STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Raleigh, Sept. 6.—It develops that there are 1,100 more Confederate pensioners this year than last, 900 of the new ones being widows added by the act of the last legislature extending the time of marriage to a veteran from April 1, 1865, to January 1, 1868. There is available for pensions $450,000, just $50,000 more than heretofore. The first, second and third class pensions remain the same—$72, $60 and $48. The fourth class pensions are increased from $25 to $26. There are 1,600 of the fourth class pensioners.

Farmville, N. C., Sept. 7.—Oscar Tyson, about 20 years old, died Monday afternoon as the result of an accidental blow from a falling tree in the woods that morning at 11 o'clock. He was at work cutting logs with several others.

A three-year-old child of Henry Barrett, colored, was instantly killed by having a log rolling upon him while playing in the mill yard at Mr. Sam Ivey's Sunday afternoon. Another child was crushed at the same time but not fatally.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 7.—Judge Connor in the Federal court this morning, handed down his decision in the Red C. Oil case, dismissing the case, and taxing the plaintiff with the costs. The Red C. Oil company had been granted a temporary injunction against state corporation commission to prevent the inspection of oil under the act of the last legislature. The injunction is now dissolved.

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 7.—A negro convict, serving sentence on roads, while attempting to escape was shot and instantly killed by a guard at the Mount Pleasant road building camp yesterday. The negro was sentenced two weeks ago to a four weeks term by City Judge Bure for trespassing, giving his name as William Turner and his residence as Durham. The only official notice of the killing was by a phone message asking the sheriff for permission to bury the body at the county home and it was interred there this afternoon.

Tax Burden Bearers.

A tax on incomes does not square with old fashioned Democratic principles. But we are inclined to be undemocratic to that extent. Taxation is not a burden to the man with a surplus, but to the man whose taxes cuts down his supply of groceries, takes a piece off his wife's dress, keeps shoes off his children's feet, and makes it impossible to send them to school—these are the men upon whom taxation bears heaviest, and these are the men whom we would like to see relieved.—Raleigh Democrat.

Miss Shields Entertains.

Scotland Neck, Sept. 7.—On Thursday evening Miss Nannie D. Shields gave an "at home" in honor of her friend, Miss Margurite Higgs, of Greenville. A special feature of the evening was a drawing contest. Mr. Mills Kitchin was awarded the first prize and the booby went to Mr. Allison McDowell. Delicious refreshment were served by Miss Misses Lucile Kitchin and Mary Lamb and Mr. Dupree Shield. The evening's enjoyment was closed with a dance.

ROCHDALE ITEMS.

Rochdale, N. C., Sept. 7, 1909.

The meeting at Smith's school house closed Friday night with eight additions, six baptised, one from another church and one moved membership. The Rev. Speigle did some of the best preaching that has been done at this place. The congregations were large at every service. The baptism took place at Blue Banks in Tar river Friday evening at 4 o'clock by the Rev. S. P. Speigle. Rev. G. Hinton Crupler assisted in the meeting and Miss Harriett Settle, of Wilson, was a great help in the singing. She rendered several beautiful solos.

Misses Ellen and Ada Tyson, of Farmville, were visiting in Smithtown last week and returned home Sunday evening.

Dr. Hudson, of Standard, was visiting in Smithtown a portion of last week.

Miss Harriett Settle went to Greenville Saturday morning and returned to her home at Wilson in the evening.

Mrs. R. M. Starkey spent a portion of last week at Mills Smith's and returned home Friday evening.

Mrs. Agnes Blount, of Ayden, was visiting at Ivy Smith's a portion of last week.

The Rev. Mr. Poston, of South Carolina, one of the ministerial students at Ayden, came in Saturday evening and preached very good sermons at May's chapel Saturday night and Sunday. He stopped at C. D. Smith's Saturday night and F. M. Smith's Sunday.

Lloyd Smith went to Farmville Sunday evening to take Miss Ada Tyson home.

Misses Rosa and Ellen Smith went to Greenville Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Smith and Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Willoughby and children were in our town Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McLawhorn and children went to his father's Saturday to attend a reunion of all of the family. Miss Bessie McLawhorn came home with them in the evening.

Mrs. C. L. Tyson and son, Leon, of Renston, were visiting at R. A. Willoughby's Friday night.

We had a very good Sunday school at Smith's school house Sunday. We had the highest percentage of attendance that we have had since I have been here. Two of the classes had one hundred per cent. present, and we hope it will continue to revive.

Another Large Crowd.

The performance last night at the Wm. Todd's big vaudeville show was greeted with another packed tent. The show was very pleasant and entertaining. Jack Owens, the black face comedian, is the best who has visited Greenville. Last night he made a decided hit with the entire audience in his song "Not me, I'm not not the man." He is also a very clever dancer.

Mr. Todd in his flying trapeze act was greeted with much applause.

A nice thing about the show, you can go every night and witness something new, and every one can afford to go as the price of admission is only ten cents. The doors open at 7:30, performance starts at 8:30 sharp.

The orchestra will play any of the latest songs desired upon request.

EDUCATIONAL COTTAGE

Plan to Raise Funds For Buildings at Boys' Training School.

State Superintendent Joyner has issued the following statement:

"To the County Superintendents and Teachers of the State: 'I heartily commend to county superintendents and teachers the plan to raise funds to erect an educational cottage at the Jackson Training School by securing ten thousand subscribers to 'The Uplift.' Every subscriber will get value received in the excellent paper. Every county superintendent and every teacher ought to be richly compensated for time and effort spent in securing subscribers by the happy consciousness of having helped a worthy cause and having aided a noble institution in opening a new door of hope and opportunity to many children of present and future generations."

"The Uplift" is a monthly magazine published by the board of trustees of the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School, near Concord, and edited by the chairman of the board, Mr. J. P. Cook. While it is devoted to the interests of the school it discusses questions of uplift for all boys, but is an adult's magazine.

There is a marked progress in this issue over all previous numbers. It contains articles by some of the best writers in the State who write on questions of great import.

An appeal is contained in the September number for funds for a chapel, to cost $5,000, and a school house, to cost $7,000.

Entertainment at Mrs. Holton's.

Ayden, N. C., Sept. 7.—A most delightful evening was spent at an ice cream supper, at the elegant home of Mrs. Fannie Holton, Sept. 2nd. Excellent music, both instrumental and vocal, was rendered by Miss May Holton, and Miss Myrtle McGlohon, after which delicious cream was served.

Those present were: Jerome McLawhorn with Miss May Holton, Ernest Langston with Miss Kathleen Britt, William Quinerly with Miss Lucy Bell Langston, Lloyd Turnage with Miss Eva Langston, I. J. Frizzelle with Miss Martha Baidree, Sam Worthington with Miss Myrtle McGlohon, Herman McGlohon with Miss Mary Pearce, Charlie Humbles with Miss Dollie Braxton. Stags—J. E. Humbles, Sam Braxton, and Claude Allen. Chaperones—Mrs. A. R. Holton, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Spier and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rodgers. It was an evening of pleasantness and enjoyment.

Great Deterioration in Cotton Crop.

The New Orleans Times-Democratic on Monday gave a report of the condition of the cotton crop, the summary being as follows:

Sharp deterioration has been the rule and the loss has, in many districts, amounted to a disaster. Excessively high temperatures and parching winds have forced the bolls to open prematurely and caused the plant to shed.

Picking will soon be general. Most farmers seem inclined to sell at current prices, though there is a desire to hold at least a part of the crop for an advance.

Our Greenville, yours if you come.

RULES FOR THE CITY BEAUTIFUL.

Inhabitants May Accomplish Wonders by Persistent Organized Effort.

Every town in the United States may become a city beautiful. Individuals working alone have accomplished much, but they inevitably need help. A community should have an organized effort, and when this conclusion has been reached by the conference, steps should be taken to effect one, says Clinton Rogers Woodruff in The Designer for October. The organization completed what next? Here are some of the "first things" undertaken by organizations that have had successful careers:

Enlisting the children in keeping the streets clear of paper and other rubbish.

The maintenance of rubbish barrels for the litter of the streets.

The caring for the space between the sidewalk and the curb, and for the gutters themselves that they may be kept clean and free from rubbish.

The elimination of weeds.

Co-ordination with the tree warden, if there is one, or whoever may have charge of the trees. If there is no one in charge, there is no more important first step than to have some one official charged with this duty.

Preventing telephone and electric companies from hacking off and mutilating the branches and tops of trees.

The enforcement of ordinances relating to expectoration, the throwing of papers and circulars on the streets.

Keeping the individual premises in good order, including the back yard.

The erection of window-boxes and their proper maintenance, summer and winter.

Having the city keep the streets, between the curbs, clean. If its officials don't know how, show them! Lots of organizations have, and it has meant a new era for the community. If you can only begin with a small block, do so—but make the beginning. That is the important thing.

BLACK JACK ITEMS:

Black Jack N. C., Sept. 7 1909.

G. C. Buck left Tuesday for Wake Forest College.

Charlie Harper left Tuesday for Central Academy where he will enter school.

H. A. Moore and Sam Rouse were here Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dixon went to Ayden Friday.

Miss Martha J. Clark has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Elijah Mills, near Simpson.

Quite a number from here attended Sunday school at Galoway's school house Sunday morning.

Misses Stella Gaskins and Lula Arnold spent Saturday night with Miss Lena Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Clark, of Grimesland, were here Sunday visiting friends and relatives. Mitchel Buck spent Saturday night with J. S. Dixon.

Bill Mills, near here, died Thursday after an illness of several days.

Harvey Cannon attended Sunday school here Sunday.

Mason Edwards is very sick with typhoid fever. Hope he will be well soon.

The farmers are planning to begin picking cotton this week. We are having some very dry weather now.

Dr. Moyer Resumes Practice

His many friends will be glad to know that Dr. E. A. Moyer has regained his health and will resume the practice of his profession. He gave up his practice a year ago because of poor health, but with rest and proper care of himself his health has been fully restored. In addition to resuming his practice, Dr. Moyer will conduct a drug store, and for this purpose has fitted up the handsomest establishment in Greenville. His store is beautiful in every particular. This will be known as Moyer's Pharmacy and is located on the corner of Evans and Fifth streets. Dr. Moyer's office is in the rear of the pharmacy with entrance on Fifth street.

School of Music.

The department of music at the Greenville graded schools will again be in charge of Miss Olive B. Gaston, of Syracuse University, New York. Persons desiring to enroll for lessons should call on or write the superintendent before the opening of the graded school. H. B. Smith, Superintendent.

Train Runs Over Section Hand.

This morning a train on the Washington branch of the Atlantic Coast Line run over a colored section hand at work between Leans and Stokes. The man was carried to a hospital in Washington and is so badly cut and mangled that it is not thought he can live.

Last of the Season.

There will be an excursion from Walstonberg to Norfolk on Wednesday Sept. 22, returning Sept. 23. Round trip $2.25. It will make connections with A. C. L.

THE BEST REMEDY.

Reports of August tobacco sales at the various markets show that tobacco has averaged from 5 1-2 to 6 1-2 cents a pound. Of course farmers could not raise tobacco at this figure if they could not realize any more on their crop. However, we believe, the bulk of the tobacco sold was of a low grade and farmers will undoubtedly bring the general average up when they market their better grades during this month and later on in the season. Though the leaf has sold for less during the past month, as a rule, than during August 1908.

Not only the prosperity of the farmer but that of tobacco sections generally is affected adversely when the farmer does not get an adequate return for his labor. So far as the farmer is concerned we believe that he can do nothing better than to follow the advice of tobacco men as published in the Free Press from time to time. And this may be summarized: Improve the type of your leaf. Do not waste time, labor and money on the common, thin primings. And to this we would add: Reduce your tobacco acreage and make your supplies, including a large part of your fertilizer. While the outlook for tobacco this year cannot on the whole be called discouraging, we believe that if growers will follow the lines indicated there will be greater prosperity in the tobacco sections than ever before.

This seems to be the practical remedy for such averages as have been made in August. — Kinston Free Press.

This is good advice to the farmers, and is along the same line as has been given for some time through the columns of The Reflector.

It is universally admitted by all thoughtful students of agricultural conditions in our section that our people must raise more stock, particularly of cattle. At the farmers' meeting on next Monday, Sept. 13th, this subject will be discussed by two experts from the Bureau of Animal Industry, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Mr. Sidney C. Thompson will discuss particularly the dairy industry, and the relation of stock in the improvement of soil conditions. Dr. Cooper Curtice will discuss particularly the eradication of cattle ticks and quarantine. It is hoped that this is the beginning of a movement to raise the cattle quarantine in Eastern North Carolina.

Drainage is yet an unsolved problem in many sections of Eastern North Carolina. We have thousands of acres of fertile lands which are uncertain in crop production, because they are not sufficiently drained. One of the most important movements which has ever been initiated in our section, is the one for drainage, which was started several years ago. Our people are upon inquiry and wish to learn more. Every farmer interested in this subject (and who is not interested,) should attend the farmers' meeting next Monday, Sept. 13th.

The farmers of the county are to be congratulated in having an opportunity to attend the farmers' meeting in Greenville on next Monday, the 13th inst. Among other lecturers will be Prof. C. L. Goodrich who is one of the best equipped and most attractive talkers on farm management. His talk alone will be worth the trip to Greenville.

If some people would put forth as much energy in building up their own business as they expend in trying to pull down that of somebody else, they would come nearer to making a success of their own affairs. The best plan is to attend strictly to one's own business, and let the other fellow do the same thing.

Peary says he found no trace of Cook at the pole. May be the next man will say he found no trace of Peary. The jealousies may lead to such a squabble that folks will not know if the pole has been found at all.

North Carolina has plenty of Cooks. Wonder if any of them are related to the doctor who discovered the North Pole.

The heading to a news item says "President Taft has taken a hand." It is to be hoped he will play it well.

In a few days more it will be time to announce that somebody else has discovered the North Pole.

HANDICAPPED.

This is the Case With Many Greenville People.

Too many Greenville citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief, but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently.

The following statement should convince every Greenville reader of their efficiency.

J. Frank Powell, West Tarboro, N. C., says: "I suffered from a severe attack of La Grippe, which left my kidneys disordered. Standing so much greatly aggravated the pains in my back and frequently I was forced to sit down. A dull ache across my loins kept me in almost constant misery and whenever I attempted to stoop or lift, sharp, shooting pains darted through me. I at length procured Doan's Kidney Pills and that they gave me relief in a short time. I have not suffered from backache since and my kidneys have been normal. I am pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

A STRANGE LAKE.

The Peculiarities of a Body of Water In Australia.

Lake George is situated about four miles from the railway station at Bungendore, Australia, and has for many years engaged the attention of scientific men by reason of the singular and inexplicable phenomena connected with it. The estimates of its size vary considerably according to circumstances, but when moderately full about 20 by 7 miles will be found tolerably correct. At either end the land is fully 100 feet above the highest recorded surface of the lake, which possesses no known outlet, although it is fed by numerous mountain creeks.

The lake was discovered by a bushman in 1820 and was known to the blacks as the "big water." It was then supposed to form the source of a river having its mouth on the south coast, but subsequent visitors were much perplexed at the manner in which the blacks avoided the lake, of which they appeared to entertain a superstitious dread, one aged aboriginal stating she had seen it all covered with trees, another explaining that the whole of the water sank through the bottom and disappeared, while others remembered the lake only as a series of small ponds.

During the following twenty years considerable variations were noted in the depth and extent of the lake. In 1841 the lake became partially dried up, the moist portions being simply grassy swamps. A few months later large numbers of sheep were pastured in the bed of the lake, but fresh water had to be carted for the use of the shepherds, that of the lake being too salt for human consumption. The place remained more or less dry until 1852, the year of the great floods in that part of the colony, when it again became filled, with an average depth of nine feet. Since then the surface level of the lake has varied considerably, but the bed has never been so dry as in former years. There are indications that many hundreds of years ago the lake covered a far larger area than any yet recorded, remains of trees over 100 years old being found in spots formerly under water. The saline character of the lake is the more remarkable by reason of its being fed by pure and sparkling fresh water streams.—St. James' Gazette.

Just Suits Him.

Friend—Why do you encourage these woman's suffrage meetings? Surely you don't approve of them. Husband—Approve? With all my heart! I can come home as late as I like now without finding my wife at home to ask questions.—Flegende Blatter.

Why Girls Cannot Throw.

A great deal of fun is poked at girls because they cannot throw a stone or a snowball and hit the person or thing they are aiming at. The general idea as to why girls cannot throw as well as boys is that they have not acquired the knack by practice as their brothers have. Another explanation is given by a medical man, which tends to show that girls could never learn the knack, however much they tried. When a boy throws a stone he crooks his elbow and reaches back with his forearm, and in the act of throwing he works every joint from shoulder to wrist. The girl throws with her whole arm rigid, whereas the boy's arm is relaxed. The reason of this difference is one of anatomy. The girl's collar bone is longer and is set lower than in the case of a boy. The long, crooked, awkward bone interferes with the free use of the arm. This is the reason that girls cannot throw well.

Laughter.

Laughter is a positive sweetness of life; but, like good coffee, it should be well cleared of deleterious substances before use. Ill-will and malice and the desire to wound are worse than chicory. Between a laugh and a giggle there is the width of the horizons. I could sit all day and listen to the hearty and heartsome ha-ha of a lot of bright and jolly people, but would rather be shot than be forced to stay within earshot of a couple of silly gossips. Cultivate that part of your nature that is quick to see the mirthful side of things, so you shall be enabled to shed many of life's troubles, as the plumage of the bird sheds the rain. But discourage all tendencies to seek your amusement at the expense of another's feelings or in aught that is impure. It was Goethe who said, "Tell me what a man laughs at and I will read you his character."—Exchange.

The Air in a Room.

Given a medium sized sitting room with four people and two gas jets, the air must be changed every fifty minutes to keep it pure. As air is heated it expands and becomes lighter per cubic foot. If all the air is heated equally it remains at rest after expansion, but if hot air is in the presence of cold air the latter, by reason of its heaviness, forces its way down and drives the hot air up. The moving force of air currents is the greater weight of the colder air. This, then, is the force by which we are to drive out foul air and put pure air in its place. Pure external air will always drive out foul air if you give it a chance.

Nothing New About This, Is There?

"My dear, listen to this," said an economical little housewife to her husband. "This evening's paper advertises a man who makes a business of taking new tables and chairs and treating them in some way so they look as if they were a hundred years old. And he makes a great deal of money by it," she added, reading on.

"Does he, indeed?" replied her husband doubtfully. "Well, I'd trust our Tommy to make a new table look as if it were a good deal more than a hundred years old, but I hadn't thought of it as a paying business."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Its Constituents.

To be exact is the pride of science, yet how difficult it is to be exact is proved over and over again. The Cleveland Leader tells a story of a class room dialogue which goes to show the hopelessness of stating anything precisely in English.

"What is contained in sea water?" inquired the chemistry teacher.

"Chloride of sodium and—er—and"—

"Well, what else?"

"Fish!"

He Knew the Fact.

A small boy had a dog that was rough, as most small boys' dogs are, and a young girl who lived next door had a kitten, sly, as all cats are. One day the small boy came nonchalantly into the girl's presence, and after some desultory conversation he said:

"You know my dog Barca and your cat Darling?"

"Yes."

"Well, my dog had a piece of meat, and he thought your cat was going to take it away from him."

"Thought!" exclaimed the wise little girl. "What makes you say that the dog thought? You know dogs don't think; they instinct."

"Well," said the boy, "I don't care whether he thought it or whether he instigated it; but, anyhow, he killed your cat."—London Fun.

Opened His Eyes.

The manager of a small country estate decided to sell his property and consulted an estate agent in the nearest town about the matter. After visiting the place the agent wrote a description of it and submitted it to his client for approval.

"Read that again," said the owner, closing his eyes and leaning back in his chair contentedly.

After the second reading he was silent a few moments and then said thoughtfully, "I don't think I'll sell. I've been looking for that kind of place all my life, but until you read that description I didn't know I had it! No, I won't sell now."
