MEETING IN WASHINGTON.

For Improving Tar and Pamlico Rivers.
Editor Reflector:

Capt. Earl I. Brown, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., has given notice that he will hold a public meeting in the hall of the chamber of commerce at Washington, N. C. at ten o'clock a. m. on Thursday, May 6th next, for the purpose of conferring with the citizens interested in the improvement of Pamlico and Tar rivers, both above and below Washington. Capt. Brown wishes suggestions as to the scope of the improvement and also information as to the conditions of Pamlico and Tar river at every point. I earnestly urge all parties interested to be present at this time and present their views. Very respectfully,
Jno. H. Small.

Reach's 1909 Guide.

Reach's Official American League Guide for 1909, published by the A. J. Reach Company, of Philadelphia, and edited by Mr. Francis C. Richter, of "Sporting Life," is out, and is, as usual, first in the field, thus making it the harbinger of the base ball season. It can be said without any qualification that, excellent as all of the editions of the Reach Guide have been in recent years, the 1909 Reach Guide is the best hand book of the kind ever issued by this or any other publisher. The special distinction of the 1909 Guide is, next to the text, quality of paper used and the number and beauty of the engravings furnished, the world's championship series being specially well dowered with splendid action pictures.

The American League Guide for 1909 is in all respects a first class hand book of the National game and a decided credit to the American League and to the publishers, the Reach Company. This is the eighth annual issue of the Reach Guide as the official hand book of the American League, and the twenty-seventh consecutive year of its publication as a book of record and reference for the entire base ball world.

Opera Next Week.

On May 7th and 8th the Ethel Morton Opera Company will appear at the Masonic Temple opera house. It is hardly necessary to remind you that this same organization appeared here two years ago and made an instantaneous hit. Miss Morton still heads the cast and continues to satisfy, as formerly. Her voice has improved greatly since she was last heard here, and her acting has acquired a finish that the work of few stars can equal. The cast has been bettered in several instances, a chorus of pretty girls has been added and Manager Courtney has done much to continue the success of the company by supplying it with new and original scenery and costumes. We feel sure that the good impression made before will be more than lived up to during the forthcoming engagement.

The King's Daughters Convention.

An important meeting to be held in Greenville in May is the King's Daughters State Convention which assembles the 26th and 27th. The local circle already has preparations well in hand for the entertainment of the State convention.

GREENVILLE MAN HONORED.

Mr. E. G. Flanagan President of State Association.

At the recent annual meeting of the North Carolina Funeral Directors' and Embalmers' Association in Greensboro, Mr. E. G. Flanagan, of Greenville, was elected president for the coming year. Greenville feels gratified at this honor to one of her townsmen, and it is an honor well bestowed.

The next meeting of the association will be held in Goldsboro.

A GRATIFIED POLICY HOLDER

Grifton, N. C., April 29th, 1909. H. Bentley Harris, Dist. Mgr. Mutual Life Ins. Co. Greenville, N. C.

My Dear Sir:
I am in receipt of cash dividend on my policy in your company for 1909, amounting to $59.85, also that on my wife's policy for $47.05. This is entirely satisfactory and exceeds any former dividends. I am gratified to note the marked increase in the dividends of this company, and always recommend the old Mutual Life of New York.

With best wishes for you and the Mutual Life, I am,
Very truly,
W. S. Roach.

Meeting in Baptist Church Will Close Tonight.

There were two more delightful services in the Baptist church Thursday afternoon and night. In the afternoon Mr. Lumpkin's subject was "Sidetracked on an Important Journey," based upon Terah stopping at Haran instead of completing his journey to Canaan. From this he drew forceful application of people starting the Christian life and letting worldly enticements stop them on the way. At night he spoke on the healing of Naaman the leper and emphasized that people must be saved in the one way appointed by God instead of trying to follow a plan of their own.

Tonight will be the closing service of the meeting.

Newspaper Works for Town.

Did you ever think of it? Suppose every business man in town took as much interest in the upholding of the town and forwarding all public enterprises as the newspaper man. He works for manufactories, schools, churches, good streets and roads, urges, pleads, scolds and badgers and cavorts around generally.

Imagine his feelings then when some lame, stringhalted kind of a fellow reproaches him because he don't boom things enough. If the town does boom and the prices of real estate advance and the owners grow rich from the result of his labor, he makes nothing by it. He is like the poor boy at the pictures without the necessary quarter to gain admission.—Ex.

North Carolina Industries.

The Chattanooga Tradesman reports the following new industries established in North Carolina during the week ending April 28th:

Weldon—$4,100 lumber company.
Draper—$125,000 construction company.
Fairmont—$25,000 cotton gin.
Wilmington—$50,000 oil company.
West Durham—Cotton mill.
Marion—$100,000 lumber company.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Portions of Lenior and Craven counties were visited by a severe hail storm Tuesday.

J. R. B. Carroway, the defaulting bank official of New Bern, succeeded in raising the additional bond required of him and has been released from custody.

Asheville, N. C., April 29.—John Birchfield, charged with the killing of Zeke Roberts in a street hack near the Old Reed place on the night of April 10, was convicted of murder in the second degree in Superior court this morning and sentenced by Judge Ward to a term of fifteen years in the State prison.

Rand Peace, a citizen of Thomasville, hung himself in his barn Monday morning. He was gardener at the Orphanage, and had been there since its start. He was 65 years old and leaves a widow and seven children. His mind had been weak for some time.—Asheboro Courier.

Fish are plentiful. Herrings are now selling at $2.50 per thousand or ten cents a dozen and shad at 30-cents. We are informed that some of the fishermen are hauling herrings out on their field and using them for fertilizer.—Windsor Ledger.

Raleigh, N. C., April 29.—Rev. Thos. Dixon, Sr., father of Thos. Dixon, of New York, the famous playwright and novelist and of Rev. A. C. Dixon, formerly pastor of the leading Baptist churches in Brooklyn and now in charge of one of the largest churches in Chicago (both natives of North Carolina) is dying at the home of his daughter, Doctor Delia Dixon Carroll, of Raleigh. The aged father is ninety years old.

Of all the systems of graft an ingenious age has produced, a negro preacher of Marion, N. C., has invented the most unique, according to a special dispatch from that town to the Charlotte Observer. The negro preaching has been holding a revival for the past month and there have been, it is said, 110 conversions. When a nigger is converted he issues a certificate like this: "This is to certify that sister Jane Jones has this day been born into the kingdom of God," etc., and charges the poor deluded fool the sum of 50 cents for her passport into Glory. A number of them have been framed by a picture dealer and are prized by the holders more than the left hind foot of a graveyard rabbit.—Mt. Olive Tribune.

Prominent Railroad Officials Here.

Mr. Harry K. Wolcott, general manager for the receivers of the Norfolk & Southern railroad, and Mr. R. P. Foster, superintendent of the road, came to Greenville from Raleigh in their private car, Thursday evening, and spent the night here. This morning Mayor H. W. Whedbee took them for a drive over Greenville and the visitors were unstinted in their praise of the town. They were surprised to find that such progress had been made here, and declared Greenville one of the best towns on their road. The gentlemen left with the 9:55 train for Norfolk.

For downright devilishness, gossiping women beats 'em all, says a deacon in Massachusetts. Sisters are evidently on to you, deacon.—Atlanta Journal.

GENERAL NEWS.

Some of the Happenings Over the Country.

Scranton, Pa., April 29.—Eight inches of snow fell here today between 3 a. m. and 2 p. m., impeding traffic. During the afternoon there was a heavy rainfall accompanied by severe thunder and lightning. About six o'clock there was a severe hail storm and another hard rain.

New York, April 29.—Failure to appear in court to submit to examination in supplementary proceedings, caused Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw to be adjudged in contempt of court today by Justice McAvoy and sentenced to pay a fine of $250 within five days or suffer imprisonment. The court also granted an order for the appointment of a receiver for the property of Mrs. Thaw. Today's action is the outcome of a judgment for $256 obtained against Mrs. Thaw by a milliner of this city.

Knoxville, Ark., April 29.—Fourteen persons were injured, two seriously, in a tornado here late this afternoon. Many houses were wrecked and great damage to property generally.

Chicago, April 29.—An electrical storm, accompanied by a furious gale, burst over Chicago tonight bringing death to at least five persons and cutting the city off from direct outside communication for nearly two hours.

Chicago, April 29.—One man was killed, three are missing and a score were injured, and property worth $1,000,000 was destroyed by fire early today in a grain elevator of the Illinois Central Railroad.

The Revival.

Another filled house listened to Dr. Colyer last night on "What Must I do to be Saved?" One very prominent man said today, "last night's sermon was undoubtedly the best I have ever heard. Dr. Colyer laid special stress upon knowing where to find the answer to his question. He says that tonight and tomorrow night he will complete the giving us the key to the entire answer to "What must I do to be saved?"

The congregational singing was by far the best since the meeting begun. Mr. Spiegel led the singing while Mrs. Spiegel, Miss Tunstall, Mr. Bowles and Mr. Rieves played the piano, organ, violin and cornet. Several expressed themselves as wishing the choir had continued the singing after service. However we did not have our special music on account of one of the performers being sick. But we feel sure nothing will prevent us from having our special music tonight.

The Sunbeam chorus composed of twenty little girls will give us a special number tonight titled "Little Ones of God Are We."

It should be remembered that the services begin promptly at 7:45 and all the singing and special music comes between 7:45 and 8:10. So if you want to enjoy all the services come promptly at 7:45.

Dr. Colyer's subject tonight is, "Count the Cost."

Ten Dollars Reward.

There will be paid a reward of ten dollars for the arrest of any person or persons found spitting tobacco juice on, or defacing any of the bulletin boards of the Christian church, anywhere on the streets of Greenville.

H. W. Whedbee, Mayor.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

Miss Claudia McCuller, of Washington, is visiting Miss Helen Forbes.

Mrs. J. A. Staton, of Bethel, has been spending some days with her sister, Mrs. Frank Wilson.

H. H. Hines, of Florence, S. C., arrived Thursday evening to visit his brother, W. C. Hines. He made the trip in an automobile, leaving Florence Tuesday evening.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Last day of April.

Red Men meet tonight.

The year is one-third gone.

Tomorrow will be May day.

The cold spell in May is yet to come.

The wind and dust today were something to face.

"The harvest is passing and you are not saved."

The month of May will bring on municipal politics.

If you need a new typewriter ribbon call at Reflector Book Store.

For ice cream that is the pure article go to Hines' Cafe this afternoon and tonight.

Roses did not wait for May this time but have already been blooming in profusion.

Go to Hines' Cafe this afternoon and tonight for ice cream, served by the King's Daughters.

From the number of them around, the traveling salesman look upon Greenville as a good town.

As usual the leaves on the trees will be grown in time, by the 10th of May. Ten days will make a big showing in foliage.

Take some shares tomorrow in the new series of stock of The Home Building & Loan Association. The seventh series begins then.

When you write items to The Reflector and fail to see them in print, ask yourself the question if your name was sent along with them.

The King's Daughters are serving excellent ice cream and cake this afternoon and tonight in Hines' Cafe, next door to W. B. Wilson.

If you are on the delinquent tax list and do not want your property sold Monday, you had better get square with the collector tomorrow.

Best Mill in United States.

Mr. F. G. Perkins, president of the Cabinet Veneer Co., came in Thursday evening from Indiana and will be here a few days looking after the work at the plant. Mr. F. W. Kirch, of New York, the veneer expert who sells cabinet veneer product, is also here. He is greatly pleased with the veneer mill here and thinks it the best in the United States.

Ball Game.

A scrub game of base ball is in progress this afternoon between a picked-up team of town boys and a team among the attaches of the Adam's show.

Workman Hurt.

J. H. Haman, one of the workmen on the city hall building, this morning fell across a joist timber and was painfully cut across the nose.

FRIDAY, APR. 30, 1909.

It might not be a bad idea for the government to employ Texas officials to collect fines.

Greensboro folks had a good opportunity to die while the funeral directors were in convention there.

It is not at all likely that the new Sultan of Turkey can be any worse than his recently dethroned predecessor.

The papers are saying the judgeship appointment is to be settled this week. We will believe it when we see the name of the appointee.

This is the season when the men folks want to stay away from home until house cleaning is over. And when they come back they find nothing where it was before, except the house.

January, February, March and April have done all they could for Greenville, and each month has noted something in the line of progress. Now let us all turn to May and see what that month can be made to bring us.

The Reflector is certainly glad that its good friend, Jim Robinson, editor of the Durham Sun, was a winner of one of the prizes in his district in the News and Observer contest. And the best part of his winning this prize is that it is to be devoted to the benefit of the chimes fund for which he is so faithfully working.

You can help yourself and help your town by co operating with The Home Building and Loan Association in enabling people to secure homes on easy payments. The association in the last three years has done much in this direction, and will do more as it grows older and stronger. The seventh series of stock bearing date of May 1st should be a large one. It is a good thing for the home builder and for the investor.

Congress is taking a hand in things at a late day. After he has been dead more than a hundred years the body of Major Charles L'Enfant, the Frenchman who came to this country and drew the plan for the city of Washington, was disinterred from a country resting place and removed to Arlington cemetery, being placed in state in the capitol a short while during the transfer. And now a bill has been introduced in congress to make an appropriation to aid in erecting a monument to Poca-hontas.

On next Thursday, 6th., Capt. Earl I. Brown will be in Washington for the purpose of conferring with people interested in deepening the channel of Pamlico and Tar rivers. Greenville should have some representatives to meet Capt. Brown and

 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

to recommend an eight feet depth of Tar river as far as Greenville. This is an opportunity for our people to get the government to do something for them in the way of making the river a sufficient depth for a good water transportation line to operate here. We are not going to get lower freight rates until advantage is taken of the opportunities the river offers.

If there be one better way than another to ruin a town, it is for those who live in it to go about apologizing for its existence. There are some who are always ready to say, by their actions at least, that this place don't amount to much. They will tell you that the town is dead; that no one would think of stopping here; that some town adjacent is more respectable, more enterprising, has better people, better enjoyment, is ahead of us in everything. This is all wrong. Even if it be true, no one should admit it, when it comes to making a comparison. Every good citizen of this town, should take a special local pride in all that pertains to home. The schools, the churches, the amusements, the business, pleasure, the picnics, the celebrations, in fact everything should be looked on by our own people as just as good as can be gotten up elsewhere. The town that says "we can" will always succeed. The town that says, "Oh, I don't know, I don't think it will amount to much," is never of much force. If you have no local pride, borrow some.—Ex.

In Davidson Superior court last week the case of a farmer, who had sued the Southern railroad for damages because his wagon was reduced to kindling wood at a crossing, was tried, and the jury not only acquitted the railroad but charged the farmer with negligence. It is now up to the Southern to sue the farmer for damages for obstructing its track. If juries fall into the habit of doing as this Davidson jury did, the field of lawyers who farm for part of the crop will be materially affected, and they will probably say what a citizen of Iredell said on the occasion when he and the late Dr. J. F. Long went into the Superior court to demand that they be called on the jury as they had a right to do, as citizens and freeholders, which was in effect that somebody had been "bought up."—Statesville Landmark.

In a Drop of Ink.

When applied to the newspaper page they make people think twice.

First, people think there's a man who keeps up with the procession.

Second, they think he must keep good goods on hand.

Again, if the home paper has enough drops of advertising ink on its surface to make a proper showing the outsider thinks this must be a pretty lively town.

Thus a drop of NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING INK is a good thing for the town.

The scene may be the shop of a fashionable west end jeweler. Costly gems glist in velvet lined cases. One frock coated shopman turns casually to another with the perfectly natural question quoted above.

To those customers who may be in the establishment the remark means nothing, but to the man who is addressed it spells volumes. "Brown" is a secret code word, and it means that the elegantly clad woman to whom the speaker is displaying a tray of sparkling stones is suspected by him of being a thief and that her every action must be watched.

Quite recently in connection with a terrible outrage in the west end of London, in which an unfortunate money changer was done to death in his office by a desperate robber, the fact was disclosed that in the case of a sudden attack it had been arranged that one of the assistants should employ the "distress signal" of hurling a brass paperweight through the window of the office.

Although most people are quite unaware of the fact, practically every banker, money changer and jeweler in the fashionable quarter of the metropolis has some prearranged code by which one employee may warn his fellows that a dubious character has entered the establishment.

In one well known bank this is the system adopted: Should a cashier's suspicions be aroused by the actions or speech of a man upon the other side of the counter he will step across in a perfectly innocent way to a certain desk which stands quite apart from the others. The custodian at the doorway sees the action, knows its significance and is instantly on the alert.

In the case of another bank the cashier whose suspicions are aroused need not even move away from his desk to warn the watcher. The scheme employed is this: Along the guarding rail of the counter are a series of plates bearing the word "Prayer" or "Receiver," according to the duties of the cashier in each particular section.

These, by design, are all placed slightly askew. Should one of the officials behind the desks suspect the good faith of an individual to whom he is attending all he has to do in order to place the patrol in uniform upon the qui vive is to reach up a leisurely hand and turn one of these plates so that it is in a perfectly straight line with the rail from which it projects.

The ingenuity of this idea lies in the fact that, while the action is perfectly natural, it is so unmistakable that even when the bank is full of people it cannot fail to be observed by the man who is upon the lookout.

Quite the most elaborate system of which details are obtainable is that installed by a firm of electrical engineers for one prominent west end jeweler. The manager who is on duty sits at a glass serpen desk in the rear of the shop in such a position that, while scarcely being seen himself and certainly without making any movement, he has an absolutely unimpeded view of every counter and show case.

Near him, on a small board, shielded from view, is a row of tiny red electric light bulbs. One corresponds to the position of each of the slave assistants who are on duty to the wants of the jewel buying public. Sunk in the floor, near the feet of each assistant, is a button, and his duty is done when, should he think a customer he is serving may not be "on the square," he places his foot on this convenient button. The little glow lamp lights up at the other end of the wire, and the manager's attention is promptly focused in the direction indicated.

Should his keen scrutiny reveal an actual theft from the articles displayed on the counter or from some unprotected tray he himself presses a button as the thief turns to leave the shop. This serves to warn a smart attendant who is on duty at the portals and the wrongdoer finds his or her pathway barred without a word having been uttered or sign of warning given.—London Answers.

SHOEMAKERS' WAX.

The Surprising Properties of This Peculiar Substance.

One of the most apt illustrations ever made by Lord Kelvin was his likening the luminiferous ether to a mass of shoemakers' wax. What Lord Kelvin said of shoemakers' wax may be tested by any boy in a manner that will astonish his playmates. First let it be said that the ether penetrates all space. It is as rigid as steel and yet so flexible that it does not retard the passage of planets through space in the least. It is an invisible substance which travels in waves through all things. Now, to illustrate the nature of such a paradoxical material Lord Kelvin searched everywhere and at last concluded that shoemakers' wax represented it best. He made tests, and this is what he found:

He melted some wax in a common glass tumbler. After it had hardened he tried to thrust a lead pencil through it. It would not go. Then he placed a coin on the surface of the wax and left it there for several days. When he again visited it the coin had sunk to the bottom of the glass. The wax had closed over it, and by lifting up the glass and looking through the bottom he could see the coin lying there. Had the wax been as deep as a well the coin would have gone on sinking until it reached the bottom. This proved that the wax would conform only to very slow movements. If he had tried to push it too fast it would have resisted him.

An idea struck the scientist. If the wax acted like this toward the coin, how would it treat an object which floated? He accordingly placed a cork in a tumbler and poured hot shoemakers' wax upon it. The wax hardened with the cork at the bottom. Yet when Lord Kelvin looked at the bottom of the glass in a day or two he found the cork had disappeared. It was somewhere in the mass of wax and probably rising very slowly, but surely, toward the top. Sure enough, after a given period of time the cork peeped above the surface of the hard wax, and finally it rose to a point where it remained half imbedded in the wax, just as it would have done in a glass of water. It rose no higher than this, however, and a corkscrew probably would not have pulled it from the wax. Yet its own buoyancy had raised it up from the bottom through what seemed an impenetrable mass of wax.

This, in fact, is the peculiarity of shoemakers' wax—that it resists all sudden or quick movements, but is highly susceptible to very slow and prolonged pressure. If you pressed a fatron hard down on a lump of wax on a table it is probable you would make no impression on it, but if you left that iron resting on the wax for a day or two you would find the lump flattened out under the iron. So curious is this property of the wax that tuning forks have been cast from pieces of it. These forks were capable of vibration, giving a musical note and being set going by vibration from another tuning fork, yet when one of them was laid across the open mouth of a jar it slowly collapsed and fell into the jar in a shapeless, sticky mass.

You had better watch in the market place than slumber in the temple.—Maeterlinck.

TRUTHFUL REPORTS.

Greenville Reads Them With Uncommon Interest.

A Greenville citizen tells his experience in the following statement. No better evidence than this can be had. The truthful report of friends and neighbors is the best proof in the world. Read and be convinced.

John G. Latham, 907 Cotanch St., Greenville, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills in my case far surpassed any other kidney remedy I had previously used. For some time my kidneys were disordered, the secretions being too frequent and painful in passage. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills, I was so much impressed that I procured a box at John L. Wooten's drug store. They seemed to go directly to the seat of my trouble and gave me relief in a short time. My kidneys were restored to their normal condition and I felt better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

LINCOLN'S STORY.

It Contained a Lesson For the Man With a Grievance.

An old farmer once called at the White House and complained that the Union soldiers in passing his farm had helped themselves not only to hay, but to his horse, and he hoped the president would urge the proper officer to consider his claim immediately.

"Why, my dear sir," replied Mr. Lincoln blandly, "I couldn't think of such a thing. If I consider individual cases I should find work enough for twenty presidents."

The caller urged his needs persistently, and Mr. Lincoln declined good naturedly.

"But," said the persevering sufferer, "couldn't you just give me a line to Colonel — about it—just one line?"

"Ha, ha, ha!" responded the president, crossing his legs. "That reminds me of old Jack Chase out in Illinois."

"You see, Jack—I knew him like a brother—used to be a lumberman on the Illinois river, and he was steady and sober and the best raftsman on the stream. It was quite a trick to take the logs over the rapids, but he was skillful with a raft and always kept her straight in the channel. Finally a steamer was put on, and Jack—he's dead now, poor fellow!—was made captain of it. He always used to take the wheel going through the rapids. One day when the boat was plunging and wallowing along the boiling current and Jack's utmost vigilance was being exercised to keep it in the narrow channel a boy pulled his coat-tail and hailed him with:

"Say, Mr. Captain, I wish you would just stop your boat a minute! I've lost my apple overboard!"

"Think that story over, my friend, and see if you can find any lesson in it."

A LOVER OF PEACE.

He Had Decided Opinions on the Way to Abolish War.

"Men talk sincerely," once said W. T. Stead, the great apostle of peace, "about loving one another, about the universal brotherhood of man, and in the same breath they assert that it is right to burn and maim and kill in war. They are not so logical as a young colored recruit who served in the Philippines. This young man at the end of his initial engagement was hauled before his captain.

"So you ran at the first fire, did you?" said the captain scornfully.

"Yes, sah, an I'd 'a' run sooner, sah, if I'd knowed it wuz comin'."

"Have you no regard for your reputation, Calhoun?"

"Mah reputation haint nuffin to me, sah, 'longside o' mah life."

"The captain smiled and twirled his mustache. Here was an intelligent young man. He'd talk him over to the right point of view.

"Even if you should lose your life, Calhoun," he said, "you'd have the satisfaction of knowing that you had died for your country."

"'Wot satisfaction could dat be to me, sah, when de power o' feelin' it wuz gone?"

"Then patriotism means nothing to you?"

"Nfin, sah. I wouldn't put mah life in de scales agin any government dat eber existed, for no government could replace de loss o' me."

"Calhoun, if all soldiers were like you the world's governments would all go to pieces."

"'On de contrary, sah, dey'd last forever, for, if all soldiers wuz like me den dere couldn't neber be no fightin'."

The Mistress of the House. "She spends all her time in the library."

"Ah, she is literary?"

"Not especially. But the cook won't allow her in the kitchen, and the maids don't want her about the halls or parlors."—Pittsburg Post.

Preacher's Daughter Too.

A Cleveland minister has three daughters, the youngest one only five years old. The other day the child's nurse reproved her.

"If you talk to me that way again," spoke up the five-year-old, "I'll say something to you, and it'll have a L in it." Then, as an afterthought, "it won't be lily either."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Optimist and Pessimist.
