AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Sept. 7, 1909.

Roy and Fountain Cox, of Winterville, were in town Monday.

H. C. Ormond and wife spent Sunday near Willow Green.

Our sign artists have mysteriously absconded, jumping their board bills, etc. They were only tramps after all.

C. K. Johnson has been wearing an over check on his nose of late. We interrogated and found him suffering excruciatingly with a boil.

George Smith, white, and Jim Whitfield, colored, were tried before Mayor Barwick Saturday night for robbing the express office here Thursday night. Whitfield turned state's evidence and implicated another negro named John Staton, who left here Friday morning, taking with him a dusky maiden named Loue Nobles. He bought tickets for Greenville then Tarboro and Rocky Mount, and the last heard from them were enroute to Richmond, and at this writing have succeeded in eluding the detective, Mr. Ames, who is on their trail. Staton is a one legged man, and an inveterate cigarette fiend.

J. Raymond Turnage tells us he has purchased some cotton to be delivered here Wednesday. Our cotton market is second to none. Our tobacco market is here to speak for itself.

We were exceedingly glad to shake hands with Prof. L. T. Rightsell, of LaGrange, Sunday. It refreshed within our bosom tender memories of the days of boyhood. He was the first principal of Carolina Christian college, and organized the Christian church in Ayden, and did many other good things here, assisted by his excellent wife. The fragrance of their memory still lingers with us. Prof. Rightsell filled Rev. Mr. Morton's pulpit Sunday morning and night in the Christian church.

There was a lively debate at the Baptist Seminary Wednesday night. The query was "Is it likely the world will be Christianized in the next fifty years?" Affirmative—Corbett, Jones and Smith. Negative—Goodman, Waters, Pastern. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative.

Labor has begun in the master degree on the tunnel at the crossing near tobacco town and across Lee street.

Guy Jones and sister are visiting their brother, J. C. Jones.

The singing Sunday night at the Christian church reminded us of the Shields-Highsmith meeting at the tabernacle here this summer. The music was exquisite.

W. M. Edwards is having the surplus trees in front of his dwelling uprooted which adds materially to its looks.

There is work in the initiatory degree at the Odd Fellows lodge next Monday night. All members are requested to attend.

Charlie Tucker and Miss Lula Tucker, of Greenville, spent Sunday with Mrs. W. J. Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carr, of Greene county, spent a few days last week with Mrs. Agnes Blount.

Miss Mary Holton left Monday for Wilson to enter A. C. College.

The United Brotherhood has lost another member, Mr. Heber Munford took unto himself Miss Alice Caraway.

A number of young ladies and men in and around Ayden left for

MANIA FOR CATALOGUE HOUSES.

Many People do Home Merchants and Themselves an Injustice.

It is passing strange how such a house as Sears & Roebuck can get such a hold on people as they do. These catalogue houses send out thousands of their books into the homes and have fancy pictures of their goods and glowing descriptions.

The strange part about it is, by the time the postage and express is paid on most if not all of the articles, that they cost as much if not more than the same goods would cost if bought from the home merchant.

Sears & Roebuck have no interest in our people. They do not pay any taxes for us. They do not help us to build our schools and churches. They will not give a cent to aid one of our sick people, not one cent to replace a poor man's home which may be burned. In short they have no interest in us except for the money they can get out of us.

Our home merchants are a part of us. They pay taxes, they support our churches and schools, they will aid those in distress, they will feed our poor and hungry and wait for their pay a reasonable time.

One of the meanest things a white man can do is to buy goods of his home merchant on a credit and when he gets $10 to spend, instead of buying the $10 article of the man who has helped him, and will sell the goods as cheap, still he will send that $10 off to a catalogue house.

Our home merchants are worthy of the home trade of our people and ought to have it, so long as they furnish the goods at prices equal to any of the catalogue houses when the quality is taken into consideration as well as the cost.—Catawba County News.

Standing Indian and Mount Mitchell.

The contention that by a recent survey, a mountain higher than Mount Mitchell had been found will not stand. There is no mountain in the Appalachians higher than Mount Mitchell, whose altitude is 6,712 feet, though Clingman's Dome is a good second, 6,619 feet. It was claimed that a mountain known as Standing Indian was found to be 300 feet higher than Mount Mitchell. It does not appear on the State map, but a relief map of the Southern Appalachian region, issued by the United States Geological Survey, shows that it is located in the southern part of Macon county, and its altitude is 5,562 feet. Standing Indian and his companions will now become sitting down Indians.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Big Averages at the People's Warehouse

It is a pleasure to state that prices have advanced on most all grades especially the ripe tobacco with body. My sales Monday averaged $9.09 per 100 pounds. A lot of my old trade is coming in and I am working hard to make new friends and harder to hold these. Try me with a load. I will sell it as high as any and higher than some.

Yours to serve,
C. R. Townsend, Manager.

their schools Monday morning.

Miss Lena Dawson has returned from a visit to Ayden.

We are very glad to see W. J. Boyd out again. He has been confined to his room sometime with rheumatism.

TWO OLD SOLDIERS GONE.

Comrades Robbins and Robeson Died at the Home.

Two more old veterans are gone from the ranks at the Soldiers' Home. Comrade Sparkey Robbins dying last night at 10 o'clock, and E. W. Robeson this morning at 3:00 o'clock.

Mr. Robbins was 67 years old. He came to the home from Edgecombe county, July 18, 1902. He belonged to Co. K, 15th regiment.

Comrade E. W. Robeson was from Moore county. He entered the home in August, 1908. He belonged to Co. K, 18th regiment. He was 67 years old also. The funeral services of both old soldiers will be held this afternoon from the Reid Memorial chapel, at 4:00 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. McC. White, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The interment will be in the Confederate cemetery.—Raleigh Times.

MRS. MOYE ENTERTAINS.

In Honor of Mrs. Parham, of Louisburg.

On Monday evening at her elegant home on Third street, Mrs. J. G. Moye delightfully entertained a number of friends at euchre and finch in honor of Mrs. S. J. Parham, of Louisburg, who is visiting her.

Upon arrival the guests were received by Mrs. Moye and Mrs. Parham, and were then invited to the back porch where punch was served, under Japanese lanterns, by Mrs. D. E. House and Mrs. Charles Laughinghouse.

There were several tables of both euchre and finch. The prize for the best score at euchre was won by Mrs. O. C. Gregory, and for the best score at finch by Mrs. J. A. Ricks. There was also a guest's prize awarded to Mrs. Parham, each of the prizes being a handsome piece of china.

The pleasures of the evening closed with serving dainty refreshments.

Dislocates Elbow.

The other day Miss Helen Grimes went out with several other little girls to get some grapes. Returning home they climbed on a passing dray to ride. Miss Helen fell off the dray and dislocated one of her elbows. We are glad to know she is getting along well with the injury.

Woman's Meeting.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. H. L. Carr Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Every member is earnestly requested to be present.

Private Boarding.

Miss Lou McCluer has taken charge of the residence of Mrs. James Burton Cherry, on Fifth street, and will conduct a first-class private boarding house, for permanent and table boarders. House furnished with hot and cold water and electric lights.

Four Generations.

Mr. J. R. Barnhill remarked to The Reflector Monday that four generations of his family are living. Mr. Barnhill himself is 61 years old, and his father, Mr. Theophilus Barnhill, is 82. His oldest daughter, Mrs. Charles McGlohorn, is 40, and his oldest grandchild is 19.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Have Much Routine Business to Transact.

At their regular meeting Monday the Board of County Commissioners had much regular business to transact in allowing orders and settling expenses of court.

The completed tax lists for the year 1909 were turned over to the board and were passed on to the sheriff for collection.

The county road crew was ordered to be removed at an early day to Greenville township to assist in the work of building the street and road to the training school grounds.

A petition was presented from citizens of Pactolus township asking that they be allowed to go ahead with work on roads in that township without waiting for the county convict crew. The petition was granted and $150 was allotted to that township and authorized to be expended on the roads.

THE TODD SHOW.

Played to Capacity Tent Last Night—Everybody Pleased.

The William Todd vaudeville show give their first performance in our city last night to a packed tent. At least four hundred people were refused admission on account of no room.

The show is one of the best that has ever visited Greenville, regardless of price, which is only ten cents to everybody. Mr. Todd himself is a very clever performer. Jack Owens, the black face comedian, deserves mentioning, as his work kept the large audience in a roar of laughter.

The orchestra is the best we've heard here, playing all standard and popular numbers. Taking the show as a whole it is well worth three times the admission charged. There will be a new program nightly. The doors open at 7:30, performance starts at 8:30 sharp.

Fire Companies Unite.

For sometime past Greenville has had two white fire companies, Hope and Volunteer. Hope was the first company organized, but at one time practically disbanded and the Volunteer started. Hope later re-organized, and since then the two companies existed. Looking to a union of the companies and an improvement of the fire department, the members of Volunteer company made application for membership in Hope company, and this union having been made the Volunteer company will cease to exist.

Opera House Tonight.

By special request of the patriotic ladies of Greenville, Aronson & Browne will repeat the famous picture "Washington Under the British Flag" in their show at the opera house tonight. They will also have Mr. Whitten sing the illustrated song "Where the Southern Roses Grow." Come out, see and hear the best.

School of Music.

The department of music at the Greenville graded schools will again be in charge of Miss Olive B. Gaston, of Syracuse University, New York. Persons desiring to enroll for lessons should call on or write the superintendent before the opening of the graded school. H. B. Smith, 8 26 tf Superintendent.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

C. V. York went to Tarboro today.

F. G. James went to New Bern today.

Mrs. S. M. Schultz left this morning for Norfolk.

Miss Maria S. Hardy, of Roanoke, Va., is visiting Miss Ward Moore.

Mrs. R. L. Humber and children have returned from Beaufort where they spent the summer.

Herbert Waldrop, of Hendersonville, is here visiting his sisters, Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mrs. Zebo Brown.

Mrs. Pattie Winsted, of Rocky Mount, who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. King, returned home this morning.

Misses Leila and Neva Flowers, of Cash Corner, Craven county, who are enroute to attend school in Wilson, stopped here Monday evening to spend a day or two with Miss Mary Smith.

PITT COUNTY TAXABLES.

List for 1909 Completed—Comparison With List for 1908.

The completed tax lists for the year 1909 as compiled by the several township list takers and summarized by the register deeds make the following showing:

Number of polls, white 3,120, colored 2,693, total 5,813.

Real and personal property, white $6,049,483, colored $352,952, total $6,402,435. Corporations $2,386,874, making grand total of taxable property $8,789,309.

For 1908 the list was as follows:

Polls, white 3,057, colored 2,571, showing an increase in 1909 for white of 63 and colored 122, total increase 185.

Real and personal property, white $5,960,937, colored $365,697, showing an increase in 1909 for whites of $88,546 and a decrease in colored of $12,745. Corporations $2,340,104, an increase in 1909 of $46,770, a total grand increase in 1909 of $122,571.

After the first of September 1908, there were listed before the commissioners 182 polls and $139,170 in real and personal, so it cannot be told yet whether the increase of the regular listing in 1909 is due to the double tax penalty for non-listing making the people list better, or if there is yet much to be listed before the commissioners. There may or may not be as much unlisted polls and property the first of this September as there was a year ago. At any rate the actual listing shows a good increase of both polls and property over last year.

Last of the Season.

There will be an excursion from Walstonberg to Norfolk on Wednesday Sept. 22, returning Sept. 23. Round trip $2.25. It will make connections with A. C. L.

When he gets back home Dr. Cook will be in much demand by the lecture bureaus.

We have seen no account of what Walter Wellman thinks of Dr. Cook finding the pole.

Now comes the news that Commodore Peary has also found the North Pole. It is to be hoped that he and Dr. Cook will not get into a squabble over it.

Pitt county farmers should bear in mind the fact that Congressman Small has arranged for a farmers' educational meeting to be held in Greenville on next Monday, 13th. Such meetings are intended to benefit the farmers, but the benefit will be lost unless they attend.

A gentleman in Virginia is corresponding with parties here relative to establishing a steam laundry in Greenville. We do not know a more inviting location for an enterprise of this kind, and one that would do general household laundrying at a reasonable price would be well patronized.

People may cry hard times, plead poverty, and put up all kinds of excuses for not paying bills, but they usually find money for pleasure. Let a show come along, an excursion be run, or some luxury wanted, and it does not seem so hard for people to get money for these things. If the same interest was shown in paying bills there would be better times in all branches of business. Paying the man who has given you credit should have first consideration, and then give indulgence to pleasures afterward.

Cost of Living.

In an editorial on the cost of living the New York World says: "Without impugning the accuracy of the bureau of labor's 'relative prices of commodities,' published by the World yesterday, the figures can not measure the actual rise in the cost of living from 1897 to 1908. An increase of 37 per cent. only in the price of all commodities does not begin to state the actual situation of the consumer. Still, the figures do follow the tendency of prices. They reveal the huge revolution which has come about in the control of industry in the last fifteen years. In 1893 we had a panic. Prices had begun to fall in 1891, when it was foreseen. By 1894 the statistical average of prices was 14.8 'points,' or say 15 per cent. below the boom year, 1890. Prices remained low for five years, showing at the bottom a decline of more than one-quarter. The panic was cured by natural means. People who needed money sold their goods cheap, and purchases were stimulated. At least, men out of work for a time could live cheaply. How different the course of the panic of 1897! In the interval the trusts had grown to giant size and the law of supply and demand had, we were told, given place to benevolent industrial dictatorship. The steel trust for months held up prices to its own loss and the general disadvantage. The big glass makers held the little ones in line. Lumber could not decline much because under high tariffs we have cut nearly all our trees. Food and clothing rose in cost. And the stated prices of all commodities averaged ten points higher in 1908, in the profound depression after the panic, than they were in the boom year 1890. Twenty years of progress and invention had gone for naught. Processes were cheaper but prices were higher. It was costing much more to live in 1908, when a vast army of honest and industrious men were out of work, than in 1890, when all were employed. And all that we had to compensate us for this manifest lowering of the conditions of general prosperity was a sheaf of vast and sudden fortunes whose vulgar and profligate display amazed the world."—The Commoner.

For the first two months of the new fiscal year the United States treasury deficit, including Panama Canal expenditures, is $30,661,407, as compared with $31,370,082 for the same period last year, although the government's receipts have been nearly $15,000,000 larger than last year. The Roosevelt policy of extravagance, as exemplified in the appropriation bills passed by congress last spring, promises to embarrass Mr. Taft for a long time to come.—New York World.

Nothing could be more gratifying than the present prosperous condition of agriculture. The cotton States seem particularly blessed. There appears to be nothing abnormal about the price of cotton and there would seem to be every prospect of continued reasonable prices for this year and a long time to come.—Charlotte Chronicle.

DYSPEPSIA?

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

RECKONING TIME.

The Sexagesimal System, Which Was Used In Babylonia.

Why is the hour divided into sixty minutes, each minute into sixty seconds, etc.? Simply and solely because, in Babylonia, there existed by the side of the decimal system of nations another system, the sexagesimal, which counted by sixties. Why that number should have been chosen is clear enough, but it speaks well for the practical sense of those ancient Babylonian merchants.

There is no number which has so many divisors as sixty. The Babylonians divided the sun's daily journey into twenty-four parasangs, or 720 stadia. Each parasang, or hour, was subdivided into sixty minutes. A parasang is about a German mile, and the Babylonian astronomers compared the progress made by the sun during one hour at the time of the equinox to the progress made by a good walker during the same time, both accomplishing one parasang.

The whole course of the sun during the twenty-four equinoctial hours was fixed at twenty-four parasangs, or 720 stadia, or 360 degrees. This system was handed on to the Greeks, and Hipparchus, the Greek philosopher, who lived about 150 B. C., introduced the Babylonian hour into Europe.

Ptolemy, who wrote about 150 A. D., whose name still lives in the Ptolemaic system of astronomy, gave still wider currency to the Babylonian way of reckoning time. He popularized it.

It was carried along on the quiet stream of traditional knowledge through the middle ages, and, strange to say, it sailed down safely over the Niagara of the French revolution, for the French, when revolutionizing weights, measures, coins and dates and subjecting all to the decimal system of reckoning, were induced by some unexplained motive to respect our clocks and watches and allow our dials to remain sexagesimal—that is, Babylonian, each hour consisting of sixty minutes.

Here you see again the wonderful coherence of the world and how what we call knowledge is the result of an unbroken tradition, of a teaching descending from father to son. Not more than about 100 arms would reach from us to the builders of the palaces of Babylon and enable us to shake hands with the founders of the oldest pyramids.

Such Stuff as Dreams Are Made Of.

The materials of dreams may be enumerated as memories of waking sensations, memories of waking thoughts and new sensations received in sleep, whether from without or within. Dr. Gregory mentions of himself that, having no one occasion gone to bed with a bottle of hot water at his feet, he dreamed of walking up the crater of Mount Etna and feeling the ground warm under him. He had at an early period of his life visited Mount Vesuvius and actually felt a strong sensation of warmth in his feet when walking up the side of the crater, and he had more recently read Brydone's description of Mount Etna. On another occasion, having thrown off the bedclothes in his sleep, he dreamed of spending a winter at Hudson bay and of suffering distress from the intense frost. He had been reading a few days before a very particular account of the weather in that region during winter.—Cassell's Magazine.

A Useless Rule.

Even when a woman thinks she is worth her weight in gold she would hate to get too stout.—Philadelphia Record.

Greenville Cotton Market reported by J. R. & J. G. MOYE

Middling 12 00

He Had Learned.
"What's that you've got there?" asked Smith's wife sharply.
"Er—um—a set of boxing gloves, my dear," said Smith. "I bought them for Thomas. I really think he ought to be instructed in the noble art of self defense. I am going to teach him. Every boy should know how to take care of himself in a time of emergency. Come, Thomas, into the garden. I will not hurt you."
Time, ten minutes later. Enter Smith.
"Maria!" he cried.
"What is it?" she asked.
"Bring some raw meat and arnica!" he demanded. "I have just sustained a little injury to my eye."
—London Mail.

Too Much of a Good Thing.
"Friends"—began Mark Antony.
"We ain't!" yelled the gallery.
"Romans"—
"Liar!"
"Countrymen"—
"Hinsulter!"
"Lend me your ears!"
A large, green cabbage dropped forcefully on the Thespian's head. Mark Antony glanced scathingly up toward the angry "gods" in the gallery.
"Pardon me, my friend," he roared out, coming down to the footlights, "but I only asked for your ears. I did not bargain to receive your head."—London Answers.
