PYTHIAN DISTRICT CONVENTION.

ENTERTAINED JOINTLY BY AYDEN AND GREENVILLE.

Meeting Followed by Brilliant Reception and Banquet—Splendid After Dinner Speeches.

Greenville has a way of doing things whenever her mind is set to do so, and when it was known that Ayden was to join with her in the entertainment of the Pythian district convention for the second district, much was expected. The occasion has come and gone, and it can be truthfully said the expectations were more than realized. It was an occasion that is to be long remembered as the brightest and most enjoyable in Greenville's social history. It was planned on a large scale and every detail proved a perfect success.

All day Friday, every train brought in Pythian visitors, the largest number coming from Kinston on the 4:30 train—about fifty of that town's citizens—with Ayden not far behind. Many ladies were among the visitors, as this was not to be purely a "stag" affair and woman occupied and charmingly filled her place in it.

At 8 o'clock in Castle Hall in the Masonic Temple building the district convention met and the transaction of business was the first order. Ayden, Beaufort, Kinston, Washington and Greenville lodges were represented. The reports read from the different lodges showed a steady growth in membership and good work being done by the order throughout the district. A feature of the meeting was an excellent address by Past Grand Chancellor W. W. Wilson, of Raleigh. District Grand Chancellor J. R. Turnage, of Ayden, presided over the meeting.

The business of the district meeting being completed a little past 9 o'clock the social side of the occasion was in readiness. All visitors were invited to the rooms of Carolina Club where a large number of Greenville people had already gathered to await them. Here for an hour a reception was held, and the great throng of beautiful women and handsome men as they mingled beneath the decorations of Pythian colors made a scene of beauty, gallantry and brilliancy seldom witnessed. In the receiving line were ex-Gov. and Mrs. T. J. Jarvis, Dr. and Mrs. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Moye, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Whedbee, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Flanagan, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Skinner, of New York, and Mr. H. A. White.

At 10:30 the scene changed to Perkins' hall where an elaborate banquet had been prepared under the direction of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church. There were plates for 238 and every seat was occupied. The hall surpassed anything ever undertaken here in the way of decorations and its beauty was the subject of much comment. As the guests entered and at intervals during the banquet the Aeolian orchestra entertained them with excellent music.

After all had been seated around the tables ex-Governor Jarvis delivered the address of welcome which was responded to by Hon. Y. T. Ormond, of Kinston. These were both beautifully worded addresses and delivered in the well known good style of these distinguished gentlemen.

Rev. J. B. Cook, pastor of

BANK OF GREENVILLE ON HONOR ROLL.

Stands Third in North Carolina and Ranks High in United States.

The Financier, of New York, publishes annually an honor roll of State banks in the United States whose surplus and undivided profits exceeds its capital. The list recently published by the Financier shows that there are only 619 banks in the United States reaching this distinction. The Bank of Greenville is on this honor roll, and in the percentage of surplus and undivided profits over capital this bank stands 3rd in North Carolina and 213th in the United States. The Bank of Greenville has a capital of $25,000 and its surplus and undivided profits reach $42,000.

Memorial Baptist church offered an invocation and the guests proceeded to the enjoyment of the elegant menu spread before them.

Oyster Cocktail
Pickles
Ham
Potato Chips
Chicken Salad
Sandwich au Lettuce
Cheese au Baton
Cream and Cake
Coffee.

Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse then took charge as toast master, and it was soon evidenced that the feast of good things had by no means reached the end. His remarks in introducing the different gentlemen who were to respond to toasts were the very soul of brilliancy and wit. He was indeed an ideal toast master. The toasts and responses were as follows.

"Our Guests," Mr. Clarence Cannon, of Ayden.

"The Functions of the Goat," Dr. Thomas Faulkner, of Kinston.

"Why I am a Pythian," Rev. B. F. Huske, of Greenville.

"Our Women," Hon. H. W. Whedbee, of Greenville.

"The Pythian Spirit," Mr. F. C. Harding, of Greenville.

Space will not permit us to comment upon each of these responses, but the names of the gentlemen delivering them is a guarantee of their excellence. We never heard better after-dinner speeches, and there were gems of oratory and eloquence among them. Of course Dr. Faulkner's diagnosis of the goat was humorous, and it was so full of that characteristic as to almost keep the assembly convulsed with laughter. The Reflector was fortunate enough to secure a copy of his speech, and as it is too rich not to be preserved will give our readers the pleasure of seeing it in an early issue.

The brilliant scene ended with goodnight by the toast master at 12:30 and half hour later our guests from the towns to the southward were speeding home by special train.

The committees both of Ayden and Greenville lodges who had charge of the arrangements for the district meeting certainly deserve the highest credit for the success surrounding the entire occasion. They were:

Reception—H. A. White, chairman; W. E. Hooker, W. E. Hooks, Clarence Cannon, W. J. Boyd, E. G. Flanagan.

Toasts—F. M. Wooten, chairman; J. M. Dixon, C. S. Carr, Dr. L. C. Skinner, S. F. Nobes, Dr. E. A. Moye.

Banquet—Dr. R. L. Carr, chairman; Leslie Turnage, E. B. Ficklen, John Coward, T. M. Hooker, A. B. Ellington.

A PREACHER OF PROMINENCE.

Who Will Conduct a Meeting in Greenville.

Of Dr. S. D. Colyer, who is to conduct a meeting in the Christian church here, the editor of the Daily Leader, (who is a Baptist) of Orange, Texas, says: "Dr. Colyer is one of the most able Evangelists that has ever visited Orange and appeared in a local pulpit and is accomplishing great good for the city. His sermons are interesting; he does not preach an offensive gospel and it is a pleasure to hear his splendid sermons, which contain so many good points."

Speaking of one of his sermons "It was a powerful and a convincing sermon and although the preacher spoke for an hour, so intense was the interest that it seemed but a few minutes. Dr. Colyer is a forceful and interesting speaker and those who fail to hear him are denying themselves of a privilege and a pleasure."

He has this to say of the closing service of the revival March 30, 1909:

"Terminating with a monster meeting at the Orange theatre building, the Christian revival which has been in progress the past three weeks, was brought to a successful close last night, a splendid sermon being delivered by Dr. Stephen D. Colyer, under whose direction the revival has been conducted.

"The opera house building was nearly filled, when the services commenced, and the congregation was one of the most attentive that has ever attended a religious meeting in that building. Dr. Colyer's sermon, however, was one of the best, probably, that has ever been delivered from the stage of the Orange theatre. He held the closest attention of his congregation throughout with his able effort.

"Dr. Colyer chose for his subject last night, 'Little Helps,' or 'Out of Failure Into Success.' It was indeed a masterly discourse, and the numerous good points so well illustrated by Dr. Colyer, were strong and convincing. Concentration, ambition and success were so closely interwoven in the sermon that there was no room left for doubt upon the part of Dr. Colyer's audience.

"Preceding the sermon, there was a splendid song service by the choir and vocal solos by local talent. This song service was one of the best that has ever been heard in the opera house building and aided materially in the services."

Will Change Business.

Having decided to give up my profession as a tobacco auctioneer and go into the warehouse business, I will no longer be with the Liberty warehouse in Greenville. I desire to thank my friends and the public for the liberal patronage they have given me for the last twelve years on the Greenville market, and recommend Mr. S. T. Hooker to the patrons of this market as being up to date and an all round warehouseman in every respect. I thank Mr. Hooker for the favor and cordiality he has shown me in the three years I have been with him, and wish him great success in any business he may undertake.

THREE NIGHTS OF PLEASURE.

The Hendley Stock Company Next Week.

Coming to the opera house next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 19, 20 and 21st. The Hendley Stock Company carrying productions of such noted plays as "The Californian," "Thorns and Orange Blossoms" and "The Princes of Patches." This company comes highly recommended and is promised by the management to be a rare treat in the popular price line. The Californian has been selected as the opening bill. This is one of the most beautiful plays on western life ever written, but very much unlike all other western dramas there is very little gun play, in fact not a shot fired. The plot, story and incidents of the Californian is worthy of the patronage of all.

The Hendley Stock Company is made up with such noted players as John Hendley, Joseph Vance, J. Ernest Miller, William Duling, Hilton Clark, Misses Martha Hendley, Margaret Ragan and Bonnie Vance.

The Californian, Monday night; Thorns and Orange Blossoms, Tuesday night; The Princess of Patches, Wednesday night. Specialties of the highest class will be introduced each night. Prices, 15, 25 and 35 cents. Seats on sale at Reflector Book Store.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C., April 17, 1909.

Misses Annie Carroll and Lela Roach were here a short while Wednesday.

The series of meetings conducted at the Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. J. T. Bridgers, since Monday night, closed last night.

Robt. Jenkins, of Grifton, was here on Thursday on business.

New automatic gates have been placed on the roads leading out from town.

Miss Hattie Kittrell spent Monday in Ayden.

The town commissioners have appointed J. W. Harper registrar and O. C. Daughety and B. D. Forrest poll holders for the election of town officers the first Monday in May.

Remember the orphan singing class will be here Monday night, April 26.

Several of our young people attended the closing exercises of the school taught by Misses Cora and Sadie Carroll at Mills' school house, last night. Rev. T. H. King presented the prizes. They report an excellent entertainment. The people in that community do things, anyway.

Joe Buck went to Greenville this morning.

TUESDAY, APRIL 20TH.

John H. Sparks World Famous Shows Comes to Greenville Giving Two Performances.

Circus day dawns with an indefinable stir in the air that sets the small boy's heart beating faster, and awakens pleasant memories in the minds of the gray beards who had not forgotten childhood's happy days. When John H. Sparks Worlds Famous Show exhibit in Greenville the public will undoubtedly be treated to a tremendous surprise, for report has it, that a new and mighty monarch has entered the arenic world. John H. Sparks and his managerial associates have not only ventured into a field of greater endeavor, but in so doing, it is said, have outdistanced tented rivals in a manner that leaves nothing to the imagination with the additional telling advantage of being tripped in size.

All new in the manner of equipment and presentation. The wonderful trained wild animals exhibition is restrained to form the second part of this world famous show is the most remarkable exhibition of the character ever presented. All the men, women and children are to be seen at their best in the grand free street parade at 12 noon which for pomp, opulence and bewildering brilliancy is seldom equalled by any pageant of the past or present.

Special prices have been arranged for this city within the reach of all. 25c for children, 35c for adults.

The many gentlemen after the judgeship are yet at sea.

Greenville enjoyed the visit of the Pythians, and would be glad to have them come again.

You can't fool all the people all the time, yet the tariff tinkers think it is an easy thing to do.

"Roosevelt in Aden" is what the press dispatches tell us. But it does not have a "y" in it, so he has not struck our Ayden.

The judgeship must be either taking a rest or the public has about lost interest in it. The president slipped off a while to get out of it.

With the prospects of paying all kinds of high prices for flour, the farmers should go back to their fields and put a few more acres in corn.

The Irish potato crop will not be long coming, and that will help some to block the high price of flour. Biscuits are in the dear class now.

The present spurt in the price of cotton should not get it into the farmer's head to plant more of that crop, but should send him back to the crib after another ear of seed corn. There is no danger of too much corn being planted.

Greenville has no prospect of being a dull town during the coming week, as there will be two protracted meetings in progress, a wedding, threeshow in the opera house, one circus, and a criminal court in session. There will be something to occupy the attention of everybody and you can judge the people by the place in which you find them.

The Tendency to Idleness.

The Chronicle thinks it is worth while to again recur to the matter of the overplus of holidays. We see that the Springfield Republican has taken it up and as an example, tells of the conditions in Pennsylvania. That State has also legislated a new holiday, October 12, which is to be known as Columbus Day. This will put Pennsylvania even in front of North Carolina in the number of holidays. That State will observe not only Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, and Thanksgiving Day and Christmas, but Lincoln's Birthday, Good Friday, and New Year. Counting the election days, the Philadelphia Public Ledger finds that with Columbus Day the State will have twelve full holidays, which, along with fifty two Sundays and the Saturday half holiday make up a total of ninety days, or about one-fourth of the year. The trend of events is quite clearly outlined by The Republican when it says that we are to consider in this connection "not only the increase in the number of holidays, but the general tendency toward a reduction of hours in the days that remain for work. From the old order of ten or twelve hours for the workday in mechanical employments we have gone to an average probably of not over nine hours, and to eight hours in some lines of industry. The eight-hour day seems likely to become general, and then we shall doubtless face a movement for seven hours. But as it is, in a State like Pennsylvania, with a fourth of the time given to rest days, and only about a third of the remaining time devoted to work, we have about three-fourths of the year taken up in sleep, idleness and non-productive "occupations." Who can deny the truth of this deliverance? It is just what The Chronicle has been driving at in its contention that the country, for this busy-work a-day world, has too many holidays.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Double Tracking

Is the panic over? Looks like it in some respects, in others it does not. The Southern Railway, however, seems to be in better shape for it has resumed the work of double-tracking its system between Atlanta and Washington. Plans which were formulated before the panic will be carried out without further intermission. This work was begun some time ago, and much has already been done. There are a number of connecting links, however, which must be connected up, and it is on these links that work is now being done. The double-tracking of the road from Lynchburg to Diemmet, Va., has been resumed, as has also the double track from Asheville to Craggy, N. C. The work was suspended about eighteen months ago, when the full force of the panic broke upon the country, but with its latest issue of bonds the Southern now proposes to carry its great project of double-tracking to a successful conclusion. This is but one of the great enterprises now going on among the railroads of the South which mean much for the future of our business, and the people are glad to know that conditions have so far improved as to justify the resumption of these improvements.—Greensboro Record.

L. C. ARTHUR, GREENVILLE, N. C.

Who's the Town Booster?
Why, Here He Is!

The citizen who praises his own town.
The citizen who encourages local enterprises.
The citizen who helps along home improvements.
The citizen who patronizes the home merchants.
The citizen who gets his job printing done in his own town.
That man's THE TOWN BOOSTER.

Just Before the Spanking.
"Pop, does a chicken come from an egg?"
"Yes, my son."
"And does an egg come from a chicken?"
"Yes."
"Well, if a chicken comes from an egg, and an egg comes from a chicken, which?"
"Now, see here, if you are going to prolong this line of thought you can go right to bed."
"But, pop!"
"Well, what?"
"How does a chicken come from an egg?"
"Oh, any hen can sit on an egg and hatch it."
"Gee! I'm glad I ain't a hen. It must hurt to sit on a hatchet!" (Hasty exit.)—New York Times.

The Old Ones.
"We'll have to give up the idea of puttin' pictures in the parlor, Jane," remarked old John Turnipseed as he threw the bridle under the table.
"Why?" asked his wife.
"Too dear! Why, I priced one in town today, and the dealer sez, sez he, 'That's an old master; it's price is $500.'"
"Why, sez I, 'It looks like a second-hand pictur.'"
"Yes, it is, sez he.
"Then, thinks I, if a secondhand pictur costs that much it's no use to price a new un. So, Jane, I reckon we'll have to hang up a few mottoes, 'God Bless Our Home' and the like, and let the pictur's go."—Pearson's Weekly.

Fruitless Effort.

A certain venerable citizen of a Pennsylvania city entertains no high esteem of his eldest daughter's musical abilities.

There being a guest one evening, the old gentleman was, to his disgust, compelled to spend an entire evening in the "parlor," while his daughter accomplished her whole repertory for the edification of the stranger.

"Ah," said the latter, turning to the old man when one selection had been achieved, "there are some songs that will never die!"
"You're right," growled the old man. "My daughter puts in a good deal of her time trying to kill 'em, but unavailingly, sir, unavailingly!"—Harper's Weekly.

City of Snow White Domes.

The little city of El-Oued, with its population of 8,000 people, at the extreme south of the province of Constantine, in Algeria, is unique even for a Mohammedan city, because of the great number of its snow white domes or cupolas. So extraordinary is the great number of these cupolas that many writers have referred to El-Oued as "the city of a thousand cupolas." The homes of the residents of El-Oued are constructed of white plaster and were it not for the whiteness of the domes would be taken at a cursory glance to be a city of coke ovens.—Popular Mechanics.

The Finest City in Great Britain.
Edinburgh may be noted for its learning and for beauty of situation, Dublin may rank as one of the most beautiful cities in the world, Oxford may boast its colleges and Canterbury its picturesque streets and grand old cathedral, but London stands supreme—the finest city of Great Britain.—London Captain.
