VOLUME 30 GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 28, 1909. NUMBER 5659

"HER AMERICAN HUSBAND."

In the Opera House Next Thursday Night.

Supported by a group of clever players and singers, Walter Cluxton, who starred in a number of leading plays on the American stage, will appear in the opera house, on November 4th, under the auspices of the End of the Century Book Club, presenting a new musical comedy, "Her American Husband" written especially for him by George Totten Smith and Richard Legrand. The cast will include seven persons and the organization will carry a full line of special scenery and splendid costumes.

The appearance of Mr. Cluxton and his company on the lyceum circuit has marked something of an event in the extension of the scope of that new entertainment-providing organization which has in late years become an important factor in the amusement field. Cluxton was long identified exclusively with the theatrical stage when he won a foremost position, playing leading parts with Miss Nance O'Neil, Miss Margaret Wycherly and Miss Henrietta Crozman. In Whitney's all-star cast of "Piff Paff Puff," the Casino theatre success, he sang the principal baritone role. His remarkably fine work as the messenger in "The Message from Mars" is still vividly recalled by theatre goers throughout the country. His skill as an actor Mr. Cluxton largely acquired in England where he became associated with Beerbohm Tree at His Majesty's theatre in London and Edward Terry, on the Strand.

With his long experience and his own successful record as an example, Mr. Cluxton was able to judge almost infallibly when it came to selecting a company of his own. His present cast is excellent straight through the list and with a smart new comedy, full of music and amusing situations, will provide an evening full of wholesome entertainment.

Important Meeting.

The inauguration of President R. H. Wright of the East Carolina Teachers Training School and the public celebration in connection therewith on the 12th of November, will be an occasion of much importance to Greenville and Pitt county, in fact of interest to the entire State. Greenville must leave nothing undone to make the occasion a success, and as a beginning the Chamber of Commerce committee will meet tonight in Prof. W. H. Ragsdale's office to make plans for it. Every one who has been named on the committee should be present.

Church Building Accepted.

Rev. J. B. Cook and Messrs. J. F. Stokes and Z. P. Vandyke went to Farmville Wednesday to act with Rev. Jesse McCarter, the pastor there, as a committee to inspect the work on the new Baptist church building in that town, the contractors, York & Cobb, being ready to turn the building over. The committee found the work satisfactory in every particular, declaring it a beautiful and well-constructed building, and formally accepted it from the contractors. The building will be dedicated during the union meeting in Farmville which begins Friday the dedicatory sermon to be delivered on Sunday morning by Dr. R. T. Vann, president of Meredith College.

BETHEL ITEMS.

Bethel, N. C., Oct. 28, 1909.

The ladies of the Baptist church organized a Missionary Society last Sunday with sixteen members, and the following officers were elected: President, Miss Lottie E. Parker, vice-president, Mrs. J. B. Martin; secretary, Mrs. E. O. Burroughs; treasurer, Mrs. Annie Andrews. We feel sure much good will come from this organization.

Rev. J. W. Ferrell, of Tarboro, was here last week and delivered three splendid lectures. The only thing to regret is, that more people did not hear him.

R. A. Peele, of Greenville, was a welcome visitor to his old home last Sunday.

J. A. Staton and Jodie Woolard attended the state fair last week.

Miss Hennie Ragsdale, of Greenville, spent a few days with Mrs. J. A. Staton last week.

Quite a number from here attended the circus in Rocky Mount last Thursday. Owing to the special train coming from the fair, the crowd had an opportunity to go up in the afternoon, take in the night performance and get back the same night.

Miss Christine Stancill went home Saturday morning to stay over Sunday. She was accompanied by Mrs. G. F. Thigpen and little son, Guy.

The conference at Parmele was well attended Sunday by the Bethel people. It was an all day service and they tell us that barbecue and all kinds of good things to eat were plentiful.

The L. S. Club had a call meeting at the Jones Hotel Tuesday afternoon, to plan for the year. They have some splendid magazines and are planning to do some fine work this year.

Miss Olivia Hodges, of Washington, was visiting Miss Eliza Beth Jones last week.

Rev. Mr. Andrews filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church here Sunday morning and night.

"Laymen's Day" will be observed at the Methodist church next Sunday and it will be the duty of every member to be present.

The young people have been working on a play for some time and will give it next Friday night in the academy. Below is the cast of characters:

Jack Dunning, a victim of his own folly, Henry Staton
Percy Ogden, a true friend, Dr. V. A. Ward

Ashley Drayzon, a man of the world, Dr. M. P. Manning
Hiram Boggs, owner of Cowslip farm, J. D. Bryan

William Henry, the hired man, T. R. Andrews
Dorothy Dunning, Jack's wife, Mrs. Henry Staton

Alice Grandon, a society pet, Miss Elizabeth Jones
Melinda Jane Boggs, from Jumperville, Vt. Miss Lucy Manning

Sarah, Hiram's better half, Miss Christine Stancill
Polly Flinders, Dorothy Dunning's maid,

Miss Kathleen Cherry
The name of the above play is "The Fruit of his Folly," the proceeds, from which, will go toward the improvement of the school ground.

More Fine Potatoes.

Mr. W. L. Nobles is another farmer who is making a record raising fine sweet potatoes. He brought The Reflector some yams; one of them weighing 54 pounds.

"IN ARCADIA."

As Played by the Arcadian Musical Comedy Co.

As some one said of "Sappho" when it passed through the State recently, "It is a play with a moral," the writer will say of "In Arcadia," it is a play (?) without a moral, and is rather suggestive from beginning to finish. The language, movements and some of the music used on the stage Wednesday night were of a character that should have been eliminated, and the time is not far distant when such will not be tolerated, even by the stage people themselves.

However, the show had some redeemable features. The specialties, by Coppinger and White, the Manhattan newsboys' quartette, and the great Carroll, impersonator, were exceedingly good and the voices throughout the company were also good, but it is a pity they are not used in a more worthy performance.

BROTHER J. R. MOORE.

The subject of these resolutions was born on the 16th day of April, 1853, and became a Mason early in life, first joining King Solomon's Lodge No. 138, Burgaw, N. C., from which he demitted to join Greenville lodge No. 284, August 21st, 1899.

He was called "from labor to rest" October 8th, 1909. Being a Mason at heart, Brother Moore was regarded as an upright man and Mason and was much esteemed by all who knew him. He was in bad health several years before his death. A consistent member of his church, with implicit faith in his Saviour.

Resolved 1st. That this lodge desires to express to his bereaved family that sympathy which all true Masons feel toward all in sorrow and assure them they will always find our fraternity responsive to the cry of distress in what ever form it may come.

Resolves 2nd. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and published in "The Orphan Friend" and a copy be sent to his family.

250 Good Stories.

The Youth's Companion abounds in stirring stories of adventure and heroism. One may describe an escape from accidental peril, another a strange encounter with wild creatures—man or beast.

Many of these stories are true as to facts, and only disguised as to names and places. A score or more such stories will be published during 1910 in addition to nearly 200 others—250 good stories in all, and no two alike. And this is not counting the serial stories, which it is believed will be considered by old Companion readers as the best The Companion has ever published.

Every new subscriber will find it of special advantage to send at once the $1.75 for the new 1910 volume. Not only does he get the beautiful "Venetian" calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold, but all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909, from the time the subscription is received.

A. & M. COLLEGE NOTES.

West Raleigh, N. C. Oct. 27.—The Southern Textile Association held its convention in our auditorium last week. While here the delegates visited all the college departments and especially inspected the textile equipment. "Why" said one of the mill men, "I had no idea any Southern textile school was so splendidly equipped for good work." The textile students found the following program of the association of particular interest to them:

"Humidifying Textile Mills," "W. P. Hazlewood, Atlanta, Ga.," "Care of Operatives Health," A. S. Winslow, Clinton, S. C. "The Card Room," A. M. Landon, Charlotte, N. C. "The Future of the Spinning Frame," T. F. Cuddy, Clio, S. C. "Weaving as a Skilled Operation," Wm. Nelson, Neuse, N. C. "Power Economy in Cotton Mills," J. F. King, King's Mountain, N. C.

Thousands watched, with interest, the battalion parade and company competitive drill on the fair grounds Wednesday of fair week. Many compliments were paid the cadets for their precision and well executed movements by military men who watched the drill. The judges—Adj-Gen. J. F. Armfield, Lt. Col. R. L. Leinster, and Capt. B. F. Payne, agreed that company C, commanded by Capt. E. A. Seidenspinnek, won the honor of carrying the college colors during the ensuing year.

Last week was filled with events of uncommon interest at the college. Throughout the week sight-seers thronged the campus, indicating that interest in industrial education is rapidly growing.

Thursday our foot ball team defeated the Blue Grass lads by a score of 15 to 6, on the local gridiron. Since the Kentucky boys are champions of the West, their defeat by the A. & M. team is no little credit to our college.

The medal for stock judging at the fair was won by C. L. Cruse, a member of the junior class. Quite a little interest was manifested in the contest.

The college exhibits at the fair occupied an entire side of the east wing of floral hall. The electrical department made a very interesting exhibit. The textile and mechanical exhibits were each typical of the high class work of these departments.

Professor W. F. Massey, formerly head of the horticultural department, visited the college last week and spoke briefly to the students. Prof. Massey is one of the best known Southern agricultural writers, and is always a welcome visitor here.

Put in Your Best Work.

Candidates in The Reflector piano contest are piling up votes, and when the list is published again Saturday it will show some new names and changes in the votes. Every candidate should keep busy after subscribers to The Reflector, and their friends should also be at work for them. The value of the piano this paper will give away is something worth taking into consideration. Go to the music store of Fineman & White and ask them to show it to you.

Their advertisements in The Reflector and the window displays of their stores show that Greenville has some enterprising merchants.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 28, 1909.—Bradstreet's Saturday will say for Richmond end vicinity:

Distributive trade has been seasonably good this week with merchandise moving quite freely, and the advance of the fall season has stimulated trade in seasonable commodities more especially millinery, clothing and shoes. Continued high prices of many staple commodities have retarded the placing of future orders. Manufacturers of candies and confectioneries are working full time and in some instances are behind in orders. Drugs and drug sundries are unusually active.

Dry weather has retarded the early markets of sun cured tobacco. Farming operations are well advanced. The corn crop in Virginia is reputed above the average. In North Carolina cotton continues strong at recent prevailing prices, ranging up to 13½ cents. Naval stores are strong at recent advanced prices. Manufacturers of harness and saddlery report active ordering considering the high price of leather. Collections are fair.

W. C. T. U. Convention Starts Boom For Glenn For President.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 25.—A presidential boom for 1912 was soaring tonight in this city when former Governor Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina, was made the subject of a campaign cry by the convention. It being Sunday night, no official action was taken by the convention, but following an address by the former governor his name was proposed informally for the nomination in 1912 by the prohibition party for president.

THURSDAY OCT. 28, 1909.

The burning of an orphanage at Lynchburg in which five children perished, emphasizes the need of fire escapes for such buildings.

The weather has been fine and roads are correspondingly good, but wait until the winter rains get in their work and note the difference.

There is talk, and plenty of it, that the mills cannot afford to buy and manufacture cotton at present prices of the staple without raising the price of the manufactured product. Be this as it may, the farmer is greatly pleased when he gets around 14 cents for his cotton.

Next week, beginning Wednesday, the Farmers Congress will meet in Raleigh, and delegates are expected from every agricultural state. Exhibits of North Carolina crops will be made there, and liberal premiums are offered the farmer showing the best products. The Reflector has not heard of any Pitt county farmers who will make exhibits, but hopes that several will do so. We believe this county can win some of the premiums.

When Greensboro established the first graded school in North Carolina there was great rejoicing and it has lasted, but eventually the people of the city got in the humor to kick and they have been at it more or less ever since. Most of this is of course unjust; some of it may be just. One thing has been a subject of criticism for years, to-wit: the short hours. In the days of the old field school we all went in at eight in the morning, came out at twelve, went back at two and came out at four or five, with recess of half an hour in the forenoon and afternoon. Naturally the change to the present order was resented by most of those who were not reared in that kind of a school. In Greensboro the children go in at nine in the morning and get out between two and three in the afternoon, each carrying a lunch, none being allowed to go home for the noonday meal. Of course when criticism is made of this plan, we are told that we are not up-to-date; that all the schools and some colleges do the same thing, and so on. May be, but there are notable exceptions. Baltimore has a fine system of public schools. The hours are from nine to one and from two to four and not a child is permitted to bring its lunch with it; every one is required to go home and a request is made by the school authorities that they be given a hearty, warm meal. They hold that a child's mind needs food as well as its body and that this thing of stunting it at midday is wrong and likewise detrimental to its growth in learning as well as to its health.—Greensboro Record.

Says The Greensboro News: "When Dr. Kilgo said in that Charlotte speech that he was not as much concerned about what is to become of children at work in the mills as those who are idle in the streets, or words to that effect, he was driving a center shot into a very vital problem." Dr. Kilgo is conversant with cotton mill conditions in the South. He knows as do all other well-informed men, the situation from which arises the real danger to child life. It is found in the street and not in the homes, school houses and churches of the mill settlement.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Duties to Perform.

In regard to our schools, parents have duties to perform, which they can ill afford to neglect. They should show to their children that they have an interest in the school. They should examine carefully the reports sent by the teacher, should see that their children are in school every day, and punctual; should assist and encourage their children to do all their school duties faithfully and well; should cooperate with the teacher in securing the prompt return of their children home after school is dismissed; should make a friendly visit to the school, and talk freely with the teacher and principal in regard to same.—Washington News.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these. Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting, Indigestion and the nervous ailments which it induces can be cured and corrected only by natural means. Kodol stimulates the natural means. It prompts the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should do—while the stomach takes a little rest, for the stomach's sake.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist, get a dollar box of Kodol, and get a dollar box of Kodol. You can have a dollar box of Kodol for any amount of money you wish to pay. If you do not get a dollar box of Kodol, you will not get a dollar box of Kodol. The large bottle of Kodol is worth as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the Laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

New Tailored Suits

For months we have been keeping an eye on the production of the greatest garment manufacturers and style originators, both in this country and abroad, watching for the distinctive, out of the ordinary thoughts which spring up as it were, the multitude of handsome stamped out designs, which mark the display of ready-to-wear garments. We have been studying the style effects for fall at close range, too--drinking in some fashion messages of what is to be needed in woman's wearables and watching our selection of suits with first hand knowledge of your needs.

A MOST GORGEOUS DISPLAY OF FALL SHOWING

MUNFORD'S ENCHANTINGLY PRETTY WEAVES RADIANT WITH AUTUMNAL COLORS.

BEAUTIFUL AS THE MOUNTAIN SIDE when the autumn sun shines on the trees and grasses of dull Brown, Green, Blue and Gold, are the new goods for the coming season. Rich effects, every weave, which fashion has declared worth while is here at tempting prices. Many a beautiful sheen conceals a coating of lead to give weight, which causes the fabric to cut with very little wear. When you buy our goods, you buy absolutely the best our money can buy. That is why among people of this vicinity our goods have such a recognized standard. Choose the goods for the new class from our enticing values.

STYLISH CLOTHES FOR MEN.

In developing this special line we have anticipated every whim--every need of the young men who care for their dress. They are better suits than you'll find most anywhere else this season. Cut on vigorous lines and finished with due details--those details that young men are so keen about--shown in a wide range of styles, fine, fancy Worsted and Navy Blue Serge.

BOYS' SCHOOL SUITS--TIMELY VALUES.

Our complete fall line of school clothes has arrived and when we say school clothes, we mean something more than substantial knock-about clothes. These new suits enlist the same pains-taking care of the designers as do the suits for young men, and that is saying a great deal. Why shouldn't our boys have clothes full of class and style as well as we grown up folks?

STYLISH MILLINERY.

For more than a decade this store's Millinery has been the premier event of the season. Each season they've grown nearer to perfection. In the great numbers, the vanity, the exclusiveness, and artistic elegance of the Hats assembled for this fall's exhibit, all our previous similar displays have been far out classed. Our Millinery Department with its magnificent settings of new fall Millinery will present a marvelously interesting and beautiful picture.

OUR OWN DESIGNERS

have had in view for the last several months the requirements of this event, and their contributions are equally praise-worthy. The prestige of this store as a style source will be immeasurably increased by the many beautiful creations and adoptions in the present exhibit. So elaborate presentation of fascinating modes has never before been attempted.
