is called a cough.

Very often the cough is produced by the irritation of the accumulation of mucus on the surface mentioned. In this case, as in the case of a foreign body, the cough is merely a means of expelling the matter.

So, you see, a cough is merely one of nature's methods of self protection. Cough cures contain some drug which, by paralyzing the nerves, prevents the cough and allows the mucus to accumulate.

Thus the cough medicine does only harm. The cure for a cough is to cough—to cough until the excessive deposit is removed. Meantime, of course, measures should be taken to prevent added deposits.

A sneeze is exactly like a cough, save that the obstruction occurs in the nostrils owing to the deposit of some irritant or foreign matter and that the blast of air is thrown out through the nose instead of through the throat and mouth.

Why do we sigh? When grieved or depressed the tendency is to hold the breath. This means that the body suffers for oxygen, and the long, deep breath which we call a sigh is merely a means by which the body obtains for itself the necessary amount of oxygen.—Dr. W. R. C. Latson in Health Culture.

Curing a Doctor.

An eminent physician of London, who was remarkable for continuing his visits to his rich patients after he had turned their disorders out of doors, attended a lady of some celebrity in the world of wit for three months after her recovery and regularly stayed with her until, in the English manner, he received his dismissing fee of 5 guineas. Weary of his expensive calls and concluding that to lessen the fee would be to lose the visitor, she ventured to give him 4 guineas at the conclusion of his next call. He looked anxiously in his hand, then on the carpet and stood for some time in evident embarrassment.

"Have you lost anything?" inquired the lady.

"Why, madam, I thought I had dropped a guinea."

"It is only a mistake in the person, sir," rejoined the fair patient. "It is I who have dropped the guinea."

The doctor, of course, dropped his visits.

The Oldest Universities.

The earliest date which any university puts forth is that which Cambridge makes that it was founded about 635. Its continuous history dates, however, from 1109. Paris was founded in 792 and renovated in 1200. Oxford dates back to an academy mentioned as ancient in 802; the schools were founded by King Alfred about 870, and King Henry III. granted the charter in 1218. Bologna dates from 1116. Salamanca was founded in 1230.—Argonau.

Uncle Ephraim—Ain't there goin' to be nothin' else in it?

Artist—No, nothing but the horse.

Uncle Ephraim—Well, you can't sell it anywhere's around here fur no $100. Everybody knows I've offered the hoss himself time an' ag'in fur $15 an' take it out in truck.—Chicago Tribune.

Redeeming Time.

Dean Swift, when he claimed the degree of A. B., was so deficient as to obtain it only by "special favor," a term used to denote lack of merit. Of this disgrace he was so ashamed that he resolved to study eight hours a day, and he continued this industry for seven years, with what improvement is sufficiently known. This part of his history deserves to be remembered. It may, says a commenter, afford useful admonition to young men who, having lost one part of life in idleness and pleasure, are tempted to throw away the remainder of it.

—Bohemian.

The Bird of Death.

New Guinea is the abode of the most wonderful feathered creature known to the student of ornithology—the awful rpir n'doob, or "bird of death." The venom of this bird is more deadly than that of any serpent except the cobra. In fact, no antidote for the bite of the creature is known. A wound from its beak causes excruciating pains in every part of the body, loss of sight, speech and hearing, convulsions, lockjaw and certain death.

It Didn't Matter.

Among the visitors to an art exhibition in Edinburgh were two old ladies from the country. They examined with great interest the statue of a young Greek, underneath which were inscribed the words, "Executed in Terra Cotta."

"Where is Terra Cotta?" asked the elder of the two, turning to her companion.

"I haven't the least idea," replied the other.

"Ah, well," observed the first speaker as they passed on, "it does not much matter. The poor man who was executed is not the less to be pitied, wherever it may be."

FAIR EXCHANGE.

A New Back for an Old One. How it Can be Done in Greenville.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the joints are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Greenville residents would do well to profit by the following example. Thomas Moseley, 109 East St., Kingston, N. C., says: "Several months ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, at which time Doan's Kidney Pills proved their merit. My back ached severely, I had pains through my hips and felt generally miserable. I heard so much in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills that I procured a box and used them according to directions. They soon dispelled the aches and pains and improved my health in every way. I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Remarkable Man.

There died in New York on Sunday, at the age of seventy-four years, Dr. J. J. Lawrence, a native of Edgecombe county, whose career was remarkably successful. Shortly after the war he patented "Rosadalis" and "Kasdoe," two remedies which were successfully-manufactured in Baltimore for a time. When that business failed to meet his expectations, he moved to Wilson, where he conducted a drug store and established the Medical Brief. The editor of this paper had his first newspaper experience as assistant mailing clerk of that publication. Dr. Lawrence saw big possibilities in the Medical Brief and moved to St. Louis. There it became the most prosperous journal in America and Dr. Lawrence became several times a millionaire. He was a remarkable man with large ideals and a spirit of genuine enterprise and North Carolina faith and pluck.—Raleigh News and Observer.
