SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

STATE NEWS.

"THE FRUIT OF HIS FOLLY"

LOCAL BRIEFS.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

MOVEMENT OF PASSENGER TRAINS

Resolution Adopted by the Recent Methodist Conference.

"Whereas, The Sabbath is a divine institution, founded by God, not only that man may have a day for physical rest, but that he may have a day in which to mediate upon God, His word, goodness and mercies; and

"Whereas, There is a rapidly growing tendency upon the part of many so-called Christian men, to forget the real purpose of the Sabbath, and to desecrate this holy institution, we, your committee, desire to urge our people, both lay and clerical, the necessity of bringing to bear every possible influence to induce men to cease from their labors, to forsake all pleasures that do not tend to Godliness, and to spend the day in meditation and prayer; and especially do we wish to urge the necessity of observing, to the letter, that Scripture which gives the injunction not to forsake the assembling ourselves together.

"That the above may be brought before our people we recommend that each minister preach one sermon at least, each year, in every congregation.

"Y. E. Smith, chairman.
"J. W. Autry, secretary."

Time to Plan for Next Season's Work.

Attention to the details of a piece of work may mean the difference between success and failure in that work, and it is for this reason that we try to give each week matter of the most practical kind on the work that is likely to be in progress during that week. But no attention to details and no knowledge of the best way of doing things, however expert such knowledge may be, will bring success to the man who has not some definite plan of work in mind—who does not know what he wants to do.

And it is just this thing that ails so many farmers: They are working on year after year without having any fixed idea of what they are really trying to do—perhaps just going along in the same old ruts year after year because they cannot get up sufficient energy or initiative to get out of them, or possibly changing about from one line of work to another as their whims or the successes or failures of their neighbors may indicate. The man who has the idea that there is only one line of work which he can pursue is not likely to be very successful when circumstances and conditions are continually changing. But he is just about as likely to succeed as the man who changes his work every year, who is a cotton planter one year, a stock grower the next, and a trucker the third.—Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Asheville, N. C., Dec. 3.—After taking a large amount of mercurial poison, Robert K. Abbott, a young traveling man of Chicago, forced himself through the window of his room on the third-story of the Berkeley Hotel about 6:30 o'clock tonight, and almost instantly accomplished his plan of self-destruction. In falling, he hit upon the projection of a wall, and then continued to the ground. When found in an unconscious state a moment afterwards, his skull was crushed and he had sustained severe internal injuries.

Raleigh, Dec. 4.—State Treasurer B. R. Lacy is anxious about the status of finances in that between now and January 15 he will have to pay out something like one million dollars, including $450,000 in pensions to the Confederate veterans, and the money for taxes being collected by the sheriffs throughout the state is coming in unusually slow. He says that he has no money lying idle in the banks now, and that it is up to the sheriffs to push their work and comply with the requirements of section 34 of the machinery act by reporting regularly at the end of each month to the state auditor the full amount of state taxes collected during the month and pay such amounts into the state treasury within ten days.

Reidsville, Dec. 4.—The congregation of the Pelham Methodist church is in an uproar over the failure of the presiding bishop of the North Carolina conference to return their pastor, the Rev. S. F. Nicks, for another year, and are now bending every effort to have him change his decision. From what can be learned, every member of the church as well as the pastor, expected that the Rev. Mr. Nicks would be returned, and the news of his transfer came like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky.

It will be seen from the above program that we are now beginning the study of "The Recitation," a splendid book on teaching, by Samuel Hamilton. This years work of the association, therefore, promises much to the teachers, if they will only avail themselves of the opportunities which will be given them. At the last meeting, I requested every teacher in the county to buy the above named book. It will be necessary for you to own this book, and if you have not already supplied yourself with a copy, please do so before the next meeting. The first 50 pages of this book embraces our study for this next meeting.

You will also note that the course in drawing begins with this meeting. More than fifty teachers have already handed in their names, signifying their purpose to take this course. I trust that all of you will become members of the class. This course has been arranged for you without any cost to you, and the Board of Education, the people, and myself will expect you to take it.

It has been planned to make every meeting of this association of inestimable value to those desiring better preparation for better work. Your attendance upon these meetings, and the part you take in them, will show your interest in the work, and this will determine your future success in this county.

The meeting will be held as usual, in the auditorium of the graded school building, and I trust you will be present at the opening exercises so that you will lose no part of the meeting.

W. H. Ragsdale,
Co. Supt. of Schools.

Good Roads Work.

Many thousands of dollars have been invested in good roads in North Carolina and the efforts put forth looking to an improvement and extension of our highway system have not been fruitless. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, state geologist, who was one of the road judges in the New York to Atlanta automobile tour has this to say of North Carolina roads. "The North Carolina public roads showed up better than those of any other state outside of New Jersey, and the autoists were very much surprised at the condition of the roads, as they had not expected to find them much more than passable, with the exception of perhaps a few stretches of goods."—Charlotte News.

The Baptist State Convention, one of the largest religious bodies in North Carolina, will meet this week in Wadesboro.

After a trial of two weeks in Federal court at Greensboro, Lee H. Battle was acquitted of the charge of wrongly using the funds of a bank in that city.

Do not worry too much over where and what to buy for Christmas. Watch The Reflector advertisements every day and decision will come easy.

Manager Smith says he is getting orders for telephones faster than he can put them in. Which goes to show that Greenville is good when it comes to talking.

Chicken roosters have begun their all night crowing, which the old folks say is always the forerunner of Christmas. Possibly one thing that makes the rooster crow is that he escapes the Christmas dinner, while the turkey takes his place on the head-chopping block.

A lady who believes in beautifying surroundings, asked The Reflector to have something to say about dilapidated front yard fences, and see if owners would not improve them, for general appearance sake if nothing else. We promised to have something to say about the fences, but not along the line of patching them up to try to make them look a little better! In fact The Reflector thinks that the improvement best to make about the front yard is to do away with the fence and leave the lots open to the house. This looks far more inviting than being shut in with a little picket fence. Stock is not allowed to run at large in town so the yards will not be troubled in this particular if there are no fences.

Even when they are kept in repair, yards do not look as well with as without a fence, but when the fence is dilapidated, with pickets or slats missing here and there, gates that never stay shut, and trash lodged behind it, the thing is very unsightly indeed.

Don't Waste Your Road Money.

It is estimated that the sum of $70,000,000 is spent annually in the construction of public highways in this country. Of this great sum of money it is safe to assert that two-thirds of it is misspent; that is to say, it has not been spent in a way to produce the kind of results possible to obtain from its investment. This is largely the result of lack of proper information and experience in methods of work.

One of the very first things that county commissioners ought to do is to have a good map of the county showing location of all the public roads in it. A study of the topography of the county is also essential. In the improvement of the roads selected it is expedient to make such changes as will avoid going over the tops of the hills. It costs no more to build around a hill than it does to go over the top of it, and the distance is usually not greater. By building around a hill the road can be made practically on a plane, thus saving much wear and tear. In planning the building of highways a good idea is to make the county town the central place from which to make the roads radiate as main arteries; then build cross-roads as feeders to these main-traveled highways.—Progressive Farmer.

C., says: "I gladly give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement as they have proven of greater benefit to me than any other remedy I ever used. I suffered severely from a dull ache through the small of my back. There was also a soreness across my kidneys and I was hardly able to get around on account of the sharp, darting pains through my loins. When arising in the morning, I felt tired and languid and had but little ambition or energy. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wooten's drug store, the backaches and pains have entirely disappeared, I do not suffer from headaches and that tired, languid feeling has vanished. My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has been so satisfactory that I do not hesitate to give them my endorsement."

Player Piano,

The Milton,

The Bjure Bros.

Or Lester

Player Pianos,

In fact, with either of these Player Pianos as a companion, you have the advantage of playing the music yourself--the music you best like, and playing it in that rich, full manner, bringing out the delicate beauties of the melody which even many skilled pianists fail to develop, and this, possible with the veriest novice, without your knowing one note from another.

We will take your deaf and dumb piano in exchange.
