THIS WEEK AND NEXT.

And the Contest Will Close at Noon on the 24th.

This week and next, up to noon on Friday, 24th, is all the time that is left for The Reflector piano contest, and it goes without saying that the remaining days are going to be active ones with the candidates. Just what the candidates are doing we are not able to say, as they are yet keeping their own counsel and holding to the decision not to have their votes published so one can know what the other is doing. This is all right if they prefer it that way, even if it does keep them all uneasy about any surprise that may be sprung about the close of the contest. However, we will make the suggestion that it will be best not to hold back their votes too long and run the risk of getting any of them crowded out in the final rush, as not a vote will be received after the last stroke of 12 o'clock on the 24th. They can bring their votes in any day and let them be recorded, and we will keep the number secret if preferred.

Another suggestion we will make to the candidates, is that the remaining days of the contest should be devoted to working harder than ever for new subscribers to The Reflector. Of course collections from old subscribers count, but new subscribers count double and they are the ones to work hard for.

There is much interest among our readers in the contest, and many who come to the office to pay their subscription, vote for the candidate they prefer. This helps, too, as every one who desires to do so has the privilege of voting for their choice. Come pay your subscription and help one of the candidates. The position of the different candidates in the voting column stands the same as before, but we do not know how it would be if all the votes each has were published.

Miss Mary Johnson	30,000
Miss Lottie Blow	22,000
Miss Lillie R. Tucker	15,000
Miss Mavis Belle Evans	4,865
Miss Beulah Mumford	3,775
Miss Maud Mooring	3,685
James Tingle	2,050
Quinerly School	2,050
Miss Lelia Stokes	1,600
Mrs. D. E. Nichols	1,445

If you have a favorite in the list of candidates get out and help work, for the prize is well worth striving for. You have only to go to the music store of Fineman & White and examine the piano to be convinced of its beauty and excellence.

Subscribe or pay your subscription and vote for somebody. Do it now.

One Overlooked.

In enumerating in The Reflector anniversary holiday edition what Greenville has, one very important new enterprise was inadvertently overlooked. It was the large storage warehouse of W. H. Dail, Jr., something that filled a long felt need here and is being largely patronized.

Child Badly Hurt.

Sunday afternoon the little four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Forest, was playing with some other children near their home in South Greenville. In some way the little Forest boy was thrown down and one hip dislocated causing the child intense suffering.

COX'S MILLS ITEMS.

Cox's Mills, N. C., Dec. 10.

A basket party was given at the McGowan school house last night for the benefit of the school. A very large crowd was present and many from a long distance. All will accept thanks for their help in the noble work. Bidding was lively and baskets sold well, all the way from one to three dollars and fifty cents, and they brought $26.25. Next was a voting contest for the three prettiest girls at 5 cents a vote, and three hundred votes were cast. Miss Holly Page receiving the largest number of votes was presented with a beautiful rug by our most efficient teacher, Miss Nina Dixon, of Ayden. In all the receipts of party amounted to $41.25, which will more than meet the yearly payment on our new school building and enable our school to run five months. When it comes to voting you know Chicod people don't stay at home, even if it is for a pretty girl.

Her many friends will be glad to know that Miss Lela Roach, who began our school and after two days was taken with fever, has been able to sit up a little for the past few days and we hope will soon be well enough to get out.

10,088,000 Bales Cotton.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The crop reporting board of the Department of Agriculture estimates that the total production of cotton in the United States for the season of 1909-10 will amount to 4,826,344,000 pounds gross weight.

Mr. J. E. Randolph Dead.

On Sunday morning Mr. J. E. Randolph, who lived with his sons at House station, 3 miles from Greenville, was found dead in bed. Mr. Randolph was quite old and had been feeble for some time. He was a life-long Democrat, a gallant Confederate soldier and a good citizen. He leaves several children, all of whom are grown.

Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church will meet with Mrs. C. D. Tunstall Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Bazaar Opens Tuesday Night.

The ladies of the Episcopal church are very busy with the final arrangements for their Christmas bazaar, which will open in Perkins' hall at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. There will be several booths, in charge of young ladies, where various articles suitable for Christmas presents will be sold. A baby booth will contain various wearing apparel for the little fellows. A Japanese booth will contain all kinds of Japanese ware and pictures. A useful booth will have all kinds of fancy articles. A ladies' furnishing booth will contain all kinds of ready-to-wear garments for ladies. Santa Claus will have his booth and Christmas tree in the centre of the room.

In addition to the several booths there will be a smoking den for men, a Jack Horner pie for children, and a lunch room, where an elegant menu will be served. The bazaar is going to be very attractive and no one should miss it.

Bishop Strange's Visit.

Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, bishop of this diocese, visited St. Paul's church Sunday, and delivered excellent sermons morning and evening. At the evening service seven persons were confirmed with the usual impressive ceremony.

Sunday afternoon Bishop Strange preached to the colored people and also confirmed several in their church.

Mrs. Florence Perkins Dead.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Florence Perkins, one of the oldest, wealthiest and most prominent women of Raleigh, died at her home in that city. Mrs. Perkins was a native of Pitt county and a sister of the late Mr. Jule Perkins, of Pactolus.

Mrs. D. Abram Dead.

The many friends of Mrs. S. M. Schultz deeply sympathize with her in the two bereavements through which she has passed in little more than a week. On Friday, 3rd inst., she was called to Rocky Mount by the death of her sister, Miss Salie Abram. Mrs. Schultz, accompanied by another sister, Miss Mattie, returned home about the middle of the week, and Saturday night another message was received announcing the death of their mother, Mrs. D. Abram. No doubt the mother's death was hastened by grief over the death of the youngest daughter the previous week.

PITT TOBACCO SALES.

The leaf tobacco sales of the several markets in North Carolina, as reported to the State Department of Agriculture, places Greenville fourth in the list for the month of November—Winston Salem, Wilson and Kinston coming ahead in the order named. There are three markets in Pitt county—Greenville, Aylen and Farmville—and by combining the sales of these three Pitt would stand second in the column.

Greenville with 2,225,594 pounds, Farmville 729,157 pounds and Ayden 377,777 pounds makes a total of 3,332,525 pounds for the county. Wilson sold 3,019,148 pounds. Lenoir county has two markets, Kinston selling 2,387,472 pounds and LaGrange 542,619 pounds, a total of 2,929,991 for that county. So it is seen that Pitt went considerably ahead of Wilson and Lenoir. In fact Pitt is the largest bright tobacco producing county in the State, or in the world.

Forty-three markets in the State had combined sales of 33,901,503 pounds, and Pitt county's three markets sold one tenth of it.

They certainly have a commendable way of doing things in Charlotte, and it is no wonder the people of the "Queen City" can say "Watch Charlotte Grow." The American Trust Company, one of the largest banking institutions of the city, has just completed a handsome building and will formally open it on the 15th. Beautifully lithographed invitations to the opening have been sent out, and it is going to be made a great occasion. The Reflector is in receipt of an invitation.

An exchange says that people would have more money for Christmas if they spent less on summer outings. By the same rule if they would spend less Christmas they would have more for summer outings. But it is all going anyway, so what makes the difference whether it is summer or Christmas.

It looks like the farmer who has some cotton left is going to get above fifteen cents for it.

Do not measure what you give by what you expect.

The most liberal man in North Carolina is Gen. Julian S. Carr, of Durham. His liberality is not circumscribed by race or creed; neither does he try to buy public opinion for a purpose. A few times he has asked for political honors and has been turned down. He is not soured, but he goes on giving with an open hand for the love of giving and the love of his fellowman. A few years ago Gen. Carr was at Montreat (Presbyterian headquarters) on business for his denomination (the Methodist). While he was there the Presbyterians were trying to raise money to send a number of missionaries abroad. Many volunteers were ready to go and the means were lacking. It was announced that the cost of equipment and passage money for each missionary was $400. When subscriptions were being called for Gen. Carr announced that he would pay for one—$400. "You're a Methodist, general," said one of his acquaintances. "Oh, that doesn't matter," was the reply; and it didn't. The other day when a canvass was being made among the Presbyterians of Durham for the Davidson College endowment fund, Gen. Carr subscribed $1,000 to endow a ministerial scholarship in honor of his former comrade-in-arms, Col. W. J. Martin, long a member of the Davidson faculty. These instances could be multiplied by the hundred—and his help of the poor by the thousand.—Statesville Landmark.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That no Greenville Citizen Can Afford to Ignore

Danger signal No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale foamy, or thick, red, slimy urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage. Danger signal No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here is proof in the statement of a nearby resident.

Wm. Murrill, Washington and Tarboro Sts., Rocky Mount, N. C., says "Doan's Kidney Pills proved in my case to be a valuable remedy for kidney trouble and I have no hesitation in recommending them to anyone afflicted with this complaint. I used them for backache and other annoyances arising from disordered kidneys and they brought me prompt relief." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. AN EVENING SPENT

With the most versatile pianists, could not possibly bring you more enjoyment than you, yourself could derive from either

The Lindeman
Player Piano,
The Milton,
The Bjure Bros.
Or Lester
Player Pianos,

In fact, with either of these Player Pianos as a companion, you have the advantage of playing the music yourself--the music you best like, and playing it in that rich, full manner, bringing out the delicate beauties of the melody which even many skilled pianists fail to develop, and this, possible with the veriest novice, without your knowing one note from another.

We will take your deaf and dumb piano in exchange.

TOMMY WAS A MAN.

A True Story of Self Control Related by a Chicago Merchant.

The following "really true" incident is told about a little fellow still in the knickerbocker stage, who works for a large Chicago paper house. One day he was called to the telephone and after listening a minute turned pale and hung up the receiver quietly and hurried to the manager's office. The manager, however, had gone out to lunch, so the boy left a note reading, "I have to go home. Tommy Barret." The manager found the note when he returned, but soon became busy with important matters and forgot all about the boy.

Three days later, Monday morning, Tommy Barret came back to work. To the other boys' queries of "Ben sick, Tommy?" he maintained a rigid silence. He worked as hard as usual, and finally the boys ceased to question him regarding his absence. Neither did they insist again after his second refusal to accompany them at noon for the usual five cent lunch of coffee and bismarcks, having come to the conclusion, as they expressed it, that "Tommy had a grouch."

One day the manager was called at noon to inspect a certain grade of paper in the storeroom on the top floor. As he and his foreman wended their way through the huge rolls of paper they heard the sound of low sobs. Silently they peered down the long aisles of paper rolls, and finally in the corner of one narrow one they saw the pathetic figure of a little boy. The aisle being too tubelike for the portly form of the manager, he bade the boy come out.

It was Tommy Barret, his face flaming with embarrassment, his cheeks tear stained and dirty from contact with the grimy little hands.

"Why, Tommy, what is it--fight with one of the boys?" questioned the manager.

"No, sir," faltered Tommy, now striving manfully to raise his voice above the threatening sobs.

"Then what was it?" The manager laid his hand on the boy's head reassuringly. Tommy bit his lip for composure, then, dry eyed, answered firmly, "My mudder died last week."

The manager turned away as the chain of memory wafted him back to his own similar loss years ago, when it took the united efforts of a host of relatives and the entire community of a sympathizing small country town to comfort him with chocolate drops, "little pies" and miniature express wagons. And here, he thought, was this little chap working in silence and controlling the misery of his heart until he could steal away at noontime and sob it all out alone among the paper rolls.

"Have you come up here before to cry?" the manager inquired when he felt sure of his own voice.

"Yes, sir," Tommy answered timidly, adding apprehensively, "but don't fire me, sir--I won't do it again."

"Fire you?" the manager ejaculated. "Well, I guess not. A boy not as high as a yardstick, and with a man's self control." Tommy looked up thankfully at this assurance.

"Now run and wash your face," the manager continued kindly. "You're going to lunch with me at 2 o'clock."

An hour later Tommy, with face glossy from recent battle with pumice stone soap, was partaking of a substantial lunch with his employer, who waxed cheerful, confidential, even chummy, to put the boy at his ease. As they finished the dessert he nominated and elected Tommy "boss" of the twenty-four boys at the envelope table, but not the slightest reference was made to the boy's bereavement, for the manager understood the fineness of Tommy's feelings and respected them.--Chicago Tribune.
