STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Lenoir, July 9.—Policeman Willett Miller, who was seriously shot by Bill Baldwin at Blowing Rock Tuesday afternoon, died this morning at 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. D. Monroe Isenhour, one of the good farmers of No. 4 township, was in the city this morning with his faithful mule, "Kit," which has been in his family use for the past 83 years and which came into his possession when it was seven years old. The animal is frisky and has to be watched when being hitched to a wagon or plow in order to prevent a runaway.—Concord Tribune.

New Bern, July 9.—A negro attempted to wreck a train near Baymeade on the Wilmington and New Bern railway by putting an obstruction on the track. A train ran over it without any serious results. The matter was reported. A section master passing found the obstruction again on the track spiked down, showing that it was the work of parties nearby. Officers were put on the trail and located a negro house near by but the negro had flown.

Wilmington, July 9.—In an altercation this morning at Sixth and Campbell streets, Ernest E. Shields, 30 years old, was shot through the heart and almost instantly killed by Joseph C. Stephens, also aged about 30. The men were employed by rival sanitary contractors of the city as collectors and bad blood had existed between the two for several days. This morning they met, had further words and an altercation ensued, Stephens drawing a pistol and shooting Shields through the heart.

An unexpected condition of the temporary restraining order by United States Judge J. C. Pritchard in the suit by the independent oil companies involving the act of the recent legislature for the inspection of illuminating oils is that it suspends the collection of the one-half cent per gallon tax on all oils offered for sale in the State as well as the regulations for the inspection of the oil. There was a copy of the petition by the oil companies that provided for the payment of the tax to continue pending the termination of the litigation, but it seems that it was found that Judge Pritchard would sign an order that suspended the payment of the tax as well as all other provisions of the act. So this was done. All effort on the part of the State Board of Agriculture and their agents to promulgate or enforce any portion of the legislative act or the regulations by the board under the act are enjoined pending the hearing August 2nd, when the issue will be the granting of yet another restraining order to hold while the litigation as to the constitutionality of the act is pending.

In Critical Condition.

The condition of Mr. J. T. Abram, who a few days ago was carried to the hospital at Kinston, is reported as critical today and his death is expected at any moment.

Beginning Monday July 11th, we place on sale all figured lawns, bordered percales and bordered gingham at greatly reduced prices. J. R. & J. G. Moye. 7 10 tfd

The Philatheas of the Baptist Sunday school are indebted to the Baracas for a very enjoyable time last evening. In the school chapel devotional exercises were conducted by the Baraca class Dr. J. W. Bryan, of Greenville, made an impressive address on the Baraca and Philatheas movements. They harness power for service—everything is made for service—they train for service. They teach the young to consecrate their service to God. Those who heard Dr. Bryan's earnest words feel renewed inspiration. After the short program, the little company was called to the campus, where the electric lights showed a ready table. Cake and cream were served. Then the classes tarried for awhile to say words of social good-will before the good-night. It may not have been expressed, but there was in the air a spirit of strengthened loyalty to the school and classes represented. To all Philatheas and Baracas, God speed!

TARBORO 1 GREENVILLE 0.

Greenville Defeated in a Beautiful Game.

It is not always a pleasant duty to record the defeat of a baseball team in a newspaper, but such an exhibition of baseball playing as was given Friday in Tarboro by the Greenville nine eliminates the sting of defeat and causes every player to be proud of his team, although they lost the game. Although defeated, they were not disgraced, and we do not think we do anyone an injustice in saying that never has a local team played better, cleaner ball than was played in Tarboro Friday afternoon.

For eight innings the fielding of the team was absolutely perfect, and not until the ninth was a single error made. Until the last half of the ninth neither side scored, and it looked as if the game would go into extra innings, but a hit and a bunt by Tarboro, and a wild throw by Greenville won for Tarboro the fastest game that has been witnessed in Tarboro this season.

Pays High Dividends.

Greenville, N. C., May 8, 1909. E. R. Ferguson Esq. Mgr. Mutual Life Insurance Co of N. Y.

Dear Sir: On the 8th of last June, I took through your District Manager here, Mr. H. Bently Harriss, a policy on the new yearly renewable term plan for $4,000 at a cost of $14.20 per $1,000 or $56.80 for the whole. I am today in receipt of cash dividend for $10.68 which is about 20 per cent the first year. This verifies the reputation of the Old Mutual Life, as paying high annual dividends.

I have another policy for $3,000 in this company.

Yours Truly,

Old Sweethearts of Mine, is a very fine picture, in fact it would take up too much space in this paper to go into all the details of our program for tonight as it is good from start to finish. Remember we will show the pictures Monday night.

Multitudinous Cabbage.

Friday Mr. M. H. Quinerly showed The Reflector a cabbage that was a remarkable curiosity. It was grown by Mr. Fred Crawford, of this township, and contained a large head with thirteen small heads clustered around it. All of the heads were perfect and firm. We have before seen a cabbage with a large head around which were several small imperfect heads, but this is the first noticed with so many heads and all of them as hard and perfect as the center head.

BETTER TO OFFER INDUCEMENTS.

Louisburg, one of the towns that owns its water and electric light plants, is going after the matter right to induce the people of the town to use the service. That town makes water taps with pipes to the curb line free of charge, and wires houses for customers without any charge except for the actual material used, the labor necessary to do the work being furnished by the town.

The Reflector believes that Greenville has made a mistake along this line. Here a customer is required to pay $10 for a water tap and pipe to the curb line, and when it comes to having wiring done the property owner not only pays for the material but also pays a high price for the work as well. And if you do not believe plumbing and wiring costs something, just start out to have a job done.

As the only revenue the water and light-plant has is the monthly rentals paid by consumers, it would be good policy on the part of the town to hold out inducements to the people to become regular users of the service. There are many people in Greenville today who are sticking to their pumps for water, and burning kerosene for for lights, when they would be regular patrons of the town's plants but for that first cost of water taps and wiring.

Charlotte has a city license of $1,000 for the privilege of selling near beer. A man named Daunenbergh went there and opened sale without paying the required license, his purpose being to test the right of the city to levy such a tax. The city is after him with several warrants and the outcome will be watched with interest, as the result may determine what other towns can do.

It will be no great while before there is a demand for more houses in Greenville. The opening of the East Carolina Teachers Training School in October will be the cause of many people moving here and they will want houses. Now is a good time to plan for building them.

"Senate will vote today" or "tomorrow", has been a recently much used head line over news from Washington. What the senate expects to do and what it does seems to be at variance.

They have arrested the Devil in New York. His first name was Benjamin and the charge against him was burglary. The Devil is noted for butting in, where he is not needed.

Our Greenville, yours if you come.

Ten thousand people congregating on the lawn around the Minnesota capitol to listen to an address by J. W. Bryan does not indicate that he has lost his magnetism or that people have grown tired of hearing him.

Aside from the law requiring property owners in town to clean their sidewalks, civic pride should cause every one to keep the premises and all surroundings in good order.

Nothing helps the wheels of business turn more than to grease the axles with printer's ink.

Ex Judge Robinson thinks President Taft is an affliction upon the Republican party.

Get Press Association Too.

New Bern has started out right for a successful celebration of the Two Hundredth Anniversary, securing the next convention of the North Carolina State Firemen as one of the leading attractions. On this occasion the old city will put on her best appearance, being well grown, she will not blush when the throngs assemble to meet her and to receive her hospitality.

The occasion will be one that no other city of the size of New Bern, in the State, claim, and but few of less population, can claim the age of two hundred years, and we should see to it that we get all the possible good out of this celebration that we can and the securing of the annual gathering of the Press Association next year for this celebration will advertise New Bern at points no other organization could reach.

See the good one newspaper can do for a city and think of what the other fifty could do, some of which are even better advertising mediums than the one which the city has been benefited by.

By all means we need the Press Association for our Two Hundredth Anniversary celebration!—New Bern Sun.

A Good Enough Reason.

On the day before Memorial day in one of the smaller cities a member of the school board visited a primary school and, after addressing the pupils, asked, "What is the holiday tomorrow?" "Decoration day!" came from all. "What do you do on Decoration day?" "Decorate the soldiers' graves," came in a chorus. "Why do you decorate their graves any more than others?" "This was a poser, but finally one little fellow held up his hand. "Well, sir, why is it?" he was asked. "Because they are dead and we ain't."—Lippincott's.

To Make a Hit.

Acting and Overacting.

"It is a much simpler thing to overact than to act," declares a writer in the Yorkshire Post on "The Amateur on the Stage." In this connection, he adds, there is a good story told of Sir W. S. Gilbert's rehearsal of "The Yeomen of the Guard" at the Savoy. A gentleman of the chorus who had a very minor part made his entrance in a most exaggerated manner, much to the author's disgust.

"Please don't enter like that," said Gilbert. "We don't want any 'comic man business' here." "I beg your pardon," replied the abashed chorus gentleman. "I thought you meant the part to be funny."

"Yes, so I do, but I don't want you to tell the audience you're the funny man. They'll find it out, if you are, quickly enough."

His Real Beginning.

"I understand you began life as a newsboy," observed a friend to a "captain of industry." "No," replied the millionaire. "Some one has been fooling you. I began life as an infant."—Exchange.
