WHILE THE FATHER SLEPT.

Daughter Steals Away, is Driven to Greenville, And is Married.

All the world loves a lover, was illustrated here Friday, and that fact, no doubt, is appreciated by J. F. Taylor, of Chadbourne, who came here to take back home his pretty daughter, Miss Charlotte, who left her home some weeks ago.

After she left home, the father, for some time, could not ascertain her whereabouts, but hearing that she was here, to Tarboro he came, found her working at the Tarboro cotton factory and boarding with the family of Isham Cherry. At first she positively refused to return but when her father threatened to invoke the law, she reluctantly assented, but declared that she could not return in the clothes she had, nor could she get ready to leave Friday.

Mr. Taylor consented to wait over a day, and also took her to a store and purchased her an excellent dress and other clothing and a trunk.

Friday night, all at Mr. Cherry's retired early, Mr. Taylor included. About 11 o'clock, he says, he heard Miss Cherry and his daughter in an adjoining room, moving things about, but supposing they were packing for the coming day's journey, he went to sleep again, not to awaken till this morning, when he found his daughter gone and Miss Cherry also.

Friends during the evening had applied here for a marriage license for her and Walter Bennett, who also works in the Tarboro Cotton Factory, but they could not take the required oath Register Bunn administered, so the application was withdrawn and after Mr. Taylor was asleep, the groom, the bride, Miss Cherry and another friend in two buggies drove to Greenville to have the nuptial knot tied, and to cut the parental bonds. The bride took all her new clothes, but left the trunk.

When Mr. Taylor found that he had been outwitted, he took the matter philosophically, and declared that had he known his daughter wished to marry he would have come down liberally and had a big wedding.

The young lady gave as a reason for leaving home that her parents were not kind to her. Since she has been here she has made many friends and is quite popular.

The groom is an industrious young man, well-liked and esteemed.—Tarboro Southerner.

[The entire party did not come all the way to Greenville, but stopped at the home of Justice D. C. Barrow, in Belvoir township. From there the justice and Mr. Bennett came on to Greenville, obtained the license and returned to Justice Barrow's home where he performed the ceremony.—Reflector.]

Laundry Notice.

Being occupied with other work I have turned over my laundry agency to W. J. Turnage and Jarvis Campbell, who will continue it. Thanking my friends for the patronage they have given me, I respectfully ask that it be continued to my successors.

Fractures a Rib.

In a difficulty Saturday night in the store of Taft & VanDyke between Messrs. E. H. Taft and Charlie Baker, Mr. Taft stumbled over a trunk and in the fall fractured one of his ribs.

FARMERS' STATE CONVENTION.

August 24-27, 1909—Suggestions to Those Coming.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 14.—A reception committee, of which W. C. Etheridge is chairman, will meet all trains arriving at the Union station Monday evening, Tuesday and Wednesday. When you get off the train, look for men with badges: "Reception Committee," or for sign: "Headquarters, Reception Committee, State Farmers' Convention," and make yourself known. The committee will take care of you.

Those who prefer will be assisted in securing satisfactory accommodations in the city, while those who wish to room at the college will be escorted there and provided with rooms free and meals at cost.

Those who intend rooming at the college should notify Mr. E. B. Owen, West Raleigh, when they will arrive, but failure to do this need not prevent anyone from securing a room at the college on his arrival. Those expecting to room at the college should bring towels and pillows with them.

The accommodations for rooming at the college are not good, owing to the fact that the college has no furniture or bedding except that furnished students, but such as is there will be at the disposal of those who wish to avail themselves of it.

A rate of one and one-half fare plus fifty cents has been granted for the Farmers' State Convention, provided there are as many as one hundred persons attending the meeting holding properly receipted certificates. The conditions are in the main, that a first-class ticket at full fare be purchased from the starting point, or the nearest point thereto at which a through ticket to the place of meeting can be obtained, taking from the ticket agent a receipt for the same on the regular certificate used for this purpose by the railroads; this certificate when properly signed by the Secretary of the Association and a representative of the railroads will constitute an order on the local ticket agent for a return ticket at one-half the regular rate to the holder. The rates will apply to all points in North Carolina and from Norfolk, Portsmouth, Suffolk, Boykins and Danville, Virginia, and are granted by the Atlantic Coast Line, Durham and Southern, Norfolk and Southern, Seaboard Air Line and Southern Railways. The tickets will be on sale August 20, 1909, and properly signed certificates will be honored for return journey on or before August 31, 1909.

Information, sample certificates and programs may be secured from the secretary or E. B. Owen, Registrar of the College, West Raleigh, N. C., upon application. T. B. Parker, Secretary.

Light Mayor's Court.

In the absence from town of Mayor H. W. Whedbee, the city court this morning was presided over by Mayor Protom E. A. Moye. There was only one case ready for trial, the offender being a colored man charged with being drunk and down. He plead guilty, and in addition to the costs was required to pay some back taxes due the town.

Some cases against automobilists for overspeeding the legal limit were set for tomorrow morning.

WHAT R. F. DELIVERY DOES.

Thirty Two Thousand Routes Bring the City to the Farmer's Door.

The telephone connection brings the distant city to the farmer's door. But Rural Free Delivery does more. It brings him the daily newspaper, telling all that has happened round the world in the last twenty-four hours. And it is the daily paper that has widened his horizon from the village post office to the other side of the globe. Statesmen and parliaments and famous personalities have entered his personal field of consciousness. New inventions, great achievements, reach him now so that he thrills with the rest of the world at their happening. He is living with his time instead of following it. And his intelligence has quickened and his convictions have strengthened as he finds himself abreast with the world. When Rural Free Delivery was first agitated, people said: "Why, the farmer doesn't need it. He seldom gets any letters and he takes only weekly papers." For that the farmer was not to blame. Today there are over 32,000 free-delivery routes. The first route was established in 1896. Out at Turner Post-Office, Ore., there was then just thirteen daily papers taken. Three years later there were one hundred and thirteen. "It would take part of life a way to give it up," an Indiana farmer wrote to the Post-Office Department at Washington.—The Delineator for September.

How a Little Porker Takes on Flesh.

Mr. L. E. Osbrne, carrier on R. F. D. route No. 3, from Greensboro, has some pigs on which his neighbors are extending congratulations. They are mammoth black crossed with Yorkshire. Mr. Osbrne has been experimenting with one of those pigs to see how rapidly he increased in weight. At six weeks of age the pig weighed 33 pounds, at eight weeks 51, and at 10 weeks 73 pounds. As the pig gained 22 pounds in fourteen days, it will be seen that he grew at the rate of over a pound a day, which is certainly taking on flesh in a hurry.—Greensboro Telegram.

A Sensible Farmer.

In conversation with one of our prominent farmers a few days ago he remarked that he had thoroughly made up his mind to make his home supplies another year before planting any money crop. He had been promising to do this for several years but for some reason had not carried out his promises, but now he means business. If every other farmer in Franklin county would adopt this plan in the course of a few years this would be the richest agricultural county in the State.—Louisburg Times.

Bad Wreck.

Colorado, Springs, Col. Aug. 14.—Eight are dead and 50 injured, some fatally, as a result of a head-on collision between train No. 8 northbound and train No. 1, southbound, on the Denver & Rio Grande at Husted, 13 miles north of Colorado Springs this morning. The trains, both running at terrific speed, met on a curve and their crews had no opportunity to avert the collision. Train No. 9, drawn by two engines, telescoped the baggage car and smoker of No. 1, and all three engines went into the ditch.

Snake Runs Spinning Wheel.

Campbellsville, Ky., Aug. 14.—Mrs. W. C. Grider, of Adair county, was attracted to her weaving room today by the sound of her reel, and on opening the door she was horrified to see a large snake going around with the spinning wheel. When the reptile crawled on the wheel it started the wheel to running. The snake was unable to free itself and a number of spectators witnessed the remarkable sight for nearly half a day. The snake was finally killed and was five feet in length.

Reported Married.

The town has been full of rumors today that Mr. James Long, a prominent merchant here, and Miss Annie Stallings, sister of Mrs. J. F. King, were married. Miss Stallings left some weeks ago to visit relatives at Scotland Neck and Rocky Mount, and Sunday morning Mr. Long, who has been paying her attention for sometime, went to see her. From telephone messages today it was learned that they were married and will return to Greenville Wednesday evening.

Ate Five Watermelons and Died.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 14.—Lucinda Davis, a colored woman, aged 35 years, died today as the result of eating too much watermelon at a contest last night. Dr. Loomis Blanton, assistant coroner, pronounced death due to cardiac paralysis, superinduced by acute indigestion. Lucinda ate five watermelons.

Car Runs into Building.

This morning a freight car on the Norfolk & Southern yard was being backed into the siding of F. V. Johnston's feed store, when the car jumped the track at the curve and run into the building. The car struck the store near one of the side doors and knocked out the door frame and some of the brick work.

Masons Notice.

Regular communication of Greenville Lodge No. 234 A. F. & A. M. tonight. Work in masters degree. A full attendance is desired. L. H. Pender, N. W. Jackson, W. M. Secty.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

Miss E. E. Blankenship, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. W. Harvey, left Sunday morning for her home in Montgomery, Ala.

Had Fine Luck.

Dr. R. L. Carr, R. O. Jeffress, F. D. Foxhall and G. J. Woodward, who had been at Morehead spending a few days fishing, returned home Sunday and brought abundant evidence of their good luck with them. They run on the school of mackerel playing between the inlet and Cape Look Out and pulled in some over 300 pounds of them. Several friends have been helping them enjoy the fish since their return.

Right on Time.

The first of Archie Gunn's series of studio studies of Stage Beauties is in next Sunday's New York World. Six dainty color pictures of six beautiful actresses are given in the issue of Sunday, Aug. 29. Every one will want these pictures. The set will be incomplete without them. Begin at once. This is the most novel and unique newspaper offer made in years. There will also be the words and music (complete) of a new song.

Season Drawing Near End.

There was a large crowd on the Sunday N. & S. train to Morehead and Beaufort. As there are only a few more Sunday excursion trains before the season closes, the people will likely take advantage of the remaining trips.

Next State Fair.

The premium list of the State fair to be held in Raleigh Oct. 18th to 23rd makes unusual offerings to exhibitors. The fair promises to be one of the best held.

MONDAY, AUG. 16, 1909.

If cotton holds up to its present price until the farmers get some to sell, they would feel better on that score. If tobacco was bringing as good a price they would feel better still.

That "bloodless war" farce being pulled off on the coast of Massachusetts is a great frolic at the expense of the government. Wasting the public money is what keeps the treasury drained.

We may be behind the times and living in the swamp, but cannot we be excused if we make inquiry as to what this Silent Dance is advertised in such papers as the Greenville Reflector. We have heard a little of square dancing and round dancing, but this silence in the art is too deep for us. Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise. Well, we already possess the bliss, can't we be put wise? This silent dancing so far has not struck these parts.—Washington News.

The author says it is a dance without music.

The Greenville Reflector has somewhat to say to Editor Josephus Daniels because of what seemed to The Reflector a hit at the tobacco market of Greenville. The comment in The News and Observer was merely a true statement of the doings of the tobacco trust.—Williamston Enterprise.

You have it a little wrong. The News and Observer said nothing that was construed to be a hit on the Greenville market. But what The Reflector had somewhat to say about was the assertion by The News and Observer that "The trust will take the crop for nothing unless a fire is built under it." From the way The News and Observer has dodged that sentence, we think Editor Daniels saw the error of an utterance so tending to anarchy. The Reflector cannot approve such advice, nor do we believe The Enterprise approves it. The rest that The News and Observer said about the low prices of tobacco, and trust control of prices, was true, but the way to remedy this is not by inciting people to apply the torch.

New Fashions in Money.

Unappalled by the recent experiments in redesigning the coinage of the country, Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh has been seized with an artistic longing for a more shapely form of paper currency. It is to be hoped that he will proceed with due caution. After recalling what a clamor arose when the American eagle appeared on the gold coins with feathered legs, and the Lincoln cents were embellished with the minute initials of an ambitious medallist, it is a rash innovator who would lightly tamper with the green-back.

The dollar bill may be unnecessarily large. But what most people complain of is that it buys so little. If Secretary MagVeagh would agree to reduce the prices of the necessities

Kidney Troubles Attack Greenville Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years—Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman or child. Is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—

Cure all forms of kidney suffering. Greenville testimony proves it.

Miss Susan Kai-sul, 53 N. Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I derived great benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills and take pleasure in recommending them. For some time I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and had distressing pains through my loins. My kidneys were very weak and the frequent passages of the secretions caused me great annoyance. My back pained me severely and when first arising in the morning I was so lame and sore that I could scarcely get around. I at length procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Wooten's drug store and through their use I was entirely relieved of these troubles. The fact that my kidneys have given me no trouble since leads me to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills most highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

of life at the same time there would probably be no great objection to his reducing the size of the banknotes. But he offers no such inducement. He is considering the convenience of the government, not the needs of the consumer.

The country already possesses a score or so of different kinds of money. Why invent more when, in the light of recent experience, the first issue of the MacVeagh bills will probably result in a demand for a different design. If Secretary MacVeagh cannot restrain his love for novelty, why does he not induce Postmaster Hitchcock to let him try his hand first on some postage stamps?—New York World.

The people who are not willing to put a debt on their county in order to secure good roads lose sight of the fact that bad roads are a heavier tax on them in many ways, such as loss of time, wear on stock and vehicles, retarding advance in price of real estate, etc., than would be the interest on the bonds and the sum annually put to the sinking fund for the payment of the principal. Expending money in properly building good roads is not spending but rather investing it in a way which will be sure to bring good returns to the investors and to those who come after them.—Charlotte Observer.

Singer Talks

What Perfect Adjustment Means

If you've ever had the misfortune to own a cheaply constructed sewing machine, you'll know what it means to have parts constantly breaking, or the machine refuse to run for some seemingly unaccountable reason.

Singer quality and the perfect adjustment of every Singer machine save you such discouraging experiences. Every Singer runs so light and easy as to require practically no effort on your part to do the heaviest sewing.

Many women use a Singer who haven't strength enough to operate ordinary machines. The Singer does all the work, runs noiselessly and does not easily get out of order.

Should repairs or new parts, needles, etc., ever be needed there's always a Singer store nearby to save you annoying delays.

HOOKING ALLIGATORS.

A Florida Sport With an Element of Uncertainty in It.

"Hunting alligators at night with a bullseye lantern and shotgun is tame sport compared with what is called a gator hunt in Florida," said an old Floridian who is visiting New York. "I mean the feat of capturing an alligator alive and then towing the fellow to high ground through mud and water from what is called in Florida a gator hole.

"The gator fishermen first find the hole, which is indicated by an opening in the surrounding grass in the midst of a dense growth of vegetation, where the ground is worn smooth by the alligator in his pulls in and out. Sometimes these gator holes are in the nature of a cave in the bank of a stream and may be fifteen or twenty feet deep, and if so it is not an easy matter to get the animal out.

"The fisher is supplied with a long pole with a metal hook on the end. He takes a strong rope and throws it about the entrance of the hole. Then the fisher rams with the hooked pole down the den and waits and listens. If he finds a gator in the hole he teases the beast by poking him until the gator in a rage finally grabs the hooked pole and is pulled from the den. It is with uncertainty that he is dragged forth, for it is not known whether the catch is large or small. The fisher does not know whether to get into shape to run or to fight. Out the gator comes, bellowing and roaring mad.

"After the gator is dragged to the surface he in his rage turns and rolls and finally twists himself up in the rope or noose that has been previously prepared. With the assistance of the others in the party the gator's legs and mouth are tied and the gator is a prisoner.

"The gator is for the most part caught in marshes where the ground is soft and slushy and too wet for either horse or wagon to enter. The fishers are compelled to carry their catch to higher ground, there to be loaded into the waiting wagon, and the hunt is ended."—New York Sun.

UNCONSCIOUS WORRY.

Born of the Habit of Taking Things Too Seriously.

A great many people worry unconsciously, says O. S. Marden in Success Magazine. They don't understand why they are so tired in the morning, why their sleep was so disturbed and troubled.

This mental disturbance is often caused by the habit of taking things too seriously, carrying too great a weight of responsibility. Everywhere we see people who take life too seriously. Most of us are like the motor-man who not only starts and stops the car and tries to keep from running over people, but also feels tremendous anxiety and responsibility about the motive power.

One of the most helpful lessons life can impart is that which shows us how to do our work as well as it can be done and then let principle take care of the result. How often have we been amazed to find things come out much better than we anticipated; to find that the great unseen power that governs our lives through a wilderness of trial and tribulation into the open has guided our life ship through the fogs of difficulties and of sorrow, through storms of hardships and losses, safely into port.

The pilot does not lose heart when he cannot see his way. He turns to that mysterious compass which sees as plainly in the fog and guides as faithfully in the tempests as when the sea is like glass. We are in touch with a power greater than any compass, greater than any pilot, a power that can extricate us from the most desperate situation.

Family Floriculture.

George Blank, the stage manager, is a lover of nature and a hater of overcoats and umbrellas. Recently during a violent rainstorm he called on his mother, entering her presence wringing wet.

"George," said she firmly, "you ought not to expose yourself in such weather. You will get pneumonia." "But, mother," exclaimed George, with a theatrical wave of his hand, "why should I fear the rain? Does it not nurture the grass? Is it not life to the flowers?"

"It is a long time," said the good woman, closing a window, "since you were a flower."—Success Magazine.

Confide a secret to a dumb man and it will make him speak.—Livonian.

Local Pronunciations.

Below are a few names of places that often puzzle a stranger. Hap-pisburgh, in Norfolk, is pronounced "Hazeboro." Abergavenny simply drops a syllable and becomes "Aber-venny," and it is alleged that St. Neots sounds more like "Snoots" than anything else. Cirencester seems to vary from "Sister" to "Sizeter." In Suffolk Waldring-field is "Wunnerful" and Chelmondiston "Chimston," while in the adjoining county of Norfolk Hunstanton is "Hunston," and in the west country Badgeworthy is "Badger" and Cornwood "Kernood." Huntingdonshire claims the purest English, but they call Papworth "Parpor."—London Answers.

How He Managed.

A man in an up state county owns a number of horses and has a great reputation for skill in the treatment of them. One day a farmer who wanted some valuable information approached the horse owner's little boy and said:

"Look here, my little man, when one of your father's horses is ill what does he do?"

"Do you mean slightly ill or seriously ill?" asked the boy cautiously.

"Oh, seriously ill," said the farmer.

"Because," said the child, "if a horse is only slightly ill he gives it medicine, but if it is seriously ill he sells it."—New York Press.

A Royal Fowl.
In England under an old law still in force the swan is a royal fowl, as whales and sturgeons are royal fish. All swans the property whereof is not otherwise definable when within the British dominions belong to the crown by virtue of this prerogative. When swans are lawfully taken into the possession of a private person such person may be said to have a property in them, but if they be at liberty they belong to the crown. Formerly it was necessary for persons who wished to keep these "royal fowls" to obtain a swan mark, which was granted by the crown and which could not be legally impressed without grant or prescription.
