Newsy Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N.C., June 19, 1909.

C. T. Cox, F. A. Edmondson, O. W. Rollins and Eugene Cannon went to Ayden Wednesday night.

Miss Janie Kittrell went to Greenville Wednesday.

Dowdy Smith, who was taken to the hospital at Kinston to have an operation performed for appendicitis, is improving as fast as could be expected.

Guy Taylor, of Ayden, was here a short while Friday.

Misses Olive Butt, Venetia and Jeanette Cox went to Ayden Wednesday.

Prof. Nye returned from Morehead yesterday. He reports an excellent meeting and a good time boating and fishing.

C. S. Smith returned from Kinston Thursday.

Prof. Peden, of Ayden, was in town Wednesday.

Mr. Cannon Smith, of this place, died Thursday morning fifteen minutes to eleven o'clock. The funeral was preached yesterday evening in the Free Will Baptist church here, by Rev. E. T. Philips, of Ayden. His remains were taken to the Byrd grave yard for burial.

He leaves a wife, two daughters and three sons. We extend to them our sympathy and point them to the hills from whence their help must come.

Mr. Smith was a member of the Free Will Baptist church, a good neighbor, a kind husband, an excellent citizen, a devout Christian, and those who knew him best say surely this man has passed over the river into that happy hunting ground beyond.

M. G. Bryan went to Bethel today.

Prof. Nye informs us that the catalogues of the W. H. S. are now being printed and will be ready to be mailed out in a few days. There will be some changes in the faculty next session. Mr. H. F. Brinson, of Belcross, N. C., will have charge of the academic department. He comes highly recommended, having had five years experience in high school work. The people of Belcross, where he had been teaching were loth to give him up. He is now serving out the unexpired term of Prof. Burgess as superintendent of public instruction of Camden county.

Miss Dora E. Cox, of Winterville, will have charge of the intermediate department. She is a graduate of Meredith College, Raleigh, and taught last year in Stinson Institute most satisfactorily. The trustees of that school pressed her to return next year, but on account of being near home she has kindly consented to work here.

Miss Elizabeth Boushall will teach the primary department again. Her work is known and needs no comment.

We are also glad to announce that Miss Vivian Roberson, who has been at the head of the music department for the last two years, will be with us again. She will be assisted by Miss Netta Liles, of Jonesboro. She comes most highly recommended by the principals of the schools in which she has taught.

With an experienced faculty, and the enviable record to which the school has reached of thoroughness, discipline and the character of the students that it has sent out, we predict next session to be one of the finest in its history.

GREENVILLE WINS AGAIN.

Pretty Game With Team at Farmville.

Friday afternoon the Greenville "Juniors" added another to their list of victories, when they defeated Farmville on their grounds by the close score of 2 to 1.

It was an exciting contest from the beginning to the end, and until the last Farmville man fanned in the ninth, neither side was sure of victory.

Greenville secured the lead in the second inning when she succeeded in sending a man across the plate on a hit, a sacrifice, and a slow grounder to second base. Another score was added in the fifth, when Hutchings scored from second base on Bagwell's beautiful two-bagger to the center. Farmville secured her lone run in the sixth. Turnage scoring on Pollard's two base hit to right field. Farmville came dangerously near scoring in the eighth. With a man on third and another on second with no men out, it looked like she would score, but fast playing by the Greenville boys caused them to be shut out.

This is the third consecutive victory that the Greenville nine has won this season, and we hope that when they play at home next week the people of our town will patronize the game. Their record this year shows that they can play good ball, and although they do not promise "league" ball, yet they do promise good, clean, base ball—the kind that is worth seeing.

Score by innings: R H E Greenville 0100100002 5 4 Farmville 0000010001 4 4 Summary: Two base hits; Bagwell, Turnage, Pollard. Struck out, by Lanier 7, by Turnage 7. Base on balls, off Turnage 2, off Lanier 1. Hit by pitched ball, by Turnage 1.

Batteries: Lanier and Hasket, Turnage and Joyner. Umpire Dr. Weeks. Time of game, 1:25.

N. & I. College.

We desire to call attention to the advertisement of the State Normal and Industrial college which appears in this issue. Every year shows a steady growth in this institution devoted to the higher education of the women of North Carolina. During the past year the McIver memorial building was erected and used for class purposes. This addition to the material equipment of the college greatly increased the efficiency of the work.

The college last year had a total enrollment of 979 students. Eighty-eight of the nine-eighth counties of the State had representatives in the student body. Nine-tenths of all the graduates of this institution have taught or are now teaching in the schools of North Carolina.

For Sale.

On Monday, June 21st, at 12 o'clock we will sell at public action to the highest bidder before the court house in Greenville one house now used for the Free Will Baptist church known as the public school house. And one lot 75x75 on Eleventh street near said church. Terms of sale one-fourth cash, remainder by Jan. 1st. 1910.

Bradstreet's Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., June 17. Bradstreet's Saturday will say for Richmond and vicinity:

Trade generally is irregular some lines being very active while others are quiet. Wholesalers of shoes and leather goods report increased orders. Dry goods are quiet, though fair orders are being received for future shipment. Lumber is quiet. Fountain supplies, extracts and grocers specialties are active. Drugs are active. Excessive rains have caused damage to crops and have retarded the harvesting of wheat. The acreage of cotton in North Carolina is reported somewhat less than in 1908. Retail trade is fair. Collections continue backward.

Gem Theatre.

The program tonight will be one of the longest we have ever shown. Three thousand feet of first class film. "Women who Gamble," is the feature subject and it tells a very pathetic story of the card table and a woman's downfall. You should not fail to see this as it deals with a subject every one is more or less familiar with. The comedy on the program will be presented in a water cure. To see it is to laugh, while a very beautiful film, entitled "The Little Magician," shows some interesting trick photography. Remember our pictures are always the best and do not hurt your eyes.

New N. C. Industries.

The Chattonooga Tradesman gives the following list of new industries established in North Carolina during the week ending June 16th:

- Winston-Salem—$125,000 tobacco warehouse company; $100,000 tobacco plant.
- Mount Airy—$50,000 tobacco company.
- Durham—$10,000 cotton mills.
- Gold Hill—$50,000 telephone company.
- Gastonia—Bottling works.
- Elkin—$50,000 hotel company.

Boy's Arm Broken.

Robert, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rountree, met with a painful accident an evening or two ago, resulting in breaking the left arm above the wrist. Mr. Rountree and the little boy were in the country and coming to a gate the latter started to get out of the buggy to open the gate. Just at this moment the horse started off and gave the buggy a jerk which threw the boy out to the ground.

AFTER BLIND TIGERS.

Mayor Binds Over Two Cases to Superior Court.

W. B. James was before Mayor Whedbee this morning on the charge of selling liquor. Examination was waived and defendant bound over to Superior court. J. A. Sutton was also before the mayor on the charge of drunkenness, and when asked where he got his liquor said he laid down a quarter on a shelf in one of the stalls in the market house and got a bottle.

Later E. L. Weathington, proprietor of the stall in the market indicated by Sutton, and a colored man named John Daniel, who works for Weathington, were brought up on the charge of selling liquor. The trial showed no evidence against Weathington and charge against him was dismissed. There was evidence against Daniel and he was bound over to superior court.

MARLTOWN ITEMS.

Marltown, N. C. June 18.

Daniel Braxton has been suffering much with mumps.

The crops of John Hemby, H. B. Turner, J. F. and R. A. Crawford, were seriously damaged by the hail and wind storm last Sunday. Mr. Turner also had a pack house blown off its foundation.

Jesse Braxton is housing his potato crop, and it comes in very lean.

R. A. Crawford is plowing up his tobacco crop and planting corn and peas.

John Allen and wife are visiting her parents this week.

Miss Ora Nichols is visiting her little cousin at G. T. Allen's this week.

Song Recital.

Sunday night in Jarvis Memorial Methodist church there will be a musical recital at which the following program will be given:

 6. Doxology by the choir and congregation.
- The recital is for the benefit of the organ fund.

Injury to State Farms.

Superintendent J. J. Laughinghouse, of the State prison, is here to spend Sunday with his family, and tells us that the recent heavy rains did much damage to the State farms near Roanoke river. He says the farms were washed and flooded worse than they have been in many years.

Wanted—Second hand desk either roller roller or flat top. Apply at this office.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

Roy Hearne went to Grainers today.

H. L. Coward went to Ayden today.

Miss Theresa Cook, of Murfreesboro, returning from the teachers' assembly at Morehead stopped here to visit Mrs. R. Hyman.

J. H. Whitehead returned Friday evening from an extended visit to Edenton and Columbia, where he has been visiting his many friends and his best girl.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The Atlantic Coast Line will run an excursion to Washington City on Monday.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. Mellie Harris Monday afternoon at five o'clock.

Friday afternoon the horse of James Nichols took fright at an automobile and run away. No damage was done.

New Ayden Correspondent.

The editor went to Ayden Friday afternoon to make arrangements for a manager of the Ayden department of The Reflector to succeed the late Mr. J. M. Blow, who served so acceptably in that capacity for several years. We are gratified to state that Mr. J. C. Noble will have charge of that department. He was recommended by several of Ayden's leading citizens as a young man will qualified for this position. He will have charge of all the business of The Reflector around Ayden, and the paper will appreciate any assistance the people render him in helping to make it a success. Ayden is a good town, and The Reflector wants to do its part in keeping it before the public.

Just a Hint.

Returning to the office Friday evening the editor found on his desk a sheet of paper across which was written in bold letters "WEEDS." There was no explanation whatever with it, nothing but that one big word. Doubtless it was intended as a hint and we help to pass it along.

SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1909.

The reference to fusion now being made in some of the papers takes the mind back to some stormy days in North Carolina, days like the which it is hoped there will be no repetition.

A few days ago a Raleigh negro attempted a criminal assault upon a young lady near that city. The intended victim of the negro was a daughter of Dr. Cur-tice, of Maine, an employe of the government, who is doing work in this State. It is an occurrence to be deplored by everybody, and it will doubtless give the father a different idea of racial conditions in the South from that held by many people in the North.

Advertising is Life.

Towns no less than business firms need to advertise. A town may not fail quite so quickly as a private enterprise from lack of advertising, but the death is just as certain in the long run. A town needs to have outsiders know its advantages, its actual conditions as to industries, opportunities for business, cost of living, etc. Many an excellent town suffers from the fact that its advantages are not widely known, just as many a worthy commodity suffers because it has not been advertised.

The newspapers are undoubtedly one of the greatest means of advertising their town. "By their newspapers men shall know them," is the semi-biblical phrase that applies to towns.

The western real estate town can teach the average eastern city many things on the subject of advertisement. There is a case of advertise or die completely, and they prefer to advertise. The result is that people are interested and money is invested in the towns.

It is the same old fact that never changes - namely, that advertising is necessary and that the more a thing is advertised up to a certain very high limit the greater the net returns will be. Towns are no exception to the general rule. - Ridgway (Pa.) Advocate.

North Carolina Textile School.

The textile school of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts has a complete equipment of machinery for instruction in cotton manufacturing. Young men who enter this school are taught to operate the different machines and to make all the calculations necessary to produce yarns and fabrics.

A completely equipped dye house has been added to the school, and a thoroughly practical course in dyeing is now given.

Another interesting fact is that knitting machinery has been added to the equipment. The knitting industry is becoming very important in North Carolina, and the addition of this machinery to the textile school one of the best equipped in America.

Last year and again this year the National Association of cotton manufacturers awarded the students' medal to this school, which is the only Southern school

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A Square Deal to Yourself.

All persons desire the other fellows to give them a square deal. Many will not give themselves a square deal. That is where the trouble comes in. A young man, after leaving school, begins to work. He does not get a large salary, because he is not worth it. He may work well and suit his employer, but when pay day comes he is behind in finances. He has to beg off from creditors till next pay day. Some jolly good fellows wish to take an automobile ride or go to a dance or some other place of amusement. He falls in with them, and when the next pay day comes he has not saved a cent. If his salary was doubled, it would be the same. So it goes on all year. He just fails to deal squarely with himself. Another man has an idea that he has not attained full manhood until he can take a drink or two with the boys. He is a good-hearted fellow, with little reserve power, and he loses place and the respect of friends just because he did not give himself a square deal. - Spartanburg Journal.

Worn Women

Women, worn and tired from overwork, need a tonic. That feeling of weakness or helplessness will not leave you of itself. You should take Wine of Cardui, that effectual remedy for the ailments and weaknesses of women. Thousands of women have tried Cardui and write enthusiastically of the great benefit it has been to them. Try it—don't experiment—use this reliable, oft-tried medicine.

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Rena Hare, of Pierce, Fla., tried Cardui and afterward wrote: "I was a sufferer from all sorts of female trouble, had pain in my side and legs, could not sleep, had shortness of breath. I suffered for years, until my husband insisted on my trying Cardui. The first bottle gave me relief and now I am almost well. Try Cardui. It will help you."

IN A COPPER CAMP.

Its Divisions Known as "Drill Town" and "Slag Town."

A copper camp has its own characteristics peculiar and apart. It has two distinct classes of workmen—the skilled miners, who work under ground, and the smelter men, who range from experience and scientific training to unskilled day laborers.

More often than not they form separate camps within the camp—"Drill Town," as the "slag pushers" call the quarter given over to the men who "hit the drill," and "Slag Town" or "Little Hades" for the smelter men.

The smelter is the heart of the camp. In the community there is every variety of camp architecture, from the tent pure and simple and the "half breed house," which is a tent floored and boarded up along the sides to the turn of the roof and fitted with a "sure enough door" that will lock, to the hotel like a huge packing box with rows and rows of little, narrow windows set along the sides like polka dots on a shirt waist and a flat roof that does not reach an inch beyond the sides, the whole painted a faded green and jaundiced over with the red dust.

A great copper camp grows slowly. When there is a town above ground there is something like it below—tunnels, stations, stopes, workings reaching out like streets and alleys to follow the vagaries of the lead. There is no gutting of a rich ledge and going on, no careless search for "pockets" to be robbed and left.

With scientific skill and mathematical precision each yard of work is driven to open up the best road to ore still beyond and to leave a safe and convenient way by which it may reach the surface. Nature has rooted her wealth of copper deep in the earth, and no haphazard methods will release it profitably. It would amuse or bewilder an old time gold miner to see the care and economy practiced in modern copper mining—the small savings, the constant search for better methods of handling, the struggle to eliminate waste and utilize all the by-products.

The Wise Goose.

You must not say "as silly as a goose" any more, for naturalists have been studying this animal of late years, and they have come to the conclusion that she is the wisest old bird going.

She never quarrels without cause; she sees danger before any other fowl; she has more courage than the rooster; she is far braver than the gobbler, and, if given a fair show, she can beat off the fox.

A flock of geese squatted around the barnyard at night is a much greater protection than the watchdog. They are light sleepers and will give the alarm the instant they see a stranger moving about.

"So in future say "as wise as a goose" and give her all credit—Montreal Standard.

A VERY BUSY MAN.

Charming Experience With an Overworked Irish Watchmaker.

I fell in with a delightful man at a little town in County Fermanagh. I wanted a little thing done to my watch, and I asked him how long it would take to do it. He assured me that he was driven to death with work and was up till late every night trying to get ahead, but that he would try to find time to mend my watch some time before 7 o'clock, when he nominally closed. Then he followed me to the door of his shop and began to ask me questions about America. He pointed out different passersby and told me their life histories. And every once in a while he would say: "I've not had a day off for nearly a year, not even bank holiday. Never a minute for anything but work. I've an order now that's going to keep me busy, except for the time I'll give to your watch, all the rest of the day. And dinner eaten in my workshop to save time."

I bade him good day and didn't go near there until 7 o'clock in the evening. I found him outside the shop discussing the strike of the constabulary at Belfast with a neighbor.

"Awfully sorry, sir, but I've been so busy today that I've been unable to finish that job. It'll not take over twenty minutes when I get to it. Can you come in the morning?"

Next morning I was at his shop at 9 o'clock, and he was just taking down the shutters. Said he worked until 10 o'clock the night before, but seemed farther behind than before. If I'd come up into his workshop he'd fix my watch while I waited.

Up there he had some photographs to show me that he had taken a year ago and had only just found time to develop. We talked photography for twenty minutes, and then he fixed my watch in a jiffy when he got to work. From "Just Irish," by Charles Battell Loomis.

Three Meals at Once.

"Now, Mary," said her mistress, "you must come to the door of the drawing room and say, 'Breakfast is ready, and supper is ready, but dinner is served.'" The newly corralled domestic inwardly digested the concise instructions and that evening convulsed the guests who were awaiting the announcement of dinner by stepping between the portieres, dropping a courtesy and repeating, "Breakfast is ready and supper is ready, but dinner is ser-ved!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Badly Expressed.

"The human monstrosity!" said a young lady attending a fair with her sweetheart. "Threepeuce! Wouldn't you like to have a look at that, Herbert?"

"No, dear," answered Herbert, anxious to bestow a neat compliment; "I'm quite content to look at you."—London Mail.

A Tart Retort.

"Can a politician be a good Christian?" was once asked of the late Senator Ingalls of Kansas, when he replied, "With God all things are possible."

THE SEA ELEPHANT.

His Fearful Jaws the Chief Danger In an Attack.

The chief danger attending the killing of the sea elephant is in approaching too near his terrible jaws, which are capable of biting in two an iron rod the thickness of one's finger. The hunter, however, must get pretty close, as the thick hide and blubber have rendered the animal practically impervious to attack, the only vulnerable point being a spot about the size of a walnut above each eye. Careless hunters have at times got within reach of the brute's teeth and have escaped only by dexterously wriggling from their clothes. I had occasion once to shed my coat with great agility, one of the smaller beasts having caught me by the sleeve, says Captain B. D. Cleveland in the American Magazine.

One afternoon's kill had been about forty animals, some of which had given me and my four hunters considerable trouble. This was mainly due to the treacherous footing and the heavy nature of the work, not only in killing, but in stripping the ponderous brutes. We were anxious to make the afternoon's kill an even fifty, and night was fast coming on.

In cutting out two particularly hard fighters, a male and female, I had overlooked a young bull partly hidden behind an ice hummock. We had stripped both animals and, walking over to the hummock where our guns were stacked, I was leaning to pick mine up when, with a bellow of rage, the young bull reared and whipped his flail-like flippers at me. Luckily the guns were stacked so as to form a temporary barrier, but unluckily one thick paw was impaled on a bayonet. Rearring in fresh rage, the animal lunged at me with incredible speed, snapping the gun between his javelin teeth as though it were a straw. I leaped backward, but slipped.

Instantly he clutched at my body, but missed in the semidarkness, lunged and clutched again, catching my right arm in his powerful maw. His awkwardness enabled me to regain my feet, but, with a ripping tug, the animal fastened on to the sleeve of my heavy skin jacket, out of which I slipped just as one of my men drove a harpoon into him just above the eye.

Why RALSTON SHOES are non-wrinkling

As you have probably noticed, most shoes have a tendency to wrinkle and "bunch up" across the toes after the shoes have been worn a few times. This is the fault of the lasting (the process of pulling and stretching the leather over the wooden last.)

The RALSTON method has remedied this fault. Ralston vamps are first crimped (see illustration) then lasted. There are no bunches, no wrinkles, because every part of the vamp fits the last perfectly without straining the leather at any point. This adds to the wear of the shoe. It also explains the reason why Ralstons retain their smart appearance until worn out.

There are other unusual features of RALSTON SHOE construction which will appeal to you. Come in and look over our new styles.
