NEW NAME, NEW MANAGEMENT.

PARHAM'S TOBACCO WAREHOUSE CHANGES HANDS.

C. R. Townsend Has Leased it and Takes Charge May 1st.

It is my pleasure to state that I have leased to Mr. C. R. Townsend for a period of years my ware house and prize house, known as the "Parham Warehouse Property" and with it goes my good will and influence. As you know Parham's Warehouse has always held good its reputation as being the best lighted warehouse in the east and shows up tobacco to its best advantage at all times.

Mr. Townsend has not only established a great reputation as a land salesman, but his lifetime experience in the tobacco business, his remarkable quick and active judgment, has given him a broad reputation as a warehouseman.

With this best lighted, large and commodious warehouse, a strong and efficient force, your interest will be protected at all times and under all circumstances.

I ask that each and every one of my old friends try him with their first load, and remember in working for his own interest he has got to work for yours.

Again thanking you for your liberable patronage during the many years in the past, you have my very best wishes for a successful and profitable crop.

B. E. Parham.
Greenville, N. C., March 25, 1909.

Thanking my friends of Pitt and surrounding counties for their liberal patronage and support in the past, it is my pleasure to state that I have leased for a period of years one of the largest warehouses in Eastern North Carolina, also a prize house. The buildings, covering three acres or more, on one of the oldest, largest and best established markets, known as the Parham warehouse property in the town of Greenville, will in the future be known as "The People's Warehouse," where I will be to personally look after the business and conduct the sales in a liberal and business-like manner. Each and every pile of your tobacco will have my personal attention, and I promise to do as I have done before—push your tobacco to the highest market price. Feeling deeply interested in the growers, I realize the keen necessity of getting closely in touch with you as early as possible, and I beg to announce that I will be in Greenville May 1st, at the People's warehouse to solicit a share of your liberal patronage.

Again thanking you, and with best wishes for your success and trusting for a continuance of your liberal patronage at "The People's" warehouse, I am as ever,
C. R. Townsend.

The Reflector is glad to note that Mr. Townsend will locate in Greenville and extends him a cordial welcome. For some years past he has conducted a tobacco warehouse in Farmville, and the success of the market there was due largely to his efforts. He was also associated there with Mr. J. M. Windham in the real estate business and had a prosperous career in that line. He is an active and energetic business man, and his large experience as a tobacco warehouseman will make him a valuable addition to the Greenville market.

THE MUSIC CLUB.

Entertained by Mrs. Hooker at Mrs. Wooten's.

The Music Club was delightfully entertained Thursday night by Mrs. T. E. Hooker at the home of Mrs. J. L. Wooten.

In addition to the members there were several invited guests to participate in the pleasure of the evening. The members and guests were met at the door and welcomed by Mrs. Wooten, and in the hall fruit punch was served by Misses Pattie Wooten and Lillian Carr.

The club first transacted its usual business; and among the items was adopting a motion to hold practice meetings the alternate weeks between the social meetings. The president, Mrs. Hooker, was also appointed as a committee to correspond with reference to securing a musical director to assist the club in a concert.

Then came the musical program for the evening which was the best in the history of the club and indicated the progress the members are making. It was as follows:

Piano duet, "Silver Bells"—Weyts. Mrs. Carper and Miss Forbes.

Vocal solo, "Goodbye"—Tosti. Miss Helen Forbes.

Piano solo, "Waltz"—Chopin. Mrs. J. W. Higgs.

Vocal duet, "My Love"—O. M. Schrebel. Mrs. Hooker and Miss Bennett.

Piano solo, "Grillen"—Schumann. Mrs. J. L. Carper.

Vocal solo, "Serenade"—Tosti. Mrs. W. L. Hall.

Piano solo, "Sonata Pathetique"—Beethoven. Mrs. Travis Hooker.

Quartette, "My Rosary"—Nevin. Mr. Couch, tenor; Mrs. Couch, soprano; Miss Bennett, alto; Mr. Warren, bass.

Following this there were two contests, one a list of questions to be answered with the names of eminent composers, the other a puzzle story with missing words to be supplied in musical terms. Mrs. Hall won the prize in the first contest and Miss Minor in the second. Three gentlemen—Dr. Laughinghouse and Messrs. Warren and Whichard, tied for the "booby" prize, and in the cut Mr. Warren came off with the honors.

After the contests refreshments were served by Misses Carr and Wooten and Miss Annie Leonard Tyson.

The next social meeting will be held with Mrs. P. M. Johnston on April 8th.

GENERAL NEWS.

Some of the Happenings Over the Country.

Chicago, March 25.—The International Harvester Company proposes to invest $30,000,000 in the establishment of two manufacturing plants in Europe, one in France and one in Germany. Sites have already been selected and construction work started.

New York, March 25.—After calling down Captain Banson of the White Star steamship Baltic, abusing the passengers and keeping the stewards in the second cabin on the jump during the trip, Mrs. Carrie Nation arrived in New York yesterday from Liverpool. She is on her way to Baltimore to visit her daughter.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 25.—Fire broke out today in a three-story building on Forsyth street and for a time threatened the entire business district. The fire department was called out in full force and confined the fire to the one building. The loss is estimated at $350,000, partially covered by insurance.

Guthrie, Okla., March 25.—On the scene of the famous Creek Indian uprising of last year at Hickory settlement, three negroes were killed, five were wounded and forty-one were arrested in a battle between twenty deputy sheriffs and 100 negroes. The fighting began late Wednesday and continued with interruptions until 10 o'clock today.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—It was stated at the White House today that President Taft has not committed himself in any way to an income tax, either as an immediate aid to the treasury or as a prospective measure to be considered by congress at its next session.

Powhatan, Va., March 26.—Judge Hundley today sentenced to death Isham and Joseph Taylor and Lewis Jenkins, who were convicted yesterday of having murdered Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Skipwith and Walter G. Johnson. They will be electrocuted April 30th in the penitentiary at Richmond.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—Weary of the gay whirl of society and face to face, as she believed, with years of physical suffering, Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Jr., aged 49, wife of the tobacco magnate, committed suicide by asphyxiation at her home, near the fashionable Du Pont circle, in this city, today. Her tragic death has shocked the first social circles of the capital as has nothing else in years.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Fayetteville, N. C., Mar. 25.—An unidentified young man of respectable appearance fell from a second-story window of the Averitt hotel this morning and was seriously though perhaps not fatally injured, as the result of attempting to pull on his shoes while sitting in the window. The man, it is said, was intoxicated.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—The intimation by President Taft that he might appoint a Democrat to the vacant judgeship, and that he was considering the names of two judges of the State Supreme Court, has aroused the ire of North Carolina Republicans, the leaders among whom have assembled in Washington for the purpose of exerting themselves in opposition to any such plan.

The Stingiest Man.

Gallatin claims to have the stingiest man in Tennessee, if not in the world, and a premium is offered for his superior in closefistedness. He got married to a home girl to save expenses. They walked around the square for a bridal tour. He bought her a nickel's worth of stick candy for a wedding present, and then suggested that they save the candy for the children.—Danville Advocate.

Suit Compromised.

The suit of W. F. Evans against the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, was settled by compromise in court today, the plaintiff being awarded $600. This action grew out of Mr. Evans being wrongfully ejected from a train by a conductor and having to walk through a storm to the nearest station where he hired a team to continue his journey home.

As Advertised.

He advertised: "Send 12 stamps and learn how to find the day of the month without a calendar." Twelve stamps were sent, and the instructions given were: "Find out the date of the day before yesterday and add two."

Methodist Services.

The sermon preached last night by Rev. J. H. Shore was one of the strongest that the people of Greenville have heard for a long time. His subject was "Achan's Sin" showing how the sin of Achan caused the defeat of the Israelites. Mr. Shore applied this to the churches and showed how one member of a church can defeat the works of the entire church. Are you an Achan?

Kitchen Roof Catches Fire.

This morning the roof of the kitchen to the residence of Mrs. L. F. Lee, on Greene street, caught fire by sparks falling from the flue. The fire was discovered in time to be put out before any damage of consequence was done.

FRIDAY, MAR. 26, 1909.

Raleigh may get rid of them but not without the fight of her life.

Did the almanac builders make a mistake in saying spring had come?

Charlotte, Concord and Durham are each striving to capture the Pythian orphanage.

Charlotte is very much elated over the promise of a visit from President Taft on May 20th

The longer President Taft delays in making the appointment the more guessing there will be about the Eastern judgeship.

The Raleigh Times wants to know if the Mecklenburgers will invite Captain Ashe to the celebration. They ought to, and convince him.

In a number of towns in the State municipal campaigns are being waged with as much spirit as marked the gubernatorial campaign last year.

Remembering past experiences with the use of guns between her citizens, Raleigh should be careful not to make the present political agitation too warm.

Tom Pence's Information Factory.

We again observe that Tom Pence, Washington scribe to The Raleigh News and Observer, is also getting on a hot trail in regard to the eastern judgeship. Of course all that a correspondent can do is to print the talk heard around in spots. What we are unable to understand, however, is that this talk generally gets down this way a week or ten days before the boys in Washington hear it. Nevertheless, Tom is on the trail. Somebody, however, has been trying to throw him off the scent by telling him that Taft thinks a lot of Duncan and will seek his advice, while in the next breath it is strongly intimated that the president is disgusted with this thing of a Federal judge dabbling in politics, when Mr. Taft and every one who has watched the game knows that Duncan is nothing in the Lord's world but this same judge's mouthpiece. It is clearly evident that Mr. Taft is giving the "referees" in this State many uneasy moments; he is asking entirely too many questions relating to the character and legal attainments of this and that man, regardless of party affiliations. The bare suspicion that Mr. Taft may appoint a Democrat to the eastern judgeship gives these men the shakes, the jimjams, nightmare, horsemare and everything else. —Greensboro Record.

Governor Hughes, of New York, has exploded another bomb under the politicians of his party by advocating a primary system that will put the whole gang out of business. The way the bosses are abusing him is a sight, but he has a way of going right along and getting anything he wants done. —Greensboro Record.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A Word for the Boys.

The following remarks by ex secretary of the treasury, Leslie M. Shaw, in a recent celebration at Westchester, Pa., are well worthy of the consideration of every youth:

"I do hope that the present century will discover the boys. They are hardly getting a fair show now as compared with the girls; yet the doors are swinging open and some of the boys are getting the glad hand, just in time too, at such institutions, as this. Manhood is often developed in hard places; yet the world is getting so much better that in spots the young fellow is actually aided to seek that which makes for his happiness as well as for his character. The happiest are the busiest; not the idlers. Industry is no sin; economy is a most desirable virtue. Young men, you will find your great element of success in being able to meet the different requirements of life, those that tax your courage; but your greatest riches may, and can, be spiritual wisdom. Have more sand, more common sense, more determination to do the right, whether easy or difficult. Have good ideals, have standards of your own, for you can never live up to the standards that are set for others."

The U. S. Weather Bureau fell down completely in predicting the sort of weather for inauguration day. The ground hog is not infallible, but he is ahead of the Weather Bureau this year. The Chatham Record, which is the chief defender of Mr. Ground Hog, says: "The Record's old 'ground-hog' displayed his good sense in going back into his winter quarters February 2nd, for on yesterday morning the thermometer registered nine degrees below freezing." —Raleigh News and Observer.

A New York alderman, out of the city for a month, refused to accept any pay for that month. That alderman ought to come to Raleigh and take a course in practical city politics. —Raleigh Times.

PLUCK OF A MAGICIAN

Houdin's Experience Among the Marabouts of Algeria.

AN ARAB TRAP THAT FAILED.

The Great French Conjuror Stood the Test and Then by Another Trick Cowed His Infuriated Antagonists. The Story of Palmer's Curse.

There are some points of resemblance between the story of the great French conjurer, Robert Houdin, and the marabouts and the story of Palmer's curse. The first named tale is, strictly speaking, incredible only when regarded from the oriental point of view.

In the fifties the administrators of the French African empire were seriously hampered by the fanatical marabouts, who by their tricks of juggling persuaded their followers of their own supernatural powers and used this belief to fan the spirit of insurrection. Houdin was sent officially on a French warship to Algeria to confound them. While his task proved easy, the trip was not without its dangers.

In Algiers he had allowed himself to be shot at with pistols loaded by the marabouts. But once in the interior, when he was absolutely without the tools of his profession, he was forced to repeat the experiment. He was frightened, but he did not allow his fears to be perceived. He persuaded his audience to postpone the test until next morning in order that he might pass the night in prayer, as he was without the talisman that he needed if the feat was to be performed immediately.

The night he devoted not to prayer, but to insuring his invulnerability, and the next day before a great horde of Arabs he submitted to the test. The French conjurer insisted that in the sight of every one the pistols should be loaded by his enemies themselves. Then he calmly took his place and gave the signal. The sound of the pistol had not died away when Houdin opened his lips, showing the bullet held firmly between his teeth.

His infuriated adversary reached for the other pistol, but the conjurer was too quick. "You could not harm me," he said, "but now see how much greater my powers are than yours. Behold the wall." He fired, and out on the whitewash at the exact spot of his aim there crept slowly a great splotch of blood. The marabouts, in terror, cowered before the prowess of the European magician.

Less fortunate in his fate than Houdin was the English orientalist E. H. Palmer. He fell a victim to fanaticism, but the story of his terrible curse will long be repeated and cause shudders to run round Bedouin campfires. Only upon the theory of metempsychosis can be explained his extraordinary powers of assimilating the languages and ideas of the east.

He was brought up in the conventional atmosphere of England, but when he turned his attention to oriental subjects he did not merely learn; he simply absorbed. Not only were Persian, Hindoostanee and Arabic perfectly familiar to him, but he knew every obscurity of the slang of the camel drivers, and during his long voyages in the east his European origin was never suspected. Just as Houdin had been officially employed by the French government, so Palmer was by the English, but in a more intimate capacity.

Before the exploit that proved fatal he had many dangerous adventures. Once he was led away by a treacherous guide and betrayed to an Arab gang who meant to rob and kill him. He guessed their intentions, and when they began to inflict upon him petty annoyances he pretended not to notice them. Finally, however, the abuse became too obvious to be longer ignored. He sprang to his feet and drew out a letter that he had received from an English lady. "This to me! Down on your knees, you dogs, and kiss the handwriting of the sultan!" Down on their knees, cowed and groveling, fell his 300 captors.

In 1882 Palmer was sent on a secret service mission among the Bedouin tribes to persuade them against joining the rebellion of Arabi Pasha. He was betrayed and shot. But just before his death he laid upon his assassins the weight of his terrible curse. Now, in the east a curse is something not to be regarded lightly, and Palmer's was one of particular awfulness.

It was his last means of defense, and, while it did not save him, it blasted the hearing and destroyed the lives of those upon whom it fell. They shrank away from one another in horror. Some of them confessed their crime and were executed; all of them within a few months came to violent deaths. Palmer's curse is still remembered with terror in the east.—Bookman.

Got More Than the Cigar.

He was dining at a restaurant in the neighborhood of Leicester square, and while he was sipping his black coffee and firing 500 glances to the minute at a girl in a fluffy pink and white dress a stranger gracefully commandeered his overcoat. He had just reached the door when the owner tapped him on the shoulder.

"Pardon me, sir," he said meekly, "but would you allow me to get another cigar from my coat pocket in case I do not meet you again?"

The Court Painters.

"A movement was on foot for the alliance of King Charles of Wurttemberg and the Grand Duchess Olga of Russia," said an artist. "An emissary of the Russian court came to the young king, laid certain proposals before him and submitted a portrait in oils of the royal lady. King Charles, after a close scrutiny, said:

"This portrait flatters overmuch. The eyes are too large and brilliant, the hair too abundant, the complexion too flowerlike and the neck and arms too beautiful altogether."

"But, your majesty," said the astonished Russian, "you do not know the grand duchess."

"No," said the king, "but I know court painters."

Kidney Troubles Attack Greenville Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney ills seize young and old.
Come quick with little warning.
Children suffer in their early years—
Can't control the kidney secretions
Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain
Women worry, can't do daily work.
Men have lame and aching backs.
The cure for man, woman or child.
Is to cure the cause—the kidneys.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—

Cure all forms of kidney suffering.
Greenville testimony proves it.
Miss Susan Kincaid, 503 N. Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I derived great benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills and take pleasure in recommending them. For some time I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and had distressing pains through my loins. My kidneys were very weak and the frequent passages of the secretions caused me great annoyance. My back pained me severely and when first arising in the morning I was so lame and sore that I could scarcely get around. I at length procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Wooten's drug store and through their use I was entirely relieved of these troubles. The fact that my kidneys have given me no trouble since leads me to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills most highly.

cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo,

States.

Lazy Birds.

The "mound fowls" of Australia and New Guinea construct mounds of decayed leaves for their nests.
In these the eggs are laid and covered over with the same material.
The warmth engendered by the decomposition of the leaves causes the eggs to hatch, and the young in due time burrow their way out to life and the open air. These birds are regarded as the laziest of all the feathery kingdom. Next to them come the common blackbirds of America for laziness. These blackbirds never build nests of their own, but lay their eggs in the nests of other birds and leave them to be hatched by foster mothers. This is an unfortunate imposition on the smaller birds, as the blackbird's young is so large when first hatched that he soon crowds the smaller birds out of the nest and has it all to himself.

Woman's Rights.

"Madam, do you believe in woman's rights?" asked the man standing in the car.
"I do," she replied shortly.
"Excuse me," he went on. "I am but an ignorant male seeking light.
May I ask if you construe these rights to include the privilege of spreading your really becoming skirts over three seats?"
Thereupon she condensed herself, he took a seat, and conversation flagged.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Poor Mother-in-law.

A Turkish paper tells this story:
"Ibrahim Effendi, to whom things happened, did you perchance hear of the things? The effendi was crossing a river, bearing with him his mother-in-law and a bag of gold, his savings. Then rose the flood, which wrecked the vessel, and Ibrahim knew not at first which to save, the gold or his relative. Then, having taken counsel with himself, thought Ibrahim and spake: 'My gold will I save, for where can I get more gold? But Allah to me will give all the mothers-in-law that I need and perhaps more.'
Then, having thus said, he thus did, and all the Turks said that he was wise."

His Fame Was Sumcient.

San Malato, the famous Sicilian duel-ist, seemed to have stepped into our prosaic modern life straight from the pages of Brantome. His fame had done more than penetrate the four corners of Europe. It had reached his own home. Some misguided Sicilian bandits held up a coach one night and summoned its solitary traveler to come out. From the shadowy depths of the vehicle came two short sentences in a cold, staccato voice:
"Spread out your cloaks. The mud must not spoil my boots when I descend." The cutthroats fled with the awe striking whisper of "San Malato" upon their quivering lips.—London Telegraph.
