KILLED IN SELF-DEFENSE.

Deputy Vick and Not Sheriff Who Killed Moonshiner Brinson.

Sheriff L. W. Tucker makes the following statement in regard to the killing of the moonshiner John Brinson and the capture of Frank Sutton, also a notorious moonshiner, and the negro, Desser Brimpage:

"Tuesday night I, with Deputies R. Hyman, W. L. Tucker, G. A. Jackson and T. A. Vick, left Greenville about 12 o'clock to go down near Stokestown to search for an illicit distillery. We got to the place about four o'clock and in a short while after getting into the woods found a keg of whiskey, over which I placed Officer Vick with instructions to arrest any party who attempted to interfere. I told him that John Brinson, a notorious moonshiner, was likely to come that way, this point being the intersection of two paths leading to the still. I gave him instructions to arrest Brinson if he should come along and informed him that he was a very dangerous man. Brinson came along after the still and a quantity of whiskey had been located. He was halted by Vick and he immediately threw his gun to his shoulder to shoot and Vick shot him down in the act of firing, the shot entering his body under the left arm as he raised his gun. This happened between six and seven o'clock in the morning. I immediately ran to scene of the shooting and found John Brinson dead with gun lying across his breast with his thumb on hammer and forefinger on trigger. Both barrels of his gun were loaded with seventeen buck shot to the shell. I afterwards searched him, finding pistol in his pocket."

The coroner's jury found that "John Brinson came to his death by gun-shot wounds at the hands of Argal Vick in self-defense."

Frank Sutton, who is also a notorious moonshiner, and a negro, named Desser Brimpage, were captured and brought here and placed in jail Wednesday afternoon. The still, 30 gallons of whiskey, 7 barrels of peach beer and one barrel of molasses were taken. The whiskey, beer and molasses were poured out and the still brought to Greenville with the prisoners.

Sheriff Tucker says this is the third still he has captured which was run by Brinson. He is making great efforts to stamp out illicit whiskey business in Pitt county and is doing some fine work.

FARMVILLE NOTES.

Farmville, N. C., July 24, 1909. Mrs. B. E. Moore, of New Bern, is visiting Mrs. Patrick for a few days.

Both Monday and Tuesday afternoons there were heavy rains in Farmville.

In the last two weeks quite a good deal of work has been done toward improving the street and sidewalks. The present town officials are planning to do more and more in the way of opening up new streets and improving others.

John T. Thorne has let the contract for an eight-room house on his lot opposite the new Baptist church, on the corner of Wilson and Green streets. It is expected that Rev. Jesse McCarter, the Baptist pastor, will occupy the house when complete. One or two other dwellings are talked of. We hope others will build and furnish people places to live. A vacant house in Farmville is a rare thing and often houses are wanted when there is not a vacant house to be found.

Work has stopped on the Deciple church for the present. The walls are almost ready to begin building up the gables. It will be a handsome church when complete.

Work on the Baptist church is moving forward rapidly. Weather boarding and various other kinds of work going on at the same time under the leadership of J. H. Whitehead. Passersby look on with delight as they see the house beginning to take shape. The people of Farmville appreciate the fact that it is to be a beautiful church and well arranged.

Rev. Mr. Forbes filled his appointment at the Methodist church last Sunday

Mr. John T. Thorne is telling the Sunday school about his trip to Pacific coast, taking about fifteen minutes each Sunday at close of the school.

Mayor Thorne had a busy court Monday morning. James Crawford, John Frizell and Tom Tugwell were each fined five dollars and cost for being drunk and disorderly violators of our prohibition laws. They may expect to pay the penalty when they go before our mayor.

We are glad to note that our best business men are co-operating with our mayor and other town authorities in enforcing the new law.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

Eld. C. J. Harris filled his regular appointment here Saturday night and Sunday. He preached two excellent sermons. We are always glad to have him preach for us.

Misses Minnie Dixon and Alice Riggs spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Lena Dixon.

Mrs. Elijah Mills, of Simpson, returned home Sunday evening after spending a few days with her parents here.

Miss Zora Edwards spent Saturday night and Sunday with Lillie Buck.

J. H. Clark, of Grimesland, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clark.

Misses Daisy Porter and Mary of Salem, attended church here Sunday.

The farmers are very busy saving their fodder. Some are nearly through pulling.

MISSPATTIE WOOTEN ENTERTAINS

In Honor of Misses Hackney, Lovelace and Stevens, of Wilson.

Reported for Reflector.

Miss Pattie B. Wooten entertained most royally at her home on Fifth street Wednesday evening from 8:30 to 11:30 in honor of Misses Sudie Hackney, Edwina Lovelace and Martha Stevens, of Wilson.

As the guests arrived they were received at the front door by Miss Pattie Wooten with Tom Hutchings, and Miss Martha Stevens with Willie Wilson. At the parlor they were received by Miss Sudie Hackney with Tom Gorman, and Miss Edwina Lovelace with Carl Wilson. The hall was beautifully decorated with nasturtiums, and the parlor with clematis. When all the guests arrived they were presented with a paper containing fifteen comparisons of things to flowers and each one was the name of a flower. Several had correct papers and cut for the prize, those being Rubelle Forbes, Hilda Critcher, Oscar Greene, Carl Wilson, Mary Lucy Dupree, Ruth Cobb, Alexander Harper, Tom Hutchings, Jesse Harrington, Essie Whichard, Willie Wilson, Edward Hearne, Myrtle Warren, Allie Estelle Greene and Percy Forbes, Willie Wilson cutting the joker, which was the highest card, was presented with a beautiful tie, which in turn he gave to Miss Martha Steyens.

There were three guests of honor prizes, which were presented to Miss Sudie Hackney, Miss Edwina Lovelace and Miss Martha Stevens.

Later on delicious refreshments were served, which were enjoyed by all present. The guests then departed to the many cozy corners of this beautiful and magnificent dwelling, where several games of cards were enjoyed.

As the guests departed they declared that they had not been entertained so royally before. They also declared Miss Wooten a most charming hostess and Misses Lovelace, Hackney and Stevens most charming guests of honor.

Baptist Baraca Class.

The Baraca class was opened Sunday morning with prayer by Prof. Wilson. President Flanagan had a few appropriate words of encouragement for the class, urging a vigorous move for better attendance. Dr. Bryan was at his best, and gave a most instructive and impressive view of the lesson, showing the life of Paul as one of the most influential on the present teachings of the Bible, presenting examples worthy of imitation for our generation.

All of the boys who are seeking the shade and sea breezes and absenting themselves, are missing one of the best series of Bible study. The class voted a contribution for a memorial window and a committee was appointed to collect same, with Secretary Thomas as chairman. Present 41, collections $1.80.

Mrs. Z. T. Broughton made a very favorable report of the Sunday school carried on a few miles west of town, which is coming on nicely. We want a full class next Sunday.

NEWS AND OBSERVER QUOTES WRONG ARTICLE.

The Raleigh News and Observer of the 18th has quite a long editorial in answer to a criticism The Reflector made in an article previously appearing in that paper. In undertaking to maintain its position The News and Observer also quotes an article from its issue of August 6th purporting to be the one The Reflector criticized and thinks this paper did The News and Observer an injustice in saying it contained an incendiary utterance. But if The News and Observer will turn back just one day further and look in its issue of August 5th, it will find these words:

"The Greenville Reflector says the tobacco market started off at prices ruling from 4 to 12 1-2 cents. It would be interesting if it would print how many pounds brought 12 1-2 cents and how many pounds less than five cents. At Winston-Salem the number of lbs. bringing the high price was very small and most of the new tobacco went for a song. The trust will take the crop for nothing unless a fire is built under it."

This is the article, and the only one, that The Reflector has criticized, and if the last sentence of it does not tend to incite incendiarism, then we must confess that we do not understand what it means.

Let's do Something.

The world is full of people who don't do all they can. The success of most successful men is checked by what other people don't do. There are multitudes of people still tied down by the hopeless indifference of the savage. Indifference is the cause of thousands of unsuccessful lives. Men are successful only as they rise above the indifference of ignorance, and the original savage state of man. There are thousands in every business who don't half try, who actually don't know anything about hustling.

Are you so aroused and enthusiastic that you can walk nine miles without feeling tired, that you can go out and sell goods or talk business to all kinds of people for hours without thinking of yourself? In your zeal for success, can you burn the midnight oil without feeling the need of sleep? Then you are no longer a stumbling block to others, no longer helpless. You have taken your place among men, and as you keep on and on, and on, and add to activity more activity, to your zeal more zeal, and to your faith more faith, then you will some day be a leader yourself.—Washington News.

A French scientist has discovered that persons are inclined to "doze" in church because of the devout attention they pay to the services. "In endeavoring to fix every word in the minds they put themselves into a sort of trance. It is about the same as what is called self-hypnotism, and the more closely one follows the minister the more likely he is to find himself unable to remain awake." May be, but we don't believe a word of it. Such persons have no doubt been eating too much as well as not sleeping enough during the week. Per force they are made to sit still and very naturally they "doze" off. But does not the fact that they can sleep in church show that they have a clear conscience? We once knew a very prominent man who could not sit still two minutes at a time when in church; he was forever twisting and squirming. A wag suggested that the sermon reminded him of the rascality he had been doing during the week and his conscience was hurting him.—Greensboro Record.

As a result of yesterday's elections on the dispensary in twenty-one South Carolina counties, four counties—Charleston, Richland, Aiken and Beaufort—voted to retain the dispensaries. Two other counties—Florence and Georgetown—may be added to the four wet counties by the official vote. Thus Charleston, Columbia and a few other spots in South Carolina, will have their liquor, but for how long? We have no idea that the prohibition agitation will be permitted to rest with yesterday's elections, nor are we at all confident that the counties that voted their wishes yesterday, will be permitted to do so again.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Atlanta sent out a report Tuesday, to the effect that Charleston had been destroyed by an earthquake, and much concern was created thereby, over South Carolina. A wind storm passed over Charleston that afternoon and wrecked the wires, cutting off communication temporarily, and this was the basis and the opportunity for the earthquake story. The love of a watermelon does not appeal half as fiercely to a nigger, as the love of a sensation appeals to Atlanta.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

THE STEALTHY TIGER.

When He Moves Quietly Death Does Not Seem More Silent.

I have seen a tiger, sitting up a hundred yards from me in the sunlight washing his face like a cat, move a couple of steps into the shade and fade away like the Cheshire cat in "Alice In Wonderland." But what is more extraordinary is that he can "move without some dry leaf or stalk crackling to betray" him. Often in a beat in the middle of the hot season the inexperienced sportsman's heart is in his mouth as he hears the crushing of a dead leaf, the slow, stealthy tread of what seems some heavy animal, but it is only "moa," the peacock, the first to move ahead of the beaters. Then after a period of strained watching, when the eye can and does detect the move of the tiniest bird, the quiver of a leaf, suddenly without a sound the great beast stands before you. He does not always care to move quietly, but when he does death is not more silent.

The question of how a white or otherwise abnormally marked tiger can take its prey is simplified by the fact that, as a general rule, the tiger kills at night or at dawn or dusk and that it is only the cattle killing tiger that takes his lordly toll of the village cattle by day. Again that wonderful voice, the most mournful sound in captivity, "which literally hushes the jungle and fills the twilight with horror," is a powerful aid to him in his hunting. Often as I have heard it the memory of one occasion is as vivid as the moment when it held me spellbound. I was stalking sambhur in the evening in a glade in the forest when suddenly, from not fifty yards above me, rang out a long, low, penetrating moan, which seemed to fill the jungle with a terrifying thrill and for a moment made the heart stand still. The native shikari, who, in spite of Mowgli's contempt, may know something of jungle ways, believes that the deer, hearing the tiger's voice and unable from the reverberating nature of the sound to locate the position of their enemy, stand or lie still and so give him the chance of stalking his prey. There is probably some truth in this, for unless you are following the tiger and have seen him it is almost impossible from the sound alone to tell with any certainty where he is.—Algernon Durand in London Times.

Wasting Valuable Time.

An old farmer died in a little village in the neighborhood of Paris. His fortune, the fruit of years of patient toil, was invested in a nice compact little farm. A nephew of the departed, believing himself to be heir, called a few days later on the lawyer and before saying a word about the succession thought it only right and proper to shed a few tears.

"Poor uncle!" he murmured. "So kind, so affectionate—to think that I shall never see him again!"

The notary allowed the young man to give full vent to his sorrowful emotions, after which he quietly observed: "I suppose you are aware that your uncle has left you nothing?" "What!" exclaimed the nephew, suddenly changing his tone. "I'm not down in the will? Then why on earth did you let me stand weeping there and making a fool of myself for a good half hour?"—Paris Journal.

Scotch Craft.

A drunken man was once lodged in the cell of a Scotch country police station, when he made a tremendous noise by kicking the cell door with his heavy hobnailed boots.

The constable who had charge of the police station, going to the cell door, opened it a little and said: "Man, ye might pit off yer' butts, and I'll gie them a bit rub, so that ye'll be respectable like when ye come up afore the bailie the morn."

The prisoner, flattered at the request, at once complied and saw his mistake only when the constable snut the door upon him, saying coolly:

"Ye can kick awa' noo, my man, as lang as ye like."

New York's First Ferry.

The first ferry by means of which the dwellers on the other side of the East river visited their brethren in Manhattan was a square ended scow rigged with mast and sails. The fare charged for a horse was 1 shilling, and a wagon cost 5. This ferry was in operation in 1735, and three-quarters of a century passed before it was improved upon. The improvement consisted of a horse boat, a twin boat with a wheel in the center, propelled by a horizontal treadmill worked by horses. This was an eight-horsepower boat, which crossed the river in from twelve to twenty minutes. Then came the first steam ferryboat in 1822.

The Point of the Pin.

Mechanically the interviewer droned out his well worn questions. "And now, Sir William, did you get your start in life?"

"I got my start in life, young man," said the pork merchant, "through picking up a pin in the street. I had been refused employment by a butcher, and on my way out I saw a pin. I"—

"Quite so!" chimed in the seasoned interviewer. "You picked it up, the butcher was impressed by your carefulness, called you back and took you into partnership. I know that pin so well!"

"Excuse me," broke in the pork venter, "but you proceed too fast. I saw the pin and picked it up—quite true. But I sold it for £100. It was a diamond pin."—London Mail.

The Job He Wanted.

"Dear Sir," said an applicant for a position to the secretary of the treasury, according to the Saturday Evening Post, "I am very anxious to obtain remunerative employment in the treasury department. While my educational advantages do not qualify me for any of the higher places, I could fill one of the minor places to advantage, and I respectfully apply for the position of chief cuspidorian of the department."

The letter went to the assistant secretary for reply, and he wrote as follows:

"Dear Sir—I regret very much that nothing can be done for you. There is no such place as chief cuspidorian. You have coined the word, but I cannot coin the job."

It is best to profit by the madness of others.—Pliny.

Mermaids and Mermen.
The dugong, a species of whale found abundantly in the waters of both the great oceans, but especially off the coast of Australia, in the Pacific, is believed to have furnished the slender basis upon which all mermaid and mermen stories have been founded. Its general length is from eight to twenty feet. It has a head much resembling that of the human species and breathes by means of lungs. It feeds upon submarine beds of seaweeds and when wounded makes a noise like a mad bull. Long hair in the female species and hair and beard in the male add to the human resemblance of the head and neck. The flesh of this species of whale is used for food and is said to have the flavor of bacon, mutton or beef, according to the parts of the body from which the meat is taken.

"Gone to the Devil."
"Gone to the devil" has nothing satanic in its history. It has been traced to a tavern in Fleet street, London, known by the sign of the "Devil and St. Dunstan." As it supplied good food and drink, it had a large clientele and was called the "Devil" for short. "Gone to the Devil," read a notice at many an office when the occupants went to dinner. Unhappily some went there too often and stayed too long,
until at last when their patrons left them "Gone to the devil" became a synonym for the neglect or the loss of their business.
