Miss Elise Vincent, of Greenville, is visiting Miss Magdaline Cox.

Clarence Vincent has accepted a position with G. Tucker & Co. F. Tripp, of the U. S. Army, is spending a few days at home.

C. T. Cox left Tuesday morning for Raleigh.

F. A. Edmundson and C. T. Cox went to Shelmerdine Sunday.

Mr. Turnage has completed the deep well on Main street and is now at work on one at the girls' dormitory.

Miss Annie Carroll is visiting Miss Venetia Cox.

Rev. Mr. Moore, of Kinston, preached here at the Free Will Baptist church Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

Miss Bertha Carroll left Tuesday for Raleigh, where she will attend Meredith College this session.

Miss Kate Chapman has returned from a visit in the country.

Dr. E. L. St. Claire, of Edison, Ga., will begin a series of meetings here at the Free Will Baptist church tonight. Everybody come and take part in these meetings.

Eugene Cannon has resumed his work in the office of the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

Miss Maud Holiday left Monday for Baltimore, where she will purchase a fall stock of millinery goods for Mrs. E. F. Tucker.

Those attending the house party at Mrs. E. E. Cox's went out on a hay ride Monday night. The night was an ideal one, the air seemed laden with fun and all greatly enjoyed this feature, as well as the many other pleasant ones of the week. The party broke up yesterday. Those present were Misses Roland and Lena Cobb, of Conetoe; Irene Smith, of Farmville; Mary Cutler, of Washington; Bettie Council, of Oak City; and Hugh Smith, of Farmville; C. J., and D. R. Jackson, of Winterville and Henry Langston, from near Winterville.

Miss Mimie Cox and R. T. Cox went to Ballards' X Roads yesterday.

School begins next Monday, Prof. Nye informs us that he is expecting a fine opening, a large number of students having already secured rooms and more inquiries coming every day. Recent work on the grounds and buildings has put everything in readiness and added much to the convenience and beauty of the place.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our many friends of Winterville for their great kindness to us during the recent affliction and death in our home. Surely we have realized what it means to live among friends, and may Heaven's richest blessings be yours.

Most sincerely,

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cox.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

Whereas it hath pleased God in His allwise Providence to remove by death from our midst the beloved mother of Brother Eugene Cannon, one of

PIERCE'S SCHOOL HOUSE ITEMS.

Pierces School House, Aug. 31. Guy Sumrell and sister, Miss Gay, went to Greenville, Friday and returned Sunday.

Revs. C. B. Mashburn and Cecil Outlaw's meeting has closed at Rountrees with twenty-five additions. It was the best revival that has been at Rountrees for years.

Willie Britt, of Snow Hill, and sister Miss Catherine, stopped in the neighborhood Saturday and Sunday.

Joyner Wingate and son, Ollen, spent a few days last week with relatives near Black Jack and in Washington.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

Whereas, the Great Spirit has in his unerring wisdom taken from the home of our worthy brother, Matt Duke, his mother. Therefore, be it resolved,

1st. That we the members of Withlacoochee tribe No. 35, I. O. R. M. tender to Brother Duke the sincere sympathy of the tribe.

2nd. We would commend him to the care of the Great Spirit who doeth all things wisely, and will cheerish him through this sad hour.

3rd. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, a copy be sent to Brother Duke and a copy published in Daily Reflector.

AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Sept. 1, 1909.

Miss Mamie Thomas left Tuesday morning for her home in Stoneville, Va. She has been spending the summer in Ayden with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Glenn. Mrs. J. J. Gentry left Tuesday for her home in Winston-Salem. Dr. Jos. Dixon left Tuesday morning for Baltimore and other points north.

Mrs. Barnes Sumrell left this morning for Baltimore.

Misses Alice and Marion Hodges, who have been visiting Misses Blanche and Sudie May Cannon, left Monday for their home in Kinston.

Mrs. E. M. Davenport spent yesterday in Greenville.

Last Monday night quite a merry crowd came to our little town from the city of Winterville. We enjoyed their stay, though it was short, and hope that they will come another time and stay longer.

Mrs. Roscoe Fleming returned this morning from a visit in Grimesland.

For the past two evenings Dr. M. M. Sauls has been putting up signs one every way that leads out from Ayden. These signs tell people how far it is to Ayden.

Tull West, of Fort Barnwell, has taken a clerkship with J. J. Edwards & Son.

J. Mc. Dixon and D. G. Berry returned from a fishing tour yesterday with a fine lot of the finny tribe.

W. F. Hart and Henry Frizzelle are camping, hunting and fishing at Pitch Kettle this week.

The city fathers are having the memorable incorporated ditch cleaned out, and a brick culvert put in at the junction of Veaters and Second streets.

We regret to learn that W. J. Boyd is confined to his bed with rheumatism.

Raleigh Jackson, of Washington county, has moved his family to Ayden and occupies the Hart residence on West avenue.

Prof. W. H. Cale, of Grifton, was in town Tuesday preparing to move here. He will have charge of our graded school the coming session.

Mr. Mazingo, of Kenly, a former student of the Baptist Seminary is in town. He is now a clever hotelist and speaks very complimentary of his alma mater.

Lorenzo McLawhorn has purchased the vacant property adjacent to the Smithsonian park, and is placing timber on same for three neat, commodious dwellings.

Dr. J. William Taylor, of Greensboro, was in town last week looking after his real estate interests in this town. Dr. Taylor has by honesty, integrity, prudence and close application built him a large optical practice.

There was a large crowd in town Tuesday with tobacco and sold at satisfactory prices.

William Jones, one of the pioneers of Ayden, who moved his family from here last fall, returned last week and said truly "There's no place like home." We have never seen a more prosperous outlook for a pea and hay crop than the present one. Our people all saved their fodder, and next year can feed their stock at home.

We have seen the plans for the new M. E. church and when the building is completed will present a fine appearance.

ROCHDALE ITEMS.

Rochdale, N. C., Aug. 31, 1909.

Mrs. L. L. Meeks, of Falkland, came over last Tuesday evening to spend sometime at Mills Smith's with her sister, Mrs. Pattie F. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills Smith went to Norfolk Wednesday and returned Friday.

T. E. Little returned home from the Sunday school convention at Grifton and reports a very good time.

Miss Rosa D. Smith went to Norfolk Wednesday and returned Friday.

C. E. McLawhorn and Samuel Joyner went to the Hookerton Union meeting Saturday and returned Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Smith, of Marlton, came Saturday evening to take Miss Mattie Little to Farmville Thursday and returned Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Creek, of Lenoir Institute, were visiting at Ivy Smith's Saturday night and returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Starkey spent Sunday and Sunday night at Mills Smith's.

Rev. G. Hinton Crumpler came in Sunday evening to assist in the protracted meeting at Smith's school house this week, but had to go to Kinston this morning to attend to some business. He is expected back Wednesday night.

Rev. S. P. Spiegel, of Wilson, accompanied by Miss Harriet Settle, arrived Monday and are stopping at C. E. McLawhorn's.

There is much interest manifested in the meeting now in progress at Smith's school house. It is expected to continue until Sunday night. There will be services every day, except Saturday, at 11 o'clock a. m.

Miss Mattie Little and Miss Harriet Settle went to Haywood Smith's this morning.

KING'S CROSS ROADS ITEMS.

King's X Roads, Aug 31th.

Heber Jenkins and sister, Miss Carrie, of Bethel, visited Mrs. W. C. Mocre Tuesday.

H. T. Smith and sister, Miss Irene, spent sometime visiting friend in Winterville last week.

C. A. Smith was in our town Sunday. He is just back from Washington, D. C. and Baltimore.

W. C. Moore and wife spent Sunday in Falkland visiting their daughter, Mrs. J. F. Parker.

H. S. Tyson returned home from Raleigh and reported a pleasant trip.

W. E. Smith and family visited at Miss Lena Carroway Saturday and Sunday.

W. C. Moore and wife, L. B. Allen and Miss Effie Moore spent sometime at W. L. Mathews' Monday night.

R. L. Mathew and family, J. A. Mathews and family spent Sunday with Miss Betsy Matthews.

Our farmers are still holding their tobacco for higher prices. They say they will not sell at the present price.

The Archie Gun series of color studies of stage beauties being given away with the New York World has made a great success. The demand both in New York City and out of town for the past two Sundays has put copies of the Sunday World at a premium. With every copy of the Sunday World Magazine there are six beautiful panel photo size color prints of famous actresses—famed both for their beauty and their talent.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

WEDNESDAY, SEP. 1, 1909.

Won't you be my oyster?

Now you can look out for the oyster to get in the soup.

There are so many aviators now that a fellow can hardly keep up with them.

Pitt county is not going to have the good roads she ought to have until there is a bond issue of sufficient size to build them.

After a nightly search for fifty years, a Baltimore woman at last found a man under the bed. Some others may take hope at this.

Wilmington is certainly abreast with the airy notions now dominating the country. A company has been chartered there to manufacture flying machines.

One of the most fearful disasters of the year was the flood of the last few days that devastated much of the city of Monterey, Mexico, and many small towns near by. More than two thousand lives were lost and the property damage estimated between twelve and fifteen million dollars.

But nobody ever heard of pelagra until we had prohibition and maybe it is a lack of the essence of corn that is doing the business.—Durham Herald.

Come off, Joe! They say that this new fangled disease hunts mainly for women, and you know they are not effected by the absence of corn essence.

Judge O. H. Guion has made a host of friends among the people of Pitt county during his first visit here as a judge. That he is a good judge and dispatches business rapidly is shown by the record made. During the criminal term last week more cases were disposed of than has been noted in one week at any previous court. And the civil term this week is keeping right up with the calendar day by day. It is truly a busy court and no time is wasted.

Some time ago The Reflector tried to awaken interest in wheat growing and the establishing of roller mills for making it into flour. Now and then somebody says something to us about this and inquires if there is a prospect of securing such a mill in Greenville. Only a day or two ago a man from a distant section of the county said he and several of his neighbors would take stock in one located here. Pitt county has good lands for wheat growing, and farmers will be found ready to engage in its culture whenever they are assured of mills to grind it. This is an opportunity that Greenville should take advantage of, and not be long about it.

Supporting the Home Paper.
The New Bern Daily Sun is moved to say:
"There are concerns in New Bern who advertise in papers in other places who never carry a line in their home papers, and still these same ones are usually asking favors of their home papers, and the most apt to criticize and find fault."

Unfortunately what the Sun says is too true and it applies to more places than New Bern. Some of the citizens who do that mean well, or they think they do, and some will acknowledge their error if they are convinced of it while others will get huffy. We doubt not there are citizens of New Bern who think that New Bern ought to have a paper three times better than any there, but when they are pinned down it will be found that they neither subscribe to nor advertise in the paper. If all citizens were just like them New Bern would have no paper at all much less one that is as representative as those now in the field, endeavoring and hoping one day to develop into truly good newspapers.

A newspaper publisher makes just as good a newspaper as his receipts from subscriptions and advertisements will warrant him in making. It is always a publisher's ambition to get out a creditable sheet, but he can not do it on wind, and hot air certainly won't take the place of money to pay expenses.

The better a newspaper is supported, the better paper it will be. It represents just the amount of public spirit there is in a town, and sometimes it represents a good deal more.

Many a knocker of a daily paper couldn't get out a weekly sheet if one were turned over to him, but sometimes friendly critics make good suggestions which publishers appreciate and profit by. It is the citizen who wants to help you to build up that is a welcome kicker, but the fellow with a grouch and free advice that hasn't got anything in it and who doesn't show up any long green to pay for getting out the paper, is the individual that the publisher places on his list of undesirable citizens.

Some times it is a good idea to knock the knockers so they can see themselves as others see them. The man who subscribes and advertises in his home paper helps himself, helps his town, and helps the paper. The knocker should at least contribute something to a paper's assets before he undertakes to knock, or else he is doing business without a license.—Wilmington Star.

PRODIGAL WITH MONEY.

An Author Who Was Constantly In Financial Difficulties.

Of Robert Buchanan, an author whose books seem nowadays in a fair way to be forgotten, there are some interesting glimpses in Chambers' Journal. A friend says of him that he was a man who was constantly in difficulties in regard to money matters. He would have a pocketful of money one day and none at all the next. He "gave money away right and left to those who appealed to his sympathy," and he was absurd in generosity as regarded his friends. This particular friend says of this trait:

"I found it extremely difficult to get him to accept any money due to him for transactions undertaken for me. If I asked him, 'How much do I owe you, Bard?' he invariably answered in the same strain, 'Eight thousand five hundred and nineteen pounds four shillings and sevenpence,' or 'Give me half a million, and we will cry quits.' If we dined together casually, one, two, six of us, he invariably managed to get hold of the bill and pay it.

"This trick of his, of course, became familiar, and we seldom asked him to dinner unless we had arranged the matter beforehand with the powers that be. When he discovered that fact he would say: 'Oh, this is a duke's affair. All right, I expect to be treated as in a ducal mansion.' It was the same with cabs and trains. He was a large, stout man, but he had a curious faculty of reaching the cabman's hand or the ticket office before the slim-est of us.

"He was a confirmed turf speculator—a strange pursuit for a singer of songs and dreamer of dreams—and it need hardly be said he lost far more than he gained, but when he was successful—and occasionally his winnings were large—he always managed to find a means of sharing his good fortune with those less privileged than himself. One of his many methods of telling white lies was this: 'How are you, X? I owe you £20.' 'This is the first I have heard of it,' would likely be the reply. 'Oh, I took the liberty of putting a sovereign on King Charles for you, and he started at 20 to 1, and forthwith he handed over the money.'

English In Java.

A book published in Java, called "The West Java Travelers' Guide," says of a certain sanitarium: "At the establishment is a physician. The sick may invoke the physician for daily treatment, with use of medicaments. Children below ten years pay for lodges half of the price."

Under "Addresses and Announcements" is politely recommended "the hotel prigin, with occasion for warm baths, where till now all reconvalescents, as well as Mrs. Physicians and particulars and officials, have found back their health. Cures malaria, complains in the chest and other fatnesses, green sickness, cutaneous diseases," etc., and we are assured that "this healthy abode for reconvalescents has also occasion to many delightful idyllic excursions to which saddle horse and tandees are stationed when before timely ordered."

Not So Easy as He Looked.

The passenger train had halted in an isolated rural district on a summer afternoon. The "smart" young man aboard, who volunteered to furnish amusement for the passengers, discovered an awkward country lad sitting on a stump not far distant. Seizing the opportunity for some fun, he cried: "Hello, sonny! Do you live in these parts?" "Yaas," drawled the youth.

"Say, do you have any fools around here?"

"Nary one," came the response. "We sent for a carload last week, but wasn't lookin' for them yet."—Judge.

Kidney Troubles Attack Greenville Men and Women, Old and Young.

Kidney ills seize young and old. Come quietly with little warning. Children suffer in their early years—Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain.

Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. The cure for man, woman or child. Is to cure the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—

Cure all forms of kidney suffering. Greenville testimony proves it.

Miss Susan Kai sul, 5-3 N. Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I derived great benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills and take pleasure in recommending them. For some time I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and had distressing pains through my loins. My kidneys were very weak and the frequent passages of the secretions caused me great annoyance. My back pained me severely and when first arising in the morning I was so lame and sore that I could scarcely get around. I at length procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Wooten's drug store and through their use I was entirely relieved of these troubles. The fact that my kidneys have given me no trouble since leads me to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills most highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

OFFICERS' CHARADE.

One of the Company Was an Expert at the Game.

A general arrived from St. Petersburg in a garrison town in the interior of Russia to hold an inspection of the troops. After the review he stepped into the officers' mess room, where he noticed on the counter a row of bottles, to which, instead of usual labels, white tickets, with a single letter of the alphabet on each, were affixed. The bottles stood in rank and file and in alphabetical order.

"What does this mean?" the general asked the lieutenant who was showing him around.

"That is an officers' charade, your excellency," replied the officer, rather embarrassed.

The general continued his inquiries and elicited the following information: "Each bottle contains a different kind of liquor. At the meeting of the officers' club one of us mixes some of these varieties in a glass so that the initials spell a name, and the older and more experienced members of the club after tasting it guess what it is composed of and name the word intended."

"Very original idea," remarked the general. "And are you able to make a guess of that kind?"

"If it is your excellency's pleasure, I will try," the lieutenant replied.

The general went to the counter and mixed a glass, while the officer stood at the other end of the room with his face to the wall.

"Now, guess what this means," said the general as he handed the glass to the officer.

The latter drank it at one gulp, smacked his tongue and replied:

"That was 'Anna,' your excellency."

"Bravo!" exclaimed the general. "It requires a lot of practice, eh?"

"Your excellency, 'Anna' is easy enough, but there is a captain in our corps who can even guess 'Nehuchadnezzar!'"

An Astounded Parson.

Of a certain bishop, famous as being the plainest man in England, the following pleasing tale is told:

One day, as this homely parson sat in an omnibus, he was amazed by the persistent staring of a fellow passenger, who presently unburdened himself as follows:

"You're a parson, ain't you?"

"Well, yes, that is so."

"Look 'ere, parson, would you mind comin' 'ome with me to see my wife?"

Imagining the wife was sick and needing assistance, the clergyman, at great inconvenience to himself, went with the man. On arriving at the house the man shouted to his wife to come downstairs, and when she did so he pointed to the astonished parson and said, with a grin of delight:

"Look 'e 'ere, Sairy. Yer said this mornin' as I was the hughest chap in England. Now, just look at this bloke!"—London Illustrated

THE PICKERTS ARE FINE

They Delight the Audience at Every Performance.

About the best and most amusing comedy drama ever appearing in the opera house here was "Hello Bill" by the 4 Pickerts company Tuesday night. From the rising of the curtain on the first act to the finale it was filled with fun and interest, and the audience was delighted.

The Pickerts have a company of splendid actors, and they make good at every appearance. They work together beautifully.

The specialties were again fine, particularly those of Mr. Pickert and his three handsome daughters, Misses Lillian, Grace and Blanche. No more general favorites have appeared before a Greenville audience.

The bill for tonight is "The Captain's Double" a comedy that will be sure to please you.

We expect there will be a large attendance at the Pythian meeting tomorrow night as we have heard some of the members talking about ice cream and cigars, etc., at that time.
