OUR GREENVILLE, YOURS IF YOU COME.

VOLUME 30

GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 24, 1909.

NUMBER 5682

VIEW OF A VISITOR.

What He Says About Greenville on His Return Home.

Mr. Robert N. Ranson, editor of the Spring Hope Leader and superintendent of schools of Nash county, was one of the visitors here at the meeting of county superintendents and the training school celebration on the 11th and 12th. In the next issue of his paper he gave a long account of the inauguration of President Wright, pointed out the excellence of the school and advised the people of his county who want their children well educated to send them here. He also had some very nice things to say about Greenville from which we copy the following:

"This story would not be complete were we to leave unsaid a word of praise for the good people of Greenville. Met at the station in an automobile, taken to the home of Dr. D. L. James, where we were made to feel at home and permitted to go and come at will, driven over the city by Dr. James, given the use of his typewriter in looking after our newspaper correspondence, taken to the depot Saturday morning by his son, Mr. David C. James, who by the way designed the monogram of the school which is used on all the college pennants—well we can't mention all the courtesies shown. Every other county superintendent and school principal had same sort of treatment. All of the hundreds of visitors in town Friday were invited to go home with some one for dinner and spend the night, too. The visitors were the guests of Greenville and the folks wanted to entertain them, and they were sorry there were not more guests in town. One man who came in a little late and registered at the hotel was caught on his way to the hotel from the school by a friend and forced to go home with him for dinner. It wasn't Greenville's fault that the hotel man made the visitor pay for a dinner he didn't eat, and Greenville folks are pulling all together now for a new hotel and manufacturing plants, and their success in the past leads us to believe they will come pretty near getting what they want. "Our Greenville, yours if you come" is the slogan of the city, and it is not a meaningless jingle of words either. The folks there live the sentiment of that slogan every day, and if you don't believe it, go to see them and find out for yourself. The folks there entertain you not because they feel that it is a duty, but because they want to, and then you want them to entertain you. There is no feeling of wishing you were at the hotel rather than in a private home. It is the spirit that brought the school to Greenville and it is the spirit that will make the town great. There are other towns in North Carolina that could follow Greenville's example and thus gain many things. Nothing is too good for clever folks like those at Greenville."

Building and Loan Growing.

The directors of The Home Building & Loan Association held their monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon. One item of business at this meeting was receiving the quarterly report of the secretary and treasurer. This report showed that in the eighth series, which began Nov. 6th, about 250 shares were sold, bringing the total number of shares in the association to about 2,000. The amount of loans is now approximately $60,000, with other applications pending. The weekly dues on shares amounts to about $500. The association and what it is doing for Greenville is something to be proud of.

SOMEBODY'S PIANO.

But Who is to be the Winner is the Question.

Everybody who goes into the music store of Fineman & White sees a beautiful baby upright Boudoir piano bearing the placard "This Piano is to be given away by The Reflector as a Christmas Present." That is a fact, the piano is going to be given away, but who is to be the recipient of this handsome prize piano is as much an uncertainty as the day the contest began on the first of October. Miss Mary Johnson started out in the lead with votes, and still holds that position, with Miss Lottie Blow a close second. But others, as well as these, are at work, and there is no telling what surprises the closing few weeks of the contest will develop. The 24th of December will tell the story.

From now until the close the list will be published more frequently than heretofore that the friends of the candidates may keep in closer touch with their standing in the list. True all the votes are not published, as some of the candidates are holding votes in reserve to come in before the close, but the list gives a general idea of how they stand. The candidates and their friends should do their best work from now on.

Of course the purpose of this contest is to get more subscribers to The Reflector, and if you want to help a candidate win this piano you can vote for your choice by subscribing for The Reflector, or by paying up if you are already a subscriber. This must be done before noon on the 24th day of December if you want the votes to count. It costs nothing to vote, as the paper gives full value for the price of subscription. Here is the standing of the votes today:

Miss Mary Johnson	27,000
Miss Lottie Blow	21,825
Miss Lillie R. Tucker	9,000
Miss Mavis Belle Evans	4,865
Miss Beulah Mumford	3,775
Miss Maud Mooring	3,485
James Tingle	2,050
Quinerly School	1,900
Miss Lelia Stokes	1,600
Mrs. D. E. Nichols	1,270

A. M. COLLEGE.

West Raleigh, Nov. 22.—It is only a few days before the Southern championship football game will be played. The A. and M. team, with its coaches, is daily practicing for big game. The student-body is learning many songs and yells with which to cheer their team on to victory when they meet V. P. I. on gridiron at Norfolk Thanksgiving day. It is to be a hard fought game but the Farmer boys of Carolina hope to return with Virginia's scalp. For Stephens and VonGlahn. At A. & M. great stars, it will be their last game in Red and White and they will play as never before. For the other boys it will be a record breaking game and all will strive to star for Carolina. There are boys on the team from every section of the State, and their friends will be there to cheer the "down homers" on to victory. Practically all the students will go. Every one who can should take advantage of the low rates and go to Norfolk to witness the greatest football game ever played in the South Thanksgiving day.

There will be a mass meeting in Pullen Hall Tuesday night Gov. Kitchin, Ex-Gov. Aycock, Mr. Josephus Daniels, members of the faculty, and others are invited to make short talks and help give the team an enthusiastic "send off" for they leave that night for Norfolk where they will get in final trim for Thursday's game.

Gov. Kitchin and family have been invited to go to the A. & M.—V. P. I. football game at the expense of the A. & M. team.

Many of the school girls and Raleigh people come out to witness the dress parades of the battalion each Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Members of the agricultural faculty who assisted Prof. Schaul in the farm school near Winston last week, report most enthusiastic meeting. There was an attendance of over 200 every day. The extension work is thus proving a great success, farmers are beginning to realize there is much to learn about farming. Those interested should address Prof. Schaul at West Raleigh N. C.

THANKSGIVING.

In keeping with its annual custom to observe Thanksgiving day, The Daily Reflector will not be issued tomorrow. We hope every reader of the paper has enjoyed sufficient blessings during the year to fill his heart with such a feeling of gratitude to God as to observe the day with the real spirit of Thanksgiving. Who can recount the blessings of the year without realizing that they have been more than were deserved? True some have received more than others, but to every one has come enough for gratefulness to the "Giver of all Good."

The best spirit of Thanksgiving is that which prompts us to impart some blessings to those who are less fortunate, and the orphans especially should be generously remembered. There are few so poor but what they might do something, though it be small, to help someone more needy than themselves, and the gift that God loves best is that which comes cheerfully out of a grateful heart. Let your offering be "In His Name" and greater blessings will be yours.

Near Outhbert, Ga., a few days ago, there was a terrible automobile wreck. The car contained three men and two ladies. While on a bridge the man who was driving turned loose the wheel to light a cigarette, when the car run off and fell a distance of 40 feet. All three of the men were killed and the ladies badly injured.

One thing The Reflector regrets very much to learn is the probable disorganization of Carolina Club. The club has been of such great benefit to Greenville that it would be a serious loss for it to cease to exist. We hope some arrangement can be made for the club to continue.

There is likely to be some weather from now until spring that will show the need of good roads.

Wilmington is proving to be a good jungle for blind tiger hunting.

Convincing Argument.

Anna Margaret had a great many toys, and her mother thought she ought to give some of them away before Christmas to less fortunate children. Anna Margaret was willing to part with the broken trunk and the cracked set of dishes and the one-legged Teddy bear, and a few other toys that were in the same dilapidated condition. But when it came to her pet baby doll, the one that went to sleep with her every night, she rebelled. Mama assured her that Santa Olaus would undoubtedly bring to her another doll, even better. She refused to be comforted.

"Mama," she wailed, "if God sent you another baby, would you give me away?" She kept her doll.—The Delineator for December.

We see from the Wilmington Dispatch that the commissioners of New Hanover have bought 10,000 gallons of asphalt road oil at a cost of three cents a gallon and are going to experiment with it on the road from Wilmington to Delgado. That means the evaporation of $300 in good money. The oiled road is a delusion and a snare, its only effect being to make the atmosphere smelly and the dust heavy and sticky. Communities that try it once, never try it the second time.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The amount of wheat to be sown per acre will depend on the fertility of the soil. On strong clay loam well suited to wheat the plants will tiller or spread more than on thin soil, and less seed need be used. As an average amount I would say five pecks, but on thin land would sow six to seven pecks.—Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer.

Right.

"Buy a home with rent money," was the keynote of an address by Mr. D. A. Thompkins before the American Civic Federation yesterday. We have not seen the text of his address but presume he spoke for the building and loan association. Good advice.—Raleigh Evening Times.

TRUTHFUL REPORTS.

Greenville Reads Them with Uncommon Interest.

A Greenville citizen tells his experience in the following statement. No better evidence than this can be had. The truthful reports of friends and neighbors is the best proof in the world. Read and be convinced.

John G. Latham, 907 Cotanche street Greenville, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills in my case far surpassed any other kidney remedy I had previously used. For some time my kidneys were disordered, the secretions being too frequent and painful in passage. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills, I was so much impressed that I procured a box at John L. Wooten's Drug Store. They seemed to go directly to the seat of my trouble and gave me relief in a short time. My kidneys were restored to their normal condition and I felt better in every way."

How Prescriptions For England's Royal Family Are Handled.

Members of the royal family have occasionally to take medicine, and their medicine, although it may be the same as that supplied by ordinary doctors and chemists to the average man and woman, is dispensed in a manner which makes it impossible to be tampered with until it is placed in the hands of the royal personage for whom it is intended.

Each royal dispenser, and there are several, has a room set apart especially for dispensing medicine for royalty. When a prescription is brought in by a royal messenger the dispenser himself or his assistant takes the date and the time of its receipt. The prescription is then passed into the private room. Here are glass cupboards, securely locked, containing the drugs which are used in making the medicines for members of the royal family.

After the prescription has been entered in a book (each member of the royal family has his or her prescription book, which is provided with a lock and kept in a safe) the work of dispensing is done by the dispenser and his assistant. The cupboards are unlocked and the drugs wanted brought out and placed on a table. Each drug before being used is analyzed and the necessary quantities weighed and measured on two or three different pairs of scales to insure exactness. The water used is of the highest state of purity, and every possible care is taken to keep it in that state while the medicine is being made up.

When the medicine is finally bottled the names and quantities of every ingredient contained therein are placed upon the label, together with directions as to taking written in English and Latin. The bottle, after being corked and sealed, is placed in a strong case, which is locked. This case has two keys, one being retained by the dispenser and the other being in the possession of the royal personage for whom the medicine is intended. A trusted royal servant or a king's messenger conveys the case and its contents to the royal residence, where it is unlocked and the bottle of medicine examined and the particulars upon the label checked by the royal physician in attendance.—London Tit-Bits.

FAIR WARNING!

OUR LOW PRICES WILL STILL CONTINUE

WE HAVE NEVER GIVEN SUCH VALUES BEFORE

Creditors keep pushing us for their money is why we are having to sell goods at these low prices.

WE are sorry to say that we were so easy that every time we saw big values, we bought until we bought too many values, so here is where, and now is the time, when you can make your dollar do big buying at this low price, Fair Warning Sale, which is right at a season of the year that you never had this opportunity before. We are going to continue this sale, so that we can raise enough money to satisfy some of our creditors and pay one hundred cents on the dollar. We plead to you good people, if you want bargains, now is the time to get them. We have thrown our stock on the market to pay honest debts.
