ASSAULTED AND ROBBED.

Member of Carnival Almost Killed at Washington.

Washington, N. C., Oct. 10.—One of the boldest and most daring assaults and robberies ever known in this city was committed last night between twelve and one o'clock on east Main street, when a Mr. C. R. Shafer, owner of several of Barkoot Carnival shows, which exhibited in this city the past week, was waylaid on his way to his boarding house by a thug, who coming up behind struck him a powerful blow over the right eye with an old gun barrel, following with a single blow and very near killing him, Mr. Shafer was found in a semi-conscious condition some time after by Mr. D. W. Bell, manager of the local telephone exchange, while on his way home, and he immediately phoned Dr. Joshua Tayloe who came for the wounded man in an ambulance and took him to the Washington hospital, where an operation was performed at which it was found that a large section of the skull was crushed in and a piece of bone resting on the brain. Drs. Davis and Tayloe, assisted by Dr. E. M. Brown, performed an operation at three o'clock this morning, removing a large amount of crushed bone and saturating the injured and lacerated membrane. When found both pockets of the injured man had been rifled and between seventy five and one hundred dollars had been stolen. The patient regained consciousness this morning and gave a description of his assault. There are slight hopes for the recovery of the injured man. Local police are at work but no arrests have been made yet.

Church Improved.

Worshippers in Memorial Baptist church Sunday were pleased to observe the improvement that has been made in the auditorium by the Ladies Aid Society. The doors and interior have been newly painted and the entire floor covered with a handsome carpet, adding much to the appearance.

HOWE'S GREAT LONDON SHOWS.

The Clowns Are Surprisingly Funny—Every Act a Feature.

Any one of Howe's Circus clowns would be the last person in the world you would pick out as a professional jester. He is the soberest-appearing cuss you ever saw on the street. Yet he has but to walk from the dressing top to the big show and you laugh. There is something about that stride that is funny, and when he allows the toy balloon to get away from him and sail through the air, crying after it, the spectators almost fall off the seats with laughter. Now, you let some one else try that same little clown trick and it's not funny at all.

The clown today occupies an even more exalted position with the circus than he did thirty or forty years ago.

Years ago they didn't have the colossal acts such as travel with a show of the caliber of Howe's aggregation. Then it was an easy matter to make, or rather arrange, your program so that one act followed another without a wait. Nowadays with the big acts it takes time to get the rigging ready, and the clown must, during these temporary lulls, amuse the spectators so that they will forget all about the wait and watch and laugh.

The clowns of Howe's Great London Shows were all specially engaged for this branch of the performance, and it's the boast of the management that their efforts in this direction have met with a success beyond their expectations.

The big show will be here Wednesday, Oct. 13.

SCOTCH SINGERS TUESDAY NIGHT

First Entertainment in Lyceum Course Will be High Class.

With artists from continental Europe practically monopolizing the metropolitan stage, the overwhelming force of the array of Italian, Spanish and Polish names is likely to cause one to forget that the English speaking nations have famous singers of their own. Such a singer, recognized as the greatest of her class in a country noted for its songs, will appear in the opera house on Tuesday night under the auspices of the End of the Century Book Club in the person of Miss Tina Crawford, of Glasgow, the Scottish Jenny Lind.

The reputation of Miss Crawford as a contralto vocalist of remarkable brilliance is supported by substantial testimonials from some of the best critics in the musical world and commenting upon her appearance in the British capital, the sedate London Times is shaken from its massive calm to such an extent that it "envies Miss Crawford the possession of such a glorious voice" and declares that "no doubt she is the finest contralto we have heard for a long time." The Glasgow press may be assumed to be partial to its favorite town celebrity, but at the same time the unqualified declaration of the Record that "this lady reigns supreme as our greatest contralto singer" is the most impressive of all the tributes yet paid to her, coming from a quarter that must be duly respectful of local prejudices of those who are always ready to dispute such a claim if possible.

The verdict of her own people has been abundantly confirmed by American and Canadian papers, which could be quoted at considerable length, and Miss Crawford comes to Greenville with an assured reputation. Along with her will be Miss Agnes Hyde, well known as a singer but better known as an entertainer.

Visiting Minister.

The pulpit of Memorial Baptist church was occupied at both services Sunday by Rev. T. B. Hill, representative of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, of Louisville, Ky., who is here to attend Roanoke Association this week. At the morning service Mr. Hill spoke with much interest on the seminary, its work and needs, and at night he preached a sermon of unusual excellence. He was listened to gladly by large congregations.

Notice to Hosts.

The committee on entertainment of the Roanoke Association that begins in Memorial Baptist church tomorrow night, has asked The Reflector to state that most of the delegates are expected to arrive on the evening trains Tuesday, and hosts who have signified a willingness to take guests may be ready to receive them for supper.

MONDAY OCT. 11, 1909.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan-Leavitt, daughter of presidential candidate W. J. Bryan, is a candidate for congress from Colorado. Somebody in the family is constantly before the people.

On the 25th inst. the Norfolk & Southern Railway will put the 2 1/2 cent passenger fare rate in force over its lines. Since the rate was established by the legislature, the Norfolk & Southern has come under the provision which exempted new lines for a certain time. That time having now expired the Norfolk & Southern comes within the law.

Mistaken Conception of the Function of a Newspaper.

This from the Lexington Dispatch is pretty much the experience of all other newspaper men—editors of "country weeklies"—where everybody generally knows everything that is going on and thinks it the duty of the newspaper to dish up all the scandal and hurtful things that come to its attention. Says the Dispatch:

"Occasionally some perfectly good, sensible man says to the editor, 'You are all the time blowing Lexington, but you never say anything about this, and that, and the other,' naming things that we all regret, that are not pleasant to think about, publication of which would serve no good purpose and would injure individuals and the community. These gentlemen mean no harm by looking at things that way. Some people, however, have got it in them, bred into the bone, to take their stand on the rotten sides of life and shout to the world to come and look. Why? What good does it do? Let it alone! Instead of harping at some commercial or moral failure, boost those successes that are thickly strewn around this town. Look at the doughnut and quit looking at the hole!"

And again this from the same paper:

"It's all very smart to demand of a newspaper that it turn detective, policeman, sheriff, public prosecutor and so forth, when it points out evils, but a child knows there are men to do all this sort of work, men who have taken oath to do it and who get paid for it. It is not in the province of a newspaper to engage in such labors. The mission of a public journal is to call attention to and denounce in behalf of the people those things which ought not to be; and then it is up to the officials to do the rest."

Prescriptions in Greensboro.

The usual publication of liquor prescriptions for the month just ended is made in The Telegram today. A few physicians give entirely too many prescriptions. Dr. Waddy, a colored doctor who we believe has not been practicing here very long, gave 75 prescriptions. Dr. Dellinger, a colored doctor who has been here for many years and enjoys a very large practice among the people of his race, gave 4 prescriptions only. There is but one inference to draw and that is that the first named colored doctor has little if any respect for the law and the last named has a profound respect for the law. Unhappily the showing made by several of the white physicians is not so very much better than that made by the colored physician who heads the list in number of prescriptions given.—Greensboro Telegram.

In a new folder just issued by the Norfolk & Southern railway company attention is called to the opening of the Albemarle bridge on or about December the first. The opening of this bridge to traffic is of considerable importance to Eastern Carolina ports as it shortens the time one hour between Norfolk and all points south of Edenton. It is understood that when the bridge is open for traffic an additional passenger service will be inaugurated, which will prove of much benefit to the traveling public. Through trains will be run between Norfolk and Goldsboro, by way of Kinston and Newbern, and between Norfolk and Raleigh, by way of Chocowinity and Greenville.

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Many a Greenville Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching. With distressing urinary disorders. Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. One hundred thousand people endorse this claim.

Here is one case:

Mrs. Joseph Fly, Jr. Rose Street Rocky Mount, N. C., says: "I am pleased to testify in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills, as the results I obtained from their use proved them to be a remedy of great merit. I suffered considerably from dull, nagging back-aches and sharp pains across my loins. If I stooped, lifted or made a quick movement, the twinges were more noticeable and often it was hard for me to perform my household duties. I always felt tired and languid and was devoid of energy or ambition. Believing that the trouble arose from my kidneys, I started using Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me at once and further use disposed of the pains in my back, regulated the passages of the kidney secretions and gave me renewed strength. I cannot say too much in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

OUR PIANO WAREROOM Now Open.

WITH the exception of two makes which have not reached us yet, the most of the makes which we intend to handle are now on our floor, next to Carr & Atkins Hardware Co. The grandest display ever shown. In this magnificent group of pianos can be seen, the artistic Lester. This strictly high grade piano is used in the leading Conservatories of the U. S., among them in the New England Conservatory, Boston, largest musical institution in the U. S. The East Carolina Teachers' Training School, Greenville, N. C., has also equipped its music departments with these famous instruments. The renowned Henry and S. G. Lindeman Pianos, this concern is one of the most noted of the pioneers in the piano industry in this country. Of this piano we quote from the music trades:

"Mr. Henry Lindeman is considered to be one of the few really scientific and expert piano makers we have living today. He is also recognized as an expert scale drawer and his reputation for developing the same is second to none in the trade. He stands pre-eminent as a maker of scales of pianos." Six other makes are all standard and legitimate. Among those "the Boudoir pianos" known as the smallest high grade, upright, ever manufactured "Nothing ever like it" A truly artistic little piano and is the artists' favorite of the little pianos. We thus quote the celebrated Madam Emma Calve: "Relative to the Boudoir Piano, which I purchased for my private use last February and used by me in my Trans-Continental Tour. I desire to say that this piano has certainly proved itself to be a little jewel. To state the whole truth, I am enthusiastic over this little piano. It possesses a quality of tone that is sweet and sympathetic, being practically well adapted to accompanying my voice, and a volume that is the equal of, if not surpassing, pianos of usual size. It is truly a wonderful little piano, and I would not dispose of mine for any consideration."

We invite the public to visit our wareroom. Are you considering the purchase of pianos, or have you one in your home on trial? Come and look at ours, and your home will be made happier and your pocket book will remain decidedly in a healthier condition. Terms to suit your convenience. Come and listen to the Lindeman, Lester, Milton and Bjure Bros. Player-pianos. Daily recitals.

FINEMAN and WHITE

THE MARIENBAD WORLD.

Taking the Cure at the Salt Springs of Bohemia.

When you are at Marienbad the first sound you hear is tap, tap, tap, at your bedroom door.

"Half past 5! Time to get up!"

"All right!" you growl in reply, railing while you slowly get out of bed against the absurd tyranny of medicinal waters that insist on being taken so early in the day.

Sallying forth, you find the Marienbad world already astir. Water drinkers are converging from all sides to the spring. Each one on arrival provides himself with a glass and goes forward to receive his daily dose. You join the waiting line. Soon it is your turn, and the attendant maiden for a modest coin fills you a bumper. You take it aside and eye it keenly, holding it to the light. Then, surreptitiously smiling, you taste it cautiously. The flavor, it appears, is not unpleasant. You are reassured, and, assuming a resigned air, you drain the glass.

Elated by this proof of your courage, you walk out. The band is playing, the promenade crowded. Here you may see the crowned heads, millionaires, great singers and all the other celebrities who frequent Marienbad.

There is a peculiarity of the place that will quickly strike you—the stoutness of many of the visitors. As the Baron von Seidspitz, himself a man of girth, remarked to an English friend, "There are many thick people in Marienbad."

Hunger by this time probably possesses you, for it is 8 o'clock, but do not expect a hearty breakfast. Crisp rolls or toast and fragrant coffee will be enough, served in the open air. To a favored few an egg or a small plate of cold meat is permitted.

Curious morning tasks are prescribed for some of the patients. Mr. X., for instance, is ordered a piping hot mud bath, while Mr. Z. follows the "terrain" cure. This consists in walking an increased distance each day, so as gradually to strengthen the organs of which the functions are impaired. Most people, however, spend their time in reading, writing or lounging.

The welcome call to dinner draws all together about 1 o'clock. Again the fare is simple, the motto being, "Nothing very sour, nothing very sweet, nothing very salt, nothing very fat." Even the restaurants are not allowed to provide dishes harmful to the "cure." So you make yourself content with fish, roast meat or chicken, green vegetables and stewed fruit, and, as for drink, water, diluted claret or Pilsener beer must suffice. Woe to him whose choice strays to made dishes, pastry, cheese or spirits, for these he must abjure as long as he stays at Marienbad.

To rest awhile without taking "forty winks" is the patient's next problem, and when he has worked through it he will probably stroll along to a concert or make an excursion among the delightful pine clad hills that inclose the Marienbad valley.

When evening approaches the gardens and promenade fill with people. They sit about at small tables and sip their coffee while listening to the band.

Your last meal is a light supper at 7 o'clock, and by 9 you should be in bed.

The normal length of the "cure" is four weeks. It is said, however, that Americans, with characteristic energy, have been known to compress it into something like half that time.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Thoroughly Businesslike.

Lord Greenfield, being asked to buy something by a smart young matron who kept a table at a ladies' fair, said that he wanted what was not for sale—a lock of her hair. Whereupon she promptly cut off the coveted curl and handed it to him, naming the price—a hundred dollars. Later the purchaser was showing his trophy to a little circle of friends.

"She rather had you there," laughed one benedict. "To my certain knowledge she only paid $3 for the entire bunch."—Lippincott's.
