ROANOKE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

IN SESSION WITH GREENVILLE MEMORIAL CHURCH.

Large Attendance of Delegates - Interesting Opening Exercises - Artistic Gavel

The second annual session of the Roanoke Association began Tuesday night in Memorial Baptist church. The attendance is large, the first roll call showing forty out of fifty churches represented, and others reported later.

After devotional exercises, the introductory sermon was preached by Rev. R. A. McPharland, of Scotland Neck. It was a masterly discourse in most beautiful language and eloquently delivered. His text was 1 John 3:2, and his subject "Christian Present, Christian Future." First showing the privilege and honor of the Christian in this life in being a member of God's family and having Him for a guide and Christ for a companion, he turned to the Christian's future, showing that after all things material shall have passed away those who have followed Christ faithfully here yet shall be, and "we know not what we shall be, but when He shall appear we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as He is."

At the conclusion of the sermon former moderator T. M. Arrington, of Rocky Mount, called the association to order and asked Dr. J. D. Hufham to lead in prayer.

Former clerk J. A. Sullivan, of Washington, called the roll of churches and forty responded as having delegates present.

The election of officers was then declared in order. T. M. Arrington was unanimously re-elected moderator, and J. A. Sullivan unanimously re-elected clerk and treasurer. W. H. Ragsdale was elected historian.

The moderator announced the several committees appointed at last session for the different topics at this session.

The chairman of the committee on order of business reported, this being in accordance with the program previously published.

An invitation from President R. H. Wright, of East Carolina Teachers Training School, to the association to visit that institution was read by the clerk, and on motion of Rev. R. A. McPharland the association voted to accept the invitation with thanks.

Visitors were then introduced, these being Rev. T. Hill, representative of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville; Rev. M. L. Kesler, general manager of Thomasville Orphanage, Dr. J. D. Hufham (who said he was not a visitor but was right at home) and ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis. Each responded in a few words.

Rev. J. B. Cook, pastor of Memorial church, extended a brief welcome to the association that lacked nothing in earnestness and cordiality.

Cards were distributed for the delegates to give in their names, and with benediction by Rev. M. L. Kesler, adjournment was had to 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

After adjournment the moderator showed The Reflector representative a gavel which had been handed him by J. D. Christian, of Rocky Mount, just before he started to the association. This gavel was beautifully carved and a work of art. On the handle, made of hickory, was carved "Roanoke Baptist Association." "Attempt great things for God, expect great

HOWE'S CIRCUS HERE.

And Greenville Has a Holiday With Lots of Fun Today.

Howe's great circus arrived here early this morning, and as was usual on such occasions a crowd was at the N. & S. depot to see them unloading. With the precision of clock work the men and horses assigned to that part of it unloaded car after car and transferred to the Munford park, where the tents are pitched.

It is not known who was the first of the small boys to greet this aggregation, though Sherwood Ragsdale is laying claim to it, having set his alarm clock at 2:30 and rushed into his clothes at the first alarm.

Before the sun was well above the trees, canvass had been spread and mammoth tents were lifted into the air. By 8 o'clock, flags were flying, breakfast was being served to show people and red circus lemonade blended the perfumes of scorched pig, seasoned with vinegar and pepper.

By 9 o'clock, the streets were thronged with people, a thousand or more were at the circus grounds, while the circus people were busy with the initial preparation for the street parade, which began at 10 o'clock.

The parade was a most creditable one. There was a long line of tinselled beauty, gorgeous costumes; men who bestride their steed with grace and very pretty women, every one of them on horseback or on car. The herd of elephants and the camels, the open cages of lions, tigers and serpents were viewed with admiration by the crowds that lined the streets.

It is also to be noted that there was a fresh appearance about the performers, women and men, and in fact the ensemble that was most pleasing and a harbinger of an attractive and entertaining performance.

The afternoon performance begins at 2 o'clock and the evening performance at 8.

The Show a Good One.

The Tarboro Southerner has the following to say about Howe's Great London Shows:

The street parade was merely a fit prelude to the performance, this afternoon, which was good from the grand entry to the concert. We believe it can be truthfully stated that every feature during this performance gave satisfaction and sustained the advanced notices that we have been publishing.

The Tybelle Sisters, of New York Hippodrome fame in their mid-air performances deserve special mention.

The same for Miss Kate Dooley "the circus beauty" in her poses on her flying perch.

The herd of elephants evidence wonderful skill of the trainer, the trapeze and horseback riding were of a high order. The clowns, the best seen here in a long time furnished merriment for two hours.

Not the least of the many very excellent features was the Japanese family in their specialties. The show made good.

There will be another performance this evening. The performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The door will be opened an hour earlier.

things from God." "Organized at Rocky Mount Oct. 13, 1908." "The field is the world." The head of the gavel was of sycamore wood, wedge shape, or like a blacksmith's cutting hammer. On the opposite sides were pictures of two men, one showing attempt, the other expectation. A motto on the front was "Order Heaven's first law." The gavel is much admired by all who see it.

GREAT CROWDS AT CIRCUS.

Many People Here Plan to See Barnum and Bailey at Rocky Mount.

Greenville will be well represented at Rocky Mount on Thursday, Oct. 21st, when the Barnum & Bailey greatest show on earth exhibits there on that date, for a great many of our citizens have already expressed themselves as having made up their minds to attend. A glance at the list of wonders to be seen with this big show would lead one to believe that the limit in tremendous size as well as number of novelties to be seen has finally been reached. Barnum & Bailey present this year under their city of 14 acres of tents more things new than have been offered by all other shows in years. "Jupiter, the balloon horse," Karoly's troupe of 16 Hungarian coal black stallions, the musical elephants, celebrated Konyot troupe of equestrians, seven troupes of foreign acrobats, four troupes of aerialists and hundreds of other arenic novelties all go to complete a circus performance that has never been equalled. The big menagerie has been augmented by the addition of many new strange beasts and is larger than all the zoological gardens in this country combined. The street parade so gorgeous and so tremendous in size, beggars description and in all is a fair index to the wonderful performances that follow.

HOPE WELL ITEMS.

Hope Well, N. C., Oct. 12, 1909.

Rev. T. H. King filled his regular appointment here Sunday afternoon. He will begin a series of meetings at Hope Well, beginning Monday night after third Sunday in October.

S. J. and A. H. Cox spent Sunday afternoon near Gardner's Cross Roads.

Paul Ludford, of Winterville High school, made a week end visit to our vicinity.

E. A. Lancaster, of New Bern, spent Friday night with his daughter, Mrs. G. C. Cox.

Miss Alma Cannon spent last week near Littlefield.

Heber Savage, of Greenville, spent Sunday at Charles Smith's. Miss Mamie Stox spent Saturday night in Ayden.

Miss Lelia Stox went to Ayden shopping Saturday.

Misses Maggie and Julia Smith spent Saturday in Ayden.

Mrs. B. J. Skinner, of Clay Root, is spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cannon.

Jesse Rollins, of Winterville, spent Sunday afternoon at J. W. Cannon's.

Misses Roland Cannon and David Smith went on a "dear hunt" Sunday night.

Took Own Reflection in Mirror For Twin Sister.

Living in the upper part of the county are twin ladies who bear a most striking resemblance to each other. Recently one of the twins came to Wadesboro to do some shopping. While in one of our large department stores she happened to approach a mirror. The lady, as soon as she saw her own face in the glass, threw up her hands and exclaimed: "Lord a-mercy, Matilda; what are you doing here?" She thought her twin sister stood before her.—Wadesboro Messenger.

Dr. H. W. Battle has resigned as pastor of the Baptist church at Kinston to accept a call to Charlottesville, Va.

AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Oct. 12, 1909. Mrs. Rosa Fleming returned Monday from a few days trip to Tarboro and other places.

C. L. Cannon and wife left Tuesday afternoon.

W. E. Patrick spent a part of the day in Greenville Tuesday. Miss Blanche Cannon spent a part of Monday in Greenville.

The sermon preached by Bishop Strange on last Friday night was much enjoyed by every one who was present.

Miss Esther Blount, who has been very ill with typhoid fever, is recovering very rapidly.

Mrs. J. R. Tingle has been very sick for the past few days. E. L. Turnage went to Greenville this morning.

John C. Nobles, of this place, has closed out his brokerage and insurance business to E. W. Tingle.

Over 100 bales of cotton was sold on the Ayden cotton market Saturday.

Milton Taylor has returned once more and taken his old position again in Tripp, Hart & Co's office.

George Worthington will soon have his new work shop so he can do his repair work in it.

MASONIC OPERA HOUSE.

Thursday Evening, October 14.—"The Merchant of Venice."

Special engagement of Mr. Eduard D'Oize, assisted by Miss Eugenia Flagg and a company of players in Shakespeare's masterpiece comedy, "The Merchant of Venice"—Mr. D'Oize as Shylock, Miss Flagg as Portia—Under the management of Guy F. Gregg.

The entire production, including many sets of scenery, all Venetian furniture and furnishings, all special music and elaborate costumes of the Elizabethan period, as carried by Mr. Gregg, the local theatre furnishing nothing from the drop-curtain back.

The management announces the appearance of Mr. D'Oize and company with great pleasure and with the assurance that the production is complete. He asks the consideration and attendance of the citizens of Greenville that Mr. D'Oize's may be reckoned amongst the first class attractions of annual visitation.

The Scotch Singers.

A tremendous audience was in the opera house Tuesday night to hear the Scotch Singers from Glasgow in the first entertainment in the lyceum course under the auspices of the End of the Century Book Club. The entertainment was delightful every number of the program being excellent. The ladies of the book club are to be congratulated upon the success of the entertainment. The others to follow in the lyceum course will be equally as good.

Prominent Colored Man Dead.

Moses King, a well known colored man here, died Monday and was buried Tuesday evening. For a long time he carried on a market business. In the days of Fusion rule which put negroes practically in control of several Eastern towns, Moses was one of Greenville's police officers.

WEDNESDAY OCT. 13, 1909.

The Reflector went to press at 12 o'clock today so "the force" could go to the circus.

Governor Ansell, of South Carolina, says "the solid South will be solidly prohibition within the next five years." It looks like his prediction will hit right.

This is one day in the year when papa's anxiety for the welfare and amusement of the "little folks" is really pathetic to behold. We are all children once in a while.

In South Carolina reports are given as to the price that tobacco brought as well as the quantity sold on each market. In North Carolina the reports only give the quantity. Let us have the price also.—Raleigh News and Observer.

It looks like the News and Observer might get its facts straight if it wanted to. We have noticed reports from a number of markets in North Carolina that gave the total number of pounds sold, the amount in dollars and cents that was paid, and the average price per pound. That is the way the secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade has made his reports, and on many other markets similar reports have been made.

Why one Man Lost the Chance of His Life.

Not long ago there was an opening for a bright man with a new firm in a distant city, says Jane Lee in The Designer for November. In our office was the very man who, we thought was peculiarly suited for the place. We all urged him to go West and make application, but he refused to do it. I think even the members of his own firm were anxious to see him take advantage of the opportunity. Some of us in talking it over, were a bit resentful of his attitude. We thought him lacking in ambition and courage. He was afraid to strike out and take the chance. And then one day—these things happen so unexpectedly—that man and I had a heart to heart talk, and I learned why he had not gone.

He had lacked the funds! The trip to the distant city meant the money due that very week for life insurance premiums. And then the new firm wanted well dressed, prosperous looking men on its staff.

"I'd have looked fine in my last year's overcoat and this season's cheap business suit. I should have had to buy a decent outfit to make a good impression, and if I had failed to get the place then some one at home would have had to suffer for my plunge. It's all very well for men without family ties to strike out on new lines, but a man with a wife and children must keep things moving at home. He can take no chances." Three days later I met his wife in a shop, trying to decide between two silk petticoats. "If I get the blue, it will just match my new suit; but if I get the black, I can wear it with several frocks. It is so hard to decide. Nowadays one must have a silk drop skirt with every gown, it seems."

I thought of the man's last year's overcoat and this year's cheap business suit, and understood. His present salary allowed her to have a silk "drop," and he did not wish her to wear sateen ones for a while, so that he might improve his business prospects.

He is not embittered nor resentful. He does not question his wife's right to wear silk skirts while he wears last year's overcoat. He simply belongs to the large class of American men who unquestioningly turn their salaries over to the family whose support they have assumed.

The sales on the tobacco market here continue good with fair prices for all grades. Whenever good weed is put on the floors, it brings every cent it is worth.—Williamston Enterprise.

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Many a Greenville Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching. With distressing urinary disorders. Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. One hundred thousand people endorse this claim.

Here is one case: Mrs. Joseph Fly, Jr., Rose Street Rocky Mount, N. C., says: "I am pleased to testify in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills, as the results I obtained from their use proved them to be a remedy of great merit. I suffered considerably from dull, nagging back-aches and sharp pains across my loins. If I stooped, lifted or made a quick movement, the twinges were more noticeable and often it was hard for me to perform my household duties. I always felt tired and languid and was devoid of energy or ambition. Believing that the trouble arose from my kidneys, I started using Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me at once and further use disposed of the pains in my back, regulated the passages of the kidney secretions and gave me renewed strength. I cannot say too much in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"Mr. Henry Lindeman is considered to be one of the few really scientific and expert piano makers we have living today. He is also recognized as an expert scale drawer and his reputation for developing the same is second to none in the trade. He stands pre-eminent as a maker of scales of Pianos." Six other makes are all standard and legitimate. Among those "the Boudoir pianos" known as the smallest high grade, upright, ever manufactured "Nothing ever like it." A truly artistic little piano and is the artists' favorite of the little pianos. We thus quote the celebrated Madam Emma Calve: "Relative to the Boudoir Piano, which I purchased for my private use last February and used by me in my Trans-Continental Tour. I desire to say that this piano has certainly proved itself to be a little jewel. To state the whole truth, I am enthusiastic over this little piano. It possesses a quality of tone that is sweet and sympathetic, being practically well adapted to accompanying my voice, and a volume that is the equal of, if not surpassing, pianos of usual size. It is truly a wonderful little piano, and I would not dispose of mine for any consideration."

We invite the public to visit our wareroom. Are you considering the purchase of pianos, or have you one in your home on trial? Come and look at ours, and your home will be made happier and your pocket book will remain decidedly in a healthier condition. Terms to suit your convenience. Come and listen to the Lindeman, Lester, Milton and Bjure Bros. Player-pianos Daily recitals.

EXHILARATING SPORT.

Dog Driving Over the Ice and Snow of Labrador.

Winter driving with a team of a dozen dogs is declared by Dr. Grenfell of Labrador to be the most fascinating sport ever enjoyed by man. His description of it as quoted by James Johnstone in his book, "Grenfell of Labrador," is as follows:

Although there is no harder work when driving over a rough country, yet the bracing cold, the exhilarating brightness of the reflected light from the snow, the difficulty of getting badly hurt, however sharply one shoots a mountain side or even tumbles over a cliff, the absence of damp or moisture, the fact that one can travel anywhere in soft, light moccasins and in such clothing as is most conducive to agility, without any reference to conventionality, all help to vanquish any realization of labor on a long trip.

There is infinite scope for skill in choosing, tending and training your dogs, also for both pluck and physical strength in driving, and all the craft of the woodsman is called for in crossing miles of virgin country, where at any time any wrong turn will surely mean a night in the open and perhaps a temperature of 40 degrees of frost.

Dog driving also teaches one what boxing is said to teach, self control, for of all the trials of temper one can be called on to endure the worst is, given a glorious day for traveling and when one is in a hurry, to have one's dogs run wild, listening to nothing, not watching anything, but tangling with every stump and tree and biting at everything that comes in the way.

As one man told me when I asked him what kind of a team he had: "I had to give 'em up, sir, though I loved they well enough. Good dogs be that wild it is too hard for to be a-handlin' a Christian, too, sir."

Can't Be Cut Off With a Shilling.

French parents (or, at all events, those with more than 2 shillings to dispose of by will) are precluded from the gratification of cutting a mischievous child off with a shilling. A reserve is established by law which no testator can bequeath away from his offspring. A Frenchman with one child can dispose of half his property according to his pleasure; the other half must inevitably pass to the child. Those with two children can dispose of only one-third of their property, those with three children of one-fourth, and so on according to the size of the family. Stern parents occasionally seek to evade the law by subterfuge, but the disposal of property in France is hedged round with so many restrictions that family black sheep are rarely mulcted of their legal inheritance.—London Mail.

Not the Same.

The new minister was making a duty call at the home of one of his flock, and, taking a little six-year-old miss upon his knee, he said, "Now, my dear, you want to be a Christian, like mamma, don't you?"

"No, sir," was the unexpected reply, "I would rather sing in the choir."—Chicago News.

Indulgent.

"Her husband is very good to her."
"Is that so?"
"Yes; he does everything to please her, even to talking back when she's looking for an argument."—Detroit Free Press.

Very Controversial.

They were very controversial in those days.

First.—Bowles wrote a book about Pope.

Second.—Campbell abused Bowles' book on Pope.

Third.—Bowles replied to Campbell's abuse of Bowles on Pope.

Fourth.—Byron wrote an answer to Bowles' answer to Campbell's abuse of Bowles' book on Pope.

Fifth.—John Bull wrote a letter to Byron about Byron's answer to Bowles' answer to Campbell's abuse of Bowles' book on Pope.

Sixth.—Dr. Garnet has a theory of the authorship of John Bull's letter to Byron about Byron's comments on Bowles' answer to—it is like "The House That Jack Built!"—Andrew Lang.

Bare Poles.

Purser—"Don't go on deck, madam. It is stormy, and we are running her with bare poles."
Aunt Polly—"Well, I suppose that coming from such a cold country as Poland, they can stand running round naked, but I think it's downright scandalous to let 'em."—London Telegraph.

Mangka Fruit of Malay Archipelago.

The fruit called mangka in the Malay archipelago hangs on short stems and grows directly out of the thicker, woody parts of the tree, which, to begin with, is a surprising sight to us north country men. Often in the leatherlike rind of the fruit are found hundreds of seeds about the size of a pigeon's egg surrounded by a not particularly tender mesocarp. Many are the opinions about the flavor of this latter. It seems to me peculiar and aromatic. The people of Java and Malaysia appear to be very fond of it, judging by the quantities of this fruit consumed. The wood of the mangka tree is also greatly esteemed. The root especially is utilized for wood carving. At first rather pale, it later resembles mahogan; in color.—New York Herald.
