AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Aug. 20, 1909.

Miss Onnie McGlohon gave an ice cream social Wednesday night in honor of Miss Nina Webber, of Graingers station, who is visiting her.

F. C. Harding, of Greenville, was in town Monday on legal business.

Our merchants and other business men are expecting good trade as Wade, the artist, continues to paint beautiful signs for them. He is an artist of fine taste.

Rev. J. R. McCaskey returned Monday from Pamlico county where he has been conducting a series of meetings.

What does it require to be entitled to the name "Gate City?" If the number of yard gates standing open on the sidewalks count for anything, Ayden, and especially Lee street, would out rival Greensboro any day.

Now is the time to sow turnips, rutabagas and plant fall Irish potatoes.

Miss Fannie Hardee, of Greenville is visiting in town.

School opens at the Baptist Seminary on September 23rd. The premises are being beautified, and a pump of good water awaits the happy girls and boys.

Miss Callie Holt, of State Normal, spent Tuesday night with Misses Ida and Annie Edwards.

It looks like business to see a mowing machine cutting off the streets. Mr. W. F. Hart has cut the weeds from the intersection of Second and Blount to the Baptist church.

Our clever postmaster, Mr. Geo. Prescott, reminds us of the Governor of South Carolina who planted the capitol ground in corn. Mr. Prescott has the rear of the government building converted from a tennis court into a potato patch.

We are glad to see the sprightly editor of the Free Will Baptist out again. He has been "hors de combat" of late.

During the tobacco sales J. M. Dixon is as earnest as the small boy digging fishing worms.

John Kirkman, of Craven county, was in town Wednesday with the finest melons of the season.

Students are arriving for the opening of school at the seminary their session promises to be a full one.

A party of young folks drove out to Rountree church last night. Those who went were: Ollen Cannon with Miss Blanche Cannon, H. A. Munford with Miss Alice Caraway, W. E. Tingle with Miss Alice Baker.

Dr. W. H. Dixon, of Edwards, is spending a few days with Dr. Joseph Dixon.

Two young men who have been painting signs in Ayden made an attempt to leave town Wednesday with intent of jumping board bills. Mr. Carter, to whom the board was due, went immediately after them, caught them in Grifton, brought them back to Ayden, where they were given a trial and let off by remaining here at work until the bill is paid.

E. R. Kerr, of Washington, D. C. was in town Monday. His mission was to improve the fishing industry of eastern Carolina.

Mrs. T. R. Gee, who has been visiting her parents, returned to her home in Kinston last night.

George Worthington reports that he has J. F. Barwick's windmill ready for pumping.

We are very glad to see Miss

Delightful Reception.

On Tuesday evening the elegant home of Mrs. A. Mitchell was a scene of splendor, when her daughter, Miss Hazel, entertained in honor of her guests, Misses Lillian Burch and Hennie Whichard, of Greenville, who have been visiting at her home for the past week.

For the occasion the home had been tastefully decorated while the porch, lighted with Japanese lanterns, and with the addition of roses and potted plants, presented a most beautiful scene.

Progressive proposal constituted the game of the evening, and games were in no way lacking. The prize, a hand painted fan, was won by Miss Whichard, of Greenville, while Mr. Coffin having proved the most successful in his proposals was awarded a beautiful tie.

Vocal and instrumental music was charmingly rendered by Misses Burch, Harper, Penny and W. C. Bass.

Mrs. S. C. Sitterson received at the door and welcomed the guests into the north parlor. In the receiving line were the Misses Mitchell, Burch and Whichard.

Miss Mitchell in her own usual graceful manner, assisted by Mr. Coffin, presided over the punch bowl in the spacious reception hall. The guests were then ushered into the dining room where delicious refreshments were served, carrying out the color scheme of pink and white. —Kinston Free Press.

Tidings from Absent Pastors.

A letter from Rev. J. B. Cook, pastor of Memorial Baptist church, who is on a month's vacation in Virginia, says that for about a week after reaching his destination he was very sick, but has since improved and is getting to be himself again. His friends at home are very sorry that he has been sick, but glad that he is now improving.

A card from Rev. B. F. Huske, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, who is also away on a vacation, says he is having a fine time up in the State of New York and will go to the Adirondacks next week.

Both these absent pastors will return the first of September, and look forward with pleasure to being again with the people they serve.

Located in Greenville.

Wells Browne, formerly of Elizabeth City, has moved to Greenville to engage in the business of paper hanging and interior decorating. He has had many years experience and is a professional in this line. Mr. Browne will occupy the new Higgs triangle building on Dickinson avenue and will carry samples and stock of wall papers and decorations there. Greenville offers a good field for this line of work, and Mr. Browne's establishment will prove a convenience to those needing his services.

Annie Dixon home again.

Misses Olivia Berry and Nancy Coward left Monday for Morehead City.

Misses Lee and Nannie Nichols returned yesterday from a visit to her old home.

Mrs. Agnes Blount and two children, Jack and Esther, spent a few days this week at their old home.

MISSSES JOHNSON ENTERTAIN.

In Honor of Their Guest, Miss Clara Lincoln, of Greensboro.

Reported for The Reflector.

Never was there a crowd of young people gathered together and entertained with more grace and cheerfulness than at the home of Misses Nannie and Mary Johnson, in South Greenville, Thursday night from 8:30 to 12, in honor of their guest, Miss Clara Lincoln, of Greensboro.

The guests began arriving soon after 8 o'clock and were met at the door by Misses Mary Johnson and Clara Lincoln, who upon receiving them pinned little red hearts on the coat lapel of each young man. From thence they were escorted to the spacious parlor where each was made to feel at home and at ease by the gracious hospitality of Miss Nannie Johnson, who infused her habitual cheerfulness in every one and soon there were about thirty five jolly merry-makers present.

After all had come cards containing ten subjects for progressive conversation were distributed to the young men who then proceeded to make engagements. Fifteen minutes were allowed for this and then the bell was rung for the conversations to begin, changing every ten minutes at the instance of the bell.

At 11 o'clock the conversations were finished and the prize—a beautiful set of gold pins, was then awarded by Mr. B. F. Taylor in behalf of the hostesses to Miss Clara Lincoln, the successful contestant in a very tasteful manner.

Refreshments consisting of cream and cake were then served after which all continued to make merry until 12 o'clock when two by two the guests began to depart for their homes, each in turn expressing regrets at the hours having passed so rapidly and thanks to the hostesses for their exceeding hospitality of the evening, also expressing thanks and well wishes to Miss Lincoln, the charming guest of honor.

MARKET OPENS TOO EARLY.

Should Not Begin Until September—Prospects Point to Better Prices.

Editor Reflector:

I noticed in your paper of the 17th an article from "Aunt Winnie" that coincides very closely with my own ideas. I have been an advocate for 15 years of opening sales September 1st. I believe planters would not be in quite as big a hurry to crop their tobacco and would house less green tobacco. I believe more thin tobacco is due to leaving suckers on tobacco than any other one cause, and it would improve the grade of tobacco more and cause it to sell higher if properly suckered. "Aunt Winnie" referred to a circular letter sent out by the manager of the Consolidated Tobacco Co. which was a'right about topping and priming tobacco, and should have been heeded.

She might also have referred with propriety to another circular sent out two years ago this fall during the time of the panic by the same gentleman laying claim to putting up the price of tobacco by sending an intelligent committee north to interview the leading tobacco manufacturers and thus putting many thousands of dollars in the farmers pockets. It would have been a most excellent suggestion to say, why not send another intelligent committee at once and put up prices again, "now is the accepted time."

Yes there are several good reasons why sales should begin Sept. 1st, instead of August 1st. By that time it is cooler and tobacco can be taken care of better, also buyers would be in better shape with orders and the market would move off with more regularity and it would have a tendency to put a stop to a great deal of the talk that is going on today. I yet think prices will be much higher later on and that this crop will sell more satisfactory than is now anticipated, in fact prices are already some better and indications point to still better figures.

J. R. Hutchings.

New North Carolina Industries.

The new industries started in North Carolina during the week ending August 18th, are reported as follows by the Chattanooga Tradesman:

Salisbury—$125,000 fair association.

Winston-Salem—Railroad company.

Laurinburg—$25,000 auto. supply company.

Leaksville—$125,000 construction company.

Greensboro—$100,000 development company.

Charlotte—$20,000 cotton batting factory; $10,000 printing company.

Wilson—$300,000 cotton mill.

Hendersonville—Electric railroad company.

Stamp Cancelling Machine.

The business of the Greenville postoffice has grown so large that the government has provided Postmaster Flanagan with a cancelling machine to facilitate the handling of letters. By the aid of this machine mail can be handled much more rapidly, and be an advantage to both outgoing and incoming mails. In supplying the machine the government recognizes the importance of the Greenville office.

Resolutions of Respect.

As it has pleased Almighty God to call to his reward the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Tunstall, be it resolved:

1. That it is the sense of Magnolia Camp (Woodmen) No. 218, Greenville, N. C., that the bereaved parents have lost a loving little boy.

2. That we feel deeply the sorrow that has come over the entire family in the sudden and unexpected death of their dear child.

3. That the deepest sympathy of the entire Camp is hereby extended to our fraternal Brother and his loving companion, and all the relatives in their hour of sorrow.

4. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes and a copy sent to Mr. and Mrs. Tunstall.

Blind Tiger Captured Near Bethel.

Saturday night about 2 o'clock Sheriff L. W. Tucker and two deputies, R. Hyman and W. L. Tucker, made a raid near Bethel and captured a large blind tiger. It was on J. C. Taylor and brother's place and run by Henry Staton, the occupant of the house. He was arrested in the act of selling. The sheriff says he found him well fitted up for handling liquor; that it looked like he had been running a regular saloon for quite a while. Besides a quantity of whiskey taken they found 17 very large jugs, five barrels and one keg, which had been recently emptied. The prisoner was brought to Greenville Sunday morning and placed in jail to await trial.

FRIDAY, AUG. 20, 1909.

The world is all right, but the trouble is that so many people in it are wrong.

Seven West Point cadets being dismissed for participating in a hazing, sets an example that State colleges might follow.

A hot wave swept the entire South the last few days. At some places in Texas the temperature went as high as 114 degrees.

The man who wants to think somebody else is responsible for all his ills, should first look carefully to see if the blame does not lay at his own door.

We are unable to see how "roasting" the trust, or anybody else, is going to make sorry tobacco for which there is no demand bring any better price.

From a distance the primary squabble over in Virginia looks like it might be going to come mighty close to giving that State a Republican governor. Discussions inside a party do not help it.

The Pittsboro Record, edited by Maj. H. A. London, has completed its thirty-first year. The Record has always been an excellent weekly paper under Major London's guidance and is a credit to the State.

The naval court of inquiry has "whitewashed" the three officers who killed Sutton. Perhaps the court thought it better to do this for the reputation of three living men than to remove a stain cast upon the memory of one dead man.

The good roads question is one that should get uppermost in the minds of the people and stay uppermost until good roads are a reality everywhere. Bad roads are a burden and hindrance to the people, and imposes a heavy indirect tax on them.

Taxes on Corporations.

If the corporations in this country think they are being too heavily taxed by Federal and State governments they should take a look at conditions in Germany. Every time the government there is in need of more revenue it devises a new plan for taxation of corporations. And Germany is not alone in this policy.

A fair sample of how Germany taxes corporations was given not long ago when the manager of a great German coal and iron company stated that his company paid in taxes of all kinds last year a sum equal to 54 per cent. of the amount distributed in dividends among its shareholders. Germany has a special fondness for taxing such corporations as have their securities listed on the stock exchanges and makes them pay heavily. It was proposed at one time this year to place a special tax, in addition to that already imposed, Kidney Troubles Attack Greenville Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quickly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years—Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman or child. Is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—

Cure all forms of kidney suffering. Greenville testimony proves it. Miss Susan Kai sul, 53 N. Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I derived great benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills and take pleasure in recommending them. For some time I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and had distressing pains through my loins. My kidneys were very weak and the frequent passages of the secretions caused me great annoyance. My back pained me severely and when first arising in the morning I was so lame and sore that I could scarcely get around. I at length procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Wooten's drug store and through their use I was entirely relieved of these troubles. The fact that my kidneys have given me no trouble since leads me to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills most highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

on listed-stocks of such corporations, the assessment being in proportion to the value of the securities. When it was shown that this tax on the Deutsche Bank, which has a capital of $48,000,000, would amount to $330,000 budget-makers thought best to abandon that plan and adopt some other. Stocks now pay a tax of three per cent on enlistment.

What an outcry—and properly so—there would be in this country if the Federal government should undertake to impose anything like such taxes.—Charlotte Observer.

Might Mean Much.

Judge Connor has signed the auxiliary order authorizing the foreclosure sale of the Norfolk & Southern railway. The report now comes from Raleigh that railroad men expect the Norfolk & Western to take over the Norfolk & Southern including its principal holdings in North Carolina, the A. & N. C., and the Raleigh and Pamlico Sound. The southern and the Seaboard are not eligible as bidders and the Coast Line is not to be counted upon to bid. Should the Norfolk and Western take over the Norfolk and Southern important developments would likely follow, and it is entirely possible that they would mean much for eastern North Carolina.—Kinston Free Press.

The cotton and peanut crops of North Carolina are estimated to bring about thirty-eight million dollars annually. This is pretty good, especially so, if all this money was kept at home, but not so, for we are told that over twenty million dollars of this amount goes out for fertilizers every year. These figures are just alarming when we stop to think of them. Add to this the amount sent out of the State for meat, lard, corn, flour, hay, etc., and see what we are doing and for whom our farmers are working. We ought to be a seller instead of a buyer. When we do this there will be prosperity.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

ROCK SALT.

It Reveals to Us a Place Where Once a Sea Existed.

Salt under ground! It seems a strange thing at first to find salt among the rocks deep down in the earth. What does rock salt tell us? It reveals to us a place where once a sea existed. The water has since flowed away, leaving some salt behind. We know that ordinary salt exposed to the air soon gets damp and then becomes quite fluid, but rock salt away from air and sun keeps firm for ages.

Rock salt is found in various layers of the earth's crust. Some of the spaces of underground water are called "seas," but, in fact, large as they were, they often did not resemble the "seas" we have now, because they were much shallower. A few were fairly deep, however. Then, again, these ancient seas were sometimes so salty that no animal could live in them and only a few plants.

Such seas, in fact, were mostly "dead," and this accounts for the masses of salt deposited along their bottoms. But we find also signs of rough water in the numerous pebbles of the layer where the salt is found among hard red gravel and brown quartz.

Germany once had a tolerably deep sea, not very salt, and the bottom surface of it shows coral reefs. There are signs in it of great fishes armed with strong teeth, enabling them to crush the shellfish upon which they fed.

These swarmed below the sea in thousands. North England and the midlands have the Keuper beds, where the "seas" were always shallow and where we can trace the marks of raindrop filterings and sun cracks. The rock salt is often in a layer 100 feet thick. It is supposed that one part of these seas was separated from another part by a bar of sand, over which the waves topped only now and then.

In the cutoff sea evaporation went on through the ages, and of course a deposit of salt was formed, while the occasional overflow from outside replaced the water which had evaporated. But really this is not known for certain. It is only clear rock salt that contains the minerals we find in our present sea water—bromine, iodine and magnesium.

Generally this salt is not mixed with fragments of a different substance, but is in columns of rough crystals. Now and then there is found a layer of rock salt, with one of marl and shells under it, succeeded by rock salt again, showing that for a time a change had taken place.

Upon the land near these shallow salt seas lived some singular animals, unlike those of our earth in the later centuries of its history. There were remarkable reptiles belonging to the frog or batrachian family. One of the species was the size of a small ox, with peculiar complicated teeth and feet which left prints on the earth so exactly like the impressions of the human hand that geologists gave it a Latin name, meaning "the beast with the hand." Another strange creature was a sort of lizard with a horny bill and feet resembling those of the duck. It had somewhat the appearance of a turtle, it is supposed. Then there were some warm blooded animals about the size of a rat, which had pouches in their cheeks and preyed upon small insects. — St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

MERELY AN EYE WASH.

The Chemical View of Tears Differs From the Poetical View.

Tears have their functional duty to accomplish, like every other fluid of the body, and the lachrymal gland is not placed behind the eye simply to fill space or to give expression to emotion.

The chemical properties of tears consist of phosphate of lime and soda, making them very salty, but never bitter. Their action on the eye is very beneficial, and here consists their prescribed duty of the body, washing thoroughly that sensitive organ, which allows no foreign fluid to do the same work. Nothing cleanses the eye like a good salty shower bath, and medical art has followed nature's law in this respect, advocating the invigorating solution for any distressed condition of the optics. Tears do not weaken the sight, but improve it. They act as a tonic on the muscular vision, keeping the eye soft and limpid, and it will be noticed that women in whose eyes sympathetic tears gather quickly have brighter, tenderer orbs than others. When the pupils are hard and cold the world attributes it to one's disposition, which is a mere figure of speech implying the lack of balmy tears that are to the cornea what salve is to the skin or nourishment to the blood.

The reason some women weep more easily than others and all more readily than the sterner sex has not its difference in the strength of the tear gland, but in the possession of a more delicate nerve system. The nerve fibers about the glands vibrate more easily, causing a downpour from the watery sac. Men are not nearly so sensitive to emotion. Their sympathetic nature—that term is used in a medical sense—is less developed, and the eye gland is therefore protected from shocks. Consequently a man should thank the formation of his nerve nature when he contemptuously scorns tears as a woman's practice. Between man and monkey there is this essential difference of tears—an ape cannot weep, not so much because its emotional powers are undeveloped as the fact that the lachrymal gland was omitted in his optical makeup—Exchange.

She—I can't bind myself until I'm sure. Give me time to decide, and if six months hence I feel as I do now I will be yours. Ardent Adorer—I could never wait that long, darling. Besides, the courts have decided that dealing in futures without the actual delivery of the goods is gambling pure and simple.—Puck.
