CULTIVATION OF CORN.

Some Good Advice From the Agricultural Department.

The Farmers' Co-operative Demonstration work, under the auspices of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is giving our farmers some good advice in regard to the early cultivation of crops. The information obtained from its literature and through its men in regard to corn growing is about as follows:

Corn is one of the crops that requires a great deal of moisture. Every stalk of average size will need three hundred pounds of water to make a good yield. This amount scarcely ever falls during the growing season, hence we must keep in the soil the winter rains for the use of the corn at any time that it may need it. It is a well known fact that a corn crop is ruined by a drought. But if the land was broken early and deeply so that it caught the winter rains and then if by proper cultivation the moisture is kept in the soil a good corn crop can be made in spite of a drought. One of the main objects of cultivation from now on, therefore, will be to cultivate shallow and frequently to conserve the moisture which is lost mainly by evaporating into the air. If the soil is kept loose on top evaporation is checked. Hence a weeder or other light harrow or cultivator should be run over the soil every week or ten days until the corn is too large. This loose dirt on top acts like a blanket would on a wet horse. It keeps the moisture there by preventing the winds from carrying it off. Moisture is always found under a plank or other covering on the ground. The loose soil on top in the field acts in the same way in retaining moisture.

After the first or second cultivation, and after the corn is six to eight inches high, all plowing should be shallow. A turn plow, a long scoter (gopher) or other deep running implements, is not the best thing to cultivate corn with after the roots get out into the soil. Any deep plowing after this breaks the roots, thus cutting off the power of the corn to get food and water. This early and frequent cultivation also keeps down the weeds and grass. It is usually the grass that comes up with the corn that gives the most trouble and that has to be gotten out by expensive hand hoeing. The best time to kill these is before they appear above surface, that is just when they are sprouting. This is always just after a rain. Stirring the soil dislodges them and kills them.

This work must be done just as soon after a rain as the soil is dry enough to allow it. After the grass is an inch high and after the soil has crusted the weeder or harrow will not do much good. Many farmers make signal failures on this point by waiting two or three days too long after a rain and often until they see a coat of young grass. The farmer must watch conditions and get there in time or his work is largely lost. Such implements should be used as will not require more than one or two trips per row. This is economy,—one of the things not often given much attention on the farm. The important thing, then, is never to let a crust form on the soil since by that time the grass is growing above ground and the moisture is going out at rapid rate.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Littleton, May 15.—Several days ago quite a sensation was created here by the report that Mrs. Daniel, the young wife of R. K. Daniel, a well known young man of this place, had endeavored to kill her husband, it is alleged firing five shots at him. Friends, upon learning of the trouble, which is said to have been caused by his ill-treatment of her, intervened, and Rev. Francis Joyner, rector of St. Ann's Episcopal church, swore out a warrant against Daniel, charging him with whipping her. The case came up some days ago but there was no trial since Mrs. Daniel had mysteriously disappeared.

Shelby, May 17.—Charlie Walker, of this county, met his death today under most remarkable circumstances. He had for some time entertained a grudge against automobiles, especially a certain one driven by a young man of Shelby, Mr. Rush Thompson. The young man with his car carried Dr. T. E. McBrayer, wife and three children to Fallston, and passed Mr. Walker, who was plowing a mule near the road. The mule was frightened by the machine, but was not unmanageable. The tragedy occurred as the automobile party were returning home. When within about two miles of Shelby, on the same road they met Mr. Walker again, this time driving the mule to a buggy. When Walker saw the machine he got out of the buggy and pulled the mule and buggy directly across the road, thus obstructing the passage. Mr. Thompson requested him to come on and pass, he having already stopped the car. Mr. Walker refused to move, but urged Thompson to pass him. This Thompson attempted to do, but just as the machine began to move Walker raised a gun he was carrying in his hand and aimed it at the automobile party. Just as he did so he fell in his tracks and without a struggle died. Dr. McBrayer got out and examined him and found that he died of heart trouble.

Asheville, N. C., May 17.—Another tragedy occurred in north Buncombe early this morning when Grant Brigman and John Brigman, residents of the Big Ivy section, neighbors and kinsmen, "fell out" over some lumber and engaged in a fight resulting in the death of John Brigman.

New Bern, N. C., May 17.—Two fires were discovered on the county bridge across the Neuse river yesterday. The largest was found about noon and a bucket brigade was soon formed and the fire extinguished. About a month ago a fire was found on the bridge, which is a mile long, and about two weeks ago a second fire was discovered. Taken with what was found yesterday it looks as if somebody is trying to burn the bridge but so far no motive or suspect has been found.

Monument Fund.

The Confederate monument fund is growing, but not so fast as it did last week. W. B. Wilson, treasurer, Monday received a check for $10 from J. Bryan Grimes, secretary of State, which added to the subscription previously published brings up a total of $185 to date. Send in your name and keep the fund growing.

THE HOUSE FLY.

A Valuable Circular Which Tells How To Get Rid of the Pest.

An interesting and plainly written circular about this universal pest has been issued by the North Carolina State Department of Agriculture at Raleigh, and is available to any citizens who may apply for it. It consists of eight pages, with five illustrations, showing the insect in its several stages of existence, describing its transformations, habits and the methods by which the numbers of the pest can be reduced, and by which they may be excluded, controlled or trapped when they come to our homes.

The house fly breeds principally in horse stables—and if these are carefully cleaned out twice a week and the accumulated manure thinly spread in fields where it will quickly dry, the number of flies in any community will be greatly reduced. This is the prime method of lessening the number of flies. Screens must be used to exclude them from our houses, and sticky or poison fly paper, or insect powder, may be used in the house.

House flies frequent all manner of unclean places where they become contaminated with disease germs or with visible particles of filth. Thus laden they fly back into our houses, where they contaminate our food, drink, air and clothing. Every one who reads this notice should by all means write at once, and ask for as many copies as can be beneficially used.

School teachers, preachers, doctors and officers of local organizations where the subject should be properly discussed, could all have extra copies for distribution. Address your request to Division of Entomology, State Department of Agriculture, Raleigh, N. C.

Moving Picture Shows.

Aronson & Browne gave a good moving picture show at their opening in the opera house Monday night. The pictures were distinct and interesting. The inauguration of President Taft was almost as real as if the spectator had been present on that occasion.

The Gem Theatre, run by V. Allen, also opened Monday night with a good program. The light was the best ever thrown on any moving picture curtain in Greenville. The Hindoo's ring, The Knowing Birds and Miss Hold's Puppies were some of the very best pictures that could have been secured for the opening. Everybody was pleased.

Jones-Tunstall.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Tunstall request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Minnie Thorpe and Mr. John Arthur Jones on Tuesday evening, June the first at seven o'clock Eighteen Grande Avenue Greenville, North Carolina.

Came Near Drowning.

Howard Moore, a son of Mr. J. R. Moore, narrowly escaped drowning while swimming in the river Monday. In attempting to swim across the stream he became exhausted and had sunk the third time, when Harry Moore and Alvin Doree, who were out in a canoe, rescued him.

SLOGAN FOR GREENVILLE

Prize Will be Given for Best Suggestion.

The Reflector wants a slogan for Greenville, or a catch phrase in advertising and attracting attention to the town. For instance, the city of Charlotte has adopted "Watch Charlotte Grow," a slogan that has become familiar everywhere. Now we want one equally as good for Greenville, and will give any reader of The Reflector an opportunity of making suggestions as to what it shall be. The person making the best suggestion before the first of June will be awarded any $3 Parker Fountain Pen at the Reflector Book Store. The only rules governing this contest are as follows:

All suggestions must be sent to The Reflector in writing before the first day of June.

The suggestion must contain not less than three nor more than six words.

Any person can make as many different suggestions as desired.

The Reflector is to have the privilege of using any or all the suggestions made as the paper deems fit in advertising Greenville.

Three gentlemen, whose names will be announced later, will be asked to act as judges, the suggestions all to be referred to them. The one they deem best will be adopted as Greenville's slogan and the $3 Parker Fountain Pen awarded in accordance with their decision.

UNIVERSAL PEACE.

Shakespeare said 300 years ago, "Universal peace is almost at hand." Since then we have had some of the bloodiest wars recorded in history to take place. Perhaps he was reckoning time according to the Scripture, "A thousand years is but a day with the Lord."

To us, even now, such a condition seems far in the future, but it seems much nearer to the point of realization in the present time than in Shakespeare's day. A few weeks ago the National Peace congress looking to universal peace, held its second annual session in the city of Chicago. And the "silent peace demonstration" of 10,000 people on Saturday, a ringing in of "Peace Sunday" by hundreds of church bells that city, the preaching of peace sermons from a large number of pulpits—all intended as a tribute and a welcome to the congress—were certainly very impressive and its efforts a new impetus will receive from such incidents.

This is the day of idealism and we dare not say what will or will not be accomplished by these good people. In our opinion, though, it will take "precept upon precept" drummed into the individual youth from generation to generation, forever strengthening faith in God and bringing out peace in the individual "the peace which passeth all understanding." In that way universal peace will come about naturally without force, and we will not be found saying "peace, peace! when there is no peace." The question of national armament will then fade away—be solved and there will be no strife between men, consequently none between nations.

Perhaps he was reckoning time according to the Scriptures. "A thousand years is but a day with the Lord."

Pickpockets are on hand looking for a harvest in Charlotte this week. They began their work Saturday night when one visitor was reported to have been relieved of a purse containing $120. People who carry large sums of money in their pockets among great crowds are in the same foolish class with those who hide it away around the house instead of putting it in bank.

The greatest success comes when the people stand together. Even though Greenville has done well, there is lack in this particular of unity. Let a meeting of the Merchants' Association be called, for instance, and you will not find more than a handful present.

New York must be getting better, as more convictions come in murder trials up that way than formerly.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Going for the Doctor in the Old Days.

It was the habit when everybody used to live in the country for the person who went for a doctor to go in great haste. The modern fire department going to a fire is not a circumstance as compared with the way in which the raw 18-year-old country boy went for a doctor when somebody was sick. Naturally a good rider was selected, and naturally he was allowed to take the best horse on the place. The boy became deeply imbued with the importance of making the trip quickly and it was not uncommon in going along the public highway to see a youth riding a spanking horse at a rate of speed that was absolutely amazing, as though heaven and earth depended upon his getting to some place without delay. But when the boy reached the doctor and told his errand, all the haste was usually at once finished. The doctor probably went back into the house and stayed there for a half hour before starting, but the serious inconsistency between the boy and his importance and the importance of his errand and the cool way in which the doctor received it all and took his time to start, constitutes a commentary on how we regard things and how the other fellow regards them.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Why RALSTON SHOES are non-wrinkling

As you have probably noticed, most shoes have a tendency to wrinkle and "bunch up" across the toes after the shoes have been worn a few times. This is the fault of the lasting (the process of pulling and stretching the leather over the wooden last.)

The RALSTON method has remedied this fault. Ralston vamps are first crimped (see illustration) then lasted. There are no bunches, no wrinkles, because every part of the vamp fits the last perfectly without straining the leather at any point. This adds to the wear of the shoe. It also explains the reason why Ralstons retain their smart appearance until worn out.

There are other unusual features of RALSTON SHOE construction which will appeal to you. Come in and look over our new styles.
