Quite a number of traveling men were in our town Thursday.

Mrs. J. H. C. Dixon went to Ayden Thursday, and returned.

Miss Ethel Carroll, who is teaching at Colerain, came in yesterday afternoon to spend the night at her home near here.

Quite a number of our people attended the inauguration in Greenville Friday.

Mrs. H. T. Oglesby, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Kinston, returned home Sunday.

Miss Lucy Manning, of Bethel, came in Friday night to spend Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. M. G. Bryan.

Mrs. J. O. Bobbitt and neice, Miss Blanch Ferehill, of Shermidine, spent last night with Miss Elizabeth Boushall.

F. A. Edmundson went to Greenville Friday.

M. B. Bryan, of Byrdsville, came in last night to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Bryan.

The assistant Bank examiner was in our town yesterday. He reports that everything is in excellent condition.

Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, the Vance Literary Society and the Philo Allean Literary Society met in joint session in the Vance Literary Society hall. The P. A. L. S. furnished the music and the V. L. S. gave a debate.

After the debate an instrumental solo, by Miss Geanette Cox. It is very seldom we have such a treat as this; it was a great privilege and a pleasure to be present.

Our people are continuing to make preparations for the association which convenes with the Baptist church here Nov. 16th, 17th and 18th. We are expecting one of the greatest religious gatherings that Winterville has yet witnessed. Be sure to come and enjoy the many good things that are in store for you.

G. Tucker bought a nice piano a few days ago.

Remember that there will be a Thanksgiving service in the Baptist church at 11 o'clock a. m.

M. Morris returned home with a nice wild turkey, which he killed in Craven county, a few days ago.

Mrs. Mary Smith spent Thursday with Mrs. G. Tucker.

Mrs. A. G. Cox, who has been sick for a few days, doesn't seem any better.

A Nice Sale.

On Monday Joyner Wingate sold a load of tobacco with F. D. Foxhall at the Star warehouse for these prices: 128 at 11c, 42 at 39c, 234 at 30c, 104 at 11½c, 316 at 34c, average $26.70.

Mr. Wingate was so well pleased with his sale that he came down to tell The Reflector about it. That is Foxhall's way, always pleases his customers. 11 16 1td 1tw

A WORTHY COLORED LEADER.

Trying to Lift His Race And Make Them Better Citizens—Asks Aid.

The Reflector is slow to commend men or measures until they are found to be worthy, but when this is done does not hesitate to speak its convictions. The Rev. James T. Gaskill, pastor of A. M. E. Zion church in this town, has been laboring among his people here for more than four months. We have conversed with him several times, but have made no mention of him and his work until now, when we have reasons to believe him worthy of it. He is a native of North Carolina, was educated mainly at Shaw University and Livingstone College, and served about fifteen years as a public school teacher in this State. Outside of his native State he has labored as a minister of the Gospel in Tennessee, Virginia, Ohio, Connecticut and New York, remaining eleven years in the latter State. He has personal letters from many prominent business men there, which show that his education and common sense have taught him how to make friends among the white people and hold them.

We are informed that within three months after coming to Greenville, he has visited every negro family in the town, 570 in number, which means a prayer and short personal sermon in every home entered, pointing his people to a higher and better way of living. This kind of negro is welcome to any community, and the best white people are ready to help them in their work among their race to make them good citizens.

Through his church Rev. Gaskill has called a rally to raise $600 by the last Sunday in this month, with which to settle the indebtedness of the church, about $300, and also to make some needed repairs on the church building and parsonage.

The testimonials of his life and labors in other fields, supported by his record here, have won the confidence and endorsement of the white ministers of Greenville, and they commend his efforts. The Reflector believes that such worthy colored men as this, when they have proven themselves worthy as he has done, should be encouraged in their efforts to make better citizens of their race, hence the white people could not do a better thing than to help the cause for which he is working. We are protecting ourselves in lending a helping hand to make those better citizens who might otherwise be a menace. The colored people need the help of their white friends in lifting the debt from their church and making improvements.

Special Anniversary Edition.

On the 10th of December The Reflector will issue a special anniversary-holiday edition. It will be twelve pages in a handsome cover and contain choice matter appropriate to the season. Two thousand copies of this special edition will be printed, and it will present a splendid opportunity for the business people to advertise holiday goods. Coming two weeks ahead of Christmas it will reach the people in time to direct them where to do their holiday shopping. The advertising space in the anniversary edition will be limited, but we hope all who desire to get in it can be accommodated. A representative of the paper will shortly be around to see the business men about it.

JAMIE-WHITFIELD.

Grifton, N. C. Nov. 13.—On the afternoon of Nov. 10th, a beautiful wedding was celebrated at St. John's Episcopal church when Miss Annie Rosalind, daughter of Dr. Wm. Cobb Whitfield, was given in marriage to Mr. David Alexander Jamie.

Miss Hazel Doles, of Elm City, played the wedding march. Miss Lucile Koonce, of Kinston, was maid of honor. She wore a brown coat suit and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Wilbur Fleming was best man.

The bride entered on the arm of her father. She was dressed in a blue coat suit and carried chrysanthemums. The groom with his best man, entered from the vestry room and met the bride at the altar, where the Rev. Milton Barber, of Christ church, Raleigh, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. H. Griffith.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party left for Grifton, where they took the train for their honeymoon trip.

In this marriage, Scotland joins hands with us, as the groom is a native of Edinborough, having come to this country about two years ago. He is a son of the Rev. David Jamie, M. A., of Edinborough, Scotland, who is a trustee of the John Fund, which has in charge the work of prohibition in that country. Rev. Mr. Jamie in company with his brother, came over on a visit to his son in the summer of 1908.

The bride's connections are among the first people of the State. Her father is Dr. Wm. Cobb Whitfield, of Grifton. Dr. Needam B. Cobb, a leader in Baptist circles and the late Dr. N. H. Cobb, of Goldsboro, are close relatives. Her grandfather, Col. Nathan B. Whitfield, of Kinston, was a Confederate soldier. He twice represented his people in the legislature and is one of the few gentlemen "of the old school," who are still left to recount the glories of a bygone age. Her grandfather on her mother's side, is Rev. Samuel Barber. He was a teacher before the war, since then he has been in the Episcopal ministry.

PASTIME THEATRE.

Illustrated Songs and Fine Piano Music Tonight.

Don't fail to hear Mr. and Mrs. Wright, at the Pastime Theatre tonight. They are fine. Mr. Wright, who is a good singer will sing an illustrated song, while his wife will play the piano.

The picture program for tonight is an exceptional good one and combined with the music you will be well repaid if you come out tonight. We will expect you to come.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, it hath pleased God in His all-wise providence to remove from earth to heaven the beloved father of our brother, Jake D. Sutton, one of the faithful members of the Y. M. C. A., of Winterville High School, therefore, be it resolved,

1. That we tender our bereaved brother and his relatives our sincere sympathy, and commend them to God, who is able to comfort them in this affliction.
2. That a copy of these resolutions be sent Brother Sutton, one spread upon our minutes, one to the Kinston Free Press, and one to The Reflector.

AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told.

Ayden, N. C., Nov. 15, 1909. J. A. Davis left Saturday for Washington, where he will spend a few days with his daughter, Mrs. E. A. Mallison.

Mrs. C. V. Cannon returned Saturday from a visit to Grifton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davis are going right on with the construction of their new house.

Richard Wingate is handling some fine stock at present.

J. E. Winslow has completed the new addition to his stables at Ayden. Mr. Winslow will have a fine car load of horses this week.

A good many of the Ayden people are going to Wilson this week to attend the state convention.

To the Merchants—When you want an extra grade of groceries call on W. E. Tingle.

If you want to insure your property against fire, Tingle will do it.

If you have any property to sell, Tingle will sell it.

The new Methodist church will soon be complete and ready for use.

Quite a member of Ayden people went to Greenville this morning.

Miss Jimmie Davis left this morning for her school in the country.

The County Board force are making a fine piece of road across the swamp just out of town. This road will be of great value to Ayden.

PITT COUNTY TOBACCO SALES.

Three Markets Entitle Her to Higher Rank in the List.

In the report of the State Department of Agriculture of the sales of leaf tobacco on the different markets for the month of October, Greenville is given fourth place, with Wilson, Winston-Salem and Kinston coming ahead in the order named. Taking into consideration that there are three markets in Pitt county but a few miles apart, while in but one other instance is there more than one market in a county, Pitt county takes a higher rank than is shown in the department's report by individual markets. For instance Greenville's 2,205,423 pounds sold in October, Farmville with 654,134 pounds and Ayden with 414,629 pounds, make a total of 3,274,183 pounds sold in this immediate section, leaving only one county, Wilson, which sold 3,540,011 pounds, ahead of us.

Supply of Papers With Auto Accident.

The edition of The Reflector of Saturday, 6th, containing the terrible automobile accident, was quickly exhausted, and so many applications for copies came in afterwards that an extra supply of the weekly edition, containing the same article, have been printed. Persons desiring these now can get them at the office.

To Open Law Office Here.

N. W. Outlaw, attorney of Goldsboro, was here recently arranging to open a law office in the Masonic Temple. He will locate here about the 27th of this month. He is a young man of pleasing appearance and we wish him much success. "Our Greenville, yours if you come."

TUESDAY NOV. 16, 1909.

The people of Illinois show that they are no better than some others when it comes to a lynching.

Even if the president does not write a proclamation, the country can go ahead and observe Thanksgiving day. The proclamation is just a matter of form anyway.

This year has been one noted for tragedies, and among the most appalling is the mine disaster which occurred in Illinois on Saturday. From an explosion and fire four hundred miners lost their lives.

There was another football victim Saturday when in a game between teams of the University of Virginia and Georgetown University young A. H. Critcher, whose home was in Richmond, received fatal injuries. Owing to the death of this young man, who was a member of the University of Virginia team, all other engagements for that team this winter have been cancelled. The University of North Carolina was to have played a game with them in Richmond on Thanksgiving day.

Choosing a Christmas Present.

When you make a present of a periodical to a friend or a family you are really selecting a companion to influence them for good or ill during a whole year. If the acquaintances of your sons and daughters were to talk to them aloud as some periodicals talk to them silently, how quickly you would forbid the companionship! In the one case as in the other, the best course is to supplant the injurious with something equally attractive and at the same time "worth while." A food can be wholesome and utterly distasteful. Reading can be made so, too. But The Youth's Companion not only nourishes the mind, but delights it, just like that ideal human associate whom you would choose. The Youth's Companion fills that place now in more than half a million homes. Can you not think of another family in which it is not now known where it would be joyfully welcomed?

If the $1.75 for the 1910 volume is sent now, the new subscriber will be entitled to all the remaining issues of 1909. If desired, the publishers will hold these back or send them at Christmas time, together with the Christmas number and The Companion's new "Venitian" Calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold.

The Youth's Companion, Comp'n B'ld'g., Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at The Reflector office.

advertise. This is an established fact, and it is also a well known fact that the most successful business men not only in this town but throughout the country are large advertisers. Now occasionally we find a merchant who does not believe in advertising at all. He tried a small ad for a month perhaps and then stopped it. Thought it did not pay. Did not take down that big sign over his door at the same time? Oh, no. Now then, what is the difference? Both your sign and your advertisement are used to draw trade. Both are necessary to your success. Of the two your advertisement is the most important because its influence is greater. It reaches the people—not when they are hurrying past your store on the opposite side of the street, but in their leisure moments, when they are given to good sober thought, and it is your own fault if you cannot at such a time present your business in such a manner as to make a lasting impression on them. Yet, very few men are convinced by the first appeal. It is like the gospel of grace. It must be "precept upon precept, line upon line, here a little and there a little." It is in this way buyers are won.—Southern Publisher.

RAILWAY CONDUCTORS.

The Many and Varied Duties They Have to Perform.

As a conductor he will probably begin in the freight service. His caboose will be a traveling office, and, more than that, it will carry all the gossip of the division up and down the line. It may be a homely little car, but it is just as sure to be a homelike place. From its elevated outlook he may command a good view of the train away ahead to the engine, and he will be supposed to know all the while that the brakemen are attending to their duties, that the train is in good order, particularly that there are no hot boxes smoking away and in imminent danger of setting fire to the train and the valuable contents. There is a deal of bookkeeping to be accomplished in that traveling office. The conductor will receive the waybills of the cars of his train and their contents, and he is held responsible for their safe deliveries to their destination or the junction points where they are to be delivered to other lines.

When he comes to the passenger service there will be still more book-keeping to confront him, and he will have to be a man of good mental attainments to handle all the many, many varieties of local and through tickets, mileage books, passes and other forms of transportation contracts that come to him, to detect the good from the bad, to throw out the counterfeits that are constantly being offered to him. He will have to carry quite a money account for cash affairs, and he knows the mistakes will have to be paid for out of his own pocket.

All that is only a phase of his business. He is responsible for the care and safe conduct of his train, equally responsible in the last respect with the engineer. He also receives and signs for the train orders, and he is required to keep in mind every detail of the train's progress over the line. He will have his own assortment of questions to answer at every stage of the journey, and he will be expected to maintain the discipline of the railroad upon its trains. That may mean in the one instance the ejection of a passenger who refuses to pay his fare--and still he must not involve the road in any big damage suit--or in another the subjugation of some gang of drunken loafers. The real wonder of it is that so many conductors come as near as they do to the Chesterfieldian standards.--Edward Hungerford in Outing Magazine.

Waiting For the Children.

An old woman hobbled up to the conductor of the train and said excitedly: "Vondt you to peece holdt on yet, Meester, Gonduckitor, vile my two grandtkinder comes by the drain? I runs off midout dem undt dey is goming so vast dey can, yes."

The conductor looked impatiently at his watch, then at the woman's pathetic face. Then he consented to wait a little, as the train was on time.

Five minutes later two blue eyed, chubby cheeked children came on the run, rushed up to their grandmother, kissed her, helped her on the train with her bridage and basket and then hurried away.

What the conductor thought is none of a refined person's business.--Chicago News.

Selling Baked Potatoes.

The baked potato merchant is a comparatively modern institution in the London streets, the first potato can having made its appearance, according to Henry Mayhew, about the year 1846. Fifteen years later, when Mayhew published his "London Labor and the London Poor," he estimated that there were 200 hot potato vendors in London, each selling on an average 300 halfpenny potatoes a day. "In cold weather," adds Mayhew, "the potatoes frequently are bought to warm the hands. Indeed, an eminent divine classed them in a public speech among the best of modern improvements as forming an excellent medium for diffusing warmth into the system by being held in the gloved hand."

Lysander's Boomerang.

They are telling a great joke on Lysander John Appleton. Mr. Appleton writes a very poor hand and recently wrote an angry letter to his wife's brother, asking him to pay what he owed him or be sued. The brother called in all the handwriting experts in his neighborhood, and they deciphered the letter to be an invitation to the brother and family to come for an extended visit, and five of them arrived today.--Atchison Globe.

Surprising, What Kodol Will Do

For you, when you need it. But the longer you neglect indigestion, the more you will suffer before Kodol can restore Good Digestion.

And, of course, indigestion if neglected long enough, brings on serious diseases in which Kodol cannot benefit you. Some of these there is no help for at all.

There are, in fact, very few ailments which cannot be traced directly to impure blood. And impure blood is always due to a disordered stomach.

Use Kodol and prevent Nervous Dyspepsia.

Kodol will effectually assist Nature to secure a complete restoration of good digestion. It does this by at once digesting all food in the stomach and keeping it digested, until the stomach is rested and can resume its own work. Kodol removes the cause--and the effect quickly removes itself.

When it is recalled that Apoplexy, Heart Disease, Cancer--and even Consumption--are due, to poor digestion and poisons thus transmitted to the blood, and throughout the system--the importance of maintaining good digestion is at once realized.

We knew what Kodol would do before ever the first bottle was sold. If we did not know just what it will do, we would not guarantee it the way we do.

It is easy for you to prove Kodol--the next (or the first) time you have an attack of indigestion. And you will certainly be surprised at the results. It is perfectly harmless.

There can be no harm in trying something that may do you a great deal of good--when it costs you nothing if it doesn't.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.
