EFFICIENT TEACHING FORCE.

THE EAST CAROLINA TEACHERS' TRAINING SCHOOL.

Brief Sketch of Faculty—Fine Prospects for the Opening October 6th, 1909.

The Board of Trustees of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School deems itself fortunate in securing so able a corps of teachers, and takes pleasure in giving to the public the following information:

President Robt. H. Wright was reared in Sampson county, North Carolina. Graduated with honor from the University of North Carolina in 1897. After teaching in the public and private schools of his native state and South Carolina he did a year of post-graduate work at John Hopkins University, Baltimore. He was then elected Head of The Department of History, Civics and Economics in the Baltimore City College. This position he held until 1906 when he was elected principal of the Eastern High School, Baltimore. He filled this position with the greatest acceptability for three years, resigning to accept the presidency of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School. He has the highest recommendations from the most competent judges acquainted with his work for scholarship and teaching ability. The board confidently commends him to the fullest confidence of the people of North Carolina.

Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, the teacher of English language and Literature, is a graduate of Trinity College and a M. A. of Columbia University, New York City. Miss Jenkins has taught in the rural and graded schools of North Carolina; Martha Washington College, Virginia, and Grenada College, Miss. She is a thorough student of the English language and a teacher of marked ability. In her we are sure that we have an exceptionally competent teacher.

Miss Sallie Joyner Davis, the teacher of history is a full graduate of the North Carolina State Normal and Industrial College, a post-graduate student of Trinity College and of University of Pennsylvania. She has had experience as a teacher in the public schools in North Carolina and as teacher of history in the Greensboro Female College. Her scholarship and teaching ability are of exceptionally high order.

Miss Maria Daniel Graham, the teacher of Mathematics is a graduate of Peabody Normal College, Nashville, Tenn., and has her Bachelor's degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City. She has taught in the public and private schools of North Carolina and her work has been most successful. Her training and experience are such as to make her entirely competent for the work to which she has been assigned.

Miss Birdie McKinney, the teacher of Latin, is a full graduate of the North Carolina State Normal and Industrial College. Since her graduation she has been teaching in the public schools of our State with marked success. She is one of the State's best teachers.

Mr. Herbert E. Austin, the teacher of Science, is a graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Did post graduate work in Clarke University and John Hopkins University. He has had several years experience as STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

High Point, N. C. Aug. 9.—Dr. W. J. McAnally, of this city, lies quite ill on account of a bite from a poisonous spider. The poison wrecked his nervous system and he cannot stand the least noise. The danger point has not passed, but physicians think he will get through all right now.

Elizabeth City, Aug. 9.—News was received here today of a very serious cutting scrape which took place at Manteo yesterday between Sam Midgett, Clerk Superior Court, and Clarence Etheridge a fisherman. Both are prominent Dare county citizens. They became involved in a personal encounter, resulting in Midgett's being seriously stabbed with a knife in several portions of his body. His condition was at first considered serious, but later reports indicate that he may recover. It was not learned as to the cause of the difficulty.

teacher of Science and Pedagogy in the Maryland State Normal School, Baltimore. This eminently qualifies him for the position he is to hold.

Supt. W. H. Ragsdale, lecturer on public school administration, is a graduate of Wake Forest College. While in college he was a hard student, making the highest average in his class. Since graduation he has taught in the public and private schools of Eastern North Carolina. He has been superintendent of Pitt county schools since 1891 with the exception of two years. For many years he has been prominently identified with the public school interests of our State. He is well and favorably known in school circles. In his selection for this position we have a man who is a thorough master of the public school situation in North Carolina.

Mr. Claude W. Wilson will look after the business interest of the school and teach in the department of Pedagogy. He is a graduate of Wake Forest College. Has unusual business ability; is a thorough student of Pedagogy; and has taught in the public and private schools of North Carolina with marked success.

Mrs. Kate R. Beckwith, the lady principal, is a graduate of The Woman's College, Richmond, Va. She is eminently qualified for the position she is to fill. Having had experience with this kind of work in Louisburg College, also as Dean (lady principal) of Columbia College, S. C., and having had charge of the branch school of Shorter College in Florence, Italy. We deem ourselves fortunate in securing the services of such a woman as lady principal.

With this school located as it is and so admirably equipped in every way, buildings, furnishings and teaching staff—we confidently expect it to meet fully the demands for which it was established.

J. Y. Joyner, Chm'n.

Miss Wright Will Return.

Mr. W. L. Brown, one of the trustees of the graded school, informs us that Miss Bettie Wright has accepted the position as teacher of the high school department for the coming session. Miss Wright taught here previously in the graded school, and all are glad to know she will return.

F. J. McGUIRE GETS CONTRACT.

His Bid Was the Lowest Submitted to the Board.

The Seventh Ward Local Board's Street Committee Eugene Foliard, chairman, met this morning and awarded to F. J. McGuire, of Greenville N. C., a $4,600 contract for laying granolithic sidewalks, and combined curb and gutters of concrete, in the Riverview section of that ward, he being the lowest bidder. Mr. McGuire's bid was sidewalk, 73 cents per square yard; curbing, etc., 48 cents per lin. foot. He charged 30 cents per lineal foot for wainright corners, extra of his above bid, where such corners are used.

Mr. McGuire, the successful bidder, is the contractor for the laying of the city's Newton creek concrete drain, the amount of this latter contract being $12,250.—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch, 7th.

A Water Cooler Without Ice.

Messrs. J. R. Jones and W. C. York, secretary and superintendent respectively of the Sanford Cotton Mill, have invented what promises to be a useful invention. It is a filterer and water cooler which requires no ice or chemicals of any kind. The invention or water system is now in use at the cotton mill and is giving entire satisfaction to all the operatives. By using it the company will save about $20 per month. Messrs. Jones and York will have their invention patented so that it can be placed in other cotton mills and manufacturing enterprises in the country. To put it in general use would mean a saving of thousands of dollars to the manufacturing industries of the country.—Sanford Express.

F. M. Wooten, President.

A Little Improvement.

The size of the tobacco breaks at the warehouses is increasing slightly, and the prices are also just a little better. But the quantity and price are both very small. The farmers are wisely making no hurry about selling.

Musical at Ayden.

The ladies of the M. E. church will give a humorous musical at the graded school building at Ayden next Friday night, Aug. 13th, for the benefit of the new church.

August is doing something in the way of making a warm record.

The moving picture show in the opera house continues to have a good crowd every night. The good programs keep the people interested.

New Bern Looking for a Union Depot.

Mr. R. A. Nunn returned last night from Raleigh, where he has been attending to business in connection with the organization of the National Mutual Life Insurance Company. He said that he saw a member of the corporation commission while in Raleigh, and was informed that the matter of building a union passenger station in this city had delayed somewhat, the accounts of the commission being very busy with the assessment of taxes but that in the meantime the railroad companies had practically agreed to build a station here, and that plans had been prepared for a very handsome one.—New Bern Journal.

Methodist Baraca Still Increases.

The Methodist Baraca class, while decreasing in attendance as the weather has grown hotter, is still far from falling to pieces. Nearly every Sunday new members are added. During the month of July there was an average attendance of 52. Number of visitors 14; new members 3, total collection $8.34.

Several names were dropped from the roll last month for having permanently moved away. But in spite of this fact, we now have an enrollment of 117.

Fine Ear of Corn.

Mr. Lloyd Smith, of Beaver Dam township, sent The Reflector a new ear of corn out of his crop of this year that is something to boast of. It is 13 inches long, 8 1/2 inches in circumference, and contains 960 grains. Corn like that counts when it gets in the barn, and it shows what good farming will produce.

TUESDAY, AUG. 10, 1909.

The Traders' and Truckers' Bank, of Norfolk, went into liquidation Monday, being unable to meet its obligations.

The mania among boys to get pictures of baseball men out of cigarette packages, is good evidence that the pictures should not be in the packages.

The call for a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in the court house tonight should be heeded by every business man of the town. Matters of importance will be considered.

There is talk of good times and returning prosperity, but the coming of these will be largely with the people themselves. If everybody complains and talks hard times it is easy to make conditions that way, while if all will talk the other way and try to make times better, they will find that not hard to do. Quit complaining, be cheerful, and do your best.

The Manufacturer's Record, of Baltimore, will offer three prizes of $250, $100 and $50 respectively, for three best articles on the best method of improving the public roadways of the South. The articles must contain not less than 3,000 nor more than 5,000 words, name of author to be sent in separate sealed envelope. Those who would like to compete for these prizes have an opportunity to get busy.

Influence of the Local Paper.

In his address before the North Carolina Press Association at Hendersonville, Mr. M. V. Richards, Land and Industrial Agent of the Southern Railway, said this of the influence of the local newspaper as a factor in community development:

"Of all the mediums for advancing the interests of the State, the community or the special industry, there is none more effective than the newspaper. Other agencies must be maintained, the commercial organization or the business league, to bring about the best results, but these must depend to a very great extent upon their use of the newspaper and upon the proper co operation of the newspaper."

"I have found in my experience that the liveliest and most progressive places were those in which the newspapers have been the best exponents of local needs and conditions."

"No one can tell where the influence of even the smallest country weekly will reach. There is probably no issue of a North Carolina newspaper which is not in some place read by a man considering some of your towns as a home or business location."

"The news you give, the editorial setting forth the condition or the advantage of some special kind, is almost certain to have its influence in some unlooked for direction."

The Inland Waterway.

It is a surprise to us that the completion of the first section in the Carolina sounds of the great inland waterway has not attracted greater public attention. The dredging of the canal northward from Beaufort was an important beginning in this great work and is a forerunner of still more important work to be done. It shows that the government has entered in earnest upon this great undertaking, which means so much for eastern North Carolina. It must be that the people do not realize the magnitude of the government's undertaking or the great benefit it will be. North Carolina's central and northern coast sections, though lying on the ocean, are cut off entirely from commerce with foreign ports and to a great extent from coastwise trade. The completion of this canal, together with the deepening of Beaufort inlet, will change conditions. Then the cities on the sounds and rivers in that section will become maritime cities in fact as well as in name. Shipping between them and other ports, both foreign and American, will spring up, increasing all kinds of traffic through them between inland points and distant markets.

It will be many years before the inland waterway as now projected is complete, but this State will not have to wait for its completion to reap advantage from it, nor will that part of the State alone which is adjacent be benefitted. The good results of this water traffic between North Carolina ports and those outside the State and those beyond the nation will be felt in every section.

This is a government work in which all North Carolina people should take interest, for besides the great benefit it will be it is being done without the cost of a dollar to them.—Charlotte Observer.

MANY SUDDEN DEATHS FROM POISONOUS RHEUMATISM.
Rheumatism has for years been regarded as an exceedingly painful disease but it has only been discovered within the last few years that it is this terrible trouble that is either directly or indirectly causing thousands of deaths yearly throughout our country. Rheumatism of the Heart, Neuralgia of the Heart, Paralysis, Uric Acid Poisoning are among the most dangerous forms of the disease. If Uric Acid is allowed to stay in the system sudden death can scarcely be averted. If any sufferer will go at once to J. W. Bryan's and get a bottle of "Bloodine" the guaranteed remedy for Rheumatism. They will positively be cured. Bloodine in large bottles cost 50 cents. In old chronic cases where their is acute pains, "Bloodine Rheumatic Liniment" should be used with "Bloodine." Also for sale by M. M. Sauls, Ayden, N. C.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting, indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money, without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

A PRECOCIOUS DOG.

The Wonderful Feats He Performed For Joseph Jefferson.

There is a story that is told of Joseph Jefferson and the boys that had to do with the training of dogs. It appears that there was a gentleman in New Iberia who owned a very intelligent animal, and he was most anxious for Mr. Jefferson to see an example of his prowess. Accordingly he brought him to the island one day and put him through his various tricks, which were remarkably clever.

When the performance was over Mr. Jefferson expressed his appreciation and wonder at what the dog had done, but added that he had an animal that was even more remarkable. As the gentleman seemed to be in some doubt as to the truth of this statement the dog, a dejected, stupid looking beast, was produced, and Mr. Jefferson ordered him to go into his room and bring him a shoe.

Obediently the dog trotted into the house to presently reappear with the shoe in his mouth. Taking it from him, Mr. Jefferson patted him upon the head and told him to return to his room and bring him the slipper for his left foot.

"And, mind you, bring the left one," he cautioned as the animal trotted away.

When he returned in a moment with the left slipper the gentleman could hardly express his astonishment, but Mr. Jefferson waved the matter indifferently aside.

"It is nothing," said he. "However, we will now try something a little more difficult." Then, turning to the dog, he spoke to him very slowly and carefully. "Now go into the library," said he, "look upon the bottom shelf on the right hand side of the room and you will see a set of Dickens. Bring me the second volume. Remember, now, the second volume; not the first or the third, but the second."

When the dog returned in a few moments with the second volume in his mouth the gentleman retired in the utmost confusion, declaring that in comparison with such a prodigy his own much vaunted animal was little better than an imbecile.

And I may add that Mr. Jefferson enjoyed the joke fully as much as did the boys, who, according to a prearranged plan, had placed each successive article in the prodigy's mouth. As to the prodigy, his one accomplishment consisted of trotting into the house and trotting out of it again.—Nevil G. Henshaw in Bohemian.

Table Mountain.

At Capetown, in South Africa, where the traveler usually has the first glimpse of the continent, is Table mountain, a magnificent natural curiosity which rises behind the city to the height of almost 4,000 feet and has a level top about three square miles in area. Its resemblance to a huge table is so marked that the dense clouds which collect at times around the summit are referred to as the tablecloth. A pretty little flower which is found nowhere else on earth grows on top, while on the northern side of its base is a similarly rare tree, popularly called the silver leaf tree.

The Slow One.

"Would you," he said after they had been sitting in the dark for a long time, "be angry with me if I were to kiss you?" She was silent for a moment. Then in tones the meaning of which was not to be mistaken she replied: "Why do you suppose I turned down the light an hour and a half ago?" And yet he wondered, poor fool, how other young men who had started far in the rear were able to pass him in the race of life.

A Chronic Grumbler.

Charles Lamb tells of a chronic grumbler who always complained at what he called his few trumps. By some artifice his companions managed to fix the cards so that when he dealt he got the whole thirteen, hoping to extort some expression of satisfaction, but he only looked more wretched than ever as he examined his hand. "Well, Tom," said Lamb, "haven't you trumps enough this time?" "Yes," granted Tom, "but I've no other cards."

Not Desired.

Having at enormous pains got her length, breadth and thickness about right, the woman heaved a sigh of relief. "No fourth dimension in mine, if you please!" she exclaimed, with unmistakable feeling. Some aver that the feminine mind is not attracted by metaphysics anyway!—Pack.

THE BUFFALO.

A Good Surveyor and One of Our First Roadmakers.

The buffalo was a good surveyor. It could not reason out why it should go in a certain direction, but its sure instinct took it by the easiest and most direct paths, over high lands and low, to the salt licks and water courses which were its goal. The authors of "The Story of the Great Lakes," Edward Channing and M. F. Lansing, say that the buffalo observed something like the principles which today govern the civil engineer.

As soon as the explorer landed on the southern shores of Lakes Erie, Michigan and Superior he came upon buffalo roads or "traces." Sometimes these were narrow ditches, a foot wide and from six inches to two feet deep, trodden down by the impact of thousands of hoofs as herd after herd of buffaloes had stamped along in single file behind their leaders.

When the first path became too deep for comfort because of repeated travel the buffaloes would abandon it, and begin a second path alongside the first, and thus the frequented traces would be gradually widened.

Again, an immense herd of these heavy animals would crash through the forest, breaking in their rapid progress a broad, deep road from one feeding ground to another. As this route would be followed again and again by this and other herds, it would become level and hard as a rock, so that there was great rejoicing in pioneer settlements when the weary roadmakers, struggling with log causeways and swampy hollows, came upon a firm, solid buffalo trace. Nor was this an uncommon experience.

The line of many of these roads is followed today by our railroads and canals, as it was followed by our log roads and turnpikes.

The buffalo followed the level of the valley. He swerved round high points whenever it was possible, crossing the ridges and watersheds at the best natural divides and gorges, and he crossed from one side of a stream of water to the other repeatedly in order to avoid climbing up from the level, after the fashion of our modern loop railways.

ONE OYSTER ENOUGH.

He Swallowed It Alive and Had to Kill It After It Was Down.

A farm laborer from the interior on his first visit to London dropped into a small oyster shop where a number of men were eating raw oysters. The extreme satisfaction displayed on the faces of those about him created longings of a gustatory nature in the new arrival, who edged his way up to the counter in anticipation of eating a real live, juicy oyster.

It was the first time he had seen an oyster, and he became at once interested, and when the shellfish had been finally uncased he proceeded to balance it on the end of his fork, then, with a look of extreme satisfaction, gulped it down.

"Great Scott!" shouted a man standing near him. "You haven't swallowed the oyster alive, have you?" There was a horrible pause.

"That critter will eat right through you!" shouted another.

By this time the poor countryman was shaking with fear and horror. He commenced to have terrible pains in his abdomen and was soon doubled up in his agony. He begged some one to go for a doctor to get the thing out.

He continued to grow worse, when some one suggested that he take a dose of tabasco sauce, which it was claimed would kill the object that was creating such terrible commotion in his internal arrangement.

He grasped the bottle with avidity and took a draft. His condition, which before had been alarming to the victim, now assumed a serious phase to the perpetrators of the hoax.

The man gasped and choked. He became black in the face, and tears were running down his face, when some one thrust a bottle of oil into his mouth, and he was forced to drink copious drafts.

The effect was magical. The oyster was evidently "dead." He became more composed, and when he finally recovered his breath he said:

"We killed it. But when that darned stuff got into my stomach that oyster rushed around as if a shark was after it."—London Scraps.

Convincing His Chum.

Johnny (in the garden)—Father, father, look out of the window!

Father (quitting out his head)—What a nuisance you children are! What do you want now?

Johnny (with a triumphant glance at his playfellow)—Tommy Brooks wouldn't believe you'd got no hair on the top of your head.—London Tit-Bits.
