THE PIANO IS YOURS.

Provided You Have the Most Votes on Christmas Eve.

Every week draws The Reflector piano contest that much nearer the close, and it will be more interesting every day from now to the end. The contest will positively close at noon on December 24th, then the candidate having the largest number of votes will receive as a Christmas present the beautiful baby upright piano on exhibition at the music store of Fineman & White. Have you been to look at this splendid piano? If not, go there and examine it and you will be surprised at the excellence of its tone and volume. The winner of this superb instrument will be fortunate and happy.

And just think how easy it is to own this beautiful piano! Only bring in more subscriptions to The Reflector than any one else, thus securing more votes for yourself, and it is yours. Every candidate should keep busy, there is not a day to lose. The list published today does not show much change, but this is not because the candidates are not getting votes. They are getting votes, but want them held back to spring a surprise later. In the meantime, reader, if you have a favorite among the candidates, get busy and lend a helping hand. It is not a hard matter to get subscribers to The Reflector, for the paper is worth more than the price, and every subscription obtained or collection made counts votes according to the amount paid. Help make the contest lively during the remaining four weeks.

Miss Mary Johnson	28,000
Miss Lottie Blow	22,000

DATE HAS BEEN CHANGED.

Sanitary Sabbath Postponed to Some Date in March.

Thomasville, Nov. 24.—Dr. C. A. Julian, secretary of the Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, has issued the following letter, which explains itself:

"Sunday, November 28, had been selected as 'Sanitary Sabbath' for North Carolina, but the date is postponed until late in March to allow the State Board of Health to furnish ministers with literature giving information on important sanitary points.

"The booklet arranged by the North Carolina Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis for distribution is still in press.

"Many ministers are changing locations at this season of the year, others are preparing for their annual meetings; therefore, to suit all religious bodies it has been deemed wise to postpone the date."

Notice to Farmers' Union Secretaries.

The secretaries of the different locals of the the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America will please make the announcement to their locals in their next meeting that Mr. J. Z. Green, of Marshville, Union county, North Carolina, State Organizer of the Farmers' Union, will speak in the court house at Greenville, Wednesday, Dec. 1st.

Every member of the Farmers' Union is earnestly requested to be present and hear this distinguished official speak on the Farmers' Union.

G. C. Hedgepeth,
Co. Organizer.

Helping His Town.

Dr. M. M. Sauls, our very clever druggist, has a plan on foot to have an artesian well in the center of our town. It is just like Sauls to do such things and have them constructed for the good of our town. There is a good man behind the move, and our people will join in and the well will be a success, unless good signs fail.—Ayden Baptist.

Mr. D. C. Moore, clerk of court for Pitt county, says, "The Progressive Farmer is good literature for any family, but especially every farmer should take it." D. D. Haskett is agent for Pitt county. 11 18 t s d 2w

PASTIME THEATRE.

The "Owl Quartette" Made a Hit—Good Show Tonight.

The "Owl Quartette," composed of Walter Johnson, Ned Laughinghouse, Will Lipscomb and Roy Hearne sang several good selections at the Pastime Theatre, Friday night, and delighted the large audience that was present. The boys had to give several encores in response to the generous applause. The program of pictures was also good.

Following is the program for tonight; Hassel and Gretel, from Grims' Fairy Tail.

The Mexicans Revenge. A California Romance.

Song—Oh, What I'd do For a Girl Like You. Beautifully hand colored.

Each ticket sold from now until Christmas will entitle the purchaser to one vote for the most popular young lady, who will be presented with $10 on Christmas eve. You can buy a book of twelve tickets for $1, which will entitle you to twelve vote. See Mr. Payne.

Proceedings of Conference.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 26.—The third days' session of the Methodist conference was called to at 9:30. Religious exercise was by Dr. Moore.

H. E. Spence, W. C. Martin, W. E. Troutman, R. D. Daniel, C. R. Canipe and W. W. Peele, undergraduates, were received into full connection and Rev. Louis N. Booth came in from the Methodist Episcopal church.

The credentials of Revs. Edward Johnson and Sanderson Payne, local preachers were surrendered.

T. M. Grant and S. J. Kilpatrick were admitted on trial.

First ballot for delegates to the general conference was taken and resulted in election of J. G. Brown, J. H. Southgate and H. A. Page, lay delegates.

Second ballot: J. F. Briston, Dr. Bird and Dr. Tillett. Mrs. Robertson and Prof. Gilbert addressed the conference. The first ballot for clerical delegates was taken, but result was not announced. Much routine work was done at today's session.

Point in Law of Interest to Bondsmen

A Supreme court decision of interest here was handed down in the case of the county commissioners vs. T. S. F. Dorsett, ex-sheriff, and bondsmen, last week, in which the court declared that the bondsmen were liable for equal amounts instead of the amounts they justified for. According to this decision, Mr. H. Clay Gubb, who signed up for $15,000, and who was represented by Walser & Walser, is no more liable than any other bondsman, and shares in the payment with men who signed for $1,000. This point in law had never been decided in this State, it is said, and there was difference of opinion as to whether a man should pay as much as he justified for on a bond, or equally with other bondsmen.—Lexington Dispatch.

SATURDAY NOV. 27, 1909.

A California judge granted a woman a divorce from her husband because he had hookworm, that is certainly a new one.

Greenville is a good town, but lacks much of having all the things needed. And there is nothing it needs now much worse than manufacturing enterprises.

It is getting close to the time for congress to get on the map again. The members will assemble the first Monday in December and at once begin preparations for going back home to spend Christmas holidays.

Now is a good time to make up your mind not to engage in Christmas present swapping. To remember loved ones or close friends with some token is not inappropriate, but to send presents to people just because you expect them to send something to you in return is detestable and not in keeping with a correct idea of Christmas giving.

EX-GOV. T. J. JARVIS.

A rare event was celebrated in Raleigh yesterday in the hall of the house of representatives. That chamber has been the scene of notable events in the history of North Carolina. Great leaders have declared war, and written statutes that changed the destiny of the State. Eloquent speeches, from the time that James O. Dobbin made the most compelling and eloquent speech ever heard in a legislative body, to the recent past when stirring events in that forum commanded the undivided interest of the whole State. But yesterday morning at nine o'clock there was celebrated in that hall a Love Feast, a simple religious commemoration that John Wesley borrowed from the consecrated Moravians. The new Laymen's Movement that is stirring every denomination, conceived the idea of opening their meeting with the old-time Love Feast and the leader of the movement requested ex-Governor Jarvis to conduct that service. Just thirty-nine years before, in that chamber, Captain Jarvis, as he was then called, was made speaker of the house, and was the leader in the epoch-making events of those stirring days. Passion and party feeling ran high and the young Confederate captain was the leader of a band of patriots whose patriotism and civic courage and wisdom have not been surpassed in any decade of North Carolina's history. Then there was work for resolute men to do and the house of representatives went intrepidly to the discharge of that duty. As a result of his leadership then, Captain Jarvis, was made lieutenant-governor, governor, ambassador to Brazil and United States Senator, receiving the highest honors in the gift of his people. Yesterday morning, he was the private citizen whose service was to help lead the people to higher living—a captain in an army seeking to make men conquer their own weaknesses and sins by the power of the Christian religion. As a goodly company of laymen gathered in the early morning, the sun newly risen flooded the chamber with its golden glories, illustrative of the brightness of the Son of Righteousness. The heartfelt and brief statement of his own faith in the realities of the Christian religion by this man who had lost the use of his arm in battle and had been abundant in public service, made a solemn stillness fall upon the pillared temple of legislation, and business men were made to feel that the greatest thing in the world was not the prosecution of the temporal affairs. It was a service rich in the power to help those who heard the testimony of laymen, and will not be forgotten as the most uplifting service of the Methodist laymen's movement.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Is it not a misfit, a mockery, to close our places of business in obedience to official request to give thanks and praise in our respective temples of worship and then spend the day in prize fight, football, gambling, drinking, dissipation, shooting, dancing, and in a thousand forms of sport, and conduct unbecoming a Christian people and incompatible with any conception or form of genuine, reverential gratitude? How high did our prayers reach and what did they avail in the face of the record scored yesterday by us as a people? Let us think about it.—Greensboro News.

AN EVENING SPENT

With the most versatile pianists, could not possibly bring you more enjoyment than you, yourself could derive from either

The Lindeman
Player Piano,
The Milton,
The Bjure Bros.
Or Lester
Player Pianos,

In fact, with either of these Player Pianos as a companion, you have the advantage of playing the music yourself--the music you best like, and playing it in that rich, full manner, bringing out the delicate beauties of the melody which even many skilled pianists fail to develop, and this, possible with the veriest novice, without your knowing one note from another.

We will take your deaf and dumb piano in exchange.

POLAR PHENOMENA.

The Mirage and the Mock Sun of the Arctic Regions.

In the spring of 1900 I changed over to the steamer Corwin and sailed for the Arctic ocean to establish a trading station somewhere on the northern shores of Alaska. Although we went on a purely commercial venture, there was a good deal of talk about the pole during the seven months we spent in the almost continuous sunlight.

Dr. Cook relates instances of seeing mirages above the ice fields--mountains passing in solemn review and sometimes inverted and standing on their peaks--but he goes on to say that there were no forms of life. Mirage is a common sight even in lower latitudes than those mentioned by Dr. Cook. I have seen the spires and domes of well defined buildings, whole cities, in fact, appear above the horizon, sometimes lingering for several minutes, or, again, with their towers reaching up higher and higher, attenuating apparently to a mere thread. The "mock sun" is a common phenomenon in the Bering sea. On the evening of June 2, 1900, perhaps 100 miles south of St. Lawrence Island, about 9:30 o'clock and just sunset, the sun was visible as though half an hour high, but appearing as a much flattened oval. Then another sun more nearly round emerged from the horizon beneath the "goose egg," rising quite rapidly until it blended with the descending orb. Thereupon, instead of settling below the horizon, the light was quickly dissipated in the air. This phenomenon was probably due to the unequal density of several superimposed strata of air producing refraction of the sun's rays from below the horizon.--Captain Edwin Coffin of Ziegler Polar Expedition in National Magazine.

They Sometimes Are.

"We'll have to promote that clerk. He takes the stairs four at a jump. He's always busy."

"Yes," commented the observant senior partner, "too busy to do anything."--Louisville Courier-Journal.

Unopened.

"Did opportunity knock at your door?"

"Yes, but the cook always maintained that it wasn't her place to answer."--Puck.

Avoid Danger

When you are sick, or suffering from any of the troubles peculiar to women, don't delay--take Cardui, that well-known and successful remedy for women. Thousands of women have used Cardui and been benefited. Why not you? Don't take any chance. Get Cardui, the old, reliable, oft-tried remedy, for women of all ages.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Luzania Morgan, Sneedville, Tenn., writes: "For ten years I suffered with the turn of life, and tried many remedies without relief. I had pains all over my body and at times I could not sit up. At last I took Cardui and now I can do my housework. I have told many ladies about Cardui and recommend it to all sick women." Try it.
