doing the preaching and Prof. J. H. Highsmith, of Wake Forest College, is conducting the singing. Mr. Shields is a preacher of great power. His messages are simple and tender, but clear and forceful. STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Wadesboro, N. C., June 21.—John Davis, who was arrested at Polkton, charged with an assault with intent to commit rape on Katie Jones, was given a preliminary hearing this afternoon and held for the next term of the Superior court. Both parties are negroes. The Jones woman bears a good reputation. There is considerable feeling against Davis in the neighborhood.

Fayetteville, N. C., June 21.—The sun this morning rose upon the greatest day in the history of Fayetteville. The celebration of the 134th anniversary of the signing of the Liberty Point Resolutions was an event never to be forgotten. The thousands of persons thronged the avenues of the city from morning till night, and aside from the thrilling exercises at the laying of the corner-stone for the monument to commemorate the heroic patriotism of the thirty-nine signers of the famous declaration, there were spectacular events throughout the day enjoyed to the utmost by the myriad people.

Masonic Opera House.

Tonights pictures are "The Jilt", a very fine drama; "Persistent Bachelor," a picture full of fun; "A Plot Foiled" together with our good subjects go to make up a very refined and pleasing performance. You can't afford to miss these. If you do you will miss something good and at the same time, miss helping a most worthy cause—King Daughters and Presbyterian church, as they are running a benefit all this week.

Last night's performance was well patronized and the pictures were said to be some of the best. The management has installed electric fans. This makes the opera house by far the coolest place in town, in fact it beats the automobile. Everybody knows we have the finest pictures in every respect, the best people and more of them, regardless of what others say. We are going to give every lady who attends Saturday night's performance a chance to get a beautiful Christy picture, and the lucky one can call at Taft & Boyd Furniture Co., and make her own selection. Remember our employes will not be allowed to have a chance at the prize. Nobody but the ladies will be given a chance.

It Will Be a Treat to Hear Her.

The Baltimore Sun has the following to say about Miss Helen Marie Day's voice. She, in company with her sister, Miss Henrietta Day, and Miss Phillis Woodall will give a recital in the Masonic opera house here on the evening of 30th inst.

"There was marked favor shown and enthusiasm created last evening by the contralto voice of Helen Marie Day of Boston; the depth and purity of which was marked by her musical audience. She sang with great taste and expression, her songs being pronounced by critics to rank with the best ever heard within that hall. She is the possessor of a finely trained contralto voice of great range, which she handles with rare skill. Her audience were profuse with applause.

Several prominent officials of the N. & Southern railway were here today en tour looking over the company's property in Greenville. The party was composed of Messrs. E. T. Lamb, the new general manager for the receivers; Marsden J. Perry, chairman of the old board of directors and one of the largest stockholders of the company; H. C. Hudgins, general freight and passenger agent; F. L. Nickolson, and R. P. Foster, superintendent.

Messrs. F. J. Forbes, H. H. Hines and M. H. Quinerly met the gentlemen at the depot in their automobiles and took them over the city while here. They came in special train.

"Our Greenville, Yours if You Come."

One of the best slogans suggested for Greenville outside of the winner, is "Greenville—Healthy, Prosperous and Hustling," which we failed to publish in our list. This was also by Mr. J. W. Brown, the successful contestant. Greenville is truly healthy, prosperous and hustling, and it is easily the best town in Eastern North Carolina.

Very Sick.

Hon. W. R. Williams is very sick at his home near Falkland. Mr. Williams is one of Pitt county's most prominent and useful citizens and all hope for him a speedy recovery. He is about 83 years old.

"LIFE SAVING WORK."

A few weeks ago Dr. Wm. L. Robinson, of Danville, one of Virginia's leading physicians, had a communication in the Register in which he characterized city-cleaning as a "life-saving work." He said in part:

"I have noticed with great satisfaction the inauguration of a system of cleaning cities and towns by organized effort to deal with houses and backyards.

The health of the people of any community is the greatest physical blessing that can be bestowed. Not only does it bring happiness to every home, but it is the biggest advertisement any city can have. We have excellent water, an enviable climate, a beautiful city, well equipped from many standpoints, but the one thing that will appeal to the outside world strongest, as well as to our own citizens pride, is freedom from epidemics and disease. It is an established fact that decaying vegetable and animal matter breeds the various germs which produce disease and it is equally well established that the fly is the great carrier and propagator. It is well known that clean, dry premises have no attraction for flies. Then let us determine to clean out every vestige of any material which is unclean or unseemly; drain away every damp area, and have the back premises fit to invite the inspection of friend or official.

Go still further. Make every outhouse, kitchen, refrigerator, clean and sweet. Not only scrub, whitewash and turn in the sunshine, but screen all doors to rooms attractive to flies. Keep your stables in perfect order."

Dr. Robinson closed with this earnest appeal:

"I appeal to all citizens, white and black, to co-operate in this life-saving work. We know not how many valuable citizens may be saved, nor do we know but that one in our own household may be the dear one saved. Our own premises may be clean, but flies do not confine themselves to one lot; so we must be our neighbor's guardian and solicitor. Think.

Your neglect may devour your best friend."

Cleanliness seems to be the watchword of the American republic today, and it is well so. Nothing promotes health and prosperity more than clean premises, towns and cities.

Greenville has lately awakened to this fact and a great many of our people are doing all they can to clean up, purify and beautify our nice little city, but they need the help of all the people. Not a few, but all! So lend your hand and keep your premises and surroundings as clean as you possibly can. As the above remarks quoted from Dr. Robinson's communication says, you may save the life of a friend or even a near relative in this.

It seems to us that as often as we repeat the statement that we will not print unsigned communications sent to us for publication that our correspondents would not fail to always observe

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

the rule, still we often receive communications that we would be glad to publish but for this failure. Our waste basket gets them. We have to stick to this rule to protect ourselves and we repeat that if you want your letter printed sign your name. We will withhold the name if it is not necessary to print it.

The Greensboro Record says it is expecting some fellow to bob up and tell how much stock Senator Simmons has in the lumber trust. Be careful how you indulge in such loud hints, or you might be accused of prying into private matters.

The editor boys of the State are in Hendersonville this week and we earnestly hope they will have a pleasant as well as a profitable stay there. They deserve all they get. We miss our Boss very much, but we are glad he can be there too.

One exchange comes forward with the remarkable intelligence that the 4th of July will come between the 3rd and 5th this year. He might also have said it will come between Saturday and Monday.

When Greenville gets to reaching out in earnest after new industries you will see more of them coming this way. Right now she ought to be reaching good and hard after a cotton factory.

The day of religious persecution is rapidly passing and the minister or editor who uses his pulpit or news columns to denounce a Christian sect of whatever belief only belittles himself.

Surprising, What Kodol Will Do

For you, when you need it. But the longer you neglect indigestion, the more you will suffer before Kodol can restore Good Digestion.

And, of course, indigestion if neglected long enough, brings on serious diseases in which Kodol cannot benefit you. Some of these there is no help for at all.

There are, in fact, very few ailments which cannot be traced directly to impure blood. And impure blood is always due to a disordered stomach.

Use Kodol and prevent Nervous Dyspepsia.

Kodol will effectually assist Nature to secure a complete restoration of good digestion. It does this by at once digesting all food in the stomach and keeping it digested, until the stomach is rested and can resume its own work. Kodol removes the cause—and the effect quickly removes itself.

When it is recalled that Apoplexy, Heart Disease, Cancer—and even Consumption—are due to poor digestion and poisons thus transmitted to the blood, and throughout the system—the importance of maintaining good digestion is at once realized.

We knew what Kodol would do before ever the first bottle was sold. If we did not know just what it will do, we would not guarantee it the way we do.

It is easy for you to prove Kodol—the next (or the first) time you have an attack of indigestion. And you will certainly be surprised at the results. It is perfectly harmless.

There can be no harm in trying something that may do you a great deal of good—when it costs you nothing if it doesn't.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

KILLED THE JAGUAR.

The Terrible Boa Constrictor of the Mexican Jungle.

I had been traveling for about an hour, trying to locate the source of the Santa Rita and winning every inch of ground by hacking and slashing with the machete, when I was startled by a most fearful scream, which seemed to come from somewhere immediately behind me. Turning round and looking back over the trail I had just made, I saw a great commotion taking place among the vines, dead leaves and decaying branches which carpeted the ground, and the blood-curdling screams I had heard rang out again and again. Returning a little nearer, I discovered a "tiger," or, properly speaking, a jaguar or American leopard, and it was writhing in the coils of an enormous boa constrictor. The great snake appeared to have the side of the jaguar's head in its mouth and a coil or two of its body around the neck of the beast, which was making frantic efforts to regain its liberty. The snake had its tail coiled round a small ebony tree about a foot in diameter, and whenever the hapless jaguar relaxed its efforts the serpent would swiftly release itself from the tree and make an attempt to get another coil around the body of its opponent.

I stood there fascinated with horror and yet forgetting my fear in the interest I was taking in this terrible fight between beast and reptile. Presently the snake with an incomprehensibly quick movement succeeded in getting two more coils around the body of the jaguar, but not without receiving severe laceration from the formidable claws of its victim. Then, letting go the jaguar's head, where it seemed to have a firm hold, the boa constrictor raised its head seemingly in triumph and, with its tail still wrapped round the tree, lifted the body of the jaguar up in the air. I heard the bones crack under the fearful strain, and with one awful, despairing scream the jaguar fell back, dead!—World Wide Magazine.

THE SHIP'S CAPTAIN.

At Sea He is a Czar, and His Authority is Absolute.

When you have passed down through the Narrows and then passed Sandy Hook you see a man in whiskers and a reefer climbing down a rope ladder that drops him into a waiting boat. It is the pilot. You have dropped the last link connecting you with shore except wireless telegraphy, and you are now a member of a community that for a few days, a week, is as much an

To prove that "Bloodine" will cure Catarrh every reader of this paper can have a positive guarantee. entity as any nation.

The captain is pacing the bridge. Until you reach shore again he is your overlord. His decision is final and without appeal. He can order you locked in your stateroom or he can put you in irons.

If occasion arises he can alter the course of the ship and land you wherever he pleases. You have recourse when you get ashore, but if he wants to drop you at the Azores when you have paid passage to Bremen he can and will do it.

His authority extends to every part of the ship alike, from the cargo to the saloon deck and from the engine room to the scullery.

Navigating a ship is a ticklish business and one that requires that there be no division of the highest authority. So, for the brief period until he touches port, he is your czar.

The ship is a great community, sometimes with a population of 5,000 souls, living, eating and sleeping under one roof. It has its policemen, its firemen, cooks, butchers, bakers, doctors, clerks, carpenters, electricians, boiler-makers and a horde of personal servants.

In the control of this organization the captain has at his right hand his officers. The ship's officers are the important persons in the detail management.—Bookkeeper.

AS TO LOSING MONEY.

A Case Showing the Importance a Ten Dollar Bill May Reach.

"To some men," said a man now of amplest means, "the loss of $10,000 might be a joke, and then to some the loss of a ten dollar bill might be a tragedy.

"Poor? Why, we were so poor that we had to count every cent, every penny. Not that we were miserable. We were very far from that. As a matter of fact, we were happy, but we certainly did have all the time to sail very close to the wind.

"There were four of us—wife, two children and myself—and, bless you, how we did have to figure and scrimp to make both ends meet. I've seen the time, many a time, when a nickel was of great importance to us, when it was the last cent for carfare. I often think what a blessing it was that we were none of us ever sick; that nothing ever happened to us. I don't know what we'd done if there had.

"I was going to tell you what it might be to some folks to lose a ten dollar bill.

"Ten dollars was the amount of our monthly rent, and whatever else we did we always saved out of my week's pay the weekly proportion of the rent, to have it ready when it was due. I always used to get a ten dollar bill in my pay envelope, and when it came to the last Saturday in the month we just used to take the ten dollar bill out of the envelope to pay the rent with, and then we had the amount we'd saved out of three weeks to go on for current expenses.

"Well, one last Saturday that happened to come three days before the end of the month we took the ten dollar bill out of the envelope as usual for the rent and as usual my wife put it away—she always looked after the finances—and there we were all comfortable and happy, with the next month's rent all ready, and then on the last day of the month, when she went to get it out to have it handy when the landlord came she couldn't find it!

"If that wasn't a tragedy I don't know a tragedy when I meet it. I don't suppose I took it quite so hard as she did, and I'd have shown it as little as I could anyway on her account, but to her it was nothing less than a

When the children had gone to bed we tore the house apart. We looked and looked and looked into every nook and corner over and over again, but that ten dollar bill, with all that it meant to us—and I doubt if you can imagine how much it did mean—was gone. That was the first thing we had on our minds when we woke up in the morning, and gloomy enough for us that morning was. And then when I was eating my breakfast in our modest dining room she looked in at the door from the kitchen, and 'I've found it!' she said, and so she had, just where three days before she had hidden it away, and so was our great gloom changed to joy—to joy with a large, large J.

"Yes, sir. We got more now, by considerable, and now she has what she wants; now she doesn't have to skimp. In these days I take her home myself now and then a ten dollar bouquet. We can afford it. But I never shall forget as long as I live how we felt when we thought we'd lost that ten dollar bill or the joy that came to us when we found it, for, you see, how a loss strikes you depends so much on how much you've got."—New York Sun.

Climbs Up the Trunk.

The native elephant driver, never has to bother with a step ladder in mounting his beast after he has trained him for a little time, for the easiest way to get up is to ascend by way of the trunk. Standing in front of the elephant, the driver grasps him by the ears, this being a signal that he wishes to mount, and the obedient monster promptly arches his trunk so that the master can easily step upon it and go right on up to the top of the elephant's head.

Stoats Hunt in Packs.

In some years stoats appear to be more numerous than in others, and they are seen not in ones and twos, but in dozens, hunting together in small packs. Stoats will hunt together from scent and in full cry like a pack of hounds, one always keeping the line and followed closely by the others. This sight has been recorded by different observers who have also seen weasels hunting in the same way.—Fur News.

Why RALSTON SHOES are non-wrinkling

As you have probably noticed, most shoes have a tendency to wrinkle and "bunch up" across the toes after the shoes have been worn a few times. This is the fault of the lasting (the process of pulling and stretching the leather over the wooden last.)

The RALSTON method has remedied this fault. Ralston vamps are first crimped (see illustration) then lasted. There are no bunches, no wrinkles, because every part of the vamp fits the last perfectly without straining the leather at any point. This adds to the wear of the shoe. It also explains the reason why Ralstons retain their smart appearance until worn out.

There are other unusual features of RALSTON SHOE construction which will appeal to you. Come in and look over our new styles.
