MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

Transactions of the Board of Aldermen.

The Board of Aldermen met in regular monthly session, Thursday night, only one of the members being absent.

E. H. Evans appeared with a proposition to purchase a portion of the old graveyard on Reade and Fifth streets. The matter was referred to a committee composed of Aldermen W. S. Moye, C. S. Carr and D. W. Hardee to ascertain if the town has the right to sell the property.

W. F. Evans appeared with a petition from W. H. Allen for a reduction in dray license tax, he not having begun draying until half of the fiscal year had passed. The board granted him license to operate two drays from Jan. 1st to June 30th upon payment of $15, the tax for a year being $20.

The tax collector was instructed to push the collection of taxes due the town, the treasury being much in need of funds.

The market house committee reported slow progress being made on the improvements to the building. The matter of building a shelter under which to keep the town wagons and street sprinkler and sweeper was postponed indefinitely, and the committee was authorized to rent a place for this purpose.

The committee to secure an auditor of the water and light books reported that they had engaged E. B. Thomas for this work.

The Water and Light Commission was authorized to employ its own clerical help, the Board of Aldermen appropriating $40 per month for this purpose, to be effective Feb. 1st.

The salary of the clerk and tax collector was increased from $50 to $60 a month, the change to go in effect Feb. 1st.

Higgs Bros. were given permission to suspend an advertising banner across the street at or near Five Points.

The Water and Light Commission was instructed to furnish the board, and also to Hope Fire Company, a record containing the number and location of all fire hydrants in the town, and to report each month any hydrants not in condition for use.

The committee appointed on the purchase of a horse for the fire hose wagon recommended that no horse be purchased at present.

J. C. Albritton was released from poll tax.

D. E. House was granted a reduction of $200 in valuation of real estate on tax list.

The reports of officers for the past month were submitted; and accounts were audited and ordered paid.

Appreciation.

The sadly bereaved family of the late Wiley Norcott, Sr., an aged and respected citizen who fell to sleep a few days ago, has been overwhelmed by the many offers of assistance by our white people who knew him favorably and well. Take this method of publicly thanking them and assure these white friends, that those left behind will ever cherish these acts of kindness as an evidence of the high esteem in which he and his family were held, and promise by service and otherwise to merit through life the best wishes of their white friends and neighbors.

Chester Harris, secretary; Kenneth T. Raynor, treasurer; Lonnie G. Whitley, supervisor; Prof. F. O. Nye, critic; Robert L. Flanagan, marshal. BARLOW & WILSON'S MINSTRELS.

Merry Performers at Academy Music Last Night.

What the Raleigh News and Observer of December 31, 1909, says of Barlow & Wilson's Minstrels:

The Barlow & Wilson Minstrels were at the Academy of Music last night, and the performance given was one that brought applause from the audience.

In the first part there was music with melody to it, the vocalists rendering some very attractive numbers, the comedians looking diligently after the fun end of the performance. Some of the songs made a hit with the audience. The take off on Cook and Peary was very clever.

In the second part there were feature acts in which juggling was presented, Fred Robb in a funny skit, the international comedy quartette, songs and buck dancing, musical comedies and other specialties, going to make up a performance that was applauded time and again.

A Man Who Makes Money Farming.

One of the most successful farmers in this section of the State is Mr. W. B. Sellers, of Lee county. This year Mr. Sellers gathered thirty bales of cotton off of thirty acres. He says had the season been favorable and had it been a full crop he would have made a bale and a half to the acre. Over and above all expenses, Mr. Sellers cleared $1,000 from his cotton crop. In addition to this he made 700 bushels of corn. He makes all his own supplies and buys nothing that can be raised on his farm. He never sells cotton and spends the money to buy corn, meat, flour and other supplies. Mr. Sellers tells The Express that he can raise cotton and a cost of 4 cents per pound and corn at 12½ cents per bushel. He understands how to cultivate the soil and secure the best results with a small amount of labor. Mr. Sellers makes a study of his business just as the professional man studies his profession. We would like to see more farmers like Mr. Sellers come to Lee county.—Sanford Express.

A Pounding.

Editor Reflector:

Please give me space in your paper to give some expression of my very sincere appreciation of a most generous pounding brought to my home Friday evening by members of my congregation. It would consume too much of your space to attempt to enumerate the many good things placed in our dining room that will last for many days to come. Those things awaken the gratitude of our hearts, yet it is the spirit that inspired the giving that we shall most appreciate long after those temporal blessings have been consumed. As they have ministered unto me in temporal things, God held me to minister to them faithfully in spiritual things. God bless every one of them. Jno. H. Shore.

New Year's Thought.

The man who will buy a thing simply because it is "cheap" whether he needs it or not, generally spends a fool's money. But the man who buys a policy in The Mutual Life of New York displays wisdom, and proper care for himself and his family—himself if he reaches old age—his family if he dies. 1 td 1 tw H. Bently Harris.

TO GREENVILLE CITIZENS.

No longer an experiment but a reality is the industrial department of the "Industrial Graded School" for the colored children of Greenville, N. C.

In a few days the theories learned during the session of 1908 and 1909, will be put in practice.

All interested citizens are invited to visit our school and note the fact that we have accomplished results already in the the sewing department.

First, Our girls are prepared to make their own dresses, and have done so, with no knowledge of the art two years ago.

Second, According to our State fair secretary we have a standing among the best of our schools. That is getting results. Principal Chance is canvassing the State and pays our school the compliment.

Third, The greater portion of material used last term was paid for out of proceeds from articles sold and it is our purpose to make the department self-sustaining. The faculty of this school is proud of its position among the other institutions for race uplift in our State.

We, under the direction of our interested superintendent, have made good and are determined that this work shall not be to our friends an iridescent dream.

I am your public servant to command. C. M. Eppes, Principal.

P. S. The cooking department will receive suggestions as to the things to be emphasized in teaching. Young and inexperienced cooks will be welcome to visit the school. Cleanliness as to person and apparel will receive our attention.

SATURDAY JAN. 8, 1910.

We cannot get away from the desire to see Greenville in the list of towns having cotton mills. There is every opportunity for one or more to do well here—plenty of raw material, good sites and splendid transportation facilities. We hope this year will bring at least one.

President Taft's special message to congress Friday, recommended that corporations doing interstate and foreign business be required to take out a Federal charter, and that States be not allowed to interfere with them; also that one corporation be prohibited from acquiring or holding stock in other corporations.

Hon. John H. Small.

Representative John H. Small is always "on the job." If the inland waterways project is not pushed through to a successful finish it will not be the fault of Mr. Small. He secured the appropriation for the work being done in North Carolina and is now going after an appropriation to complete the work. Congress appropriated $550,000 for the Beaufort end of the waterway and the work on this is nearing completion. An appropriation of $1,500,000 is needed to complete the work to Norfolk and Mr. Small is urging on the house committee on rivers and harbors that this appropriation be made at once so as not to delay the work. The section nearing completion will permit the entrance of vessels with a draft of ten feet from the ocean to the inland waters of the State. From Norfolk, however, the entrance to these waters is less than eight feet and the securing of a continuous ten-foot passage is an important matter. There are several objects in the way or an appropriation at this time, but Mr. Small is a resourceful man and he may be able to get the matter through.—Raleigh Times.

The time is coming when people will no more think of going into a store and asking credit, than they would go to a railroad ticket agent and ask him to give a ticket on credit. And why not? It is one of the good signs of the times that the credit system is disappearing.—Charlotte Chronicle.

That would indeed be a consummation devoutly to be wished. It would put an end to dead beating. A pay-as-you-go plan is best. Not only will a strictly cash system be beneficial to the merchants, but if adopted by other businesses will likewise prove of advantage. We sincerely hope that the time the Chronicle speaks of is not far distant.—Durham Sun.

AN EVENING SPENT

With the most versatile pianists, could not possibly bring you more enjoyment than you, yourself could derive from either

The Lindeman
Player Piano,
The Milton,
The Bjure Bros.
Or Lester
Player Pianos,

In fact, with either of these Player Pianos as a companion, you have the advantage of playing the music yourself--the music you best like, and playing it in that rich, full manner, bringing out the delicate beauties of the melody which even many skilled pianists fail to develop, and this, possible with the veriest novice, without your knowing one note from another.

We will take your deaf and dumb piano in exchange.

Anomalies of Taste.

A weak, delicate woman was wheeled in an invalid's chair to the book department.

"The latest big, burly novel for men with red blood in their veins, please!" quoth she in a voice that was scarce above a whisper.

Just then a powerful, broad chested man with a red neck stamped in. "I want a story in the lavender and lace style, with a tender love thread--in short, something sweet!" he roared.

But neither need have spoken. At sight of them the clerks knew what they were after.--Puck.

Strongly Inrenched.

A fellow whose appearance warranted the belief that he had quarreled with soap and water some years ago applied for a position as porter with a large concern where help was badly needed. The manager looked him over doubtfully. Finally he handed him a dollar.

"Go uptown and take a bath," he told him. "Then come back and maybe I'll be able to take you on."

The fellow started for the door. "And, oh, by the way," the manager called after him, "if there's any change left take another bath."

An Effective Treatment.

At the bedside of a patient who was a noted humorist five doctors were in consultation as to the best means of producing a perspiration.

The sick man overheard the discussion, and, after listening for a few moments, he turned his head toward the group and whispered, with a dry chuckle:

"Just send in your bills, gentlemen. That will bring it on at once."--Ladies' Home Journal.

Which Was It?

"Are we slaves or are we free men?" thundered the orator. "I pause for a reply."

"Some of us are married," came the answer from the last row of seats.--New York Sun.

An Opportunity.

Judge--Do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth? Fair Witness--It will be just perfectly lovely if you really have the time to listen.--Harper's Bazar.

A WEAK WOMAN AND HER STORY

In Floral, Ark., Lives a Lady Who Feels That Her Strength Was Restored by Cardui.

Floral, Ark.--"I must speak a good word for Cardui," writes Mrs. Viola Baker, of this place.

"About a month ago I was in very bad health. I was so weak and nervous that I was not able to do my housework.

"My husband bought me one bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic. I took it according to directions and now I am in good health.

"I think Cardui is a fine tonic for weak women."

And you are not the only lady who thinks so, Mrs. Baker.

Thousands, like you, have written to tell of the wonderful benefit Cardui has been to them.

Cardui contains no minerals, or other powerful drugs. It contains no glycerin or other mawkish-tasting ingredients.

It is just a pure, natural extract, of natural vegetable herbs, that have been found to regulate the womanly functions and strengthen the female system.

All druggists sell Cardui.

See yours about it.

Carrying Out Orders.

On Lord Dufferin's estate, near Belfast, there once stood a historic ruin, a castle which had been a stronghold of the O'Neils. One day Lord Dufferin visited it with his steward, Dan Mulligan, and drew a line with his stick round it, telling Mulligan that he was to build a protecting wall on that line. And then he went to India, feeling secure as to the preservation of the great historic building. When he returned to Ireland he hastened to visit the castle. It was gone. He rubbed his eyes and looked again. Yes, gone it certainly was, leaving not a trace behind. He sent for Dan and inquired, "Where's the castle?"

"The castle, my lord--that old thing? Sure, I pulled it down to build the wall wid."
