TAX ON CARNIVALS.

Attorney General Bickett Holds That They Are Not Exempt.

There is considerable local interest in an opinion just rendered by Attorney General T. W. Bickett on the meaning of Section 30 of the Revenue Act relating to the exemption from taxation of exhibitions or entertainment given for the benefit of religious, charitable or educational objects. According to his construction street carnivals by paid companies do not come within the meaning of the section, although a portion of the proceeds are to go toward charitable institutions. He says that the statute does not contemplate exemption except where those giving and participating in the entertainment are to receive no pecuniary compensation and that if a carnival company is hired to give the entertainment then primarily, it is for the benefit of the carnival company, and that it is a speculative question as to whether religion, charity or education will ever derive any benefit from the show. Heretofore a contrary opinion has prevailed and the carnival companies when showing under the auspices of some local organization have been exempted from taxation.

In making the ruling Attorney General Bickett takes occasion to cast a fling at the average carnival that is going about the country setting up under the auspices of fraternal orders and similar organizations. He says: "The kind of exhibition handed out to the public by the average carnival company is execratingly insipid, only virile when vicious—a sort of saw dust baby with hookworms in its toes." The ruling as to tax was at the request of State Treasurer Lacy. —Wilmington Star.

Cotton Coming In.

Cotton is coming in quite freely, the farmers showing a disposition to sell as fast as they can get it picked out and ginned. The price on the local market is running from 12 to 12½.

SAMPLE RAILROAD SUIT.

An Instance of What the Railroads Are Up Against Occasionally.

A great case was being tried in Graham court yesterday before Judge Biggs and a jury. Three men are suing the Southern Railway for failure to let them off a train at Reidsville. The evidence showed that the train made the usual stop; that a woman and child, if not others, alighted, yet when some distance out from Reidsville some one pulled the bell cord and the train stopped. The conductor found that one of the three men did the work and asked what was the trouble. They said they wanted to be put off at Reidsville. He tried to reason with them but to no avail. He wrote them a pass from the next station back, but they tore it up and demanded that he run the train back to Reidsville. This he declined to do, hence the suit. This is quite the worst ever. By stopping the train the men made themselves liable to indictment, suppose another train had been following? It is easy to see what would have happened. Had the conductor run his train back to Reidsville he would have done so at the risk of the lives of the passengers and had anyone been hurt the conductor would have been almost lynched. Looks like the case should be thrown out of court. Maybe it was.—Greensboro Record.

Napoleon and Modern Invention.

One of the best cartoons of the moment shows Napoleon standing on the French shore of the English channel ruefully watching a flying machine that in the distance approaches the English shore. Napoleon's genius was so great, or his power of imposing his thought upon the world, that it seems strange that he could not recognize a master mind in another. Yet when Robert Fulton had come forth from a long and agitated discussion with the great little corporal, Napoleon's only comment was, if we may trust in tradition, "The fellow is mad; he proposes to land me my ship in England by means of boiling water." Fancy the Emperor's disgust had one promised to land him his ships in England on the wings of the air.

Celebrating a Century of Peace.

Already approved by the Canadian government plans are now under way for celebration on a large scale of the full century of peace between America and the Dominion, soon to reach its maturity. Organized effort is being made to induce the states and cities on this side of the frontier to cooperate with their cross boundary neighbors to the end of marking the anniversary with pageants which shall emphasize to the world the friendly relations between the two countries.—Atlanta Constitution.

North Carolina Industries.

The Tradesman, Chattanooga, Tenn., reports the following industries established in North Carolina during the week ending September 15th.

Thomasville—$200,000 cotton mill.
Appie—$10,000 cotton gin.
Vass—$250,000 cotton mills.
Greensboro—$50,000 iron working plant.
Durham—$50,000 lumber company.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Washington voted by a good majority to issue bonds to the amount of $25,000 for street improvement.

Selma, Sept. 15.—Mr. Burt Lowrey met a horrible death yesterday morning, about one mile from Selma on the Smithfield road. While driving across the railroad his horse became frightened at an approaching train. Mr. Lowrey, who was 85 years old, unable to control the horse, alighted from his buggy and went to the horse which became unmanageable, jumped over Mr. Lowrey, his hind feet striking him in the breast causing instant death.

Raising Peanuts in Davidson.

Mr. Sid Weaver, who lives near town makes a specialty of peanuts. Last year on two and a half acres he raised about 110 bushels. This year, although the crop is not as good as it might have been he will get 150 bushels on three acres. He plants the "Big Bunch" variety, a large peanut, very prolific, the nuts being somewhat more pronouncedly in clusters than other varieties. Peanuts might be grown much more extensively in this county than they are. There is money in them. The tops are no small item in the feed bill and the plant increases the fertility of the soil.—Lexington Dispatch.

Speeches by Ton Stored by Nation.

Almost 10,000 tons of reading matter is piled in one of the government buildings in Washington, says the Albany Journal. This is the collection of publications issued by the government; but it must be saved. A railroad train loaded with these useless publications would extend over three miles in length. Many of the speeches published and kept on hand have never been spoken, and are kept merely as a matter of form. There are also many unimportant papers. There is not another country in the world that publishes so many papers and books.—Ex.

A Rocker Churn.

An interesting butter churn is rotated or whirled by gently rocking its support. The churn receptacle rests upon straps which are fastened to the ends of the rockers. The rockers are made in collapsible sections hinged. The weight of the box on the straps furnishes a continual tension which causes the box to whirl as the frame rocks. The person churning can sit beside the churn, or work in different parts of the room while the butter is being made, it only being necessary to rock it when its motion begins to cease.—Popular Mechanics.

September Strawberries.

Some time ago the Tourist mentioned the fact that out at Sunnyside Fruit Farm Mr. J. D. Sayer had picked strawberries every month in the year. On Monday night, September 6, the Tourist received a box of ripe strawberries picked on that day at Sunnyside, with Mr. Sayer's compliments. They were not as large as in May, but they were good average berries, red and juicy—real strawberries and unusually sweet.—Southern Pines Tourist.

Auto Trip.

The editor took a run down to Winterville today with Mr. H. A. White in the latter's automobile. Some observations of the roads were made which will be used in subsequent issues of The Reflector in a campaign for good roads. We never get out on the country roads without seeing the need of their improvement.

Set Him to Work.

The smart young man—his school honors thick upon him, and his intention to teach the world in general and his father in particular in the manner in which up to date commerce should be conducted—stood earnestly holding forth in his father's office.

"You may rely upon me, sir," he was saying, with fervid emphasis. "I will devote my whole life to the interests of the business. It shall be my aim and ambition to keep the family name free from stain."

"Good!" said the old man gruffly. "That's the spirit. Tell the office boy to give you the whiting and ammonia; then go and polish up the brass name plate on the door."

A Rule of Thumb.

The thumb is a guide to a knowledge of the mental condition of the owner. He who is in full possession of all his faculties makes use of the thumb, but whenever there is a tendency to insanity this generally useful and active member falls out of work. A physician in charge of a lunatic asylum states positively that if you see a person whose thumb remains inactive—standing at right angles and taking no part in the act of writing, salutation or any other manual exercise—you may be sure that he has a diseased mind. He may talk intelligently and appear sane in every respect, but undoubtedly a tinge of madness is lurking within his brain.—Exchange.

OUR PIANO WAREROOM

Now Open.

WITH the exception of two makes which have not reached us yet, the most of the makes which we intend to handle are now on our floor, next to Carr & Atkins Hardware Co. The grandest display ever shown. In this magnificent group of pianos can be seen, the artistic Lester. This strictly high grade piano is used in the leading Conservatories of the U. S., among them in the New England Conservatory, Boston, largest musical institution in the U. S. - The East Carolina Teachers' Training School, Greenville, N. C., has also equipped its music departments with these famous instruments. The renowned Henry and S. G. Lindeman Pianos, this concern is one of the most noted of the pioneers in the piano industry in this country. Of this piano we quote from the music trades:

"Mr. Henry Lindeman is considered to be one of the few really scientific and expert piano makers we have living today. He is also recognized as an expert scale drawer and his reputation for developing the same is second to none in the trade. He stands pre-eminent as a maker of scales of pianos." Six other makes are all standard and legitimate. Among those "the Boudoir pianos" known as the smallest high grade, upright, ever manufactured "Nothing ever like it" A truly artistic little piano and is the artists' favorite of the little pianos. We thus quote the celebrated Madam Emma Calve: "Relative to the Boudoir Piano, which I purchased for my private use last February and used by me in my Trans-Continental Tour, I desire to say that this piano has certainly proved itself to be a little jewel. To state the whole truth, I am enthusiastic over this little piano. It possesses a quality of tone that is sweet and sympathetic, being practically well adapted to accompanying my voice, and a volume that is the equal of, if not surpassing, pianos of usual size. It is truly a wonderful little piano, and I would not dispose of mine for any consideration."

We invite the public to visit our wareroom. Are you considering the purchase of pianos, or have you one in your home on trial? Come and look at ours, and your home will be made happier and your pocket book will remain decidedly in a healthier condition. Terms to suit your convenience. Come and listen to the Lindeman, Lester, Milton and Bjure Bros. Player-pianos. Daily recitals.
