THE WRONG TYPE OF TOBACCO.

Eastern North Carolina Farmers Must Change Method of Growing Tobacco.

Sometime ago The Progressive Farmer arranged with me to furnish some matter on the tobacco situation. The first article appeared in the issue of the 2nd instant, and because this has been used as an excuse to make some farmers who had not seen the article believe I was writing matter injurious and damaging to them, it is herewith republished just as it appeared in the Progressive Farmer.

I have probably said as much and written more on tobacco than any man in this section, but I have never said a word or written a sentence that has not been for and in the interest of the tobacco farmer.

This is said not in reply to the attempt to misrepresent me, but to call attention to the character and manner of men who resort to such methods to get business.

O. L. Joyner.

Messrs. Editors: For the last few years it has been perfectly apparent to every close observer of the sales of the eastern North Carolina markets that thin white tobacco was growing less and less in demand. During the first few years of tobacco culture in this section of the State, white, or what is known as lemon colored tobacco, was in greatest demand and sold for fancy prices, but for some cause the demand for the manufactured product made from this type of leaf began to drop off. In the meantime, stimulated by the higher prices of white tobacco, farmers devoted their chief attention to the production of this tobacco, with the result that more of this type of tobacco was made than there was demand for and consequently the price fell off.

Farmers learned from experience that the highest type of white tobacco was made by priming off the tobacco early and curing it a peagreen color which changed after lying in bulk a few weeks to a very beautiful light color. This method was practiced to such an extent that since 1900, although the crop is now not transplanted much, if any, earlier than it was then, yet it is taken off the hill and cured from fifteen to thirty days earlier. This type of tobacco for the last two years has hardly paid the cost of production and as most of our farmers made this type of tobacco, it will be seen that it has been, to say the least, an unprofitable crop.

We must change our methods. The manufacturers tell us they want a heavier, richer and riper tobacco. They have paid good prices for such of this tobacco as we have made.

A change from present methods certainly cannot harm us, for we are making nothing by growing thin, white, chaffy tobacco.

It is easy enough done. When the tobacco is about knee high it should be primed high and the primings thrown on the ground. Then top low in accordance with growth and vigor of the plant, let it stand on the hill until thoroughly ripe, and cure. The result will be an utterly different class of tobacco from that we are now making and a class the manufacturers say they want. Let's make what they want and a little bit less than they want. Grow all our home supplies. Market the crop in a reasonable way and not throw it all on the market in three or four months. Do this and in my opinion it will be the medicine that will produce a cure.

O. L. Joyner.

VERY BRILLIANT RECEPTION

Governor and Mrs. Kitchen Are Royally Entertained at Scotland Neck.

Scotland Neck, Sept. 7.—The most brilliant reception ever witnessed in this community was that tendered Gov. W. W. Kitchin and wife by Mr. and Mrs. S. McDowell, at their elegant new home on Main street. The reception lasted from 9 until 12 o'clock and perhaps three hundred guests called to do honor to Governor and Mrs. Kitchin here in the town of his birth and boyhood days. The beautiful new home was brilliantly lighted throughout, beautifully decorated, and from the arrival of the first guest until the departure of the last a splendid string band from Norfolk discoursed sweet music.

At the door the guests were met by Mrs. C. L. McDowell, sister of Governor Kitchin, and Mrs. Woodward, of Greenville. In the receiving line in the parlor were: Mr. and Mrs. A. McDowell, host and hostess, Governor and Mrs. Kitchin, Mr. and Mrs. Topleman, of Henderson; Mr. W. H. McDowell and Miss Baugham, of Washington, this State.

The guests were then conducted into the dining room, which was beautifully decorated and brilliantly lighted, and were served with delicious salads by a number of handsome young ladies. Passing into the second dining hall, the guests were served with cream and cake. Then moving to the sitting room the guests were served with delightful fruit punch.

It was a most delightful occasion and was greatly enjoyed by all who attended and the large number of guests accentuated the popularity of Governor Kitchin and the high esteem in which he is held by the people of his home town and native county. Praises were on every lip for Mr. and Mrs. McDowell for the most brilliant and pleasant reception and the perfect appointment of the occasion in every detail.

OPENING OF MOYE'S PHARMACY.

Hundreds of People Call and Admire Its Beauty.

Moye's Pharmacy, the new drug store established by Dr. E. A. Moye on the corner of Evans and Fifth streets, was opened to the public Wednesday evening, and from 7:30 to 11:30 there was a constant stream of callers. Every one was struck with the marvelous beauty of the store, and there were many expressions of admiration, and compliments to Dr. Moye upon the splendid taste displayed in furnishings and arrangements.

The floor of the store is tiled, and metal ceiling. The cabinets and furniture are mahogany finish, the show cases plate glass mounted on Tennessee marble. The large fountain is the innovation pattern of Italian make. Numerous mirrors give the interior of the store the appearance of a mirror palace.

Behind the drug store proper is the prescription department, and in the rear of this are Dr. Moye's office rooms. These consist of lobby, reception and operating rooms and are all elegantly furnished.

Ice cream and cold drinks were served to all callers Wednesday night, and small boxes of candy were presented to the ladies.

Tobacco sales were immense today, and the price was some lower than last week.

EX SENATOR WILLIAMS DEAD.

One of Pitt's Most Prominent Men Passes Away.

Ex-Senator Willis R. Williams died Wednesday night at his home near Falkland. He was in his 83rd year, and had been quite feeble for some time.

Mr. Williams was one of Pitt's best and most prominent citizens. He always lived on the farm and was active in the interests of agriculture. He was for several years a member of the State Board of Agriculture, was master of the State Grange and several times represented North Carolina in the national conventions of that order. At such meetings both in this and other States he was much in demand as a speaker on agricultural topics, and his speeches took rank with the best.

Mr. Williams was elected to the house of representatives in 1866 and served in the memorable session that followed the civil war. In 1884 he was elected State senator for Pitt county and filled that position for four consecutive terms. His senatorial career was a brilliant one, and he became famous as the "father of the 6 per cent. bill," a measure for the relief of interest burdened people which he introduced and fought to a finish. He took high rank among his colleagues and held the esteem of every one.

Mr. Williams was a member of the Christian church and took prominent part in the councils of his denomination. He was also a leading Mason, ever true to the principles of the order. His funeral was conducted with Masonic honors, several members of Greenville lodge being in attendance.

CAPT. GEO. SMITH DEAD

Popular Engineer Dies After Illness of Few Days.

The community was shocked this morning to learn of the death of Capt. Geo. J. Smith, which occurred at his home on the corner of Gordon and East streets. It was not generally known that Captain Smith was sick, as he had been on his usual run on the Coast Line, last week.

He was taken suddenly ill Sunday night and a doctor was summoned and found Captain Smith suffering with acute diabetes. Every means known to medical science that possibly could be used was employed but he gradually grew worse. A consultation of physicians was called last night and his case pronounced hopeless. About 2 o'clock this morning his heart failed and the end came at 10:30.

Captain Smith, who was about 54 years old, came to Kinston about 18 years ago when the Kinston-Weldon branch road of the Atlantic Coast Line of which he was an engineer, was established, and has since made this city his home. He was a man of strong character, and indefatigable worker and one of the best engineers in the employ of the Coast Line. No man has more forcefully ingratiated himself into the respect and esteem of Kinston people.

He was a member of the Baptist church; a member of the Kinston Lodge of Pythians and of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

He is survived by a wife and three children, Elliot, of Richmond, Mrs. W. H. Cummings, Jr., and Miss Francis, of this city. His remains will be interred in Scotland Neck at 11 o'clock tomorrow.—Kinston Free Press, 8th.

WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Newsp Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C. Sept. 8, 1909.

Misses Hattie and Annie Luper, of Ayden, spent Sunday here with Miss Venie Crawford. Miss Mary Cutler returned to her home at Washington Monday morning. She has been visiting Miss Magdalene Cox.

A. W. Ange went to Ayden yesterday.

Misses Janie and Clara Braxton came in Saturday from Mantoo, Va., where they have been visiting friends.

After several days vacation J. E. Greene came in Sunday night to resume his work as railroad agent.

S. C. Carroll spent Sunday in Shelmerdine.

F. F. and R. T. Cox left Tuesday morning for Wake Forest, where they will again attend school this session.

Misses Bessie and Helen Wooten, who have been spending sometime with Mrs. J. H. Dixon, returned to their home at Simpson Monday evening.

W. E. Carman, of Norfolk, is visiting at his old home near Rountree.

Mrs. M. G. Bryan is visiting her mother, near Whichard.

Miss Janie Kittrell left Tuesday for Durham, where she will attend the S. C. M. this session.

F. A. Edmundson spent Sunday in Kinston. He returned Monday morning.

Miss Olivia Early, of Oak City, spent Monday here with Miss Mamie Chapman.

Mrs. Heber Hamilton and children, of Fort Barnwell, are visiting relatives here.

C. J. Jackson, who completed the course for the B. A. degree at Wake Forest last May, left Monday for Knoxville, Tenn., where he will fill the position of general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of the university of Tennessee. Mr. Jackson is gifted with the social capacity for doing good, and we congratulate him on finding a field of work so suitable to his talents. His mother, Mrs. Susan Jackson, accompanied him as far as Raleigh.

W. H. House, of Stokes, was in town Monday.

Miss Venetia Cox and Miss Olive Butt left Monday for Winston-Salem to attend school.

Mrs. Sallie Ann Braxton, near here, was found dead in her bed last Monday morning. She seemed well Sunday night and though 84 years old her death was unexpected. Her funeral was preached at her home Tuesday evening by Elder Fred McGlohon. She was buried at Byrd's grave yard. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Bill Russell, of Oriental, a former student of W. H. S. was in town a short while yesterday.

The school opening Monday morning was one of the best in its history. Prof. Nye informs us that everything is moving on nicely. More students are coming on every train making this week so far a record breaker.

Miss Lala Chapman left Sunday morning for Wilson, where she will teach school this session.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson and children went to Conetoe today.

A large number of students that were here last year are back again this year. They all say that W. H. S. is the school for pleasant and valuable work.

Mr. Turnage has completed the deep well at the girl's dormitory.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

J. B. Johnson went to Farmville today.

Jimmie Rives returned Wednesday evening from Hamilton, where he went to attend the funeral of his uncle.

Representative R. R. Cotten returned today from a visit of several weeks to his children in Boston, Newport and Springfield, Mass.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsp Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Sept. 9, 1909. Elbert Smith, of Winterville, has accepted a position in the manufacturing establishment of Smith Co. & Dixon. His family joined him Wednesday and they live on Third street.

Our jeweler, Charlie Spier, besides being a silversmith, is quite a genius. He showed us a contrivance which is a great labor saver and tells us he can extract the butter from sweet milk in ten minutes. He has applied for patent.

Geo. Worthington Bro & Co., have purchased the old printing office lot of Dr. Dixon and are erecting on same a large warehouse for the extension of their business. They will do all kinds of tinning, tobacco flues, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn, of Winston-Salem, are visiting their son, John W. Glenn, of our town.

Dr. Jos. Dixon has returned from an extended trip through Virginia and District of Columbia.

Mrs. Julia Smith, wife of David Smith, near town, died Wednesday after only a few days illness. She had kidney trouble.

Mrs. Jennie Hardy, of Greenville, is visiting Mrs. Celia Garris.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hart are off to Kinston on business and pleasure.

Mr. Lane, of Ft. Barnwell, was here Tuesday with a big load of tobacco. He told us this was his first trip to Ayden and was agreeably surprised at all he saw.

The Baptist Sunday school children were picnicing at Ridge Spring today. We are sure they enjoyed the outing.

We were pleased to have a call from Joe S. Ross, of Winterville, Monday.

Epenetus Hardy returned Wednesday from Norfolk.

Miss Lena Hines, of the Christian Sunday school entertained her class at luncheon in the Smithsonian park Wednesday. There was a happy throng of little ones.

Our graded school opens Wednesday, 15th. J. R. Smith & Co. can supply you with books, tablets and all kinds of stationery.

We doff our hat and make our most polite bow to our city fathers for the permanent work now under construction on our streets.

Mr. Brooks, of Grangers, was here yesterday with a load of tobacco and was highly pleased with his sales. He tells us the cholera has played havoc with swine in his section.

Alfred McLawhorn and son, of Winterville, were on our tobacco market Tuesday. Mr. McLawhorn is a model farmer. Besides tobacco he raises plenty hogs and hominy.

New Features Every Time.

The Todd vaudeville show tent had another large audience last night, and those who have attended every night say that last night was the best yet. That is what Mr. Todd claims, to grow better with every performance. There is a new program every night, nothing but the trained dogs part of it being repeated. The admission is only ten cents.

Died.

Mrs. Frank Jones (formerly Miss Virgie House) died Wednesday night at the home of her uncle, Mr. William House, four miles from town. Mrs. Jones was about 25 years old and leaves a husband and two small children. She was a daughter of Mr. D. T. House.

THURSDAY, SEP. 9, 1909.

Prosperity could travel better if we had good roads.

Let the North Pole go and come South where there is not so much ice.

Peary says he "nailed the stars and stripes to it" just like it was a real pole.

Five circuses are booked for Charlotte this season. That ought to be enough to make the "Queen City" happy.

We have heard of many kinds of anniversaries, but the people of Galveston celebrating the anniversary of the storm that came so near destroying that city seems unusual.

We cannot see any more reason to take Peary's word for it than to take Cook's. The report of the latter is as plausible as the former. However, they may quarrel so much over it that people will discard both and send somebody else to find the North Pole.

The good roads sentiment is growing in Pitt county, yet not so fast as The Reflector would like to see it. But from expressions we frequently hear from people of different sections there is reason to hope that the day is not far distant when the entire county will be demanding good roads.

October will be a month to test Greenville's reputation for hospitality, but our people can be depended upon to meet every requirement in this particular. On the 5th the East Carolina Teachers' Training School will open to be followed by the inauguration of Prof. Robert H. Wright as president of that institution on the 7th. Of course this will bring many visitors. Simultaneously with this will be the meeting of county superintendents of schools of the northeast district which comprises twenty-two counties. Then on the 12th the Roanoke Association will meet with Memorial Baptist church. Greenville must get busy and see that all these occasions are properly provided for.

Jewish New Year.

The Jewish New Year, which marks the beginning of the most solemn days in the Jewish calendar, will be observed in synagogues and temples next week. The holiday will begin on the evening of September the 15th, and will end on the evening of the next day with the Reformed Hebrews. The Orthodox will observe it two days.

Rosh ha-Shanah, as the New Year is called in Hebrew, does not, like most other Jewish holidays, commemorate any historical event, but is rather a time for repentance and amendment.

A feature of the holiday is the sounding of the shofar (a ram's horn.) The peculiar instrument

CHILDREN WHO ARE SICKLY.

Mothers who value their own comfort and the welfare of their children, should never be without a box of Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children for use throughout the season. They break up colds, cure feverishness, constipation, teething disorders, headache and stomach troubles. These powders never fail. Sold by all drug stores, 25c. Don't accept any substitute. A trial package free to any mother who will address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

is chosen because of the impressive character of its notes. It is looked upon as the sound of an alarm for the wayward heart.

The New Year begins a sacred period known as the Ten Days of Penitence. The last of these days—the Day of Atonement—is the most solemn of them all; in fact, the most solemn day in the entire Jewish year.

It is noted with interest that an organization has been formed, by persons interested in the tobacco business, to inaugurate an educational campaign to promote the use of tobacco. Members of the tobacco trust who have contributed liberally to colleges, theological seminaries and other church causes, might enlist some of their proteges in this behalf. For instance, they might establish a chair in the colleges to teach the advantages of the use of tobacco. In former years it was customary for preachers to use it but this custom is gradually passing out and some of the religious bodies have passed resolutions condemning the use of tobacco by ministers. Of course the tobacco men who endow theological seminaries will expect a change in this respect; they will expect their friends and beneficiaries to stand by them.—Statesville Landmark.

DYSPEPSIA?

Most Popular Druggist Makes a Remarkable Statement.

Dr. J. W. Bryan has at last obtained the agency for a remedy which they are selling on a positive guarantee to cure any Liver Trouble. If food does not digest well, if there is gas or pain in the stomach, if the tongue is coated and breath bad, if there is constipation and straining Bloodine Liver Pills will cure you. If they do not you have Dr. J. W. Bryan's personal guarantee to return your money. Bloodine Liver Pills give quick relief and make permanent cures of Constipation, Dyspepsia and all Liver Troubles. These are strong statements, but Dr. Bryan is giving his customers a chance to prove the truth, and if after purchasing a 25 cent box of Bloodine Liver Pills you are not satisfied with the results go to Dr. Bryan and ask for your money. Also for sale by M. M. Sauls at Ayden, N. C.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate; all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and is not one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

FLOATING KIDNEY.

For One Real Case There Are Scores of Imaginary Ones.

One of the bugaboos of the popular imagination which have caused much unnecessary suffering is what is known as a "floating kidney." The word "bugaboo" is used deliberately, because for one case of genuine floating kidney there are scores that are simply the figment of a nervous imagination. In fact, there is no physical disorder that can be so easily imagined into existence. In the case of a confirmed nervous patient who has run the gamut of all the ills to which "nerves" are heir, if the name of floating kidney is mentioned, the symptoms will promptly put in their appearance.

There are, of course, some genuine cases which may give rise to much physical discomfort and even pain. The normal kidney is held in its place by the outside shell of fat which covers it, although all kidneys are more or less movable. When a well nourished individual suddenly loses a great deal of flesh the condition of floating kidney may very well be the result, because this shell of fat is reduced, and the organ loses its natural support.

The condition will be more noticeable in people who wear corsets or very tight clothing round the waist or in those whose abdominal muscles for any reason have become relaxed. It is quite possible for this condition to exist without any symptoms at all, especially if the patient has been kept in ignorance of it.

The symptoms when they do appear consist of pain in the side, dyspepsia and extreme nervousness.

In most genuine cases of this trouble the loose kidney will be only part of a general abdominal relaxation and displacement, and any effort at a cure must therefore include all the other organs involved with it. Sometimes a case of floating kidney will cause paroxysms of severe pain, with nausea, vomiting, chills and fever and general collapse. These cases, happily, are not frequent and are thought to be due to the kidney being so loose as to be able to twist round its own ureter—that is to say, the tube which leads from it to the bladder. In these extreme cases an operation may be necessary in order to "anchor" it. Occasionally a kidney may be dislocated by heavy lifting or straining.

The treatment of most patients is that which brings the general nutrition up to par. The gaining of a few pounds of flesh will often work wonders and will sometimes be greatly assisted by the temporary use of a properly fitted support and the allaying of nervous fears.—Xouta's Companion.

Settled the Surgeon.

The surgeon of a military station during the civil war was noted for his flowery language, which never failed even under the most trying circumstances. He was not popular, and the officers treated him at times with scant courtesy. On one occasion the colonel appropriated the surgeon's tent for a mess table without the formality of stating his intentions. The surgeon sent a complaint to the general in command, in which he said, "I have not so much as a fly to interpose between my head and the star decked heavens above me." This document went through the usual routine and was at last returned to the surgeon with the following indorsement: "Colonel B. will cause a fly to interpose between the head of the complainant and the star decked heavens above him as soon as possible."

Notice to Creditors.

Barrymore and Modjeska.

Maurice Barrymore earned a reputation as a wit and really deserved it. His style could be less successfully transferred to the stage, as his efforts at comic writing showed, but in its spontaneous phases its effect always told. One of the stories related was about his experiences with Mme. Modjeska, with whom he acted for several years. He had been as careless as he often was on the stage, and Mme. Modjeska, with all the conscientiousness of a great artist, protested that he had no right to take his calling so lightly and that if he did not owe it to his reputation to do his best he at least owed it to her, because she had done so much in his behalf and had put him before the public in a dignified and serious line of parts.

"Why, madam," he said, "it is not you who brought me before the public and made me known. People had heard of me all over the United States when they thought that Modjeska was only the name of a tooth wash."

The Old Mistake.

"De man dat answers a gold brick circular," said Uncle Eben, "makes de old mistake. In stead o' tellin' Satan to git behind 'im, he thinks he kin git ahead o' Satan."—Washington Star.
