J. S. Ross, of Zebulon, came in Friday to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

G. Thomas, of Stoneville, came Saturday to be with Glenn & Gentry through the tobacco season.

J. W. Moore went to Norfolk Sunday.

Edwin Tripp left Sunday for Morehead City and returned Monday.

Our people have done right much work on some of the roads leading to Ayden and the farmers will find it much more pleasant in bringing their tobacco to Ayden than formerly.

The attention of the road overseers of Contentnea township is called to the fact that they are required by law to meet with the road supervisors on the first Saturday in August and render report of condition of their road. They will meet at the mayor's office in Ayden.

W. M. Edwards, Jno. W. Glenn, J. J. Gentry, Richard Wingate, I. J. McLawhorn, Jesse Hart, R. H. Garris, J. B. Pierce, J. R. Turnage, J. J. McGlohon, W. H. Harris, J. A. Harrington, R. L. Knott, and J. T. Keel went to Greenville Monday.

Our tobacco market will open next Monday and times will be a little more lively then.

S. F. Noble has accepted a position with E. Turnage & Son's Co. in their clothing store.

Some one was so anxious to sell tobacco on the Ayden market that they brought a load here yesterday to sell at the opening next Monday. Some people know a good thing when they see it.

Some of our people are improving the looks of their homes by chopping the weeds. Others ought to follow suit.

Miss Lois Joyner, of LaGrange, came Monday evening to spend a few days with Mrs. E. Leslie Turnage.

Frank White has accepted a position with J. J. Hines & Co.

CARE OF THE CEMETERY.

Greenville, N. C. Aug. 2, 1909.
Editor Reflector:

I read your editorial of several days ago relative to Cherry Hill Cemetery and was much struck with the suggestions made.

If it is true that the people of a town are more or less judged by the care and attention shown for the burial place of their dead, indeed it would be a poor opinion that would be passed on Greenville. Cherry Hill Cemetery is naturally a pretty spot and with very little constant attention could be made beautiful.

If I am correctly informed, the cemeteries in a number of our cities are owned by corporations and uniform charges are made for digging graves, cleaning lots, polishing tomb-stones, etc. and I am told that the revenue derived is sufficient, not only to have a well kept cemetery, but to pay a dividend to the stock holders. In our case it is different, the cemetery being owned by the town and it seems to me that the Board of Aldermen would be doing Greenville's citizenship a great benefit if they would enact ordinances that would raise sufficient revenue to warrant them in employing a competent keeper for our "City of the Dead" so that it may at all times of the year present a good appearance.

With the proper ordinances enacted, not only could sufficient revenue be raised to take care of the expenses incurred but such other rules and regulations could be laid down that would make the cemetery, as a whole, appear well kept.

I trust that the aldermen will in their good judgment see fit to recognize the duty they owe Greenville and do the needful.

Visit of Bishop and Ordination.

Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, bishop of the Eastern Diocese of North Carolina, will arrive in Greenville next Saturday for the purpose of ordaining to the priesthood Rev. B. F. Huske, the popular rector of St. Paul's church. The ordination service will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, and all people of the community are cordially invited to be present. Rev. Isaac W. Hughes, of Fayetteville, and some others of the clergy will also be present. Bishop Strange will remain over and preach Sunday night.

Good Show.

The shows given by Aronson & Brown nightly in the opera house are well worth the price. Monday night the program was exceptionally good—so good that one of the pictures brought forth a burst of applause from the audience when the climax was reached in the scene.

Takes Charge of Hotel.

Miss Lula Taylor, who has for some time been conducting a boarding house in the old Blow building, corner Washington and Third streets, has leased Hotel Macon and is moving there to conduct it.

Cotton Crop Report

The government report issued Monday based on reports from correspondents gives the condition of the cotton crop on July 25th at 71.9 per cent. of normal. North Carolina is put down at 71, and on the same date of last year it was 89.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 2.—James Frasier, a white man of Summer township, where the brutal murder of Miss Newman was committed a week ago, was jailed here last night, charged with inducement exposure, but suspected of being implicated in the murder. He disclaims knowledge of it, but made affidavit to a warrant charging John Leonard, white, with, having five years ago burned the dwelling of Miss Newman for the purpose of robbery. Frazier says he saw Leonard touch the match. Leonard was arrested this morning and is now in jail.

Durham, N. C., Aug. 1.—James Watkins, a negro, is in the county jail, charged with attempt at criminal assault on a 12-year-old girl. The crime was committed in Oak Grove township, near Holloway station. He was captured after some difficulty by Constable Rogers of that township. He gave the officer and posse with him some trouble when they captured him. He was committed to jail without bond.

M. Fromme, of the Southern News stand; in this city, was in Apex Saturday night, waiting for a train, and he tells us about 11 o'clock that right there was a terrific thunder storm in that section: The lightning struck the Baptist church on Main street, on the roof, went through the building and set the structure on fire on the lower floor. Mr. J. R. Norris, the Southern Railway telegraph operator at that place, secured a bucket and dipping water from the gutter, put the fire out. It rained so hard that there was no difficulty in getting water as it rushed in torrents along the street.—Durham Sun.

Mr. Jeff Sessoms, of Stedman, was among the visitors in Fayetteville today. When asked about his farm, of which so much has been written lately, Mr. Sessoms said the reports were not exaggerated, especially as to his cotton. He has several acres which he expects to yield three bales to the acre, it not more. He has used the best kind of fertilizers, with a good quantity of saw dust. The saw dust is about 15 years old, and the government estimates its value at $2.20 a ton. Who would have thought of raising three bales to the acre, and that partly with saw dust, five years ago? The progress of agriculture in Cumberland in the past five years has been wonderful, and it is such men as Mr. Sessoms and other scientific farmers, who have been potent factors in this result.—Fayetteville Observer.

Officia's Scrap

There was a slight altercation Monday between Dr. Wm. Fountain, county physician, and Deputy Sheriff R. Hyman, an argument arising over a prescription for a prisoner that led up to the blow point. No harm was done and Justice of the Peace H. Harding adjusted the matter by fining each a penny and dividing the cost between them.

Miss Verna Whichard returned Monday evening from Charlottesville, Va., where she had been attending a summer school. She has been elected to the faculty of Oxford Female Seminary and will leave in a few weeks to take that position.

MORE IN MAN THAN LAND.

The Difference in the Crop of a Good Farmer and Poor Farmer.

Reports come to us from different parts of the country that the crops are improving very much. The fact of the matter is, and as we have said before, the man who has not sat down and waited for the sun to come out, but continued to work, is not grumbling much over his crop. 'Tis true, corn has suffered much everywhere, but as to the crop generally, the farmer who has worked, "persistently and doggedly," has a good crop.

We know two farmers, whose farms are located just across the road from each other. One of these farmers is not seen away from his home once a month; the other is seen more away from it than on it. The land and the soil are identical, but the crops are just reversed; one has a fine crop, the other has just a half a crop. Now, which has a good one and which has a bad? Can you guess? "The case is the same everywhere, and we'll wager a silk hat on it.—Windsor Ledger.

Negro Assaults His Daughter.

A warrant was today issued against Jim Thorp, a colored man living on the Whitehead place about 3 miles from town, for committing criminal assault upon his own daughter, a girl about 17 years of age. Thorp committed the crime last night, and when it became known today he took refuge in the woods. Officers are out this afternoon hunting for him.

The Hair Cut.

In a certain Sunday School a teacher told her pupils the story of Samson and Delilah. "What do you learn, Joe," she said, "from the Samson story?" "It don't never pay," piped Joe, "to have a woman cut a feller's hair.—Harper's Weekly.

Nothing to Give Alarm.

Since the new town hall has been built with quarters for the fire department and the old engine house and hall torn down, there is no means of giving an alarm in case of fire. The gong on the old building was poor enough excuse for an alarm, but it was ahead of nothing. When the aldermen go about equipping the new building it is hoped they will provide an alarm bell that can be heard over the town.

TUESDAY, AUG. 3, 1909.

They say the extra session of congress is in sight. We'd like to see it.

With the county roads as bad as they are at present, what can be expected of them when winter comes?

Up in the Piedmont section the crops have suffered for want of rain, while down here in the east they are suffering from too much rain.

About the only good to be looked for out of the tariff bill that will pass congress this week, is that the agitation will stop for a while.

The bad roads of Pitt county cost the farmers annually many times more than enough to pay interest on a bond issue sufficient to build good roads over the entire county.

It might have been expected that some fool proposition would come out of the flying machine interest. They have begun agitating a race between Bleroit and the Wrights.

Taximania is a disease that attacks the members of legislative bodies. The chief symptom is a disposition to tax everything in sight, and even that which is not in sight.

No one in North Carolina has any room to criticize the campaign for governor now in progress in Virginia, when it is remembered what this State had along the same line last year.

Some of the captains of foreign vessels are so alarmed when they pass Hatteras that they claim to see immense sea serpents. The kind of stuff kept in the locker of the vessels is calculated to make the captain see snakes if he pulls the cork too often.

We did not know blind men could see well enough to shoot, or had any need for pistols. But a blind negro went into a Patterson, N. J., saloon, and upon the bartender refusing to serve him drew two revolvers and began firing in the crowd. When the smoke cleared away two men were lying dead on the floor.

The Raleigh News and Observer sent out inquiries all over the State to ascertain the condition of crops, and from replies received from 94 counties gives the following summary: Cotton 66 2/3 per cent. of an average crop; corn 80 per cent; tobacco 75 per cent; wheat 90 per cent; oats 100 per cent; peanuts 80 per cent. Only a few counties reported crops better than usual.

The prospectus of East Carolina Teachers Training School is out and ready for distribution.

EVERY WOMAN WILL BE INTERESTED.

If you will send your name and address we will mail you free a package of Mother Gray's Aus'ralian-Leaf, a certain, pleasant herb cure for Women's ills. It is a reliable regulator and never-falling. If you have pains in the back, Urinary, Bladder or Kidney trouble, use this pleasant union of aromatic herbs, roots and leaves. All Druggists sell it, 50 cents, or address, The Mother Gray Co., Le Roy, N. Y.

In addition to a full page photograph showing the handsome buildings that have been erected, the prospectus contains such information as those desiring to enter the institution need. No tuition charge is made to those who agree to teach two years after completing the course, and board and incidental expenses for the term of eight months is only $110. A copy of the prospectus can be had by addressing President R. H. Wright, Greenville, N. C. The school will open October 5th and the first session will close May 20th. The outlook now is for a large opening.

Living Too Fast.

It has been ascertained that the farmers of South Carolina have big bank accounts, a careful estimate showing about ten millions to their credit. No doubt about the same conditions exist in most live farming communities. The farmer gets fine prices; he is up with the sun, makes hay whether the sun shines or not, while the denizens of the towns, big and little, try to see how fast they can live and how much they can spend. We must keep up with the latest styles of dress, know how to play bridge whist and all the other games; give entertainments, receptions and the rest every week or two, while in the summer we must hike out to some fashionable watering place where new and expensive clothing must be used; dance all night and blow in what we have. Extravagance in living has much to do with the country, but it does not effect the countryman like the man in town. We are living too dog-gone fast and it is costing too much. You may squirm, but it is true.—Greensboro Record.

The South's Mistake.

As long as New England dominates congress, so long will the South be discriminated against in tariff matters. As long as the South pursues the policy of changing its congressmen who have proved able and influential, it will never get the upper hand of New England. North Carolina for one State, is now represented at Washington by men of marked ability—men whose already strong influence is becoming stronger every day. If this State is wise, it will keep them there. The South's weakness in congress has been brought about by the success of the small politicians in retiring men it ought to keep there. The blame is on the policy it has pursued. The abandonment of this policy would in a short time give it the place it ought to command at the head of the nation.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these. Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

Our Guarantee
 Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

MEXICO CITY.

The Romantic Story of Its Founding by the Aztecs.

The story of the founding of the City of Mexico is one of the most extraordinary tales in history. It happened in 1325; at least it began a long time before that, but was an accomplished fact about 600 years ago.

In the first place, imagine an almost inaccessible mountain crowned with a valley at the height of 8,000 feet above the level of the sea. In the center of this valley was an immense lake. When the Aztecs arrived, led by the priests of the god of war, they found it in the possession of hostile tribes.

For that reason and because the priests declared that in a certain part of the lake where there stood an elevation of stones an eagle had been devouring a serpent they began the construction of the city on this spot, immediately over the deepest waters of the lake. There had long existed a prophecy among the Aztecs that their wanderings would end when they should have reached a place where the priests would behold an eagle resting on a cactus plant devouring a serpent.

Confident that they had found the spot ordained to be their abiding home, they began to construct rafts of the trunks of trees, covering them with thick layers of earth, upon which they built rude huts of more or less solidity. Groups of dwellings soon began to form themselves in regular order, thus determining the primitive streets of the new city.

They also constructed boats and oars of different sizes useful in peace and war, and while certain of their number occupied themselves in defending their homes and brethren from the onslaughts of hostile tribes others continued to improve and enlarge the city. Gradually the lake was filled up, and terraces arose one after another in the place once occupied by the deep waters.

This was in itself a herculean labor, unsurpassed in ingenuity and durability by any similar work of ancient or modern times. Upon the first of these terraces Butter, the Teocalli, been visited. It was begun in 1325, a little completed until 1325, a little later, 100 years, from which time may be dated the official foundation of Tenochtitlan, today the modern City of Mexico.—Exchange.

Electrifying an Elephant.

A very curious accident occurred in Mysore, India, recently. A palace elephant mahout, seated on a huge tusker, happened to pass under the main line wires conveying current from the power station. Thinking he would test the truth of any one being killed if the wire touched, he was foolish enough to place his hand on the wire. The effect was disastrous. Both mahout and elephant were knocked down instantly and lay insensible. The elephant after a short while got up and rushed about in a dazed manner, wrecking carriages, posts, etc., in its mad career. After a most exciting chase the semi-electrocuted elephant was captured by means of two other elephants.—Madras Mail.

Johnny Suspects His Pa.

"Pa," said Johnny, looking up from his book, "what is the meaning of 'metempsychosis'?"

A look of confusion suddenly overspread pa's countenance, but it was only for a moment.

"Metempsychosis," Johnny means—it means—but if I should tell you you would very soon forget the meaning. Look in the dictionary for it yourself, and then you will be more likely to remember. Information that comes without effort seldom lingers in the memory."

Half an hour or so later Johnny sought the dictionary in the library. When he got there he found pa with the dictionary open at "Met." Doubtless it was merely a coincidence, but Johnny could not help thinking that his pa was something of a fraud.—Boston Transcript.

FADS OF CRIMINALS.

Murderers Who Were Particular as to Personal Appearance.

Oscar Slater, who murdered Miss Gilchrist in her Glasgow flat, proved himself a typical dandy even in the condemned cell and also a stickler for the proprieties. He insisted, for instance, from the very beginning "in being called 'Mr.'" Slater, and each morning he changed his linen, varied his neckwear and demanded polished boots.

Similar exhibitions of strutting peacock vanity are not uncommon on the part of men doomed to die on the gallows. Wainwright on the day preceding his execution absolutely refused to dress because his clean linen had not arrived from the laundry, and a new shirt and collar had to be bought for him. When the evening arrived—his last on earth—he craved a smoke. A pipe and tobacco were brought to him, but he rejected them with disdain. He would have a cigar. And he got it.

Lefroy, who murdered poor old Mr. Gold in a railway carriage on the way to Brighton, wore an evening dress suit during the whole of the period that elapsed between his condemnation and his execution; also he was greatly upset at the refusal of the authorities to allow him to be hanged in a new silk hat presented to him in court.

As a rule, however, the thoughts of the condemned turn mostly toward food. Rush, the Stansfield Hall murderer, was an educated man. "I want my slippers and the Times," were his first words on returning to jail after his conviction. But a little later he called for pen and paper and wrote out an order for his next day's dinner, "Pig and plenty of apple sauce."

In those days it was the custom to give capital convicts whatever they asked for in the way of food. But the rule was abolished soon afterward, one of the first delinquents to come under the new regulations being a certain Jeffrey, who murdered his six-year-old child by hanging him in a cellar in Seven Dials. He was unaware of the alteration and called for a roast duck. The door of the condemned cell entered the condemned man it was refused him so violently that he had to be taken in a straitjacket.—Pearson's Mag.

Twenty-first Century Wooing.
 The grave young medical man entered the front parlor with sober mien. Unfastening his small black satchel, he produced a little purple vial, and, taking therefrom a tiny bug, he slipped it into a hypodermic syringe and advanced toward the shrinking girl.
 "No, no!" cried the pretty Penelope. "It cannot be! I could not love you in the world!"
 "You just wait until Mr. Cocca-samoritis gets busy in your delicate blue veins," said the young doctor, injecting the love germ.
 Their devotion is now almost proverbial.—Brooklyn Life.
