GREENVILLE GRADED SCHOOL.

Commencement Will be May 21st.—
Joint Debate With Goldsboro
May 14th.

The present session of the graded school will close on Friday, May 21st. As there is no graduating class in the school this year, the commencement exercises will probably be on a somewhat smaller scale than they have been heretofore. The music class will give a recital, and likely an address will be delivered by some prominent speaker, the name of whom will be announced later.

On Friday, May 14th, at 8 p. m. a joint debate will be held in the opera house, the contestants being representatives from the Goldsboro and Greenville high schools. Greenville will be represented by Chas. W. Haskett and Benjamin F. Taylor. The query is "Resolved that the next legislature should enact a law to go into effect Oct. 1st, 1912, requiring all children in North Carolina between the ages of seven and fourteen to attend school four months each year." Greenville will argue the negative.

It is needless to say that Messrs. Haskett and Taylor are busy these days informing themselves on the subject of compulsory education and getting together the reasons why it should not be enacted into the laws of North Carolina.

The Greenville debating society believes its representatives can defeat the Goldsboro boys. At any rate the visitors will find two contestants who defend well, and they will have no easy task in carrying off the laurels.

The people of Greenville have a cordial invitation to attend the debate.

25 YEARS UNDER ONE MANAGER.

A Vast Vision of Beauty and Splendor.

John H. Sparks' world's famous shows and trained animal exhibition. Coming Greenville, Tuesday, April 20.

So familiar has the public become with the facts of the enormous growth each year attained by the John H. Sparks Shows, that the return of the greatest of American shows is awaited with interest, knowing full well that there is always something new to be seen at each visit. In fact, words fail to do justice to this wonderful aggregation of new and exclusive features in the arenic hippodromac spectacle and animal world that we have this year gathered together from all parts of the earth. Every day at 12 o'clock, noon, the grandest, rarest and most complete free street pageant ever seen, a fortune invested in wardrobe, trappings and accessories; nothing like it for magnitude or magnificence ever seen before on earth! Cages, tableaux in endless variety, gorgeous floats, fierce wild beasts, huge elephants, and stately camels, all absolutely free. Notwithstanding our previous enlargements, the additions for this year are far greater than ever before, and makes this beyond all doubt the most noteworthy amusement achievement of the century. Keeping ever in mind the three chief watchwords, magnitude, excellence and exclusiveness.

Special prices have been arranged for this city—within reach of all. 25c for children, 35c for adults.

N. AND I. COLLEGE.

Notes on the Coming Commencement.

Reverend Wilbert W. White, who will preach the sermon to the graduating class, is one of the most noted Bible teachers in this country. He is, also, an attractive speaker and a religious worker of wide experience. In the latter capacity he has served as teacher, p. a. t. r. institute worker in this country and England, and missionary in India. Dr. White is the author of a number of works on Bible study, and is, at present, president of the Bible Teachers' Training school in New York City. He has several times visited North Carolina, lecturing before conferences of The Young Woman's Christian Associations and other meetings for Bible study.

Talcott Williams, LL. D., who will deliver the annual commencement address, is one of the able scholars and writers of America. He has devoted his life to editorial work, having been connected with some of the foremost dailies of the country. He is, at present, editor of the Philadelphia Press. Dr. Williams is also an orator of great power. He always has a message for his hearers and those who hear him on this occasion will be fortunate.

The two literary societies recently elected their marshals for the next year. They are as follows:

Chief—Elizabeth Hicks Robinson, Cumberland county; Melhe Cotchett, New Hanover; Ruby Gray, Lenoir; Eleanor Huske, Cumberland; Maren Jordan, Durham; Nannie Lacy, Wake; Clara Lambe, Chatham; Annie Moring, Randolph; Clyde Stancill, Pitt; Hallie Viele, Rowan; Laura Weill, New Hanover.

Pitt County Prisoner Pardoned.

In a list of four pardons recently granted by Governor Kitchin, appears the name of Allen Gray, colored, of Pitt county. Gray was convicted of larceny at the September, 1907, term of Pitt court, and sentenced to two years on the public roads. The reasons given for the pardon are: Prisoner was convicted of stealing $30 in money and sentenced to two years on the roads. He has served nineteen months. Considering that some of the jurors state they had some doubt at the trial, and more doubt now, of his guilt, I share the opinion of the solicitor that he has been sufficiently punished. The judge and many citizens of Pitt county also recommend the pardon. Pardon granted.

Urquhart-White.

Mrs. Jonathan White invites you to be present at the marriage of her daughter Laura Congleton to Mr. Nathaniel Ridley Urquhart on Thursday morning, April twenty-ninth nineteen hundred and nine at nine o'clock at home Greenville, North Carolina. At Home after May tenth, Portsmouth, Virginia.

The new telephone directory will go press Saturday, April 17th. Any one desiring advertising space in same had better apply at once to the manager. The leading merchants of the town have reserved space. It will not pay you to be left out. Call the manager by telephone and he will gladly call on you.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

Black Jack, N. C., April 13.

Misses Mattie Mills and Lula Arnold are spending this week in Ayden with relatives.

J. S. Dixon spent Saturday night and Sunday with J. H. Clark at Grimesland.

J. A. Clark and Miss Martha Williams were the guests of Miss Lizzie Stokes Sunday near Timothly.

Miss Lena Dixon spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Martha Clark.

R. M. Williams went to Greenville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark went to Gum Swamp last week to see their relatives and friends.

Miss Dollie Dixon spent Saturday night and Sunday with relatives at Simpson.

J. R. Paramore and son, Charlie, attended church at Grimesland Sunday.

W. H. Wynne went to Greenville Saturday to attend the teachers' meeting.

Miss Annie Clark is spending this week with her brother, A. O. Clark.

As it was announced last week that we were to organize our debating society on Friday night, we met and organized, and elected the following officers: W. H. Wynne, president; J. A. Clark, secretary; J. S. Dixon, chaplain; G. C. Buck, critic. A query was selected and the speakers chosen on their respective sides. "Resolved that Columbus deserves more honor for discovering America than George Washington for defending it."

Speakers on the affirmative, Messrs J. A. Clark, G. C. Buck, Charlie Paramore, H. E. Dixon. Negative, J. S. Dixon, Charlie Harper, W. V. Clark, W. H. Wynne. All are cordially invited to come out Thursday night and hear the debate. We hope to have a large crowd.

KEEP YOUR NERVE.

When you would accomplish a purpose,
And strive with all your might,
Heed not the stare of the curious,
But keep your nerve in sight.

No use to keep on planning,
Go to work while the skies are bright;
Don't wait for the summer shower,
To straighten things out right.

Sure they are plenty who'll "guy" you,
And may be "nothing doing";
But if you take cover all is lost,
Just keep your nerve a' going.

—Mrs. W. G. Williams.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va. April 15, 1909. Bradstreet's Saturday will say for Richmond and vicinity.

Conditions in trade continue generally about as reported for several weeks past. The volume of sales in most lines show an increase of sales for a comparative period of last year. Tariff agitation continues to have a deleterious effect on some lines and conservation in buying is noted in commodities that will most probably be affected. Lumber trade is quiet, the same is true of hides. Some filling in orders for spring dry goods are noted but business in this line continues quiet. Drugs, extracts and specialties in groceries are active. Fertilizer sales are in considerable excess of last season. Retail trade is fair. Weather conditions are favorable to farming operations. Collections are slow.

There will be choir practice in the Christian church tonight and Friday night at 8 o'clock. Every member is requested to be present.

DISTRICT MEETING OF PYTHIANS.

Second District Convention to be Held in Greenville.

The convention of the second district of the Knights of Pythias of the Grand Domain of North Carolina will be held in Greenville tomorrow night, the convention to be entertained jointly by Eureka Lodge of Ayden and Tar River Lodge of Greenville. Deputy Grand Chancellor W. W. Wilson, of Raleigh, will attend this convention and many representatives from all lodges in the district will be present.

The convention will be called to order in the Pythian hall promptly at 8 o'clock, and after the transaction of the district business a banquet will be given in Perkins' hall, this beginning at 10 o'clock. The program will be as follows:

Address of welcome, Hon. J. L. Fleming.

Response, Hon. Y. T. Ormond. Toast master, Dr. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse.

Toasts and responses: The Pythian Spirit, Mr. F. C. Harding.

Our Guests, Mr. Clarence Cannon.

The Ladies, Hon. H. W. Whedbee.

The Functions of the Goat, Dr. Thomas Faulkner.

The visitors from Kinston and Ayden will have a special train on the Atlantic Coast Line to take them back home after the banquet.

NATIONAL BANK OF GREENVILLE.

Directors Declared Dividend—The Bank in Fine Condition.

The directors of The National Bank of Greenville held a meeting on Wednesday, 14th, and declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 percent which was at once paid to the stockholders.

The cashier reported that the net earnings of the bank for six months ending April 13th were $4,673.06. The bank now has a surplus of $10,000, and after paying this 4 percent dividend there are over $3,300 left in undivided profits. Another dividend of 4 percent or more will be paid at the October meeting of the director.

The foregoing gives an idea of the splendid condition of The National Bank of Greenville and the success with which it is conducted. It began business just three years ago with a capital of $50,000, and in that time has added $10,000 to the surplus in addition to the dividend and undivided profits stated. The bank is conducted by capable officials who carefully guard the interest of its patrons, and it holds a high position in public confidence.

The officers of the bank are: F. G. James, president. J. P. Quinerly, vice president. F. J. Forbes, cashier. M. L. Turnage, assistant cashier. Charles James, bookkeeper.

A Boom in Advertising.

A paper in a good-sized town in Oklahoma recently published this item:

"The business man of this town who is in the habit of hugging his typewriter had better quit, or we will publish his name." The next day thirty-seven business men called at the office, paid up their subscriptions, and left behind them thirty seven columns of advertising, and told the editor not to pay any attention to foolish stories.—Bettlers' Gazette.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

D. M. Jones went to Bethel today.

R. Hyman wet to Bethel today.

Robert Dunn left this morning for Norfolk.

W. B. Brown left this morning for Baltimore.

O. L. Joyner returned today from Mullins, S. C.

Mrs. J. S. Tunstall went to Bethel this morning.

K. W. Cobb went to Washington Wednesday evening.

Senator Y. T. Ormond, of Kinston, was here today.

M. O. Hearne and Dr. Zeno Brown left this morning for New York.

Miss Hellen Galloway, of Grimesland, is visiting at Mrs. B. F. Patrick's.

Mrs. O. L. Joyner went to Wilson this morning to attend the Yaw concert.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Full line of fishing tackle, Carr & Atkins Hardware Co.

Several of the stores will be decorated with Pythian colors tomorrow in honor of the district meeting.

Mme. Yaw in Wilson.

There may not be another opportunity for music lovers of this section to hear Mme. Yaw, "the matchless high soprano of the world", and perhaps it may never come again. She will give a concert in Wilson tonight and the Norfolk & Southern railroad runs a convenient schedule between Greenville and that town. Several people here are speaking of going.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

As a result of a fire Monday, caused by burning trash near the Cedar Mill in Dover, four houses belonging to Mr. C. R. Johnson, owner of the mill, caught fire and were entirely consumed. Several other houses in the same row were threatened for a time but were saved by the heroic work of the mill fire department.—Kinston Free Press.

Asheville, N. C., April 14.—Kenilworth Inn, the magnificent hotel property of former State Senator Joseph M. Gazzam, of Philadelphia, representing a total outlay of $310,000, and under the management of Annie D. Martin, with a guest list of between 60 and 70 people, was destroyed this morning by fire, which apparently originated over the kitchen range shortly after two o'clock. The inn, with all its furnishings, and many personal effects of guests, was totally wiped out. All the guests have been accounted for.

Annual Meeting Next Tuesday.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers' Consolidated Tobacco Company, to be held here next Tuesday, 20th, will be an occasion of much interest.

There will be a large attendance from Pitt and surrounding counties. A creditable showing of the work of the company the past year will be given in the reports of the officers. A picnic dinner will follow the business session of the stockholders.

TOO MANY HOLIDAYS.

There are too many holidays—too many excuses to lay off from work—too many interruptions to the regular order of a business-day world. In former days when commerce, industry and manufacturers were of not so much consequence, when it did not mean getting behind orders to shut up shop one day, or when business was not inconvenienced by the suspension of banking privileges, it did not matter so much. In those days people sat about store fronts and whittled dry goods boxes, or loafed about the street corners until time to go home to the meals for the providing of which they depended upon their wives, and every day was pretty much of a holiday to the general run of people. But times have changed. The loafing places have been abolished, or rather, the habit of loafing has disappeared. The cotton mills, the factories, the iron works and all the smaller industries, as a general thing, are working behind orders and the multiplication of holidays requiring a suspension of business is becoming a serious problem for them. Business interests are becoming restless under the accumulation of these days of enforced idleness. Holidays are days to be observed. There are some the observance of which is no earthly consequence to society or business: We could get along very well were a few of these holidays wiped out. By custom, Easter Monday is a holiday, and it is even yet difficult to make people go to work on this day. Those who are forced to work go at their task pouting and envy the care-free element that lines the creek banks fishing for minnows. You can believe it or not—but some of the afternoon papers in this State are observing Easter Monday and are leaving their respective communities in intellectual darkness over a period extending from Saturday afternoon to Tuesday afternoon, and then they will return to work feeling about as good as a little boy who has overloaded himself on cake.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Chronicle is right, the holiday business is largely overdone. Of course some holidays are all right—when they mean something and are observed in a way that signifies something—but there are too many days in the year just for shutting up business and loafing. And the schools might also be included with the sufferers from an over abundance of holidays.

An income tax and an inheritance tax would be a better means of raising revenue for the government than a tariff which has to be paid mainly by the consumers. Give the people free trade and make the rich folks pay on their incomes and inheritances; then the country would be more prosperous and treasury deficiencies become things of the past.

With wheat soaring as it is you may expect to pay high for your biscuits.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The citizens of different towns seem to be having their say in municipal government this year. Raleigh led off with almost a complete overturning of old affairs in that town, then Washington came along with almost the same result, and now Kingston falls in with practically a clean sweep of affairs there. We believe the best government is had when the people themselves show most interest in it.

The women held up the proposed tariff on stockings by a united and vigorous kick. Good example for the men to follow and get some of the things that affect them properly treated by the tariff manipulators.

A Florida congressman who backslid and went with the Republicans on the tariff matter, has been "called to book" by the legislature of his State and summoned before that body for an explanation.

It is said President Taft is already feeling the strain of his official duties. Directing the judgeship menagerie may be responsible for it.

The Reason They Moved.

Last Sunday, while explaining the Sunday school lesson which pertained to the bartering of the Jews in the Temple, the superintendent asked the children, "Why did the Lord send them out of the Temple?" (His house)? As no one answered he wished to make it clearer, and put the question in this way: "Why would a man make people move out of his house?" From the infant class little Willie piped up, "Because they couldn't pay the rent."—The Delineator for May.

DUMPLINGS.

The Difference Between "Drops" and "Drops" Explained.

Some time ago we undertook a study in luxury for the benefit of our readers who are fond of the best things to eat and explained how to make "drop dumplings." They must be dough of real cornmeal and cooked in the boiling liquor in an iron pot, out of which the ham therein just boiled had been lifted.

But we received from a person in North Carolina named Pence this communication:

"You are all off about them drop dumplings. You can't have 'em 'cepting with a biled hen."

It is this man Pence who is off. He has simply confounded drop dumplings, with an "o," with drap dumplings, with an "a." Your drop dumpling is made of cornmeal; your drap dumpling is made of wheat flour. The one is cooked in the liquor in which a ham is boiled; the other is cooked in the pot with a fat hen. Drop dumplings are to be eaten in the season between backbones and spareribs and hog jowl and turnip greens, whereas drap dumplings come in between the black eyed pea soup of the September and the backbones, spareribs and sausage of the early December, immediately succeeding the glorious Indian summer.

Get your hen, and be sure she is fat, so fat indeed that but two eggs can be coaxed from her from a sunday to a Sunday. After she is properly dressed separate her corporeal elements until you have breast, back, neck, legs, wings, head, feet and giblets, including the egg bag. Put this on to stew in an iron pot and add some rashers of fat and properly cured bacon. Let it simmer for hours and when about done put in some pods of okra, a spoonful of boiled rice, black and red pepper and salt to taste. Then come your dumplings—the dough left over from the sweet potato pie crust. Drop them in, let it stew till just done and then serve. That is drap dumplings.

They are very good, but nothing like as excellent as your drop dumplings, made of cornmeal and cooked in ham liquor. The one is for surly March; the other is for radiant autumn.—Washington Post.
