SKINNER-MINOR

A Pretty Wedding Celebrated at Methodist Church in Oxford.

Oxford, Dec. 30.—The Methodist Episcopal church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Wednesday evening, when Miss Daisy Elizabeth Minor became the bride of Dr. Louis Cotten Skinner, of Greenville. The handsome edifice was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and roses. A profusion of lighted candles added beauty to the decorations.

Before the appointed hour for the ceremony, Miss Alice Hundley, of Durham, an intimate friend of the bride, rendered several charming musical selections. Miss Eva Minor, a sister of the bride sang in a most lovely manner, "O Promise Me," and "I Love You."

The ushers entered the aisles of the church in the following order, as the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march pealed forth from the organ: Messrs. W. T. Minor, of Durham, C. Stuart Carr, of Greenville, E. B. Ficklen, of Greenville, from the right door; Messrs. A. A. Hicks, R. M. Minor, of Oxford, and Rev. B. F. Huske, of Greenville, from the left door. The dame of honor, Mrs. A. M. Hicks, sister of the bride, elegantly gowned in white liberty satin, carrying white roses, followed the ushers. Then the maid of honor, Miss Julia Minor, attired in pink mesaline, with a basket of La France roses, entered. The groom entered from the vestry door with his best man, Mr. Frank Skinner, of Greenville. The bride, radiantly beautiful in white mesaline, trimmed with pearls and veil caught with orange blossoms, entered the church on the arm of her brother, Col. S. W. Minor, of Durham, by whom she was given away. Rev. L. M. Massey was the officiating minister, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The bride, a lovely type of fair womanhood, gifted and accomplished, is one of the most popular of the young women of the town. The groom is one of the most promising of the doctors of Greenville, where he is justly popular with a host of friends. The happy couple left for a tour of northern cities for their honeymoon.

Among the out-of-town visitors for the wedding wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, Mr. and Mrs. C. Stuart Carr, Misses Margaret and Ethel Skinner, Rev. B. F. Huske, of Greenville, Miss Annie Louise Vaughn, Messrs. W. T. and S. W. Minor, Miss Alice Hundley, of Durham; Mrs. Caroline Turner and Mr. Sam Harris, of Henderson.

'HOME IS WHERE THE HEART IS'

So Writes Mr. T. F. Christman from California.

The editor is in receipt of a letter from Mr. T. F. Christman, of Toulumne, Cal., written Dec. 18th, which says some things we know his many friends in Greenville would like to read, and we are taking the liberty of printing part of it. Speaking of his pleasure derived from the visits of The Reflector, he said:

"I am glad to see that it has improved so much and hope it will continue to grow in size and its circulation will keep increasing. While I may never be in Greenville again, though I hope to be some day, I am glad to note so many improvements going on and I hope it will soon be what it ought to have been years ago—one of the leading towns of Eastern North Carolina. When I left it had not been decided that the training school would go there, but you succeeded in getting it, and it was the best thing that has been done for Greenville.

"I have just received the anniversary number of The Reflector and think you have good reason to be proud of it. I enjoyed reading it more than any of the papers we get here. The articles by Wooten, Harding and Ragsdale were fine. It may be I appreciated them more because they were written by men I know so well and were in the interest of the place where I spent so many years, and always think of as home. You remember the saying, "home is where the heart is."

FARMVILLE ITEMS.

Farmville, N. C., Dec. 29.—Christmas was very quiet in Farmville. There were few accidents, none of serious consequence. There was some damage occasioned to property by shooting fire crackers. Christmas eve the crowd was large, filling the streets, sidewalks and stores. Everybody seemed to be in a good humor except ex-Chief Smith and Buck Eason. They cursed and quarreled and paid fines for it. There was a great deal of drinking but not much drunkenness.

It is generally believed that there is a great deal of illegal selling of liquor by several parties in Farmville.

R. L. Davis, superintendent of the State Anti-Saloon League, is to speak in Farmville Baptist church Sunday night, Jan. 2nd. His subject will be "Blind Tigers Must Go." Mr. Davis will preach in the Methodist church Sunday morning. We hope every business man in Farmville will be out to hear him Sunday night.

We are glad to learn that Rev. G. B. Webster, the Methodist pastor, is starting off well with his work.

Rev. C. M. Morton, Disciples pastor, held two good services here last Sunday.

Mrs. Jesse McCarter is away visiting her parents during the holidays.

There will be preaching in the Baptist church next Sunday morning by the pastor. His subject will be "John the Baptist, the Man and his Message." All are cordially invited.

2 stores for rent: 2 residences, good location for business; 35 million feet standing pine, cypress, gum, and poplar timber. Six cheap mules for sale.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va. Dec. 30, 1909.—Saturday Bradstreet's will say, for Richmond and adjacent territory: This week marks the closing of the year's trade and in this territory the volume of business has in many directions surpassed the expectations entertained at the outset; especially is the year's trade gratifying following two years of wide spread depression. Most industries have entirely recuperated and some have surpassed any preceding record. A notable feature in the South has been the development of the cotton and cotton goods industry, this having been a record breaking year in the establishment of new plants in this line. Tobacco manufacturing in all branches report a successful year. Manufacturers of and dealers in malt and spirituous liquor report the largest volume in sales in their history. Drug houses report largely increased sales. Wholesale dry goods and notions dealers report sales largely in excess of 1908. Wholesalers of shoes and rubber goods, have extended their territory and increased their sales. Manufacturers of trunks and bags have had one of the best years in their history and the output of flour mills in this territory is now larger than at any previous time. Manufacturers of chemicals and agricultural fertilizers are closing one of their most successful years indicating the activity of farming operations throughout the South. In the early part of 1909 the paper manufacturing industry was very quiet, however, the demand for their products have increased with the close of the year and at this time their business is up to the average. Manufacturers of flavoring extracts report the years business in excess of any previous year. Those engaged in the manufacture of lumber and dependent lines appear to have recovered entirely from the years of depression and with few exceptions are making capacity shipments. Dealers in hardware and metals have extended their lines and without exception report as satisfactory years training. Building is universally active and reports show in some instances 30 per cent increase over last year. Manufacturers and distributors of paints have had a successful year, have increased their sales throughout the southern territory. Retail trade, which was quiet during the first months of the year gradually improved with the closing months, making the total for the year measure up to previous records. Bank clearing testify to the expansion in all lines showing a gain of about 25 per cent. over 1908 and even exceeding the record year of 1906. The very high prices of commodities have had their effect. Agricultural interests have prospered and the high prices obtained for farm products have stimulated planters to an effort to increase the quantity and improve the quality of their products.

Rural Carriers Get Holiday.

Mail carriers on rural delivery routes had to make their trips as usual on Christmas day, as so many people would have been disappointed not to have received mail that day. But tomorrow, new years day, the carriers will have a well deserved holiday and will not have to cover their routes. They do not get many days off through the year.

Makes Meat at Five Cents.

Very often we hear people say that it is cheaper to buy meat than to raise it. And men who call themselves farmers talk this way, too. Mr. Braxton Phifer of this township tells us that he has kept an accurate account of every item of expense attached to the raising and fattening of a pig which he killed one day last week that was seven months old and weighed 175 pounds. Mr. Phifer states that his meat cost him just 5 1/2 cents per pound. At the present price of pork, which is 11 cents, the amount saved by fattening his own meat is 5 1/2 cents per pound. These figures show very clearly that the pork was raised at less than half what it would cost at the store. But in the face of these and other figures just as alarming, some farmers persist in buying Western meat.—Our Home.

Funeral This Morning.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hall was interred this morning in Cherry Hill cemetery, the funeral service being conducted by Rev. B. F. Huske. The pall bearers were Messrs. Olen Warren, Jr., T. M. Hooker, P. T. Anthony and M. R. Turnage.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings of Interest in North Carolina.

Asheville, N. C., Dec. 29.—J. A. Burroughs, president of the North Carolina Medical Society, and also identified with the Mississippi Valley Society and the American Tuberculosis Congress, died at his home here at noon today, after an illness of only a few days. Dr. Burroughs was one of the best known physicians in the South on the treatment of tuberculosis.

Charlotte, Dec. 30.—The death this afternoon at 1:25 o'clock of ex-Judge W. P. Byrum at his home on West Trade street, removes from this city one of the most striking figures in her history and in the State's history, both during the Civil War and later, Judge Byrum having been elevated to the rank of colonel in 1862 and also having served as solicitor for the western portion of North Carolina for ten years after the war.

Lexington, Dec. 30.—Lorenzo D. Surratt, aged 20 years, son of W. L. D. Surratt, farmer of Healing Springs township, this county, was killed by No. 44 northbound passenger train, three miles north of Lexington, yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock. He had been visiting friends here, and was late at the station. The train was just pulling out when he rushed to it and caught at a door of a Pullman and for three miles clung for life to the rapidly moving train in one of the coldest winds of the season. The door was locked and none saw him, finally numbed by the cold he fell and his skull was smashed, blood, brains and bones being scattered for many feet up the track.

FRIDAY DEC. 31, 1909

THE OLD YEAR.

Tonight brings us to the close of another year. For 365 days 1909 has been with us, but at the last stroke of this midnight all that it has given of joy or sorrow, of pleasure or pain, of success or failure, will be but a memory. Yet even a memory can bless us, and sometimes thoughts of the past strengthen us to efforts for the future. No life is perfect, either in anticipation or realization—all of our ambitions may not have been satisfied, all of our hopes may not have materialized, some of our anticipations may have turned to disappointments; but who is there that can look back over the year and not see much good that it brought.

Those of us who have been spared to the close of the year should be thankful to God for this preservation; He spared us for a purpose. Our service to Him may have been poor and imperfect, yet He forgives our shortcomings and is plenteous in mercy toward us. Of temporal blessings, whether much or little, there has been enough in every life for gratitude, for when one considers his own unworthiness he must exclaim "how greatly blessed am I!" And the companionship of loved ones, as well as true, loyal, warm-hearted friends; how much we should appreciate these! What can be the value of treasures and worldly goods compared with love and friendship? Rich is he who has these. Truly it has been a good old year—God bless its memory.

As the old year comes to a close and we think over how good it has been to us, there are some sad hearts who should have a share in our thoughts. Even now some tear-filled eyes may be turned to a vacant chair that was occupied by a loved one when the year began, while the heart wonders and cannot understand God's providence in taking the loved ones to Himself. May He pity and comfort every such heart tonight, and cause His face to shine upon them. "Sometime we'll understand."

In the recent anniversary edition of The Reflector it was told what Greenville and Pitt county had accomplished during the year. Hence we will not repeat that more than to say that it has been a good year for both town and county, and we hope the new year will be even better. Let us all turn our endeavors in that direction.

The Reflector will keep open house new year's day, ready to receive all who want to pay their subscription. And this receiving invitation holds good for all other days through the year, except Sundays, Thanksgiving day and Christmas.

Our resolution for the new year: Be as good as we can, do all the good we can, help everybody we can. May strength be given to do this all through the year.

It has broken out in a new place. Cook and Peary are about to be forgotten and the squabble is now between "Dixie" and "Yankee Doodle."

The Reflector wishes every reader a happy and prosperous new year.

C., says: "For some time I suffered severely from kidney and bladder complaint. My kidneys were weak and the irregular passages of the secretions caused me great annoyance. I also had bearing-down pains through my abdomen and sharp, shooting twinges through my loins. There was a tender spot across my kidneys and at times my limbs pained intensely. I finally read of Doan's Kidney Pills and was so much impressed that I procured them at Wooten's drug store. They soon relieved the pains in my sides and limbs, restored my kidneys to a normal condition and at present I am feeling a great deal better in every way. I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for the great improvement."
