BARLOW & WILSON MINSTREL.

Will Come to Greenville Wednesday Night, Jan. 12.

Geo. B. Beckley, agent of Barlow & Wilson's Greater New York Minstrels, has been in the city arranging for the appearance of that big city attraction at the opera house on next Wednesday night, Jan. 12th. This is one of the largest and best known minstrel companies on the road and a rich treat is in store for our theatre goers and all lovers of refined and up-to-date amusements. They come highly recommended by the press and public.

Speaking of Mr. Beckley, on a recent visit to that town, the Huntington, W. Va., Herald-Dispatch says of him:

"There is quite an interesting figure—no character is more appropriate—in the city at present, in the person of George B. Beckley, who is traveling in the interests of the Barlow and Wilson Minstrels, re-blazing an old trail for that attraction through the south, west, north and east. There is just one mistake noticeable in connection with the placing of Beckley ahead of the show—he should be back with the attraction enjoying the fame and glory of cork tipped prominence in the radiant crescent first part.

"George Beckley is what one may, in vernacular, term a 'card.' He is one of the oldest circus agents in the country and knows the United States as a devout Catholic knows his beads and he has been everywhere in the country that the sun shines on and in some places where the sun never had a chance to shine. George Beckley is as full of laughs as any comedian who ever tickled his way into the laughter loving hearts of an audience, only George's audience is not limited by any four walls—just heaven and earth. Some day George Beckley will quit the show business but it will be when the others have all gone out of the profession and there are no competitors left to vie with. And then they will lay him down in some soft spot some day where the sun is bright and warm and birds are singing and start him out on his last tour, they who know him best will carve on a shaft over his head: And he laughs away the sorrow, And he laughs away the gloom, We are all so prone to borrow From the darkness of the tomb. And so, laughing he passed, With a smile of glad emotion, Into Paradise at last."

TEACHER'S ASSOCIATION.

AYDEN ITEMS

Newsy Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told

Ayden, N. C., Jan. 7.

Rev. T. H. King will preach his farewell sermon in the Baptist church here second Sunday. His successor has not been secured.

Early Thursday morning at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Agnes Blount, on Third Street, Miss Nannie Nichols was married to Mr. John Pierce, Rev. C. M. Morton, pastor of the Christian church, officiating. They left immediately for a bridal trip. They expect to return about Feb. 1st.

Prof. Cale returned to Ayden Thursday to resume his position at the graded school.

Robert Worthington, who has been visiting his daughter at Belhaven, returned Tuesday.

Mrs. Stancill Hodges, who has been spending several weeks with her parents, at Burke Station, Va., came home Wednesday.

Glad to learn that Burl Heath, who has been very sick with pneumonia, is considered out of danger.

A. Ward, of Bethel, was here Tuesday.

E. E. Hardee's house caught fire on top Wednesday evening and came near being destroyed.

Lam Worthington, father of T. H. Worthington and Mrs. J. M. Dixon, is very low with paralysis.

Rev. T. H. King has been teaching school in place of Prof. Cale this week, the latter being at beside of his wife who is very sick.

Mrs. Mary E. Garriss, widow of the late John B. Garriss, died near here Tuesday. She was 75 years old and leaves seven children, all grown.

A. M. Moseley, of Greenville, was here Thursday.

Col. F. G. James, of Greenville, was here Thursday on legal business.

FRANK WILSON'S

Annual January Clearance Sale Now Going On.

You read so many offers of "special" bargains in suits and overcoats that it would be little wonder if you were not sometimes amused or confused. All too often paper claims mean nothing. So many clothes dealers simply keep pace with each other in the extravagant claims they make for the clothes they sell—and remember there is no patent on prices. It is only when you get down to quality that there is a difference. But in the matter of quality in the suits and overcoats at the prices we are offering them, you are assured of the privilege of changing them if you are not satisfied. Be sure and come to our store and see for yourself what we are offering at following prices:

All $25 suits	at $18 90
" 22.50 "	" 17.65
" 20 "	" 15.90
" 18.50 "	" 13.75
" 15 "	" 11.75
" 12.50 "	" 9.25
" 10 "	" 6.90

Great reduction in prices on men and boy's overcoats, rain coats and woolen underwear.

Frank Wilson, The King Clothier.

Why yes we are in the city and you can find us at Fourth & Washington St. Clark & McClemore, The Tailors. Phone 96.

ENUMERATORS ARE SCARCE.

Public Spirited People to Apply at Once.

Washington, D. C., January 6—Census Director Durand stated that, as a result of his conference with the supervisors of census throughout the country he finds that in many sections, especially in the larger cities, there have not been as yet sufficient applications for the positions of enumerators. It looks, he thinks, as if the country is so prosperous that people are not as anxious to get these responsible places as had been expected.

The scarcity is giving the director some concern, as only a few weeks remain before the date for closing the consideration of applications. It will be impossible generally to extend the application time limit, as to examine the "test" papers, with the necessary care to insure the designation of qualified persons, will consume every moment of the time allowed for this phase of the work of selecting the enumerators, leaving nothing for an extension of the date for shutting down on applications.

The director urges all persons desiring places as enumerators to make application as quickly as possible, and hopes that, in order to help get a perfect census, public-spirited and energetic people throughout the country will offer themselves for these positions, even though they may not care for them from the standpoint of the pay involved.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

Fell from Load of Fodder and Struck on Head.

A telephone message to The Reflector Thursday says that J. I. Eason, a well to do farmer near Saratoga, fell from a wagon load of fodder, which he was taking home, Thursday morning striking on his head. Death came instantaneously. The fodder being very dry was the cause of the fall.

Mr. Eason was about 50 years old and leaves a large family. He was buried at his home place today.

Laymen's Meeting Sunday Night.

Greenville people are looking forward with much interest to the laymen's meeting to be held in Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, Sunday night, at which addresses will be made by Messrs. N. B. Broughton, J. R. Young and J. G. Brown, of Raleigh. The churches of the town will have no service that night but all the congregations will come together in the laymen's meeting.

Pierce Nichols.

Mrs. Agnes Blount announces the marriage of her sister

Nannie Adelaide Nichols to Mr. John Bryan Pierce Wednesday January fifth nineteen hundred and ten Ayden, North Carolina. At Home after February first.

Choir Meeting.

The members of the choirs of the different churches of the town who will take part in the singing at the laymen's meeting, Sunday night, are asked to meet at the Methodist church at 7 o'clock tonight for practice. The lady singers are especially urged to be present.

Free Tobacco Seed for Farmers.

The Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company will be glad to furnish, free of charge, tobacco seed of any of the following varieties:

Long Leaf Gooch, Hester, Wahn, White Stem Orinoco.

During 1909, we had grown on a specially selected piece of land in Martin county, a crop of tobacco exclusively for seed purposes. No tobacco was cured from the crop at all, and every precaution was taken to insure the best development of the seed. This crop was made under the direction of Mr. N. D. Young, manager Planters warehouse, Robersonville, N. C., who has had experience in growing tobacco for seed selection.

It is our purpose to assist, if possible, in improving the quality of our Eastern North Carolina tobacco, by improving the seed, and for this purpose we procured from the old established Slate Seed Farm, at Hyco, Va., formerly the Ragland Seed Farm, the seed from which this crop was grown. They were guaranteed to us to be pure, unmixed seed. These varieties have given generally satisfactory results on the different soils of the east, and we do not believe there is any better tobacco made.

Farmers desiring any of these seed can secure them from F. D. Foxhall, at Star warehouse, J. P. Lovelace, Gum warehouse, C. R. Townsend, Peoples warehouse, or at our office.

Farmers' Consolidated Tob. Co.

FRIDAY JAN. 7, 1910.

The North and West are in the grip of another blizzard.

Greenville should be waking up to the need of a cotton mill.

With everything to eat so high, farmers should plan to raise plenty of things in that line this year.

The Chamber of Commerce ought to have made a new year resolution to meet oftener and plan larger for Greenville.

Federal Judge Connor does not believe a man should be punished twice for the same offense, even if it is selling whiskey. And he is right.

The Durham Herald is wondering what people in the colder sections do about their water pipes. Possibly they have steam heated houses that prevent the pipes freezing.

The New Bern Sun says "the man who thinks every one else is a crook is pretty apt to be a crook himself." There is much in that. The man who gets around trying to bring accusations against others or insinuating they will do so and so, is in the majority of cases giving an index to his own character or what he would do if he had the chance.

One Cause of High Prices.

A Kansas City paper makes bold to answer the question, so often asked, as to the cause of hard times and high prices. There is much horse sense in what it says, which is that "we throw away ashes and buy soap; we raise dogs and buy hogs; we grow weeds and buy vegetables and brooms; we catch fish with a $4 rod; we build school houses and send our children to be educated away from home; and at last we send our boys out with a $40 gun and a $10 dog to hunt 10 cent game."

While much blame for present conditions can be laid at the doors of trusts and monopolies, along with several other causes, it cannot be denied that extravagance and wastefulness by consumers have much to do with the cost of living. While the increased price of individual articles cannot always be explained thus, extravagance and wastefulness have much to do with the general increase. The general public wants and will have better living. The things which a few years ago were looked upon only as luxuries, within the reach of the more fortunate from a money standpoint, are now considered necessities of life without which those of more meagre purses find that they are unable to exist. While it is an age of combinations and monopolies to raise the price of comforts and necessities of life it is also a period of extravagance and of living beyond the means of the purchasers and consumers. We do not inveigh against a man or a family indulging in the new comforts of life which progress puts in their reach, but we do say that much of the hard times which comes to many of our people is caused by a desire and an effort of people to live beyond their means. People—some people we mean—who can hardly pay their bills at the butcher shop and the grocery store feel compelled to keep in the swim of society, to give expensive entertainments, to go to fashionable resorts each summer, to take trips to New York or the far South in winter time. Many of this class of people put off their butcher, their grocer and the dry goods merchant, who credit them from month to month, in order that they may keep up appearances and have the expensive pleasures which they desire.—Charlotte Observer.

A STEADY DRAIN

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make you ill, Languid and Depressed

Sick kidneys weaken the body thru the continued continual drainage of life-giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Great Greenville cures prove it.
James Hardison, 319 E. Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says: "My kidneys were weak and the secretions passed too frequently, especially at night, when I was forced to rise several times. In the morning my back was very lame and I was subject to pains through my loins. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wooten's drug store, restored my kidneys to a normal condition. I am now able to sleep well and the lameness and soreness across the small of my back has entirely disappeared. I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to live up to representations and I have no hesitation in giving them my endorsement."

AN EVENING SPENT

With the most versatile pianists, could not possibly bring you more enjoyment than you, yourself could derive from either

The Lindeman
Player Piano,
The Milton,
The Bjure Bros.
Or Lester Player Pianos,

In fact, with either of these Player Pianos as a companion, you have the advantage of playing the music yourself--the music you best like, and playing it in that rich, full manner, bringing out the delicate beauties of the melody which even many skilled pianists fail to develop, and this, possible with the veriest novice, without your knowing one note from another.

We will take your deaf and dumb piano in exchange.

ODD ELECTION SIGNS.

The Signs Are In Washington, the Elections Elsewhere.

"Of course we don't have any elections of our own," said a man from Washington, "but we have election intimations, if I may call them that, which can't be duplicated anywhere else in the country.

"You see, when we Washingtonians want to vote we've got to do it somewhere else, and as most of us have a lingering fondness for the franchise we are pretty likely to hang on to a residence somewhere outside the District.

"We especially like to do it because it makes us feel as if we had some sort of weapon to flourish before the observing eyes of the politicians who may have something to say about our hold on our jobs, and when the time comes to go home to vote we visibly swell with importance.

"Naturally a national election is the one that catches us all at once, and it is then that the intimations I spoke of do most abound. The papers are full of advertisements of loans for election expenses. Department clerks can be accommodated with sums covering their railway fare, new clothes for the trip and a substantial margin over and above necessary items. The interest is a bit high, but a clerk who is pining to go back home to splurge a bit is willing to mortgage his resources for the pleasure.

"These offers of loans fill columns of the daily papers. Alongside of them are other advertisements, all turning on the one theme, the election. 'Buy yourself a new suit to go home and vote in!' The grammar is a bit off, but the prices are asserted to be all right.

"In the shop windows there are dozens of election placards: 'Just the hat to wear when you go home to vote,' 'Specials in suit cases for the election,' 'Take a souvenir hatpin to your best girl when you go home to vote,' 'Swell suit for the election, only $1 a week,' and in a shoe store window, 'Trump, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching--home to vote; wear --'s shoes and you won't get sore feet!'

"The railways offer special rates to voters, and so it goes. You won't find anything like it in any other town."--New York Sun.

All Over.
"No more will I hear his foot-steps on yonder walk just as the clock strikes the hour of 8."

"Gracious, Jeanette!"
"And the old parlor light will never burn low for him again."

"You don't mean it?"
"I do, and, furthermore, he will never sit on this sofa three nights a week and call me pet names as he has been doing for the last two years."

"I am astonished."
"And tonight I am going to burn all the old love letters in my chest of drawers."

"B-but why? Are you going to discard him?"
"Discard him! No, you goose. I am going to marry him!"--London Scraps.

The Merry Minstrels.
"What am the difference, Mr. Bones, between a forger and a man playing poker who calls the other fellow's bet?"

"As usual, Sambo, I am at a loss to answer your query. What is the difference between a forger and a man playing poker who calls the other fellow's bet?"

"The first man raises a check, and the second one checks a raise."
During intermission, ladies and gentlemen, the orchestra will play that delightful melody entitled "Father, Please Be Careful; the Janitor's Got a Grouch."--St. Louis Star.

When Gold Looks Green.
Gold can be beaten out so thin that it allows light to pass through it, in which case, though it still appears brilliant yellow by reflected light, it is green as viewed by transmission--that is, by the light that passes through it. This curious effect can easily be observed by laying a piece of gold leaf upon a plate of glass and holding it between the eye and the light, when the gold will appear semitransparent and of a leek green color.

EASILY MANAGED.

The Clever Scheme Evolved by the Clock Winder.

The contract for keeping the church and town hall clocks in order was given to a new man. Unfortunately from the start he experienced a difficulty in getting the clocks to strike at the same time. At last the district council requested an interview with the watchmaker.

"You are not so successful with the clocks as your predecessor," he was told. "It is very misleading to have one clock striking three or four minutes after the other. Before you took them in hand we could hardly tell the two were striking. Surely you are as competent?"

"Every workman has his own methods, gentlemen," replied the watchmaker, "and mine ain't the same as H.'s were."

"I'm decidedly of the opinion that it would be for the general good if they were," remarked one of the councilors.

"Very well, sir, in future they shall be," came the reply. "I happened to write to him last week about the trouble I had with the clocks, and--but perhaps," he added as he produced a letter and handed it to the chairman, "you'd like to see what he said."

"Dear sir," ran the letter--"about them clocks. When you get to know what a cantankerous lot of busybodies the council consists of you'll do the same as I did for fifteen years--forget to wind up the striker of the town hall clock, and the blooming jackasses won't be able to tell that both clocks ain't striking together!"--London Tit-Bits.

Curious Laws In India.

Some of the old laws of Nepal, India, were curious. Killing cows ranked with murder as a capital offense, for instance. Every girl at birth was married with great ceremony to a betel fruit, which was then cast into a sacred stream. As the fate of the fruit was uncertain, the girl was supposed never to become a widow. To obtain divorce from a husband a wife had only to place a betel nut under his pillow and depart. In Nepal the day is considered to begin when it is light enough to count the tiles on the roof or distinguish the hairs on a man's hand against the sky.

Particular.

"He's a very particular man."
"Yes. If the doctor told him that he was going to die he would want to telephone ahead for a good room!"--New York Press.

Ancient Sacrifices.

Many Roman and Greek epicures were very fond of dog flesh. Before Christianity was established among the Danes on every ninth year ninety-nine dogs were sacrificed. In Sweden each ninth day ninety-nine dogs were destroyed. But later on dogs were not thought good enough, and every ninth year ninety-nine human beings were immolated, the sons of the reigning tyrant among the rest, in order that the life of the monarch might be prolonged.
