Law and Sentiment.

The Statesville Landmark, carrying on the discussion as to tax assessment and tax dodgers, utters a truth about laws and their enforcement when it says that "it is one of the remarkable things about our system of government that in most cases men whose special business is to enforce the law will neglect that duty in many instances unless public sentiment forces them to act. In other words, if the enforcement of a law is popular, it will usually be enforced. If the law is unpopular and its execution is a disagreeable duty, action will not be taken when it can be avoided. The prohibition law is a shining example. Whenever sentiment is strong for prohibition the law is enforced.

When the sentiment is not strong it is not enforced." But particularly as to taxation and lax enforcement of the law, which has become a custom in some localities in this State, it is true that public sentiment needs to be aroused. "The sheriff, tax collectors and other county officials whose business it is to see to these matters," says The Landmark, "are too often more concerned about votes than the performance of their duty. When they are made to know that those who bear their full share of the burden are more to be feared than the shirkers, they will get busy." Which is the whole case in a nutshell.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Peary Should Put Up or Shut Up.

In a signed statement, made to a representative of the Associated Press on yesterday, Commander Peary declared: "I am the only whiteman who has ever been to the North Pole." Perhaps. Further than this statement, Commander Peary refused to offer any evidence backing up his assertion that Dr. Cook is a fake.

"At the proper time," he says he will prove that he is the only white man to enter the polar region.

The "right time" to offer proof is when one makes an open charge which reflects upon the integrity and honesty of another. Unless such proof is available, it were better to withhold all insinuations until "the proper time."

The public prefers proof to billingsgate. In so far as this paper is concerned, it believes that both Peary and Cook reached the pole, and will continue to believe this until it sees the proof that Cook is an imposter.

We have given considerable space to Peary's account of his trip because it is the latest news of the day, and because the public wants the news. Our private opinion is that Commander Peary is making an ass of himself by continuing his course of vilification without offering proof positive that Cook is a liar and an imposter.—Charlotte News.

Remember the 22nd.

Remember Wednesday, Sept. 22nd, is the last time you will have a chance to go to Norfolk on a two day's excursion this season. Get ready and go with the crowd. Special care will be taken of ladies. Separate cars for colored people. 9 22

Herbert Edmunds is now running five chairs in his barber shop. Charlie Williams, of New Bern, who worked here some years ago, is back with him.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Mr. J. B. Henry has harvested his field of fine corn and from a plot, nearly 1½ acre, he gathered 103 bushels. A fine acre was measured by a committee and the corn also measured for the prize to be offered. Mr. Henry says that is the way to make corn and is satisfied that his will cost him not more than 30 cents per bushel.—Wadesboro Ansonian.

Mr. John Shoe who lives near the Brown Mill, was badly hurt to-day about 12 o'clock as the result of a blasting charge exploding prematurely. Mr. Shoe was engaged in digging a well for Mr. M. T. Yow, and was in the well arranging a blast. He had it ready to ignite, when in throwing down a hammer it struck a piece of flint rock, producing a spark which at once set fire to the powder. An explosion immediately followed, and Mr. Shoe was badly hurt on the face and body. It is thought that his eyes have been put out and there are grave fears of his recovery.

Henderson, N. C., Sept. 15.—All Henderson is in grief tonight over the sad death of Dr. Ed Tucker, son of the late Dr. John Tucker. Dr. Tucker was unmarried and was about twenty-five years old. He was one of the most popular young men in Henderson, universally esteemed and had won a place of certain success in the profession of dentistry. The news of his sudden death shocked the whole town. Dr. Tucker returned yesterday from Madison, Wisconsin, where he had been visiting his sister. In the morning he said he was sick and did not go to his office. About four o'clock he was seen up the street, returned to his home, and at 4:30 o'clock the sound of a pistol was heard in his room. Friends who hastened to the room found that he was dead. It is not known whether it was an accidental discharge or whether in a paroxysm of pain that deprived him of his will power, the young man took his own life. The sad event has brought sorrow to the whole town, for there was not a more popular young man in Henderson than Dr. Tucker.

Cattle on Farms.

When the farmers of this State begin to make cattle a specialty and all other crops subsidiary to that industry, the land will become so rich in a few years that the guano bills will be cut in half, or eliminated entirely from the expense account. A four horse farm with eighty acres of arable land, forty acres of Bermuda pasture and thirty of wood land would support 40 to 60 cattle year round. The cattle, horses and pigs would eat all the grain, hay and cotton seed meal raised on the place. The marketable articles would be milk, butter, cotton and pigs. Out of the forty cattle, if a dairy breed is used, twenty of them would be giving milk all the time. That would mean 60 gallons of milk daily if the milk was sold. If the cream is churned it would mean 150 to 200 pounds of butter; each week and skim enough for the calves and to keep two dozen pigs with their tails curled all the time.—Spartanburg Journal.

Ten Things to Do this Month.

1. Arrange for some cover crop on all the land you can. Have clover, vetch, rye, oats, or wheat on every acre possible.

2. Cut your corn and save the whole crop. Unless you live in some humid section where you know you cannot do better, don't waste your time and reduce your yield of grain by pulling fodder.

3. Pick out the very best and most productive individual corn stalks for seed next year.

4. Prepare a good seed bed for all fall grain and sow some oats right now.

5. Sow some grazing crops for your hogs—rape, rye, etc.—and don't fatten them on corn alone.

6. Plant vegetables for winter use, turnips, lettuce, radishes, peas, cabbage, spinach, carrots, etc. Put up late vegetables and fruit for winter.

7. Clean the weeds out of the garden and truck patches, from around the buildings, along the roadside and out of the pasture.

8. Look after the poultry, repair, clean out and whitewash the houses, sow some crops for green feed, pick out birds for exhibition.

9. See that the barns, stables and other buildings are in good repair for the winter.

10. Start some movement for improving the roads of your community.—Progressive Farmer.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 16.—Bradstreet's Saturday will say for Richmond and vicinity:

Trade conditions generally continue to show improvement and as the fall season approaches dealers in all seasonable lines report more active demand. Wholesale shoe dealers have their travelers out with spring samples, orders for future shipment are fair and considerable ordering for immediate shipment are being received. Manufacturers of trunks, bags and leather novelties report active demand ordering and anticipate an increased business as the season advances. Dry goods and notions are in fair demand. Produce is scarce and prices high. Dealers in malt and spirituous liquors report an increase in business over recent months. Drugs are fairly active. A much needed rain has been beneficial to late crops and fall vegetables. In North Carolina cotton picking is in progress the crop is reported smaller than in 1908. Tobacco is being marketed at fair prices considering the quality. The tobacco crop in North Carolina and Virginia is reported well up to the average both as to quantity and quality. Retail trade is quiet. Collections are fair.

THURSDAY, SEP. 16, 1909.

Here's hoping the president may have a trip as safe as it is long.

In the lapse between base ball and foot ball the State and the county fairs come in to occupy the attention of the people.

There seems to be about as much difference in the demeanor of Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Peary as there is between their husbands. And it all goes to the credit of the Cook side.

If Greenville people have money to invest in real estate, their home town is the best place to put it. This is safer than buying "a pig in the bag" in some town you know nothing about.

The manufacturers write that they will be ready to ship the slogan buttons for Greenville on the 17th. So it will not be long before all the folks can be wearing "Our Greenville, yours if you come."

It has been predicted that the census to be taken next year will show one hundred millions people in the United States. That is a big bunch of folks, but we expect the hunt is going to find them.

The Southern Farmer.

He is as good as the best. He has reached the point where he raises more cotton to the acre than Texas, and more corn to the acre than Kansas. This is being done right here in North Carolina. In this week's issue of The Progressive Farmer is an article that reflects the faith of The Chronicle in the Southern farmer. "We realize," says Mr. Poe's paper, "that in spite of all our faulty methods and all our imperfect systems, it is the agriculture of the South which has built up its cities—as well as the cities of other sections—and which has changed this region from a land of seemingly hopeless ruin to one of comparative prosperity and of untold possibilities. If all this has been done under the crude, wasteful and often destructive methods of the past, what may not be accomplished when with a clearer view of the underlying principles of scientific farming, a more careful attention to the details of every day work and the general adoption of more economical methods, the Southern farmer starts out in real earnest to make this country what it should be? We believe that good farming—the kind of farming that our readers, and that all the farmers of the South are going to do—will not only produce crops at a lower cost and hence a greater profit, but will also redeem the worn-out fields of the South and convert the lands now waste and unprofitable into fertile and productive areas, the homes of a thrifty, progressive and prosperous people." This is a very encouraging picture and it is not overdrawn. And it is further true, as The Progressive Farmer says, that the farmers of the South are not less intelligent, less industrious, less aspiring or less capable than farmers in other sections, and therefore they will build up in the South a rural civilization the equal of any that can be built in any other land or clime, and the superior of any that the world has yet seen.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Barn Door Buying Has Hurt the Tobacco Business.

While the sales of tobacco on the local market have been very fine and the warehousemen are encouraged, there has been a very conspicuous feature in this year's trading which the tobacco men say is very much to the detriment of the agricultural interests of the country, and that is "country buying." They say that the farmer is unwise to sell his crop on the farm. That he pays, thereby, the expenses, traveling and living of the buyer, which he might just as well keep in his own pocket. When the tobacco is finally put on the market for the buyer who makes the shipment it brings no more than the farmer would have gotten himself, and the middle man's expenses, leaving small profit for the grower. It is not often that these country buyers get "stuck," as they know that nobody is looking out for them except themselves, and the farmer pays the expenses.

It is said that the greater part of the year's crop has been sold in that way, and that such methods give rise to dissatisfaction among the growers, who do not get what their crop is worth, and then blame the tobacco trade for their losses.—Florence, S. C., Times.

All ladies coming to Greenville shopping are cordially invited to go to the rest rooms, where they will find everything comfortable. You will find them in the Hoel building on Third street. They are free to all.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dizziness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these. Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

Our Guarantee

Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle. Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

The Traveling Heart.

I was at church the other night, when Dr. Potts preached an excellent sermon, in the course of which he happened to speak of "the hart bounding over the hills and drinking from the water courses." As I came out of the church Butterwick said to me:

"Pretty good joke of the old man's, wasn't it?"

"What do you mean?"

"Why, in the sermon, that joke about the heart."

"It didn't strike me as being at all facetious."

"It didn't, hey? Well, when a man talks about a heart skipping around over the hills and drinking out of the creek he must either be in fun or else just a gassing for the want of something to say. Who ever heard of anybody's insides carrying on like that? Does your liver roam round over the hills? Can your ribs drink out of the canal?"

I explained the situation, and Butterwick went home to study the Scriptures more carefully.—Max Adler in New York Weekly.

Most Popular Druggist Makes a Remarkable Statement.

Dr. J. W. Bryan has at last obtained the agency for a remedy which they are selling on a positive guarantee to cure any Liver Trouble. If food does not digest well, if there is gas or pain in the stomach, if the tongue is coated and breath bad, if there is constipation and straining Bloodline Liver Pills will cure you. If they do not you have Dr. J. W. Bryan's personal guarantee to return your money. Bloodline Liver Pills give quick relief and make permanent cures of Constipation, Dyspepsia and all Liver Troubles. These are strong statements, but Dr. Bryan is giving his customers a chance to prove the truth, and if after purchasing a 25 cent box of Bloodline Liver Pills you are not satisfied with the results go to Dr. Bryan and ask for your money.

OUR PIANO WAREROOM

Now Open.

WITH the exception of two makes which have not reached us, yet, the most of the makes which we intend to handle are now on our floor, next to Carr & Atkins Hardware Co.

The grandest display ever shown. In this magnificent group of pianos can be seen, the artistic Lester. This strictly high grade piano is used in the leading Conservatories of the U. S., among them in the New England Conservatory, Boston, largest musical institution in the U. S. The East Carolina Teachers' Training School, Greenville, N. C., has also equipped its music departments with these famous instruments. The renowned Henry and S. G. Lindeman Pianos, this concern is one of the most noted of the pioneers in the piano industry in this country. Of this piano we quote from the music trades:

"Mr. Henry Lindeman is considered to be one of the few really scientific and expert piano makers we have living today. He is also recognized as an expert scale drawer and his reputation for developing the same is second to none in the trade. He stands pre eminent as a maker of scales of pianos." Six other makes are all standard and legitimate. Among those "the Boudoir pianos" known as the smallest high grade, upright, ever manufactured "Nothing ever like it." A truly artistic little piano and is the artists' favorite of the little pianos. We thus quote the celebrated Madam Emma Calve: "Relative to the Boudoir Piano, which I purchased for my private use last February and used by me in my Trans-Continental Tour, I desire to say that this piano has certainly proved itself to be a little jewel. To state the whole truth, I am enthusiastic over this little piano. It possesses a quality of tone that is sweet and sympathetic, being practically well adapted to accompanying my voice, and a volume that is the equal of, if not surpassing, pianos of usual size. It is truly a wonderful little piano, and I would not dispose of mine for any consideration."

We invite the public to visit our wareroom. Are you considering the purchase of pianos, or have you one in your home on trial? Come and look at ours, and your home will be made happier and your pocket book will remain decidedly in a healthier condition. Terms to suit your convenience. Come and listen to the Lindeman, Lester, Milton and Bjure Bros. Player-pianos. Daily recitals.
