GREENVILLE'S IMPORTANT NEEDS

And Some Suggestions as to How to Supply Them.

Greenville needs many things, but at present she is in urgent and immediate need of an up-to-date courthouse, that is commensurate with the progress, wealth and intelligence of the best county in the State. A county that can boast of more than a dozen prosperous towns. A wealth of agricultural lands, that is second in fertility and productiveness to none in the State, or even in the South, owned and operated by a people of a wholesome, intelligent and progressive vitality strictly American, who love their homes, and who are proud enough of themselves and their place of birth to make it the educational Mecca of the East, and who are ambitious to turn over to succeeding generations a county that is not only the vanguard of moral, educational industrial and agricultural progress, but teaming as well with undertakings and plans out of which will evolve the durable and satisfactory things of life.

Greenville is the capital of this land, the hub of its progress but because of the recent fire, we are without necessities which must be immediately replaced. In order to accomplish this, we will have to get together and devise ways and means to supply immediate needs and in addition, lay a strong foundation for the acquirement of other needs that though not so immediately pressing are nevertheless just as essential, hence the suggestion:

A MASS MEETING IN ONE OF THE WAREHOUSES ON A DATE THAT CONDITIONS WILL DETERMINE

The audience to be procured by requesting all business houses and offices to close; by personal work of individuals; of the Chamber of Commerce; of the Tobacco Board of Trade; of the Carolina Club; of the Women's Clubs; of all the fraternal orders, and of public spirited citizens.

A committee of arrangements, and a finance committee to be secured by committees from the organizations above mentioned, viz: Chamber of Commerce, Tobacco Board of Trade, Carolina Club, Women's End of the Century Book Club, Civic League, San-Souci Club and fraternal orders. The duties of the committee will be arranging all details necessary to the completion of a programme of them as meeting and to raise necessary funds. Submit this plan to all of the above organizations, with the request that they call a meeting for the adoption of same, and that they appoint their committee's and representatives.

PROGRAMME

The following topics for discussion are suggested:

Greenville's need of an opera house, and a Chamber of Commerce that is active, by Chamber of Commerce representatives.

Greenville's need of an opera house and other things, by Tobacco Board of Trade representatives.

Greenville's need of an opera house and a library building, by End of Century Book Club representatives.

Greenville's need of an opera house and sanitary improvement, by Civic League representative.

Greenville's need of an opera house and club-room; and the wisdom of merging the Carolina Club and the Chamber of Commerce into an organization that will support a business men's club, one that will take an active interest in promoting Greenville's

IN MEMORIAM

At a meeting of the Mothers' Club, Winterville, N. C., March 3rd, 1910, the following resolutions were adopted:

Inasmuch as God in His wisdom has removed to a higher life our beloved friend and ardent co-worker, M. Louisa Cox, we bow with humble submission to His will "Who doeth all things well" and be it resolved,

First, That in the death of Mrs. Cox, The Mothers' Club has lost one of its most valued members.

Second, That we extend to her relatives our deepest sympathy in the hour of bereavement, praying that her example of Christian life may inspire us with renewed zeal in the Master's cause, until we are called upon to follow her to the happy home beyond.

Third, That a page of our secretary's book of minutes be dedicated to her memory and these resolutions be inscribed thereon.

Fourth, That a copy of these resolutions be sent the relatives with whom she lived, and that they be published in The Reflector.

How can we accomplish our needs, by citizen.

An enthusiastic speech, by celebrity from a distance.

The foregoing is a suggested outline for a plan to get Greenville busy in doing something to supply the needs of the town. Now, good people, get busy, and let's have such a mass meeting and make things move.

There was a boat on a wagon going through the street this morning.

THOUGHT HE WAS BURGLAR

Strange Man Found Drunk on Couch in Dining Room.

Washington, N. C., Mar. 27 — Quite a little sensation was created in this city early this morning when a message was turned in to police headquarters about six o'clock by Mr. J. Havens, a prominent and wealthy manufacturer, stating that an unknown white man had been found in his dining room in a drunken and disorderly condition. It seems that Mr. Havens, hearing a suspicious noise in the house, went down to investigate and found the man lying on a couch in a drunken stupor. Upon ordering him to leave the man refused and from what can be learned, advanced on Mr. Havens, who is lame, in a threatening attitude. Mr. Havens knocked him down twice and succeeded in getting him to the door and ordered him to leave the premises. After getting him one of the house Mr. Havens called to his night watchman to follow the man, which he did, trailing him to and seeing him enter a residence on Fourth street.

When the call was received at police headquarters the night police was on another call and Chief Police Fowler was communicated with at his residence. He went immediately to investigate the affair.

In the meantime Night Police John Harris had returned and accompanied by the chief went to the house designated by the night watchman, where they found a young man about 26 years old asleep in a room, fully dressed with his clothes disordered and bloody. The man being questioned denied any knowledge of being at Mr. Havens'. He gave his name as Chas. Johnson, but was identified by Policeman Harris as George Foreman of this city. A warrant having been sworn out by chief Fowler charging him with forcible trespass he was taken to the station and locked up. He will be given a preliminary trial in the mayor's court at ten o'clock Monday morning. The man was supposed to have entered the house during the early morning for some unknown object. Nothing has been missed so far.

Easter Sunday.

A more beautiful day than Easter Sunday could hardly be imagined. The weather was ideal, just such as to make people get out and enjoy it, and the churches had large congregations. The choir of the Episcopal church under the direction of Prof. H. E. Austin had special music that was excellently rendered at the morning service. No evening service was held in this church. The choir of the Methodist church under the direction of Miss Olive Gaston, gave delightful music at both morning and evening services. A solo, "The Resurrection" by Miss Gaston at the evening service was especially enjoyed.

Dr. Hyatt Coming.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be in Greenville, at Hotel Bertha, on Friday, April 1st, for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye and fitting glasses. He will also make his regular monthly visit to Greenville on Monday and Tuesday, April 4th and 5th. 3 16 12:d 2w

THREE AFTER THE SAME GIRL.

And the Question is Which One Will Get Her?

Recently Register of Deeds Moore issued a marriage license for a certain couple in this county. That license has not been returned to indicate that the marriage had taken place. Last week another license was applied for and issued for another young man and the young lady whose name appeared in the previous license. Neither has this second license been returned, and today there was a third application from still another young man for a license to wed the same lady. This makes three licenses in the hands of three different men all wanting to marry the same woman, and the question is which one of them will get her. Evidently two of the young men are going to get left.

And running all through this sparkling book is the prettiest love story you ever read. The New York Sunday World is going to give this story free in 20,000-word instalments during the next five weeks. It begins next Sunday, April 3. Get in line, Edition limited. MONDAY, MAR. 28, 1910.

April fool comes next.

The Easter hat has shown itself, and the bill night mare is next in order.

Yes, sir, the women themselves were the prettiest part of the Easter show.

No one has room to complain of the weather March has given us, even if it should do its worse between now and the end of the month.

You folks who are going to beautify the little park strips between the concrete sidewalks and the streets should be getting busy.

We know one man who said he stayed in bed all day Easter Sunday because he had nothing to wear. Poor fellow! We hope he enjoyed his nap.

The Republicans decided to hold their convention in Shelby, and Greensboro got left again. Too bad. The "Gate City" should call out its rabbit foot.

Those towns that are doing so much guess work and claiming about population will not have long to wait for the census enumerators. Then the usual explanations will be in order.

Raleigh got right down after those spoiled meat sellers Swift & Co., the packers who shipped the meat, were fined $500, and their local agent was fined $50. The defendants appealed.

Mount Etna has been in eruption again, filling with terror the people of the adjacent territory. Why people will make their homes under the shadow of such danger, when there is plenty of safe room elsewhere, is hard to understand.

The Wilmington Dispatch seems bent on getting somebody in a stew. Just listen at what it says:

"We don't know that the beef trust magnates should be burned at the stake," but they should certainly be roasted."

Jim Roberson, of the Durham Sun, don't know what's good for him. He misquoted us the other day by saying we were going to retaliate by showing that kodak bathing picture, when we particularly said we were not going to retaliate. We don't want to put Jim out of commission, even if he is a sand fiddler. Here's the way he comes back at us:

"Now, Dave, if it will afford the 'boys' some amusement, and show them what real fun was among the press boys in the 70's, we want you to have that picture engraved. They will see you in the chase, in your little suit, but you will hardly get the hole we made in the water. Anyway, on to Wrightsville. Bring your little suit along with you, and we'll give a demonstration. As a sand fiddler we'll help to make you dance on the sand."

We hope to be there with the 'goods.'

For the benefit of those people who are inclined to be sensitive about their age and apprehensive lest such information of matters connected with their private business affairs might get out through the taking of the census, it may be stated that the information secured by census enumerators has to be kept as strictly confidential and the law governing the census provides that any enumerator divulging such information except to the proper authorities can be punished with a fine of $1,000, imprisonment for two years, or both. It would seem from this that the ladies are absolutely safe on the age proposition, to say the least of it.—Winston Sentinel.

Senator Thomas E. Burton, of Ohio, said recently, in stating his views as to the way the "ideal newspaper" should be run: "I would like to see a paper published with every trace of sensationalism eliminated, the news published just as it is, uncolored and based upon the truth—tell the truth no matter who is hit." Now, that would certainly be at least a novelty for a day or two. But the editor would very probably get his spinal column double leaded the very first issue.—NewBern Sun.

I was feeling miserable when I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. Salvage Fire Extinguisher
Fire Department statistics show that some eighty per cent. of all fires are extinguished by chemical apparatus.
Nearly all fires are discovered at the start and are readily put out if means are at once available.
A stream is thrown to a distance of about fifty feet, carrying a large amount of carbonic acid gas, which excludes the oxygen and prevents combustion.
A fire cannot live if a small per cent. of carbonic acid gas is in the air.
It is forty times as efficient as water and will extinguish fires of oil, naphtha, gasoline, etc., which water only spreads.

HE TOOK THE CAKE.

A Story of William Black, the Novelist, and Mary Anderson.

One time when Mary Anderson was playing in "The Winter's Tale" in Dublin, William Black, the novelist, who was very intimate with Miss Anderson and her family, insisted upon assuming the part of one of the supers, who was dressed as a very old man with a venerable beard and locks that fell upon his shoulders. When Black went upon the stage in this disguise he walked about among his fellow supers with unceasing restlessness and, judging by the wild motions of his arms, seemed to be addressing to each in turn an impassioned harangue. The audience began to wonder who the new actor was and what on earth he was doing in a play in which neither Shakespeare nor the stage managers ever intended him to appear.

Presently came the time when it was the business of Perdita to distribute flowers among the peasants, among whom Black had his place. Miss Anderson, carrying on the practical jokes of the family circle, had prepared a surprise for this moment, and, having distributed flowers among the less favored supers, she handed to Black a large cake crowned with a wreath of laurel, saying as she did so, "You take it," in allusion to his triumphs in the contest of wits at the supper table.

To her consternation, Black showed that he was quite prepared to carry out the jest, for, taking the cake from the hands of Perdita, he immediately distributed it in substantial portions to his hungry fellow supers, who, finding it to be of excellent quality, began to munch it greedily under the eyes of the house.—Exchange.

Elephants' Love For Finery.

Strange as it may seem, the elephant is passionately fond of finery and delights to see himself decked out with gorgeous trappings. The native princes of India are very particular in choosing their state elephants and will give fabulous sums for an animal that exactly meets the somewhat fanciful standards they have erected. For these they have made cloths of silk so heavily embroidered with gold that two men are hardly able to lift them.—Pearson's Weekly.

Introducing Himself.

Scottish country people call a corpse "the body," solemnly lengthening the word into "bo-ody." This mode of expression is due to religious feeling. The object lying dead is no longer to them their relative or friend. He or she is elsewhere, leaving behind merely his or her husk or shell. A somewhat ludicrous illustration of this use of the word occurred some time ago before the sheriff of a northern county, says a Scottish journal. He, with the procurator fiscal and the medical officer of the county, was engaged in a country village investigating the circumstances affecting the death of a person found drowned. The corpse was in the room, and there was considerable difficulty in preventing the neighbors and friends of the deceased from crowding in upon them. One man in particular presented himself with so earnest and confident an air that the sheriff thought he might have something to tell. "Well, my man," he said, "why have you come here?" "Please, your honor," the man gravely replied, "I'm the body's brither."

Poor Consolation.

A COLONIAL HUSTLER.

Colonel Samuel Sloper Was a Jack of All Trades.

It is necessary that the pioneer be a man of infinite resource, who can do for himself or his neighbors every necessary task. Such a man was Colonel Samuel Sloper, one of the early settlers of Blandford, Mass., whose astonishing versatility is recorded by S. G. Wood in "Taverns and Turpikes of Blandford."

Colonel Sloper, among other things, kept something of a stable and pastured horses and stock. For the magnificent reward of 8 shillings the old veteran in 1789 moved the family of David Knox by means of "teame and boy." Now and then he turned his hand to odd jobs. He carted and laid out John Waldo Wood's flax one season for £7 10s.

He seems to have made shoes and garments for his family and for his neighbors. For Enos Loomis' young son, who was bound out to him, he did on this wise: "Capping your son's shoes, 1-3." "One bottle-green coat trimmed and made for Moses, 7 shillings." He made several shirts and a frock for the Martin Leonard company.

The number of things which this veteran and "dabster" did make an astonishing list. He was surgeon in ordinary to the parish of Blandford and this long before he had accumulated an army experience. Veterinary, too, he was. His journals are peppered over with charges for the treatment of young horses. In the account of Eliphalet Thompson in the year 1772, along with a "frying Pan" and "Pr Sizers," is the charge, "To Setting your boys rist, twelve shillings." James Sinnett in 1785 became indebted to "Setting your knee and Dressings" and to "Sundri Dressings," 4 and 8 shillings respectively.

Beware so long as you live of judging people by appearances.—La Fontaine.
