PITT COUNTY SOIL MAP.

QUESTIONS OF INTEREST ANSWERED BY MR. HEARN.

Some of the Benefits That Will Result From the Map and How Copies Can be Obtained.

Editor Reflector:

On making the soil map of Pitt county there are many questions asked us as we go about the county boring holes in the ground. The more common ones are: What are you doing? What good will it be when you finish? How much does it cost? As this work is being done by the National government and State for the benefit of the farmers and land-owners, and for the community in general, it is nothing but proper that every person in Pitt county know all about it.

The first question was answered in The Daily Reflector about three weeks ago when Mr. Whichard clearly outlined the work.

The second question is one which could be dealt with at considerable length, but I shall merely mention briefly some of the purposes for this work. Underlying all attempts to improve the agricultural welfare of any community is the necessity for a correct knowledge of the character, variety and distribution of its soils, other natural resources and advantages. The soil is the farmers' capital and he should study how to use and improve it to the best advantage, just as a banker studies how to place the funds of his institution.

In order to intelligently study the soils it is necessary to know something of the different kinds of soils, where each kind is located, how much there is of it, and the condition of it as regards its origin, draining and surface features. The map which is being made of Pitt county will show in different colors the different kinds of soil and the area of each. It will also be an accurate map of the county showing roads, railroads, streams, houses, churches, school houses, towns, township lines, etc. It can be used advantageously in locating school districts, laying out new roads, opening up rural mail routes, and in planning drainage schemes, as the elevations and natural drainage ways are shown. It will only be a matter of a short time before many of the now wet, poorly drained but fertile areas, will be drained and reclaimed and made productive.

The maps and reports will furnish prospective settlers unbiased information concerning the soils, agricultural conditions, and possibilities of the county. To illustrate, if a Northern or Western farmer, or some one seeking a favorable climate, cheap and productive soils and a congenial people, receives a copy of the map and report of Pitt county he can learn all about the county from the report and analysis of its soils without leaving home.

The soil survey is the basis for the study of the adaptation of soils to crops. Anyone who has had any practical experience knows that not all soils are equally suited to the same crops, and that more or less of a selection of soil is made for certain crops. By studying these soils in relation to similar soils of the Atlantic coastal plain it is possible to recommend new crops which would prove profitable. Pitt county offers great opportunities, as its soils can produce most any crop and could support many times the present population.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Newsp Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C., April 28, 1909.

Prof. and Mrs. G. E. Lineberry went to Greenville Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Mollie Fox returned from Bethel Tuesday, where she had been visiting for several days.

Misses Dora Cox and Kate Chapman went to Greenville Tuesday.

The Oxford Orphanage singing class filled their engagement here Monday night. They gave an excellent entertainment to a large audience. The people here are certainly loyal to the orphanage work in North Carolina. The receipts amounted to $93.35. Ice cream was served in the afternoon at 4 o'clock to the orphans and a host of others by the Masons.

Rev. R. J. R. Bridgers filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning and night.

Rev. T. H. King returned from Goldsboro yesterday.

things connected with the soil survey is to study the manurial and fertilizer requirements of various soils for the different crops. A large number of samples of soil, subsoil and marl are being collected and forwarded to Washington, D. C. and Raleigh, N. C. for analysis. The amount of money annually invested in fertilizers by the farmers of this county is upwards of $100,000,000. Perhaps a third of this money is annually wasted and brings no adequate returns owing to the fact that the majority of the farmers do not understand the soil requirements for just the proper kind of fertilizer, and go ahead buying most any brand and applying it to the land without due regard for the needs of that particular soil for a certain crop. Dr. B. W. Kilgore, State Chemist and Director of the State Test Farms, is carrying on a number of fertilizer experiments and also variety tests of cotton, corn, and other crops in order to ascertain what is the best fertilizer and how much for each kind of soil and crop, and also the variety best suited to each soil. He knows the soil type with which he is experimenting, and by having the soils of Pitt county mapped he will be able to give out valuable and specific information to the farmers concerning each type of soil. It would be impossible to experiment with the soil on each plantation, or even in each county, but when experiments are made in one locality the farmers who have the same kind of soil can apply the same treatment to it and look forward to the same favorable results. Without a soil map you would not know whether or not you had the same soil.

The third question: How much does it cost the people of Pitt county? Can be answered in one word—nothing. This work is being done in the interest of the farmers and land owners at no direct cost to any person, but from the general funds appropriated by congress together with a small part of the revenue derived from the sale of fertilizer tags by the State Department.

The maps and reports of Pitt county will be printed by the Bureau of Soils, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and distributed free to any one who will write to Congressman John H. Small and simply ask for one. W. Edward Hearn.

PRESIDENT TAFT.

Preparation Being Made for the Largest Gathering Ever Seen in Charlotte—Decorating Already Begun.

Charlotte, N. C., April 27.—It has been arranged definitely that President William H. Taft will deliver his address on the twentieth of May, at which time this city will celebrate the 134th anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, from the reviewing stand which is now being erected in front of the Mecklenburg county court house and surrounding the monument commemorating the signing of this immortal document. This stand will perhaps be the largest ever erected in the State and the indications are that it will be crowded to its utmost capacity, judging from the demand for tickets from Charlotte as well as other towns of North and South Carolina. General admission to the stand will be $1.00 and to reserved seats $2.00, the latter giving the occupants an opportunity to be near the president during the parade and while he is making his address. Orders for seats may be sent to Mr. Jno. R. Ross, treasurer of the reviewing stand committee, or to the secretary of The Greater Charlotte Club.

The committees in charge of the celebration are making every effort to arrange for accommodations for the entertainment of the thousands of visitors who will be here on this historic occasion. With the excellent hotel facilities of the city in addition to the several hundred boarding houses there is no fear on the part of the central committee that Charlotte will be amply prepared to care for all who will come. Already the city has begun decorating for the event, the prospects being that several days before the celebration the streets will be a blaze of glory for the reception of the troops who will reach here several days before the arrival of President Taft.

COX'S MILL ITEMS.

Cox's Mill, N. C., April 5.
Miss Bessie Moore is spending a while in Greenville.

Miss Queenie Cox spent last week with Mrs. Moore.

Misses Hollie Page and Nancy Mills spent Saturday night and Sunday with Misses Alice and Queenie Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fornes, of Greenville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Fornes' parents.

Rev. D. A. Windham, of Saratoga, made a very interesting and instructive talk to our Sunday school Sunday afternoon. We were very glad to have him with us.

Miss Annie Carroll spent part of last week in Winterville visiting relatives.

Mrs. E. J. Hardee and nephew, Jimmie Edwards, were visiting in Grimesland Saturday.

Misses Lela Roach, Cora and Sazie Carroll spent Friday in Greenville.

Mrs. Ben Tucker and children were the guests of Mrs. Janie Edwards Sunday.

The weather has been very favorable for setting tobacco, and many of the farmers have already finished.

Johnnie Carroll went to Greenville Saturday.

Miss Vida Butt, of Winterville, spent from Friday until Sunday with Miss Lizzie Cox.

Harvey Stokes went to Greenville Saturday.

Miss Lela Roach, after a short visit in our neighborhood, returned to her home Sunday.

FLAG RAISED AT GRADED SCHOOL.

"Old Glory" Proudly Waves Over the Campus.

Tuesday morning the usual devotional exercises at the graded school were conducted on the school yard.

A large American flag was raised, appropriate exercises being held. The children and teachers gathered around the pole and sang "The Star Spangled Banner." Several patriotic poems were recited by the grades. Prayer was offered by Rev. B. F. Huske.

While the entire school was singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee," one of the pupils, Miss Nannie Bowling, who has made the best attendance record for a period of five years, slowly pulled the rope which drew "Old Glory" fifty feet high, where it unfurled to the breezes.

The flag is quite a beautiful one; it is six feet wide and twelve feet long and has forty-six stars on it.

It was paid for in part by the pupils. Each pupil was asked to contribute one penny toward it, and nearly every child responded to the request. A few gave nickels and dimes.

Every school should have a flag. There is no better way to teach the children patriotism, the pillar upon which all free government must finally rest.

Death of Mrs. G. W. Satterfield.

It is with sorrow that we learned of the death of Mrs. G. W. Satterfield, who departed this life Saturday morning, April 24th, at eleven o'clock. She died as she lived a Christian, generous and warm hearted, always striving to follow where He leads. She was a member of the Free Will Baptist church and has been for a number of years.

She was 44 years old and all through her life was always striving to do better. She was sick about three weeks with bronchitis before the end came. She leaves her husband and eight children—five girls and three boys, also a father, three sisters and one brother to mourn their loss.

Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to the bereaved ones and especially to the little children, for the one whom they once called mother is no more. We bow our heads in humble obedience, for "His will, not ours, be done." She was buried in Falkland cemetery; the funeral services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Forbes, Sunday evening. A Friend.

Last Night at the Christian Church.

Notwithstanding the continued pour down of rain there were about 40 present to hear one of the best sermons Dr. Colyer has preached. It was really the warmest service of the meeting.

Rev. Arnold offered a suggestion that there be an offering made for the Oxford orphan's as they were here and singing in the opera house.

Dr. Colyer suggested that it be postponed until after his sermon which seemed to fit the occasion. The offering was then taken which amounted to $12.50.

Come tonight and hear Dr. Colyer on "The Necessity, the Blessedness and the Glory of our Trials, our Burdens and our Crosses."

Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Spiegel, of Wilson, who are very fine musicians will assist. A male quartette, duet and violin obligato alone should bring any one who loves good music.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

W. A. Fleming, of Hassell, was here today.

D. M. Clark returned Tuesday evening from Raleigh.

J. E. Warren returned Tuesday evening from Kinston.

P. T. Anthony returned Tuesday afternoon from Ayden.

C. W. Hearne returned Tuesday afternoon from Kinston.

Dr. J. C. Caldwell, of Wilson, spent a short while here today.

Miss Bessie Hellen, of Beaufort, came in Tuesday afternoon to visit her sister, Mrs. J. N. Hart.

Rev. and Mrs. S. P. Spiegel, of Wilson, came in this morning and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Coward.

Superintendent J. J. Laughinghouse, of the State Prison, came in from Raleigh Tuesday evening and went to Washington this morning.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

April has not been stingy with rain.

The Odd Fellows will celebrate their anniversary tonight.

If you want best milk call phone B 252.

The rainfall last night was nearly an inch and a half.

When they get hungry to go fishing the rain breaks it up.

From 3 to 6 o'clock, Friday afternoon, the King's Daughters will sell ice cream and cake at Hines' Cafe, next door to W. B. Wilson. 4 29

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be in Greenville, at Hotel Bertha, Monday and Tuesday, May 3rd and 4th for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye and fitting glasses. Those who want to see about having work done will be charged no fee unless terms are agreed upon. 4 19 eod & w

The Orphans' Concert.

Notwithstanding the very inclement weather, a good sized audience attended the concert by the Oxford Asylum singing class in the opera house Tuesday night. The people exerted themselves to get out for such a worthy cause. The children gave a splendid program.

The door receipts were $34.50, donations $5.50, and a collection in the Christian church $12.50, making a total of $52.50 the class received here.

TOO MANY HOLIDAYS.

The country is going daft on the subject of holidays, and if the thing is not checked somewhere the time may come when work days will be a thing of the past and every day will be a picnic. Up in New York they are holding a two week's celebration of the laying of the corner stone of old St. Patrick's cathedral. A few days ago there was a big blowout over the 345th anniversary of Shakespeare. Next Friday will be the anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as president and there is talk of special doings for the day also. Any excuse is good enough to quit work on week days, and the holiday craze is becoming a nuisance. If folks would rest on Sundays and work the six days of the week, it would be more in keeping with the teachings of the Bible, they would be happier and the country more prosperous.

Republicans in this State are getting quite active in the newspaper business. They have just started a paper at Raleigh, have organized a company to publish one at Charlotte, and one preparing to revive the Industrial News at Greensboro. Whether all three of them can be made to go remains for the future to tell.

The motion for a new trial in the case of the Coopers, convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of Senator Carmack at Nashville, Tenn., has just been argued by counsel. Judge Ward over-ruled the motion and the defendants appealed to Supreme court.

Senator Lee S. Overman has introduced an amendment to the tariff bill to levy a tax of $10 on each immigrant coming to the United States. This is a good way to raise revenue, and it may also help to keep out the pauper immigrants.

Texas had better luck in collecting her two million dollar fine against an oil company than some of the other States, as down there the cash was handed over.

He seems in no hurry about it, but for the sake of decency President Taft ought to bring the scramble for the judgeship to an end.

It has gone so far that testimonials from negroes are being asked for in behalf of some of the candidates for the judgeship.

A Durham man arrested for being drunk, took a 30-day jail sentence in preference to telling where he got his liquor.

If a fellow insists on having an income he should not object to paying a little tax on it.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

One-Time Ad Doesn't Pay—Keep at it.

One must figure in advertising that if he gets one or two new customers this month, next month's advertising will bring in three or four new ones, and the next month's advertising multiplying the previous month, each month showing an increase. The first new customer is still with you and has spent a lot of money with you. Those who have followed this customer are still with you and spending money all the time, and new customers are being added to your list as each new ad. makes an impression upon some one. That's the way to figure on advertising. One cannot expect to spend a few dollars and see everybody come to his place to buy.—Interstate Trade Bulletin.

Gov. Wilson, of Kentucky, has pardoned practically the whole group of men who were charged with complicity in the murder of Governor William Goebel. He is a Republican and the objects of his clemency are also Republicans. Such is the state of political feeling in Kentucky that a Democratic governor never would have pardoned the accused men. And that Wilson's action in the matter will cause a renewal of the bitter political feeling throughout the State may be taken for granted.—Greensboro Telegram.

It is evident from the continued procrastination of Mr. Duncan in regard to reviving the Industrial News that he wants to know just where he is at before he spends any more money; in other words, he wants to know who is going to be judge of the Eastern district, not that there is very much to be expected from the man, but it will be a criterion by which he can judge of what is coming to him in the way of controlling the patronage.—Greensboro Record.

Senator Bailey said in a speech Thursday that it is the weak men of the South who are submitting themselves to the attractions of Federal office bait. A remark like that is calculated to make somebody feel bad.—Greensboro Telegram.

If the farmers could ever get it into their heads that they get the good roads while the people of the towns are paying for them, the advocates of good roads might not meet with so many obstacles in their work.—Durham Herald.

NEW GUINEA COURTSHIP.

All the Proposals of Marriage Are Made by Women.

Away off in the strange island of New Guinea it is leap year all the time in one important sense, for out there all the proposals of marriage are made by the women. It is considered beneath the dignity of the male inhabitants of New Guinea to even notice a woman, and consequently the women perforce must notice the men and must start any idea of weddings, etc.

So when the island belle of New Guinea becomes in love she promptly sends a piece of string to the sister of the lucky man. If he has no sister she sends it to his mother or to some female relative—this because the man and his male relatives are assumed to be above taking any steps toward acquiring a wife.

Then the sister says to the man involved: "Brother, I have news. So-and-so is in love with you." If inclined to matrimony the man makes an engagement to meet the enamored lady. When they meet it is alone, and they either decide to wed or drop the entire proposition at once. There is no courting, for the man is not allowed, theoretically at least, to waste any time on a woman—not even enough time to make love to the lady or to allow her to make love to him.

The betrothal is announced, and the engaged man in New Guinea is branded on the back with charcoal, but the woman's mark of engagement to wed is actually cut into her skin and is never allowed to completely vanish. If either one decides to break the engagement nothing can be done by the offended party.

If the girl decides that, after all, she sent the little piece of string by mistake the man is apt, however, to catch her some time alone and beat her. If the man tilts the woman her relatives often hunt him up and administer a sound drubbing. Blood, however, is seldom shed, as the breaking of these women made engagements is not deemed a very serious matter.

Though the women propose the weddings in New Guinea, the condition of the wife is miserable and unjust in the extreme. The girl is merely the property and slave of the husband. He can beat her unrebuked and even kill her with impunity if she incurs his enmity.—Atlanta Constitution.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

Her Summary Method of Snapping Official Red Tapes.

When Florence Nightingale came, instantly a new intelligence, instinct with pity, aflame with energy, fertile with womanly invention, swept through the Scutari hospital. Clumsy male devices were dismissed, almost with a gesture, into space. Dirt became a crime, fresh air and clean linen, sweet food and soft hands a plety. A great kitchen was organized which provided well cooked food for a thousand men. Washing was a lost art in the hospital, but this band of women created, as with a breath, a great laundry, and a strange cleanliness crept along the walls and the beds of the hospital. In their warfare with disease and pain these women showed a resolution as high as the men of their race showed against the gray coated battalions of Inkerman or in the frozen trenches before Sebastopol. Muddle headed male routine was swept ruthlessly aside.

If the commissariat failed to supply requisites, Florence Nightingale, who had great funds at her disposal, instantly provided them herself, and the heavy footed officials found the swift feet of these women outrunning them in every path of help and pity. Only one flash of anger is reported to have broken the serene calm which served as a mask for the steel-like and resolute will of Florence Nightingale. Some stores had arrived from England; sick men were languishing for them. But routine required that the should be inspected by a board before being issued, and the board, moving with heavy footed slowness, had not completed its work when night fell

The stores were, therefore, with official phlegm, locked up and their use denied to the sick. Between the needs of hundreds of sick men and the comforts they required was the locked door, the symbol of red tape. Florence Nightingale called a couple of orderlies, walked to the door and quietly ordered them to burst it open and the stores to be distributed.—Cornhill Magazine.

Dolly Madison.

Mrs. Dolly Madison, the wife of the third president, is described by Griswold in this way:

"Dolly Payne, born in North Carolina, has been educated according to the strictest rules of the Quakers in Philadelphia, where at an early age she married a young lawyer of this sect named Todd; but, becoming a widow, she threw off drab silks and plain laces and for several years was one of the gayest and most fascinating women of the city. She had many lovers, but she gave the preference to Mr. Madison and became his wife in 1794."

YOUR PULSE.

Some Facts About the Interesting Little Health Indicator.

The Brooklyn woman who was recently reported to have fled at midnight into the street, crying out that she was dying, and all because her pulse was beating a little more rapidly than usual, may be said to suffer from ignorance regarding the pulse, which is common enough. Here are a few facts concerning the interesting little indicator in question which it is well all should become acquainted with:

A regular and steady pulse which is not easily put out of measure by pressure always indicates a healthy condition of the system. If, however, there is an intermittent beating of the pulse it is an indication that the heart's action is faulty. You need not, however, take alarm, since there is no portion of the body, no matter how vital, which does not get out of order many times in the year. If the pulse is beating very rapidly the nervous system is out of order. When fever is present the action is rapid and very full, and there is evident distention of the vein.

If you are a healthy person in the prime of life your pulse will move at the rate of seventy-two beats to the minute, though the number will vary according to the hour of the day. Do not think, however, that you are more vigorous than others because your pulse beats at the rate of 80 or 90 to the minute. One whose pulse beats at the rate of only 40 or 45 is as likely to be quite as vigorous. Artists, declares Ribot, a French physician, as a rule, have a normal pulse action of 78 to 84; mathematicians, from 60 to 70; laborers, from 65 to 68.

The French Dr. Quetelet has drawn up a table showing the action of the pulse at different stages of life. At birth the little indicator gallops along at the rate of 136 to the minute; at five years, at the rate of 88; from ten to fifteen, at a rate of 78. Here a drop occurs, and between fifteen and twenty there is a fall to 69. Between twenty-five and thirty the rate is 71; between thirty and fifty, about 70. During recent years the exact state of any given heart has been gaugeable, owing to the invention known as the sphygmograph, which registers the action of the pulse and so tells the truth about the heart.

Any doctor can tell you whether your heart is weak or strong and without a doubt, whether a sudden death is likely to be your portion.—New York World.

ANECDOTES OF REYER

The Famous French Composer Was Blunt of Speech.

HE HAD A CAUSTIC TONGUE.

His Biting Wit Was Lavishly Bestowed Upon Those Who Annoyed or Displeased Him—As an Officeholder He Was the Limit of Indifference.

Ernest Reyer, the famous French composer, had a biting wit and a caustic tongue. Fortune frowned on him at the beginning of his musical career, and his first opera, "Erostrate," was played only twice. This did not worry Reyer much, although, as he said to the manager, "I had hoped to see it played three times at least." "Erostrate" was rather meanly staged. In the first act the temple of Ephesus was supposed to fall and did not. "I suppose," said Reyer, "that they thought that if the play dropped hard enough the audience would excuse the temple!"

At that time the manager of the opera was a man named Halanzier, who was no musician and whom Reyer disliked. Halanzier had a way of patronizing the composer which made him furious, and he took his revenge one evening in Brussels. "Sigurd," after having had some success in Paris, was played at the Theatre de la Monnaie in Brussels and achieved a triumph. After the first performance Reyer gave a supper, to which he invited Halanzier, who was delighted when the composer, after a speech in his honor, lifted his glass and said, "And now I wish to drink to Halanzier." Halanzier bowed and smiled, and Reyer, without moving a muscle, went on calmly and imperturbably—"to Halanzier, the one manager to whom I owe nothing."

Reyer was playing one of his compositions at a friend's house when a little girl—he hated children—commenced to cry and would not be comforted. "For pity's sake," cried Reyer furiously, "put that child on a chair and sit on her face, one of you!" The crying child became some fifteen years later Mme. Rose Caron, the singer who helped Reyer to the pinnacle of fame.

It was Ernest Reyer who was the original perpetrator of the joke with reference to twins which has been ascribed to so many people. A friend of his had just become the father of two boys and had them brought in to the composer. "Charming," said Ernest Reyer nervously, "charming children," patting their cheeks gingerly with his gloved hand, "delightful children really. Which one are you going to keep?" When he was appointed librarian to the Paris Opera he took his duties very easily and as a matter of fact scarcely ever went to the opera house. He was fond of telling the story of his first visit to his office. He went to it one evening at dusk six years after he had been appointed. He lost his way and wandered about up and down narrow passages and dark corridors until he ran up against a doorkeeper whom he had passed two or three times already. The man, distrusting the stranger, stopped him and said, "Who are you, and where are you going?" Reyer looked him up and down. "I am the librarian," he said haughtily, "and I am looking for the library!"

One day a young musician called on him with a warm letter of introduction from a mutual friend. Reyer received him and, wining, asked him to play the two pieces which his friend had recommended. After the first one had been performed the pianist turned expectantly to the composer. "What do you think of that?" he asked. "I prefer the other one," said Reyer, and the young man left without playing it. When he was on the stairs the old composer leaned over the banisters and called to him. "Your future is assured, young man," he said. "You have nearly learned when to stop. But if you had let me off the first piece too"—And, chuckling, he went into his flat again.

Once a young lady sang him the grand air from "Sigurd" and sang it rather badly. "I was so frightened, cher maitre!" she said. "Not nearly as frightened as I was!" was the old man's answer.

On another occasion a lady said to him: "Oh, M. Reyer, when I hear the air of 'Doves' in 'Salammbô' I can positively see you writing it! I can see you in your beautiful home in Provence, between the mountain and the sea, drawing inspiration from the sunshine of the south and"—Reyer interrupted her. "There is something the matter with your eyesight, madame," he growled. "When I composed that air I was sitting on the top of an omnibus, smoking a pipe, and it was raining in torrents!"

One more example. A lady who lodged opposite him in the Rue de la Tour d'Auvergne was an ex-pupil of the conservatory, and this it seemed to her, was the chance of a lifetime. The master could not help hearing her sing, and if he heard her he would be captivated and her future would be assured. So she opened her window and daily sang numbers from his "Salammbô." In due course a messenger knocked at her door. "M. Reyer has heard you," he began, and the singer believed that all her dreams were coming true. "M. Reyer has heard you," the messenger continued, "and he sends his compliments and would esteem it a favor if you would close your windows when you are practicing!"

T. E. Little left Friday for Scotland Neck to visit his children there and returned Monday.

Mrs. R. A. Willoughby visited in Smithtown Friday.

Rev. T. H. Barnhill spent Friday night at Ivy Smith's.

R. E. Willoughby went to Greenville Saturday.

Jennis Smith went to Greenville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Smith attended the quarterly meeting at Marlboro Saturday and Sunday.

F. M. Smith's eleventh heir arrived Saturday morning. It is a 12 pound boy.

Miss Gertie Smith is visiting her sister, Mrs. Haywood Smith, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills Smith visited at A. J. Flanagan's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McLawhorn attended church at Greenville Sunday night.

R. E. Willoughby and Miss Nannie Smith visited at C. L. Tyson's Saturday.

Carl Tyson was visiting Joe Joyner Saturday and Sunday.

The Rochdale boys have organized a debating society to meet every Friday night.

There is great interest manifested in the meeting that is being carried on in the Baptist church of Scotland Neck, by Rev. Mr. Chambliss of Virginia, and Rev. Mr. McFarland, the pastor.

There were nine accessions up to Sunday night. It is expected that the meeting will close Wednesday night.

It is said that nearly every body in Scotland Neck is a member of the church. The Baptist Sunday school numbers between three and four hundred.

OAKLEY ITEMS

Oakley, N. C., April 27, 1909.

Mrs. T. F. Nelson attended church at Parmele Sunday.

Plenty potato bugs. Drummers come next.

Last Thursday Mrs. Martha Rawls and Mrs. Lou Legget were driving to Greenville. They met a negro on Carney creek bridge.

The negro was riding a horse, running the animal at full speed. The ladies gave him all the room they could, the negro failed to check his speed, and while passing them the negro and horse fell against the vehicle breaking the buggy harness. It was only by the good judgment of Mrs. Rawls, who was calm and attended to her own horse, that serious injury was not done. It gets worse, for when a motor car is not in sight a wild negro is in the way.

Coming Next Week.

The Ethel Morton Opera Company which appeared here with marked success two years ago, will return on May 7th and 8th, at the Masonic Temple opera house. They are playing a repertoire of operas this year. All are to be put on with special scenery and costumes, and rendered by a cast even better than formerly, and augmented by a chorus. Miss Morton still heads the organization and needs no introduction to the people of Greenville. Manager Courtney, now as before, gives his personal attention to each production, and helps materially in making each and every one a perfect picture.
