A BRILLIANT COMET.

Visible in Western Skies Just After Sunset.

Sunday afternoon about 6:15 o'clock a very brilliant and beautiful comet made its appearance just to the right and below the beautiful evening star, Venus, and was seen by a great many Greenville people. It could be seen only a few minutes as it soon disappeared below the horizon. Its tail had the appearance of a huge searchlight extended far up into the sky and was plainly visible after the comet had passed out of sight. The comet is headed toward the sun and seems to be moving very rapidly. For the past three days press dispatches from all parts of the United States have been reporting this comet as having been seen in the different places, but up until Sunday evening no one here had seen it, owing to the cloudy weather. Perhaps if it is clear this evening just after 6 o'clock you can see it.

The comet above mentioned is not Halley's, about which we have read so much during the past six months, however. It seems to be an alien, one which is puzzling the scientists no little. Only a week ago its discovery was cabled from South Africa to the government observatory in Washington and was seen there Friday. It is expected to be within our view only a few days then pass out, as swiftly and silently as it came, into the spaceless infinite.

Halley's comet may be seen after it attains perihelion, which will be about the middle of April, in the morning skies just before sun rise if it becomes visible to the naked eye.

Mr. W. R. Horne Deed.

It is with much regret that we chronicle the death of Mr. W. R. Horne, which occurred at his home near Farmville about 11 o'clock Sunday night. Mr. Horne had been in poor health for sometime, but no great anxiety was felt over his condition until a few weeks ago, when his trouble became serious and continued to grow worse until relieved by death.

Mr. Horne was about 52 years old and leaves a wife, but no children. He was one of the best men in the county, upright in all his dealings and esteemed by everybody. He was among the most successful farmers of the county, and by his industry and good management accumulated considerable means. His home was ideal and surrounded with every comfort.

Mr. Horne served two terms as a member of the board of county commissioners and was for many years a justice of the peace. His death is a great loss to the county.

The Quickest Route.

The Norfolk & Southern Railway is the shortest, quickest, and most direct line between Raleigh, Wilson, Farmville, Greenville, Washington, and all Eastern North Carolina. Train No. 1, leaving Raleigh 6:15 a. m., daily except Sunday, connects at Wilson with A. C. L. Northbound train No. 34. Save time by using the Norfolk & Southern Railway.

When you have any cleaning and pressing to be done the very best, just call phone 96 and we will do the rest.
Clark & McLemore.

JANUARY SUPERIOR COURT.

These Cases Have Been Disposed of Since Last Report:

G. W. Smith, larceny, not guilty.
James Drake, murder, during trial submits to verdict of manslaughter, which was accepted by the solicitor. Sentenced to six months on the roads.

George W. Parker, who had been convicted of murder in second degree, was sentenced to the penitentiary for thirty years.

Lam Adams and John Adams, convicted of house burning, were sentenced to the penitentiary for 2 years each.

Richard Cox, found guilty of assault with deadly weapon, was fined $10 75 and costs.

John Bill Moore, forcible trespass, pleads guilty, judgment suspended during good behavior on payment of costs.

Davis Dunn, convicted of selling liquor in three cases, was sentenced 6 months on roads.

Norman Gardner, for selling liquor, was fined $25 and costs, and in another case judgment was suspended during good behavior.

Louis Peaden and Irwin Atkinson, assault with deadly weapon, guilty, judgment suspended on payment of costs.

Leone Patrick, nuisance, guilty, judgment suspended during good behavior on payment of costs.

Primus Corey and Isaac Corey, affray. Isaac not guilty, Primus guilty, judgment suspended on payment of all costs in case.

Jim Whitley, selling liquor, not guilty.

The criminal term closed Saturday evening and the civil term began this morning.

Three Serious Accidents.

Fishkill Landing, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Fifteen men, three of them Americans, were killed this afternoon by a premature explosion of glycerine in a tunnel, which is to form part of the great aqueduct which will carry water from the Ashokan dam in the Catskills to New York City.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 22.—Five persons are dead and fifteen were injured, none seriously, as the result of the Big Four night express from Chicago, which left the track two miles west of here this morning while running towards the city at fifty miles an hour.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Jan. 22.—Forty-six people were killed and ninety-two injured today in a wreck on the Canadian Pacific near Webbwood, Ontario. Two cars, the diner and the first-class coach, tumbled off a steel bridge over the Spanish river and broke through ice thirty-five feet below. All occupants of the first-class coach were drowned. Six persons in the diner were drowned. The second class car and the tourist car caught fire and was totally destroyed.

Colored Graded School Wins Premium.
Prof. C. M. Epps, principal of the colored graded school, showed us a check for $5 which has been awarded as a premium for an industrial exhibit made by pupils of the school at the last colored State fair. This is the second premium pupils of this school have won.

AYDEN ITEMS.

News Notes From a Hustling Town Briefly Told

Ayden, N. C., Jan. 22. Rev. T. H. King and son were in town Thursday.

Mr. Geo. Wynn, while in the waiting room—after returning from burying his wife at La-Grange, last Tuesday, at Greensboro, died from heart failure. His wife was Miss Fannie Dixon, sister of our townsmen, J. M. and J. Mc. Dixon.

Ninety days and spring oats at J. R. Smith Co.

B. F. Manning, the famous cotton buyer, was in town Wednesday. He carried in one hand a hunter's knife and in the other a tablet and a brick bat. He said that was a cotton buyer's outfit.

C. H. Mills was the lucky man and got the 42 piece set of china at J. R. Smith Co's store last Thursday. The clock was uncovered promptly at three o'clock and stood at 11:38:31. Mills' time was 11:21:19. There will be a set given away each first and third Thursdays at 3 o'clock. You are given a ticket with each dollar purchase.

Herbert Corbitt, machinist for Ayden Lumber Co., had his hand badly lacerated by coming in contact with a log and chain. His injury is not serious.

Miss Bettie Tripp, of Durham, was here this week attending the funeral of Mrs. Tripp.

R. L. (Dick) Cox showed us a jug Saturday brought from England by William Hancock 160 years ago. We will write the history of this jug later.

Miss Ella Virginia May is visiting her sister, Mrs. Walter Gardner.

Wilson and Gideon Lamb, of Williamston, two clever knights of the grip, were in town this week.

F. A. Woodard, of Wilmington, was in town Thursday.

Prof. E. F. Mumford, of Morganton was in town Tuesday attending the burial of his sister, Mrs Edwin Tripp.

HOPE WELL ITEMS.

Hope Well, N. C., Jan. 21.—Elder Band filled his regular appointment at Hancock's Sunday.

Miss Pearl Baker was visiting Miss Clara Smith Saturday and Sunday.

N. T. Cox and son spent Sunday at Josephus Cox's.

Leona, David and J. R. Cox and Miss Clara Smith attended the baptism service at Winterville Wednesday.

On Friday evening, Jan. 14, Miss Clara Smith gave a tacky party. The crowd assembled about 7:30 and were received in the hall by Miss Lottie Ellis and ushered to the parlor by Miss Mae Stox. Music was rendered by Miss Clara and Mae Stox. Many interesting games were played. At 9:30 the judges were asked to retire and render their decision. They soon came back with the problem solved in favor of Miss Clara Smith being the tacky girl and J. R. Cox the tacky boy. At 10:30 the crowd dispersed to their respective homes. The evening was one of much pleasure and will long be remembered by Miss Smith's host of friends.

I will again open the "Smith House," corner Evans and Second street, and can take boarders, beginning Feb 1st.
21 Mrs. W. R. Smith.

Auction Sale of Higg's Lots.

There was a large crowd attending the auction sale of lots on the Higgs property today. The band that made music for the sale gave a parade about 11 o'clock, ending at the property and the sale started about 11:30 continuing until about 1 o'clock. Some thought the lots brought full value, others that they sold too cheap, there being the usual difference of opinion in such matters. In all 60 or 70 lots were sold. In the drawing for the free lot Mr. Z. T. Broughton held the winning ticket. Mr. Sam Manning and Mr. Noah Lawrence Tripp were the winners of the gold.

Sacred Concert.

A sacred concert will be given in the Jaryis Memorial Methodist church on the evening of Feb. 7th by Prof. Muilberger of the Atlantic Christian College at Wilson, N. C. This concert is given for the benefit of the Ladies Aid Societies of the Christian and Methodist churches. Prof. Muilberger is a master in his work and comes highly recommended. The public is cordially invited to attend and to bring a silver offering.

Making the Choir Sing.

Many conscientious ministers have had trouble with wayward choirs, but not all have had Dr. Samuel West's witty address or management. There had been difficulty with the singers, and they had given out that they should not sing on the next Sunday. This was told to Dr. West. "Well, well, we will see," he said and on Sunday morning gave out his hymn. After reading it he said very emphatically, "You will begin with the second verse: 'Let those refuse to sing Who never knew our God.' The hymn was sung."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL BRIEFS.

The Visitors Here and People Who Travel.

Miss Hennie Whichard is quite sick.

R. J. Cobb went to Norfolk today.

S. C. Wooten returned Sunday evening from Raleigh.

R. W. Randolph and Milton Johnston spent Sunday in Washington.

Miss Jennie Congleton went to Raleigh this morning to have her eyes treated.

Miss Lillian Burch came home from Washington, Sunday evening, to spend a day at home.

Prof. C. W. Wilson conducted the service in Memorial Baptist church Sunday morning. There was no service at night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carper came on today from Williamston and left for Farmville to attend the funeral of Mr. W. R. Horne.

Miss Neva Boyd came in from Kinston Saturday to visit Mrs. N. W. Jackson, and left this morning for her home in Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Moye, Sr., and Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Arnd went to Farmville this morning to attend the funeral of Mr. W. R. Horne, who died Sunday night.

W. W. McLeod, factory representative, is here to conduct the Majestic range demonstration, which began today at the store of Baker & Hart and will continue through the week.

The negro preacher is noted for his enthusiasm and his picturesque, almost poetic, way of expressing things. In "Life In Old Virginia" J. J. McDonald tells about a new colored minister who was conducting a revival without much success. At last, however, he awakened his congregation by asking: "Does yo' know what eternity is? Well, I tell yo'."

"If one of dem li'l' sparrows yo' see roun' yo' garden bushes was to dip his bill in de 'Lantic ocean an' take one hop a day an' hop 'cross de country an' put dat drop of water in de 'Cific ocean an' den he hop back to de 'Lantic ocean, jes' one hop a day, an' if he keep dat hoppin' up twell de 'Lantic ocean wuz dry as a bone it wouldn't be break o' day in eternity."

"Dar, now," said one of the brethren, "yo' see for yo'self how long eternity is."

Uplifting Father.

The men here of late have another fight on their hands, and it is with daughter's music teacher. Men, having low tastes, like ragtime music, buy a piano and hire a teacher, that daughter, in the evening, may make them forget the day's worries with ragtime pounded out with enthusiasm. But daughter isn't allowed to play ragtime. Her teacher, if she is anybody at all, would not let her touch a ragtime sheet, and father has to hear music in which there is a whole lot of hand gymnastics and not a jingle. This is in accord with the plot in which all women are implicated to uplift father in spite of his screams.—Atchison Globe.

Unknown to the Lawyers.

Judge —, one of the great lawyers of the last generation, charged a client a retainer of $1,000 in an important case, but the parties got together next morning and settled the suit before the judge had opened a book or written a line concerning it. His client called to see if he would not refund part of the money. The lawyer seemed surprised at the suggestion. "Refund!" he exclaimed. "Refund, did you say? My friend, that is a kind of fund unknown to the legal profession!"

MOMDAY, JAN. 24, 1910.

North Carolina is now the only state in which the governor does not have the power to veto.

The labor unions all over the United States are boycotting the meat market on account of high prices and are going to try a vegetable diet until a reduction is made.

News comes out from Norfolk that John D. Rockefeller has donated $5,000,000 to advance the cause of prohibition. If the report is true, he is giving his money for a good purpose.

A big professor comes forward and warns the people against boycotting meat by stating that a total vegetable diet will cause us to become a race of molly-coddles in five million years. Just think of it! Horrible.

The fact that there were two convictions under the state law for cruelty to animals, in the criminal court here last week, is evidence that the time is past when people can abuse dumb animals without being liable to prosecution. This law has been enforced too seldom in the past.

The Red Book Magazine, published in Chicago, has been giving for several months a Tenquiz, that is ten questions in each number to be answered by words or sentences contained in advertisements or stories in the same number. This Tenquiz attracted much attention and people from all parts of the country sent answers, showing that the magazine was widely read. The February number announces that the Tenquiz feature will be discontinued for the present, but that sixteen pages of choice matter will be added to the already large magazine.

The tuberculosis congress says the printers' union has a model plan to combat the "great white plague," and that they are doing a great work. The printers' union has a home in Colorado Springs, Col., for its aged and infirm members, which is worth $1,000,000, supported entirely by a membership assessment of one-half of one per cent. of their wages. It is probably the finest institution of its kind in the world. They conduct their campaign against tuberculosis in tent colonies and one of their model tents is an exhibit in the tuberculosis exhibition at Greensboro.

A telephone is an instantaneous messenger, to the grocer, butcher, or any other merchant. Then at leisure moments it becomes a luxury whereby you can call your friends for social club, only five cents a day.

Concerning the Torrens System of registering land titles, which, as The Chronicle has noted will be, probably, provided for South Carolina by its present Legislature. The Progressive Farmer says: The committee appointed by the last North Carolina Legislature to investigate the subject is actively at work and will have an interesting report to make at the next General Assembly. Sooner or later every State in the Union will doubtless adopt this great labor-saving and money-saving system which would be of special benefit to farmers in that it would make their real estate as useful commercially as the city man's stocks and bonds." The first thing the next Legislature should do on being organized for work, would be to pass the Torrens title law and have it in operation throughout the State even before the Legislature adjourns.—Charlotte Chronicle

THE SKIPPER'S WHITE LIE.

What Happened at Night and What the Passenger Was Told.

It was a dirty night, to use a sailor's phrase, and the talk in one corner of the smoking room drifted to events at sea and the childlike faith that passengers repose in navigators.

Said the scientist who had been collecting specimens on a coral reef:

"I've often heard men and women say they felt so safe with Captain So-and-so, and I've wondered, too, whether their sense of security would still be retained if these favored travelers knew exactly what happened on shipboard during a voyage. For my own part, I have more confidence than ever in a captain of my acquaintance since I learned that he could tell a white lie when it was necessary to calm the fears of a nervous traveler. It so happened that one foggy night I was awakened by the sudden stoppage and reversal of the engines. I jumped out of my bunk, went on deck and was told by the second officer that we had had a narrow squeeze. It appeared that we had nearly run down a schooner as she silently crossed our bows and disappeared into the haze.

"Next morning a woman passenger who sat at the captain's table asked him whether the engines had been stopped and reversed, and he replied: 'Yes; we sometimes do this to test the engineer's watch and see if our machinery is in proper order. We do it at night so as to create no excitement.' Then he got the woman to describe what she had heard and asked her: 'Did you find much time between the stopping and reversing?'

"No," she replied.

"Then," said the skipper, 'that showed how well everything was working, did it not?'

"When I got the skipper's ear I told him confidentially that I didn't think the schooner's engines had worked as well as ours, and he remarked that it might have been worse. Whether he meant the lie or the incident I didn't inquire, but I suspect it wasn't the lie."—New York Post.

WATCH SPRINGS.

Not Surprising They Break Considering the Work They Do.

The mainspring of a watch does not unwind at a uniform rate, but intermittently. It is subjected to a sudden jerk at every tick--four times per second for my watch. This makes 345,600 times per day and over 120,000,000 times per year. This operating condition is analogous to others discussed in Kent's "Mechanical Pocketbook" under the heads of "Relation of the Elastic Limit of Endurance Under Repeated Stresses" and "Resistance of Metals to Repeated Shocks." Among other things it says:

"Another long known result of experience is the fact that rupture may be caused by a succession of shocks or impacts none of which alone would be sufficient to cause it. Iron axles, the piston rods of steam hammers and other pieces of metal subject to continuously repeated shocks invariably break after a certain length of service. They have a 'life' which is limited."

Wohler found in testing iron by repeated stresses (not impacts) that in one case 400,000 applications of a stress of 500 centners to the square inch caused a rupture, while a similar bar remained sound after 48,000,000 applications of a stress of 300 centners to the square inch. One centner equals 110.2 pounds. The mainspring of a watch is not only under a considerable tensile stress, but also under a bending stress when suddenly released, then immediately stopped by the escapement mechanism. It is then probable that its molecular cohesive power deteriorates in a manner similar to those quoted.--Scientific American.

Von Bulow of Gentle Nature. When first Von Bulow was introduced to me I almost avoided him on account of the many stories of his irascibility, his erratic disposition, his offhand treatment of the public, his brutality toward musicians and many other crimes of this sort. On closer acquaintance with the great pianist I experienced some astonishment to find him a man of strong mind, yet gentle nature, enthusiastic, artistic to the finger tips and well bred, though of an exceedingly nervous temperament. Irascible he might have been at times, but I am sure that the moments of ungovernable anger were always provoked by people's stupidity or by some unpardonable mistakes in musical execution.--From "Modjeska's Memoirs" in Century.

The Text. The minister had preached on the text, "Why halt ye between two opinions?" and upon little Cora's return home from church her grandmother asked what the text was. "I don't remember exactly," answered Cora, "but it was something about a hawk between two pigeons."--Chicago News.

Her Wonderful Feat.

A man was brought up on the charge of beating his wife and biting off a portion of her ear. However, the woman, good natured soul, was anxious to screen her husband and if possible obtain his acquittal, as appears from her evidence.

Magistrate--Your husband has been treating you very badly, eh?

Witness--Oh, no, your worship!

Magistrate--No! Why, did he not bite off a piece of your ear?

Witness--No, your worship. I did it myself!--London Answers.

AN EVENING SPENT

With the most versatile pianists, could not possibly bring you more enjoyment than you, yourself could derive from either

The Lindeman

Player Piano,

The Milton,

The Bjure Bros.

Or Lester

Player Pianos,

In fact, with either of these Player Pianos as a companion, you have the advantage of playing the music yourself--the music you best like, and playing it in that rich, full manner, bringing out the delicate beauties of the melody which even many skilled pianists fail to develop, and this, possible with the veriest novice, without your knowing one note from another.

We will take your deaf and dumb piano in exchange.

Announcement

Sham Wisdom.
The Sophists were a body of teachers in ancient Athens during the fourth and fifth centuries B. C. who gave instruction in any or all the higher branches of learning. Although they were not a philosophic sect and held no doctrines in common, the Sophists were nevertheless skeptics and maintained a belief of uncertainty of all particular knowledge and, in fact, in the impossibility of all truth. Their two leading representatives were Protagoras and Gorgias. The Sophists were charged with bringing reasoning into contempt by casting uncertainty over the most obvious truths and in consequence were ridiculed and denounced by Aristophanes, Socrates and Plato. Aristotle defined a Sophist as "a man who makes money by sham wisdom."

A Remarkable Banquet Party.
One of the most notorious Hungarian duelists fought his thirty-fifth duel in 1886 and celebrated the event by a banquet, to which only those who could prove that they had participated in at least six duels were invited. There was a room full of such warriors, some with faces seamed with scars, others minus an ear, an eye or with two or three fingers missing. The most marked of all was a Frenchman who had lost his nose in an encounter with Count Andrassy, the statesman. There was only one relaxation of the rule, and that was made in favor of a lady who had killed her man.

Protecting Himself.
"Prisoner at the bar," said the portly, pompous and florid magistrate, according to the London News, "you are charged with stealing a pig, a very serious offense in this district. There has been a great deal of pig stealing, and I shall make an example of you or none of us will be safe."

Builds up waste tissue, promotes appetite, improves digestion, induces refreshing sleep, giving renewed strength and health. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Just what you need now.

Land Sale.
By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt county, made on the 24th day of January, 1910, in a special proceeding therein pending, numbered as case 156 entitled C. G. Little, administrator of W. D. Moore, deceased, versus E. R. Moore et al.
I will, on Thursday, February 24th 1910 before the court house door in Greenville, sell at public sale to the highest bidder a certain tract or parcel of land in Carolina township, Pitt county, adjoining the lands of Eli Little, J. F. Tyson, G. M. Moore and A. M. Whitehurst, containing 22 1/2 acres, more or less. It being lot No. 2 in the division of the lands of John A. Moore, deceased. Terms of sale cash.
This the 24th day of January 1910.
