WINTERVILLE ITEMS.

Neway Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C. Jan. 20, 1910. Misses Beulah and Edith Mumford, of Ayden, attended services here last Sunday.

Rev. T. H. King filled his appointment in the Baptist church Sunday morning and night. The house was filled at each service. There were three confessions at the morning service. He preached his farewell sermon Sunday night. His subject was: "Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you"—Second Corinthians 13:11. The sermon was very good, and was highly enjoyed by those present.

There will be services in the Methodist church Sunday morning and night.

The Y. W. C. A., of Winterville High School, met last Friday night, and elected the following officers for the spring term: President, Miss Lillian Baker; vice president, Miss Maggie Lee; secretary and treasurer, Miss Lillie Brewer. This association, so we are informed, has been doing a grand work. With these excellent officers we predict for it even greater achievements this term than ever before.

There will be services next Sunday afternoon in the Episcopal church at 3:30 o'clock.

F. A. Edmundson has been on the sick list for the past day or so, but we are glad to know he is out again.

One of the best temperance lectures, if not the best, that we have ever heard was made in the auditorium of W. H. S., Tuesday night, by Rev. R. L. Davis, superintendent of the Anti Saloon League in North Carolina. He has a good voice, an excellent delivery, and an honest subject; therefore his address was grand. He says that people should be total abstainers because: First, whiskey is injurious to the mind; second, it will hinder a person from getting a good position; third, it will impede one's usefulness; and fourth, it will cause others to lose confidence in him. We were glad to have Mr. Davis with us, and we hope it will be our privilege to hear him again.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 20, 1910. —Bradstreet's Saturday will say for Richmond and vicinity: Trade conditions generally are about as reported last week. In practically all lines, travelers are out with spring and summer samples, and in most instances sales are up to the average in some lines exceeding those of the same period of last year. Tobacco sales are active, following a favorable season and prices for sun-cured wrappers range up to thirty cents per pound. In North Carolina, considerable cotton is reported still in the hands of the planters; high prices continue the feature in the cotton goods industry generally. Naval stores continue firm, crude turpentine ranging from $2.50 to $3.00. An active demand for turpentine of practically all grades is reported. Forwarders and shippers of coal and coke report active sales. Drugs and sundries are active. Produce is quiet and prices are generally high. Pork packers and wholesalers report active sales for the season. Retail trade is quiet. Collections are fair.

ALBEMARLE SOUND BRIDGE

New Schedules of N. & S. Effective Next Monday.

Announcement by the Norfolk and Southern Railway of the opening of the 28,000 foot bridge across the Albemarle Sound on yesterday is probably the most important announcement affecting Raleigh and Eastern North Carolina that has been made since the railroad was built.

Yesterday afternoon the first north and south bound passenger trains passed over the bridge, and it required twenty-eight minutes in each direction. The train which arrived here last night was the first to cross the bridge. The first freight train of thirty-five cars crossed from bank to bank in fifty-three minutes. To transfer the three trains across on the steamer "Garrett" would have required about twelve hours. During the period required by the steamer "Garrett" in the transfer of the three trains, one thousand and eighty cars could have crossed the bridge, one half in each direction. The handling capacity of the road is increased one thousand per cent each day, at no time having over one train on the bridge. The time required between the two States for passenger service will be cut by an hour and a half, and freight service will be improved more than seven hours, in many instances this amounting to a full day's earlier delivery.

Regular service over the great bridge which has attracted the attention of engineers of the world for the past year, and which called for the investigations of the United States government engineers for a long period before the construction of the bridge across the sound was permitted, began on yesterday, and for this week the regular schedules will be in effect. On Monday of next week, however, the new schedule taking advantage of the time saving bridge, will be effective, and Raleigh and Eastern North Carolina will have the closest relationship that ever existed between this city and that section. —Raleigh News & Observer.

ROCHDALE ITEMS.

Rochdale, N. C. Jan. 18.—T. E. Little went to A. J. Flanagan's Tuesday evening and returned Wednesday morning.

Misses Mattie Little and Lou Crawford went to A. J. Flanagan's Tuesday evening to spend a few days.

Mrs. T. E. Robinson was right sick last week but is better at this writing.

Frank P. Pollard, who had been living with C. D. Smith for several years, was visiting in our section Saturday night and Sunday. He moved up near Tugwell about the first of January.

C. E. McLawhorn killed another nice lot of pork Monday.

Wednesday afternoon was the time for the Betterment Association. One of the school boys composed the following:

"As the sun was sinking low,
The Betterment seemed to be progressing slow,
As the hours were passing by;
The one Betterment would occasionally sigh.
At the time of half past three,
The one Betterment had ceased to be,
This Wednesday evening was the Betterment day
So the teacher and the Betterment say,
But we pupils failed to comprehend,
As only one of the Betterments' have been."

FOR BETTER ROADS.

There Will be a Good Road Meeting in Raleigh Jan. 27.

Prof. Joseph Hyde Pratt, state geologist and secretary of the North Carolina good roads association, has called a meeting of the association to be held here January 27, in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

This meeting is called for all those interested in improved roads for North Carolina to discuss what can be done to assist the various counties throughout the State in putting forth still greater efforts for the construction of good roads within their borders. The meeting will also discuss State aid to counties in the construction of good roads. In his call Prof. Pratt says there are various ways in which the State may aid counties in constructing better roads, among them being:

"By appropriation to the counties for the actual construction of the roads.

By giving to the counties engineering assistance in the location and construction of public roads and in building bridges.

By using the state convicts in good road construction.

Of these suggestions, Prof. Pratt thinks the engineering assistance to the counties to be the best. He also recommends the use of State convicts.

All these suggestions will be discussed at the meeting and such action will be taken as is thought will do the most good.

The chairman of the boards of county commissioners will be asked to appoint two delegates to this meeting, and the chambers of commerce and boards of trade will also be asked to appoint a like number, also all interested in the work are invited. —Raleigh Times.

Three Kinston Free Press Items.

Messrs George Garnto and Paul Hemby returned this morning from Boston, where they purchased a full line of shoes for the business Mr. Garnto will open in Greenville about March first.

Miss Estelle Wooten, whose home is in Pitt county, but who has been engaged as a book keeper for a large supply concern at Vanceboro, was brought to this city Tuesday night, for admission into the hospital for treatment.

King Kelly left this morning for Greenville where he goes to make preliminary arrangements for the sale of lots by the Penny Brothers, which will take place Monday, January 24th. The property to be sold is the Higgs property.

Fire at Fountain.

A telephone message from Fountain this morning states that the residence of Mr. Abner Eason came near being destroyed by fire Wednesday night, but owing to the good work of three chemical extinguishers the damage amounted to only two or three hundred dollars. The fire originated in the room of Misses Cox and Outlaw, school teachers who are boarding with Mr. Eason, and it is supposed fire rolled out of the open fire place after the ladies had come down the stairs to spend the evening. A great many of their effects were destroyed and ruined. The fire was discovered about 10 o'clock by the family.

When you have an opportunity to get property in Greenville the wise thing to do is buy it. There is no danger in losing, for Greenville property enhances in value every year.

It is stated by two reliable gentlemen of Greenville that Joe Walston, who was reported lost in a news story published in Wednesday's Reflector, that he was on our streets during Christmas week and again a week or two ago.

The Charlotte auditorium has been saved by the good work of a committee of business men of which Mr. W. F. Harding, son of Maj. H. Harding and a former resident of Greenville, is chairman, who were appointed to raise the necessary $2,000. We offer congratulations to the public spirited gentlemen.

"In a few days the local fish market will be well supplied with roe shad, a delicacy that is much sought by a great many people."

The above item from the New Bern Journal fairly makes our mouth water. What's better than a nice roe shad?

The Charlotte Chronicle says a single sub-postoffice station in that city sold $43,566 84 worth of stamps during the year 1909, which is more than the whole of Durham sold, and which is 60 per cent. of the sales of Greensboro, including its sub-stations. We are watching Charlotte grow, brother.

customs at Newport News, Va., closing his office in honor of Lee's birthday. Heyburn had little enough sense to speak of Lee as a traitor and to object to his statue being placed in Statuary Hall.

The Reflector wants to see Pitt county get deeply interested in the boys' corn clubs and have several in this county enter the contest for prizes. We have the boys, as good a set of them as any county can show, and lands that will produce as much corn per acre as can be found anywhere. Let our farmers wake up to their opportunities, give their boys a corn patch and make them do their best. This will encourage the boys as well as create interest in better crops and improving lands.

A bill is being considered in the South Carolina legislature, and with a prospect of being passed, to impose a license tax of $1 on every one who wants to hunt in the State. That would be a proper beginning for a good work. A practical system of licensing all hunters is needed in the Southern States, and we hope some one will get to work on the formulation of a license bill to present to the next legislature. —Charlotte Chronicle.

SOUVENIR

Set of Majestic Ware . . . FREE

If you will call at our store during our Majestic Demonstration Week and allow us to show you the many advantages and superior qualities of the Great and Grand Majestic Range, and will purchase one at the regular price, we will give you FREE the beautiful and useful Souvenir Set of Ware illustrated in this advertisement. This ware is made to match the quality of the Majestic Ranges, and we know all ladies will see the beauty and utility of this set, especially the first three pieces, which are entirely new and cannot be had alone by purchase, except at a very high price. The prices of Majestic Ranges are the same, but we give the set FREE with each Majestic Range bought during demonstration week only.

REASONS WHY THE GREAT MAJESTIC YOU SHOULD BUY.

- 1st. It has the reputation of being the best range money can buy.
- 2nd. It not only has the reputation, but is the best range made, and we will prove this to you if you will let us.
- 3rd. It is constructed of Malleable iron (material you can't beat) and of Charcoal iron (material that resists rust 300 per cent, greater than steel), is riveted together air tight. No heat escapes or cold air enters range, thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work.
- 4th. The reservoir alone is worth the price of the range over any other reservoir made. It boils 15 gallons of water, is heated like a tea kettle, with pocket against left hand lining, and is moveable, and sets on a frame, hence cannot wear out. When water gets too hot it can be moved away from fire.

MAJESTIC RANGES use less fuel; heat more water--and heat it hotter; costs practically nothing for repairs; last three times as long; bake better; easier to keep clean and give better satisfaction than any other range on the market. If you knew positively that the above statements were true, wouldn't you buy a Majestic at once? Come in during Demonstration Week and we will prove it to you.

A FAMOUS HYMN.

How Ira D. Sankey First Sang "The Ninety and Nine."

The religious faiths of the world have produced many remarkable and beautiful lyrics, such as Newman's "Lead, Kindly Light," the "Nearer, My God, to Thee" of Sarah Flower Adams and Cowper's "God Moves In a Mysterious Way." Many of these were written under peculiarly dramatic circumstances, as was particularly the case with those by Cowper and John Henry Newman.

But, wide as have been their use and their application among Christians of all creeds and sects, there is one hymn that overshadows all others, whether we consider its widespread popularity or its wonderful evangelistic power. This hymn is "The Ninety and Nine," by the late Ira D. Sankey, long the musical associate of Dwight L. Moody. These two men together were the greatest soul winners ever known, and the success of their united work was undoubtedly largely traceable to Mr. Sankey's songs in general and to "The Ninety and Nine" in particular. Its unique origin has often been described, but will bear repetition:

"When leaving Glasgow for Edinburgh with Mr. Moody, Mr. Sankey bought a penny religious paper. Glancing over it as they rode on the cars, his eye fell upon a few verses in the corner of the page. One day they had an unusually impressive meeting in Edinburgh, in which Dr. Bonar had spoken of 'The Good Shepherd.' At the close of the address Mr. Moody beckoned to his partner to sing something appropriate.

"At first he could think of nothing but the Twenty-third Psalm, but that he had sung so often. His second thought was to sing the verses he had found in the paper, but how could it be done when he had no tune for them? Then a thought came—to sing the verses he had found in the paper anyway. He put the verses before him, touched the keys of the organ and sang, not knowing where he was going to come out. He finished the first verse amid profound silence. He took a long breath and wondered if he could sing the second the same way. He tried it and succeeded. After that it was easy to sing it. When he finished the hymn the meeting was all broken down—throats were crying and ministers were sobbing all around him. Hundreds were converted then and there, while in subsequent years other thousands of souls were gathered in through the singing of "The Ninety and Nine."

Clearly the song was the result of a sudden inspiration so far as its musical setting was concerned, and it may be doubted if there was ever a similar case of spontaneous and subsequently successful composition.

"The Ninety and Nine" literally sang its way around the world. The simple paraphrase of the Scripture parable appeals to "all sorts and conditions of men," and the world's hymnology is the richer for that Sunday afternoon inspiration in the Scottish capital which came to Ira D. Sankey.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Hangs Wall Paper

Resolved: That you might as well poke your money down a rat hole and expect good results, as to give it to some one who doesn't know any more about paper hanging than a rabbit. When your wall paper pops loose and hangs down in festoons, the fact stares you in the face, that you have made a mistake and wasted your money. Next time you contemplate papering your house talk to Wells Browne. He is headquarters in this line. He is reliable, reasonable in his prices, and ready to make good anything that goes wrong with his work. New goods coming in, up-to-date and a season ahead. Paste this in your hat and next time you want anything in his line, come to Browne's play house on Dickerson Ave., below Five Points, and tell your troubles to him. That little brick triangle building is the place.

THE JURY DISAGREED.

A Fine Point in Equity That Never Was Decided.

An old time story of the fine points of law and equity which arose in carrying out an amicable contract as told in the Philadelphia Record. There were four brothers who had inherited a storage warehouse from their father. He had divided the property equally among them.

Among the appurtenances was a cat—a fine animal, excellent for mousing. This, too, was divided, the eldest brother owning the right front quarter, the second brother the left front quarter and the younger brothers the two hind quarters.

Now, unfortunately, the cat in one of its nocturnal prowls injured the right front paw, and the eldest brother attended to that portion of his property by bandaging the injured member with a gauzed rag.

The cat, thankful for this relief to its sufferings, went to sleep contentedly before the fire, but in the midst of its slumbers a falling coal ignited the rag, and the animal, howling with agony dashed through the warehouse and, coming in contact with some combustibles, set the building on fire.

When the loss came to be figured out the three younger brothers wished to throw it all upon the eldest on the ground that had he not tied up his part of the cat with the inflammable rag the building would not have been destroyed.

He, on the contrary, contended that had the cat only been possessed of the front right paw—his property—it would have stood still and burned to death. It was the three other paws that caused the damage.

The brothers argued the case until they died, but they never reached an agreement.

What Should She Say?

"I tell you, little wife, you can't imagine how lonesome I am when I am separated from you. You are the best little woman in the world, so different from Drigg's nagging and scolding wife. You know that a man must get ahead in the world and be free to give his business his full attention. My little girl isn't of the suspicious, doubting kind, is she? Why, dearest, this very night I ought to go down to the club. Brown of Brown, Kalibo & Co. is in town. They're among our best customers. Ought to know him socially, hadn't I? But unless you insist, my little sweetheart wife, I won't go. It may mean a loss to the firm, but I'll stay with my precious."

Well, now, what can a woman do?
—Chicago Journal.

Unpleasant to Have Around.

"Are you still engaged to Mr. Briggs?"
"No. I broke it off last week. I was afraid to marry him. He knows too much. I gave him some ribbon to match. He found it in the first store he went to, and he bought it for 2 cents below the regular price."
