Happenings of Interest in North Carolina

Washington, Jan. 14.—The senate has agreed to a resolution reported by Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, authorizing the secretary of war to have made a survey of the coast of North Carolina, with the view to establishing a harbor of refuge.

The second week in June has been chosen by the executive committee of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly as the time for the annual meeting this year. The place of meeting is yet to be named by the secretary, Prof. R. D. W. Connor.

Mr. E. S. Street suffered an accident Wednesday by having the end of his middle finger on the left hand torn off, while unfastening a horse in his livery stable on Broad street. The animal became frightened and in an attempt to free himself performed an operation on Mr. Street's hand, cutting off the finger as smooth as if the operation had been done with a surgeon's knife.—New Bern Sun.

Fire destroyed the store and stock of Mr. H. A. Hooker, at Glenfield, Thursday night, entailing a loss of from two thousand to twenty-five hundred dollars, partly covered by insurance. The fire was discovered about half past eight o'clock, on the roof and is supposed to have caught from a spark falling from the chimney.—Kinston Free Press.

The North Carolina State Optical Society meets in Raleigh January 18th. The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce hall. There will be two sessions, one at 2 p. m. and one at 8 p. m. The State Board of Examiners will meet the next day Wednesday, January 19th.

Burlington, Jan. 14.—A dreadful accident occurred in this city this morning, when Mr. Frank Phillips, an employe in Plaid Mills, a cotton mill in the western section of this city, was caught in the shafting while trying to adjust a belt and his right arm was torn off just below the elbow, and a serious wound inflicted in the left side. He is not expected to recover.

Goldboro, Jan. 14.—A gentleman who arrived in the city tonight from Brogden township, reports the horrible death in that section of Mrs. Haywood Baker. He reports that while Mrs. Baker was dressing one of her children for school her clothing caught on fire and she was so badly burned that she died in a few hours, suffering great agony, her body being literally cooked. What adds to the scene was that her husband, who is a paralytic and an invalid, was compelled to witness that horrible spectacle and was helpless to aid her while the screams of her five little children were most piteously and touching to listen to.

Chance of Greater Longevity.

Dr. Wu Ting-Fang, the former Chinese minister to the United States, who is now on his way to Europe, said, in making his farewell address at New York for the benefit of the press, that Americans could not solve the problem of longevity because they worship the almighty dollar too much. Here is hope for more years to the American, then, for the dollar is growing painfully less almighty every day.—Charleston Post.

"CONFLICT" OF COURTS.

Judge Cook Sends Sheriff to Judge Connor with "Order" to Adjourn Court.

"Mr. Sheriff, go tell Judge Connor to adjourn Federal court so that business can be transacted in the Superior court of Wake county," was in substance the order of Judge Chas. M. Cook to Sheriff Sears from the bench yesterday after many cases had been called and there had come but one answer to the inquiry as where the attorney was who represented the defendant, and that was that the attorney was in the Federal court, cases from this county being called yesterday.

All through the day Judge Cooke had been annoyed by the absence of attorneys, for Judge Connor was calling Wake county in his court, and nearly every time a case was called in the Superior court it could not be tried because of the absence of the defendant's counsel. Hence Judge Cooke's order to the sheriff.

The sheriff saw that the judge meant what he said, so he went into the Federal court room, walked quietly up to the bench, and very respectfully delivered Judge Cooke's message.

Judge Connor listened attentively to what Sheriff Sears said, received the message in good spirit, and then told the sheriff to go to Judge Cooke and tell him that he would be glad to comply with his request, but that he was in the midst of cases and could not.

The comity between the courts will probably cause them to make an agreement by which both may go on.

LITTLE LIKELIHOOD OF SUIT.

Rhode Island Will Not Press Matter Against North Carolina.

Raleigh, Jan. 14.—There came this afternoon from Governor A. J. Pothier, of Rhode Island, to Governor Kitchin, a letter enclosing a copy of the act of the Rhode Island general assembly, passed in January, 1909, directing the governor of the state to accept any and all gifts and requiring the attorney-general and general treasurer of the State to instigate litigation wherever necessary, to realize on the value of such gifts to the state. The letter also contained the information that the demand on the part of the general treasurer for payment was merely a formal courtesy and that the necessary suit to settle the matter of payment of the bonds would be instituted at once by the attorney general.

The act of the Rhode Island assembly is of a general character, as indicated by Governor Pothier, and directs the governor to receive any and all gifts of value in general property, bonds or other forms of representation and requiring treasurer and attorney-general to litigate when necessary to realize on these gifts.

Late today a telegram was received from Rhode Island stating that the lower house of the general assembly had repealed the law making it mandatory upon the state officials to accept gifts from individuals, corporations, or associations and to proceed to collect the same through legal means; if necessary that the upper body would undoubtedly pass a similar measure. Much relief was felt in state house circles at this announcement.

In the meantime, state officials are awaiting the final outcome. It is freely declared that if litigation is persisted in the cause will be fought to a complete finish, and if there should by any chance be an adverse verdict of the court, there is still a great big question about the possibility of any collection being made. In fact, it is said to be generally admitted by legal authorities generally that there is absolutely no machinery by which collection could be forced against the state if the commonwealth is convinced that the bonds should really not be paid and decline to do so.

CONVOCATION OF NEW BERN.

Meets With St. Mary's Church, Kinston, on 19th.

On Wednesday night, Jan. 19th, in St. Mary's church at Kinston, the Convocation of New Bern will convene and continue through Friday night. Among the speakers for this occasion will be Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, Bishop Alfred Harding, of Washington, D. C., Dr. Milton, of St. James, Wilmington; Rev. F. N. Skinner, Rev. B. F. Huske and Rev. J. H. Brown, and several prominent lay speakers.

This convocation embraces several of the counties in this section and a large attendance is expected. The most interesting service will probably be on Friday night, at which time both Bishop Strange and Bishop Harding will speak. One of the main features of the convocation will be the Laymen's Movement, Messrs. G. V. Cowper, of Kinston; H. Harding, of Greenville; William Dunn, of New Bern; and L. V. Morrill, of Snow Hill, being speakers on that work.

LONGFELLOW AGAIN ON TRIAL.

State will ask for Verdict for Higher Crime.

J. S. Longfellow was again placed on trial on the charge of bigamy in the Superior court this morning, and the case had progressed so far by the noon recess that a good part of the argument had been heard. The action of the State came as a sort of surprise to the public, as it was expected Longfellow would be made to face another charge at the term, and this may be the case yet.

Practically the same testimony was offered by the State as that offered at the previous trial, and the defense did not put in any evidence at all. Letters of Longfellow to Miss Bruce Swift were offered, the testimony of Mrs. Swift and that of the proprietor of the hotel at Seven Springs, where Longfellow and Miss Swift were registered as man and wife.

Ex-Governor Aycock opened for prosecution and spoke an hour or more, for the higher offense. His argument indicated that the State would rely upon the law's presumption that the bigamous marriage, if any, took place in this State. Other counsel will speak this evening.—Kinston Free Press.

Big fine white good, all grades and kinds. Colored dress goods, gingham, etc., just arrived. Come and see them. 1 22 eod J. R. & J. G. Moyer.

THE LIBRARY.

There is an institution in Greenville that does not have the support and encouragement it should receive. We have reference to the library that was started a few years ago by the ladies of the End of the Century Book Club. When started the purpose was that it should be purely a public library, but contributions were so meagre that it imposed a considerable tax upon the members of the club to provide books, pay rent and employ some one to keep the library open. To help out this burden the plan was adopted to charge persons 10 cents a month or $1 a year for the privileges of the library, but there are only forty-one persons who are helping by paying this small sum. Would you think this could be true in a town of 5,000 people? It is astonishing that no more interest is taken in an institution from which so much benefit is derived. There is no estimating the good the library is to the community. From time to time the ladies of the club are adding new books to the library, these being procured with their own resources and from money they make in entertainments given for that purpose. Really the people of the community should come up more generously to the help of these good women in carrying on so good a work.

A dispatch from Washington says that Mrs. Taft is quietly leading a movement to discontinue Sunday teas, dinners, lunches and bridge parties and return to the old fashioned family and religious Sunday. She might begin the reform right at home by getting the president to stop using Sunday as a work day. The head of the nation should not set the example of disregarding the Sabbath.

As science has advanced times have certainly changed. It used to be that the existence of a case of smallpox would excite people for miles and miles around and put them to fleeing the country. Now there may be cases right in a neighborhood and no alarm over it. The folks just get vaccinated and go on about their business, those with the disease being put in quarantine.

There are some people who, if they cannot run a thing to suit themselves, want to run it aground. They do not seem to think that other people have ideas of their own and know how to use them.

CHILDREN WHO ARE SICKLY.

Mothers who value their own comfort and the welfare of their children, should never be without a box of Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children, for use throughout the season. They break up colds, cure feverishness, constipation, teething disorders, head ache and stomach troubles. These powders never fail. Sold by all drug stores, 25c. Don't accept any substitute. A trial package free to any mother who will address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

With the majority congress men consuming the time fighting among themselves, there is that much less danger of the country being harmed by their doing something.

Enemies.

Go straight on and don't mind them. If they get in your way walk around regardless of their spite. A man who has no enemies is seldom good for anything; he is made of that kind of material which is so easily worked that every one has a hand in it. A sterling character is one who thinks for himself, and speaks what he thinks, he is always sure to have enemies. They are as necessary to him as fresh air; they keep him alive and active. Live down prejudice by right doing. If you stop to dispute, you do but as they desire, and open the way for more abuse. Let the poor fellows talk, there will be a reaction if you perform but your duty, and the sparks, which you do not blow will go out of themselves, and those once alienated will flock to you and acknowledge their error.—Louisburg Times

It takes a mighty good excuse to keep a witness out of jail when he is summoned and fails to appear in court, Federal court especially, but occasionally a man comes along with one that goes easily. Last night Judge Boyd received a special delivery letter, Opening it he commenced to read—"I am a witness in court, but I am quarantined with the small pox and don't see how I am to come. What shall I do?" At this point Judge Boyd dropped the letter like a hot potato. An excuse of this kind goes.—Greenboro Record.

AN EVENING SPENT

With the most versatile pianists, could not possibly bring you more enjoyment than you yourself could derive from either

The Lindeman
Player Piano,
The Milton,
The Bjure Bros.
Or Lester
Player Pianos,

In fact, with either of these Player Pianos as a companion, you have the advantage of playing the music yourself--the music you best like, and playing it in that rich, full manner, bringing out the delicate beauties of the melody which even many skilled pianists fail to develop, and this, possible with the veriest novice, without your knowing one note from another.

We will take your deaf and dumb piano in exchange.

FARMER'S WIFE HAD HEAP TO DO

Mrs. Shepherd Was in Bad Shape When She Could Not Stand on Her Feet.

Durham, N. C.—"I am a farmer's wife," writes Mrs. J. M. Shepherd, of this city, "and have a heap to do."

"Four months ago I could not stand on my feet, to do anything much, but at this time I do the most of my work. I took Cardui and it did me more good than all the doctors."

"You don't know half how I thank you for the Cardui Home Treatment. I wish that all women who suffer from womanly trouble would treat themselves as I have. Ladies can easily treat themselves at home, with Cardui, the woman's tonic. It is easy to take, and so gentle in its action, that it cannot do anything but good."

Being composed exclusively of vegetable ingredients, Cardui cannot lay up trouble in your system, as mineral drugs often do. Its ingredients having no harsh, medicinal effects, and being non-poisonous and perfectly harmless, Cardui is absolutely safe for young and old.

Ask your druggist. He will tell you to try Cardui.

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Sense of Danger.

Dr. Waldo of London holds that people should develop a sixth sense to inform them of the approach of danger in the streets. Lancelotti Hearne once said: "While in a crowd I seldom look at faces. My intuition is almost infallible, like that blind faculty by which in absolute darkness one becomes aware of the proximity of bulky objects without touching them. If I hesitate to obey it a collision is the inevitable consequence. What pilots one quickly and safely through a thick press is not conscious observation at all, but unreasoning intuitive perception."

A Sight Worth Paying For.

The cab, drawn by a weary looking horse, came to a standstill opposite a public house. As the driver was preparing to descend a small boy ran up with, "Old yer 'orse, guv'nor?" "Old my 'orse? Look 'ere, my lad. Ah'll give yer a bob if it runs away."—Manchester Guardian.

Hangs Wall Paper

Resolved: That you might as well poke your money down a rat hole and expect good results, as to give it to some one who doesn't know any more about paper hanging than a rabbit. When your wall paper pops loose and hangs down in festoons, the fact stares you in the face, that you have made a mistake and wasted your money. Next time you contemplate papering your house talk to Wells Browne. He is headquarters in this line. He is reliable, reasonable in his prices, and ready to make good anything that goes wrong with his work. New goods coming in, up-to-date and a season ahead. Paste this in your hat and next time you want anything in his line, come to Browne's play house on Dickerson Ave., below Five Points, and tell your troubles to him. That little brick triangle building is the place.

A Useful Invention.

Monroe Journal: Capt W. H. Hargis has invented and had patented a "rapid ticket cutter," for the use of railroad ticket agents that will be a valuable time saver and is destined to come into universal use. It is a very simple clip to be fastened on the agent's window. Tickets will be run off a roll, the coupons going in one long strip into a basket, thus saving the agent the work of numbering separately, assorting and gathering up coupons and enables him to do his work at the window in half the time.
