C., with 1,900 men, against the attack of 10,000 Federal troops and 600 guns on water, Butler and Porter losing more men than Lamb had.

Cleveland, O., March 23.—In the arrest here tonight of a man and a woman having $9,790 in their possession, the police believe they have captured the kidnapers of Willie Whitley in fact, the woman in the case, who is somewhat befuddled, admitted that she had been responsible for the kidnaping. When placed in custody at the central police station she said to Captain Shattuck "I am the one who planned the whole thing. There will be trouble for me and hell in Sharon tomorrow."

Willie Whitley Returned Home.

Sharon, Pa., March 23.—Thousands welcomed Willie Whitley when he returned here with his father today. People drove in from all directions to see the boy who was surrendered by his abductor upon payment of $10,000. It is reported here that Joseph Wess, arrested last night in Youngstown, has been released, but is still under surveillance and the boy is yet to be given a chance to look at him.

Detective Ward's men are working in Cleveland today in their hunt for the kidnapers. When the boy was placed on a street car in Cleveland he had on a new pair of smoked spectacles. The optical stores were all being visited with a view of possible identification of the person who purchased them.

There will be a conference at the Whitley home early this afternoon while strong clews are being run out in Akron, Ohio, and in Cincinnati and Indianapolis. F. H. Buhl, the boy's rich uncle, declared today that he would spend $100,000 to run down the kidnapers. He will preside at the conference in Whitley's home.

Drunkards and Marriage.

The Illinois legislature has a bill that it is said, has a fair prospect to become law, which prohibits any drunkard from marrying in that State. It amends the general marriage law by declaring that a habitual drunkard is incapable of contracting marriage. A "habitual drunkard" is deemed to be a person who becomes intoxicated twice a year or oftener. It is also provided that applicants for marriage licenses shall make affidavit that they have not been intoxicated twice in the preceding year. This is a rigid restriction, and will materially reduce the number of marriages in the State. There are many respectable men in good society and connected with fashionable clubs who are not drunkards, but an affidavit that they had not been intoxicated in a year might stagger many of them.—Utica Press.

Kimona and Apron Sale.

The ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal church will have a kimona and apron sale Wednesday, April 14th. Our store will be closed at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 30th, to make ready for our display of spring millinery to begin at 8 p. m. that date and continue through Wednesday, 31st. Doors will open promptly at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. 3 24 2td 1w Pulley & Bowen.

WEDNESDAY, MAR. 24, 1909.

Here's hoping that Roosevelt will keep his powder dry.

Have you said anything worth saying for Greenville today?

Possibly Mr. Roosevelt will soon be too far away for Senator Tillman's pitchfork to reach him.

Raleigh is going in a fair way to turn somebody out. Municipal shakings up are not always the worst thing a town gets.

President Taft intimates that he is going to take his own time about appointing a judge for the Eastern North Carolina district.

The Wilmington Star is getting along in its forty second year. That is going some, to use the street phrase, but it is noticed that The Star gets better as it goes.

A Concord man whose home was destroyed by fire also lost $200 in money that he had hid in the house. Had this money been placed in bank that much would have been saved to him.

Virginia liquor dealers chipped in to help the fellows on this side try to defeat prohibition in North Carolina, but do not want any of them that were closed up to be going over there to divide business with them.

Notwithstanding the fact that North Carolina, as far as is practicable, ignores the parental relationship which exists between that State and Tennessee, she is at present strenuously endeavoring to re-appropriate to herself a large portion of Tennessee. The Tar Heels would probably feel more at home if they had laid claim to a slice of South Carolina territory.—Gaffney S. C. Ledger.

You are off there, "Bud." We don't want a foot of Mr. Tillman's domain.

Values in Southern Cotton.

When wheat is ground into flour its ultimate manufactured value is reached; so with corn and other related products. But when cotton has been spun or woven into simple fabrics the least of its values has been reached. The cotton crop is capable of being so manipulated by manufacture as to be worth three times, five times, fifty times, and even one hundred times its value in a raw state. There are cotton fabrics which sell at the rate of forty dollars a pound.

Until recently the South was content to raise the raw cotton. It reduced the competition in production to a cut throat basis, leaving the manufacture to other people. Manchester, England, lived and lives upon cotton. It takes only a portion of our crop and turns it into values far exceeding those which the South get for the whole. Happily this section has a new resource. The manufacture of cotton at home stimulates the price of the raw material. Every new factory at home is for the advantage of the cotton producer. It helps the producer in many ways. It reduces the competition in production by giving profitable employment to some of the farming element in the factory. The factory population become consumers of perishable farm products. The factory becomes a consumer of cotton and we have seen the price increase under these influences from five cents to ten cents a pound.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Thus it transpires that the interest of the farmer and manufacturer is identical. They should work together. We have not yet more than touched the great wealth there is in cotton. Our present factory system has reached only the simplest forms of manufacture; barely made a beginning. But having made a little start we must next develop the knowledge and skill to make the higher grades of goods, bringing more money, and by further reduction in competition on the farms insure better prices for the staple.

They are blind or unthinking or misled who ask what a tariff which fosters industrial development can do for the Southern farmer.—Charlotte Observer.

Sugar in the United States at present is double its price in England. The Payne tariff draft leaves it double and likewise leaves all woolen clothing and wools of clothing grade under a duty so heavy that nearly all Americans must wear shoddy and mixtures. And yet it is agreed among economists that the necessities of life should be most highly taxed. The action of congress upon these two schedules will bear watching with interest.—Charlotte Observer.

We wish to be heard in hearty applause of Messrs. Bartlett, of Georgia, and James, of Kentucky, who refused committee assignments which Minority Leader Clark had not approved. If the minority as a body will stand by caucus action on this point, Speaker Cannon's handful of sycophants on the Democratic side will figure in a role both actually and visibly disgusting.—Charlotte Observer.

Wabby and Weak Versus Solid and Strong.

Water can't rise above its level.
Nor can a community rise above the level of its citizenship.
If the citizens are lukewarm, limp and lazy, the town will be wishy-washy, wabby and weak.
If the citizens have VERTEBRA, VIM AND VIGOR, the town will be substantial, solid and strong.
Let's all brace up and make this town of ours a place of energy, ambition and enterprise.

DEMOCRATIC PEERS.

The House of Peers Not One of Birth or Ancestry.

Strangely enough, the house of lords still remains the most democratic institution in England. It may still claim for itself to be the Witenagemot, or gathering of wise men, and one wonders why it does not defend itself along those lines.

It is not a house of birth or ancestry, for it is composed today to an overwhelming extent of successful men from almost every walk of life. No one cares a fig what a man's ancestry was in this matter of fact land if he succeeds, if he becomes rich and powerful.

The mother of the great Queen Elizabeth was the daughter of a plain English gentleman.

A pot girl of Westminster married the master of the pothouse. After his death she consulted a lawyer named Hyde. Mr. Hyde married her. Mr. Hyde afterward became lord chancellor, with the title of Lord Clarendon, and his wife, the former pot girl, bore him a daughter. This daughter married the Duke of York and became the mother of Mary and Anne Stewart, both afterward queens of England.

It is evident that if queens of England may have a barmaid for grandmother lesser mortals need not fret on the subject of ancestry.

The Englishman would not be what he is nor would he in the least be transmitting his very valuable Saxon heritage if he gave up his democratic custom of an aristocracy of power for the feeble continental custom of an aristocracy of birth. What the one and the other is today answers the question as to the relative merits of the two systems without need of discussion. The English, though nowadays many of them do not know it themselves, are the most democratic of all nations.

William the Conqueror divided England among the commanders of his army and conferred about twenty earldoms. Not one of these exists today, nor do any of the honors conferred by William Rufus, 1087-1100; Henry I, 1100-1135; Stephen, 1135-1154; Henry II, 1154-1189; Richard I, 1189-1199; or John, 1199-1216.

PRISONERS OF WAR.

Friendly Foes That Changed Places as Guests and Hosts.

A cheerful incident of the war between the states is told in "Mission Ridge and Lookout Mountain." The Third Ohio, under Straight's command, was en route for Richmond, prisoners of war.

One night they camped, worn, famished, with hearts heavy and homesick, near the place where a Confederate regiment, the Fifty-fourth Virginia, was stationed. Many of the southerners strolled over to the prison camp to see the sorry show of the poor, superfluous Yankees.

They did not stay long. Back to their own camp they hurried and soon returned with kettles of coffee, corn bread, bacon—the best they had and all they had. Presently little fires began to twinkle in the prison camp, and the aroma of coffee rose like a fragrant cloud of thank offering. Union guests and Confederate hosts mingled. The next morning the prisoners departed.

Now comes a happy sequel which well balances the affair. Later, when the prisoners were exchanged, the Third Ohio was encamped near Kelly's ferry, on the banks of the Tennessee. On the day of the storming of Mission ridge among the prisoners taken were numbered the Fifty-fourth Virginia.

Some of the Third Ohio were on duty at the ferry when the prison detachments arrived.

"What regiment is that?" they asked. When told they started on the run, shouting as they went:

"The Fifty-fourth Virginia's at the ferry!"

They dashed into their camp with the news. The place was astir instantly. Treasures of coffee, bacon, sugar, beef, preserved peaches—everything was turned out and carried double quick to the ferry. The circumstances were the same, with the difference that guests and hosts had changed places.

And So He Left Them.

With a heart full of good intentions and a bag full of uplift tracts he approached the cottage in the bucolic wilds.

"Madam, may I leave some tracts with you?"

"You may, kind sir, but leave the heel marks of them pointing directly toward these steps."—New York Times.

VARIETY ON HIS TABLE.

He Had Four Kinds of Meat and Four Kinds of Bread.

Old man Wowton, the meanest citizen in all the blue grass country, drove up to the market place in Lexington, where an army of negroes stood about or lay basking in the early morning sun waiting for some man to hire them. The old man was so stingy that he usually had great difficulty in engaging negroes to do extra work on his farm. But this time he struck a bargain immediately with big Bill Saunders and the half dozen powerful but lazy blacks who follow at his heels. All the others were greatly surprised to see this gang ambling out on the big road toward Mr. Wowton's place. Next morning they were mystified to see big Bill and his cronies again in the market place.

"Whadja doin' hyuh, Bill?" asked Hannibal Harrison Tyler.

"Lookin' fo' wuk," Bill replied sadly.

"Thought you all wuz wukkin' for Mistuh Wowton?"

"Yaas, we sut'nly wuz wok'in fo' Mistuh Wowton. He come to me yistiddy mawnin' an' say: 'Come on out an' make hay fo' me. I ain't gointer pay you-all enny mo' dan one dolluh a day, but I jes' tell you dis—ev'ry meal you-all sits down ter yo' gointer have fo' kin's o' meat an' fo' kin's o' bread.' So we all tuk our foot in our han' an' went out ter make his hay crap."

"Well, den' huccome you-all is come back?" Hannibal inquired.

"I gwine tell yuh," William replied, with an injured air. "Yistiddy mawnin' we all wukked in de fiel', cuttin' hay an' rakin' hay an' spreadin' hay, ontwell de dinnuh ho'n blew at 12 o'clock. Den we goes inter de kitchen, an' all we sees on de big table is a lot o' miz-z'bl' po'k an' greens an' bread. So I goes up to de big house an' ax Mistuh Wowton ter come down, please, suh, an' look at dat dinnuh. I say, 'Mistuh Wowton, whar dem fo' kin's o' meat you done promised, please, suh?'"

"Mistuh Wowton he say: 'W'y, daiah dey is—fat meat, lean meat, skin an' bone. Daiah you fo' kin's o' meat.'"

"Den I sez ter him, 'Mistuh Wowton, whar dem fo' kin's o' bread you done promised us?' En he say: 'W'y, William, daiah dey is—white bread, co'n bread, crus' an' crumb. Daiah yuh fo' kin's o' bread.' An' dat's why we all come back hyuh."—Harper's Weekly.

The Clever Weaver Bird.

An interesting bird is the "weaver." It seems to be fond of making enormous nests merely for the purpose of exercise in the art of construction. Supply these birds with strings and straw, and they will use them up rapidly, and their fabric is woven with a perfectness that is astonishing. In some countries it is the custom of the weaver birds to colonize and build one big flat topped platform, two or three yards across, which is so admirably put together as to shed the rain as well as any roof could do. Under this roof they make individual pocket shaped nests, bringing up under this unique structure a large and interesting family of little weavers. There is another bird, called the "tailor," which, instead of weaving its nest, incloses it in big leaves and stitches the latter together with plant fibers, just as one would sew a piece of cloth.

Much Like Demosthenes.

"Woman," he said, "really ought to be a better orator than man."

"Why so?" she asked.

"Because," he replied, "to a certain extent at least she follows the methods of that famed orator Demosthenes."

"In what way?" she inquired, still busy with the finishing touches of her toilet.

"You remember," he answered, "that Demosthenes used to practice talking with his mouth full of pebbles."

She hastily took the pins out of her mouth and informed him that he was a mean old thing anyway.—New York Times.

A New Back for an Old One. How it Can be Done in Greenville.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the joints are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Greenville residents would do well to profit by the following example. Thomas Moseley, 109 East St., Kingston, N. C., says: "Several months ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, at which time Doan's Kidney Pills proved their merit. My back ached severely, I had pains through my hips and felt generally miserable. I heard so much in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills that I procured a box and used them according to directions. They soon dispelled the aches and pains and improved my health in every way. I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Strong Words.

Big words pass for sense with some people and sometimes may be very successfully used when nothing else will answer, says an English writer. Thus when a man, in great alarm, ran to his minister to tell him he could see spots on the sun and thought the world must be coming to an end, "Oh, don't be afraid," said the good minister, "it's nothing but a phantasmagoria." "Is that all?" said the frightened man, and then he went away relieved.

A very smart lawyer some time since had the misfortune to lose a case for a client who had every reason to expect success. The client, a plain old farmer, was astounded by the long bill of costs and, hastening to the lawyer's office, said, "I thought you told me we should certainly gain that suit?" "So I did," answered the lawyer, "but, you see, when I brought it up there before the judges they said it was a quorum non iudice." "Well, if they said it was as bad as that," replied the old farmer, "I don't wonder we lost it." And he paid the costs and a big fee besides without another murmur.

Gladstone's Handshake.

An Aberdeen paper tells a Gladstone story of the memorable Midlothian tour. On one occasion there was a great handshaking ordeal at the window of the old gentleman's railway carriage, and he was rapidly getting the worst of it. A stalwart young policeman who accompanied Mr. Gladstone proved equal to the occasion. Crouching behind the great man and thrusting his hand under Mr. Gladstone's Inverness cape, the muscular "peeler" gave each comer in turn a grip that had no lack of cordiality. "The auld man's uncommon veegorous at his time o' life," observed one unsuspecting Scot as he stroked his fingers. "He is that," concurred another of the policeman's victims, "but did ye notice his dirty nails?"

Nearly a Hero.

"Hands up!" The passengers on the Pullman car took in the situation at a glance and did exactly what the train robber told them to do. At the points of his guns he relieved them of their valuables. But at the sight of one woman he paused with a start. "Who are you, woman?" he demanded. "I," she quavered, "am Miss Fay de Fluffie, the well known actress. Here are my jewels. Take them all!" The holdup held up his head proudly. "No," he replied; "I may be a robber, but I am no press agent. Keep your wealth!" — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience. — Washington.
