GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 15, 1910.

NUMBER 5801

THE CIVIC LEAGUE.

Ladies Doing Active Work Toward Beautifying Greenville.

The Civic League met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. A. Person. It was much regretted that Mr. Will Ricks, the president, was absent on account of sickness. Mrs. Ed Higgs, first vice president, occupied the chair.

Reports were heard from different committees, and they were most encouraging.

One lady on the wire screen and loose paper committee reported every man interviewed in her territory as saying that he always burned all waste paper, that none ever blew out from his premises. "Where then," she asked "can all this paper come from?" "Why," he replied "it comes from _____." We have kindly forgotten (?) the names.

The presence of Mrs. K. R. Beckwith was indeed an inspiration. Her suggestions and wise counsel along some lines upon which we are now turning our attention was most heartily appreciated. We welcome her to our ranks.

We were also glad to place four other names on our roll, and we trust these ladies will not fail to attend the called meeting at Mrs. O. L. Joyner's Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, due notice of which will be mailed.

An excellent article on "The Selection and Care of Refrigerators" was read by the secretary. Some things therein stated made us all "sit up and take notice". The following letter from Mayor Wadbee was read, and warmest thanks for same expressed by everyone present.

Reporter.
Greenville, N. C., April 13, 1910.
Mrs. T. A. Person,
Secretary Civic League,
Greenville, N. C.

My dear Madam:
I beg to inform you that at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen held on the night of the 12th inst., the communication of your league, "The Transmission of Disease by Flies," was brought to the attention of the board together with the letter addressed to the board by you as secretary of the Civic League.

The board of aldermen directed me to say in reply to your letter that the market committee has full power and authority to put in all necessary screens in the market and make it in every way a modern, sanitary and up-to-date market. Mr. E. B. Higgs, chairman of the market committee, informs me that it is the purpose of this committee, when the building is completed, to screen it as indicated in your letter.

In respect to that portion of your communication asking that a clean up day be appointed, the board has appointed a clean up week, beginning on Monday, April 18th, and continuing that whole week except when the horses and men are needed for cleaning the paved streets. The chief of police is directed to give notice in The Daily Reflector of the days that the town horses and wagons would be in certain portions of the town in order that all of the occupants of the lots may have the rubbish, etc., placed upon the streets for removal by the town carts.

The board will always be glad to co-operate with your league in any way possible to clean up and keep clean any and all portions of our town.

Yours truly,
H. W. Wadbee, Mayor.

ALBEMARLE PRESBYTERY.

Holding an Interesting Session in Washington.

Washington, April 14—The second day of the Albemarle Presbytery's business session was held today and a large amount of business transacted. The moderator, Rev. R. C. Deal, is a rapid dispatcher of business, and practically all of the remaining business to come, before the body was completed today, thereby finishing in two days what was expected to take fully three days' of work.

The reports of the various committees, embracing the different phases of work in home and foreign mission fields, church and Sunday school work, church societies, etc., were read and accepted. A sermon on family religion was preached by Rev. George Thomas, of Oxford. His address was able and much enjoyed by the entire body. The treasurer's report showing a good financial condition was received and adopted. The statistical report for the entire presbytery showed that the churches supplied are making satisfactory progress and those not supplied will be filled in the near future.

Rev. R. F. Kirkpatrick, field representative of Union Theological Seminary, of Richmond, addressed the presbytery on behalf of this institution, which is under the care of the synods of North Carolina and Virginia. The presbytery promised its loyal support for said institution.

The special committee on endowment for Davidson College reported that of the two hundred and fifty thousand dollars required only for thousand dollars remained to be raised, and hoped that this would be completed by June. This practically completed the business of this session of the presbytery, a few details of minor importance being postponed until an adjourned meeting to be held in Wilson, May 13th.

The presbytery closed with a public meeting in the interest of foreign missions tonight, at which time the moderator, Rev. R. C. Deal, preached a strong sermon.

Special Train From Wilson.

The Norfolk & Southern Railway will run a special train from Wilson to Washington on next Tuesday night after the performance of "The Land of Nod" in Wilson. People from this section can go up on the regular train, passing Greenville at 6 20 p. m. and return on the special train. The fare for the round trip from Greenville will be only 75 cents, instead of $1 as previously published.

Improving.

The many friends of Mr. E. B. Moore will be pleased to learn that he is on the road towards recovery. He is now able to sit in a chair and be rolled to the front porch. It is to be hoped he will soon be able to resume his business duties. Mr. Moore is one of Washington's most popular citizens.—Washington News.

Applications Continue Coming.

It speaks well for the interest in Carolina Club by the way applications for membership are coming in. Only recently several members were elected, and a special meeting of the club has been called for Wednesday night, 20th, to vote on several other applications.

PACTOLUS ITEMS.

Pactolus, N. C. April, 14—R. R. Fleming went to Norfolk to attend the North Carolina Pine Association.

There has been a large fire in Fea Branch woods, which burned over two thousand acres of ground. It burned trees, fences and sometimes threatened people's houses. Mr. Lam Rose, while out to the fire Sunday morning, saw a rattle snake cross the road which he said was as big as a three-year-old baby, being about twelve yards long, and had seventy five rattles. He made out to count the rattles but fled in great terror. How is that for snakes?

Pactolus has organized a baseball team. It has not played any this season but will be ready by the twenty third. Look out Greenville, Grimesland and Washington.

Jim Satterthwaite has been confined to his room on account of chills. He is very much better now and we hope he will be well soon.

W. S. Williams and Fate Whichard while going to Greenville Wednesday, were left in the buggy, by the perch pole breaking, causing the horse to get away and running about eight hundred yards.

The State Flag.

Tuesday was a State holiday, made so in commemoration of the declaration by the North Carolina Congress on April 12, 1776, of independence of Great Britain. Because of that event the State flag bears the date "April 12, 1776," as well as the date of the Mecklenburg Declaration. What percentage of the people of North Carolina know that the flag contains this legend, and how many who are aware of the reason? If the number were known, it would cause surprise because of its smallness. One cause is the infrequency with which the State flag is displayed to the public. It is seldom seen except on extraordinary occasions and then not nearly to the extent that it should be. Tuesday there should have been one floating above every public building in the State. Especially should the flags have been seen over public school buildings. There is a State law requiring the flying of the flag over certain buildings on specified occasions, but it is woefully neglected.—Charlotte Observer.

Take Shares.

Look on fourth page and you will find an interesting advertisement of The Home Building & Loan Association. Better still, call at the secretary's office and put your name down for some shares in the ninth series soon to open.

River Rising.

There must have been more rain further up the country than here the last few days, as there has been a rise of several feet in the river. It has broken up the hook and line-fishers for the time being.

Services in Presbyterian Church.

Rev. R. C. Deal, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will conduct services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

Announcement.

The ninth series of shares in the Home Building & Loan Association, bearing date of May the 7th, 1910, are now on sale. 57

STATE NEWS.

Newly Items of Interest Condensed for Busy Readers.

Wilmington, April 14.—It was learned here today on good authority that the Crocker Wood Pulp and Paper Company, incorporated in New Jersey this month, has secured a site near this city and propose erecting within the year a wood pulp and paper mill of large capacity.

Wake Forest, April 14.—Fire tonight completely destroyed the planing mill of Mr. Moses Fort. The loss is estimated at between $4,000 and 5,000, and there was no insurance. The fire was supposed to have started from a spark from the engine, which caught the shavings.

Raleigh, April 14.—A statement from the state department of education on the status of North Carolina educational loan fund, set aside by the legislature for loans to school districts through the counties, more especially for improving school-houses, shows that the fund has grown since 1903 from $200,000 to about $425,000. The first loans by the state board of education, which must approve all loans, were in August, 1903, and aggregated $29,691. Since that time loans have been made in 89 counties, aggregating $523,280.50.

The Right to Order Dogs Muzzled.

The State Supreme court has handed down the following decision in the case of State vs. Clifton, from Robeson county:

"I, indictment and conviction for unlawfully, willfully and wantonly torturing, wounding and killing a dog. Evidence was offered that the dog was running at large and that there was a town ordinance in Lumber Bridge requiring dogs to be muzzled and requiring police officers to kill all dogs running at large. Defendant was a police officer. Held that towns have the right to pass such an ordinance, requiring dogs to be muzzled and requiring police officers to kill any dogs running at large, and that it was error for the trial judge to refuse to give special instruction requested by the defendant, that if there was such an ordinance in force and the dog was killed in obedience to it, the defendant was not guilty. A police officer who in good faith kills a dog under color of a municipal ordinance cannot be said to do so willfully within the meaning of the statute upon which this indictment is based."

Judge Guion to Resign.

Another approaching resignation among the judiciary of the State was learned of yesterday, and while the information concerning this does not come from official sources yet it is on absolutely reliable authority.

The resignation is that of Judge Owen H. Guion, of New Bern, the resident judge of the third judicial district, composed of the counties of Pitt, Craven, Greene, Carteret, Jones and Pamlico. The date at which the resignation is to become effective is not known, but after it Judge Guion will resume the practice of law in New Bern. As yet there has come no reports as to attorneys of the district who will become candidates to succeed him.—Raleigh News and Observer.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Red Men meet tonight.

April has been cut in half.

The census taker is looking for you.

The cleaning up will start Monday.

Since the rain farmers have been busy setting out tobacco plants.

The best sign is one hung in The Reflector, for there everybody sees it.

Not long before time to be talking town election and candidates for aldermen.

Another crowd from here will go down to Ayden tonight to take in the carnival.

Some of the gardeners are racing to see which can make the first show of vegetables.

E. H. Shelburn is getting material together to replace his building that was burned in the late fire.

Come on with your orders for job printing to The Reflector Printing House when you want nice work. That is the kind we are doing.

Some tickets for "The Land of Nod" in Wilson, Tuesday night, have been sent here to C. R. Townsend. If you want a seat reserved see him.

Furniture Dealer Assigns.

J. H. Savage, who has been carrying on an installment furniture business in one of the stores in the Proctor building, has made an assignment, F. C. Harding being named assignee. The assets are reported at about $600 with liabilities about $1,400.

Our Greenville, yours if you come.

Wonder if the census enumerator will find all of "Uncle Sam's" children at home.

Next week may not be the biggest Greenville has ever had, but it promises to be the cleanest.

Citizens of Germantown, Tenn., hung Governor Patterson in effigy because he pardoned Cooper.

When New York's one million boycotters stop eating meat the Gotham butchers may be troubled to find customers.

A Statesville negro stole a lot of corn and cotton seed, and then went back and tried to sell it to the very people from whom he had stolen it. Got nabbed, of course.

They may tell all the yarns they please about the ferocity of the rabbit, but they are not going to frighten the boys from chasing him at every opportunity or setting boxes to catch him.

The thief who went in the Carolina Dental Depot at Charlotte and stole about a thousand dollars worth of teeth, must have thought he was going to find grub enough somewhere to do a lot of extra chewing.

Kinston aldermen were about to pass an ordinance prohibiting the playing of baseball within the corporate limits, but Judge O. H. Allen put in a plea in behalf of the boys. It goes without saying that from henceforth the judge is solid with the boys for anything he might want.

If you want to see Greenville have more population, something must be done to give employment to those who want to come here. The Reflector has tried to impress the fact that the great need of this town is factories, and there will not be any considerable early growth in population or business until factories are built.

The action of Governor Patterson, of Tennessee, in pardoning Col. D. B. Cooper immediately on the decision of the Supreme court sustaining the lower court in convicting him of the murder of Senator Carmack and imposing a sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary, was a disgrace to the South. This was an instance in which the courts did their duty only to see it set aside by the pardoning power in the hands of a governor.

"Every man should have a health certificate before contracting a marriage alliance," said Dr. Sara T. Mayo, of New Orleans, in addressing the State Federation of Woman's Clubs in that city a few days ago, and this statement, we are informed, apparently met the unanimous commendation of the clubwomen. Perhaps the doctor was too modest to say it to the ladies, but if the matter of a health certificate is to figure in the marriage contract—and we're not saying the idea isn't a sound one—why not have it apply to both parties to the contract? It is certainly as important that the wife should be sound physically as for the husband to be sound.—Statesville Landmark.

Inviting a Deluge.

"One of these fine days," admonishes The Salisbury Post, "legislation will be enacted in this State, unless the railroads exercise common sense and give simple justice in the matter of freight rates, beside which a 21 cent passenger rate will be as a zephyr compared to a cyclone and if any hardship is worked the railroads will have only themselves to blame." The patience with which the people of North Carolina have endured this oppression is almost as wonderful as the extent of the oppression itself. They have long asked for a redress of grievances, but have always been met with refusal or evasion. It is, as The Post says, only a short time until they will take up a club. Every one who desires good relations between the public and public service corporations will feel great regret, but will recognize that the blood of the railroads, if shed, will be solely upon their own heads.—Charlotte Observer.

CATARRH

Quickly Cured by a Pleasant Germ-Killing Antiseptic.

The little Hyomei (pronounced Hi-ho-me) inhaler is made of hard rubber and can be easily carried in pocket or purse. It will last a lifetime. Into this inhaler you pour a few drops of magical Hyomei. This is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within and now you are ready to breathe it in over the germ-infested membrane where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarrh germs. Hyomei is made of Australian eucalyptol combined with other antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe.

It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds or mucus back. It cleans out a stuffed up head in two minutes. So do buy druggists everywhere and by Jno. L. Wooten. Complete outfit including inhaler and one bottle of Hyomei, $1.00. And remember that extra bottles if afterward needed cost only 50c.

Wells Browne Hangs Wall Paper

Resolved: That you might as well poke your money down a rat hole and expect good results, as to give it to some one who doesn't know any more about paper hanging than a rabbit. When your wall paper pops loose and hangs down in festoons, the fact stares you in the face, that you have made a mistake and wasted your money. Next time you contemplate papering your house talk to Wells Browne. He is headquarters in this line. He is reliable, reasonable in his prices, and ready to make good anything that goes wrong with his work. New goods coming in, up-to-date and a season ahead. Paste this in your hat and next time you want anything in his line, come to Browne's play house on Dickerson Ave., below Five Points, and tell your troubles to him. Don't Buy a Piano Hurriedly Take Your Time —plenty of it, and be extremely careful how you spend your piano money.

Terms amount to very little—glistening promises cover a multitude of faults—you can get satisfactory terms anywhere, but a satisfactory piano at a precious few places.

We have 8 makes under grades and classification as follows: highest medium and low. Each grade is characterized by the price we ask for it. Whatever price you are willing to pay for a piano, if bought from us, you will be getting legitimate value, as you won't be deceived in the grade you are getting. We have several self-player Pianos at bargain prices.

A Cold Storage In Your Home

You can not be too careful in buying a refrigerator, as much of the illness in some families can be traced directly to using insanitary refrigerators. We have carefully investigated all the many makes of refrigerators, and have secured a line which we can positively guarantee to be the cleanest and most sanitary refrigerators made. No germs are possible with this smooth, seamless surface, and they can be kept spotless and germless for years to come. One of these refrigerators will soon pay for itself in saving of ice bills. Before you buy let us show you our complete line of perfectly constructed refrigerators. They cost no more than the ordinary kind.

HOMINY AND SAUERKRAUT.

Properly Cooked, One Suggests Beethoven, the Other Wagner.

Why is it that sauerkraut is never truly fit to eat until it has been cooked twice, with an interregnum of twenty-four hours separating the cooking? And why is it that hominy boiled and then fried is at times as delicious as hominy simply boiled?

In each case every hearty and artistic eater is aware of the fact, but no one thinks to discover the reason: Among the ignorant, of course, sauerkraut is devoured at once and after its first stewing, but the present inquiry is not directed toward the habits of the ignorant. To the connoisseur of educated taste, to the refined amateur of delicatessen, sauerkraut cooked once is as unsavory a mess as Philadelphia peppercorn or Boston beans. The very thought of it benumbs his stomach and insults his intelligence. And yet if that same sauerkraut be laid away for twenty-four hours, preferably in a stone jar, with a brick on top, and be brought to a simmer in some suitable stewpan that same connoisseur will walk twenty miles in the snow to get a scent of it and a hundred miles on redhot coals to get a few skeins of it.

In the Bavarian and Saxon royal families the sauerkraut for Sunday's breakfast is always cooked on Friday evening. An hour or two of brisk ebullition is enough. Then the beautiful strands are dredged up from the caldron and transferred to a large copper or earthen vessel, which is deposited overnight in some convenient arsenal. There the kraut remains all day Saturday and Saturday night. At dawn on Sunday morning it is withdrawn from its vault and transferred to an aluminium stewpan and seasoned. Then the mixture is heated, and the result is sauerkraut de luxe. Once cooked it would be mere food; twice cooked it is a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Hominy has the same habits. Boil it once and it is food for convicts and political hangers-on, but boil it twice or boil it and then fry it and it is lifted at once to the range of a superb and flawless victual. The man who has never tasted hominy in conjunction with the native wild hog of the Eastern Shore of Maryland is a man whose right to be regarded as entirely civilized and cultured is yet to be demonstrated. Such viands—and, alas, they are too few!—ennoble while they warm and educate while they nourish. In the art of eating their place is as high as that of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony in the art of music.

Hominy, indeed, suggests Beethoven in more ways than one. It shows all of his rugged simplicity and honest worth. There is a directness about it which wins the heart. It is above all pretense and subterfuge. Sauerkraut, on the other hand, is more romantic. It is not Beethoven, but Wagner. No matter how well one knows it, it is full of delicious novelties and surprises.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Shifting the Responsibility.

An Irishman who traded in small wares kept a donkey cart, with which he visited the different villages. On one occasion he came to a bridge where a toll was levied.

He found to his disappointment he had not enough money to pay it. A bright thought struck him. He unharnessed the donkey and put it into the cart. Then, getting between the shafts himself, he pulled the cart with the donkey standing in it on to the bridge.

In due course he was hailed by the toll collector.

"Hey, man!" cried the latter. "Whaur's your toll?"

"Begorra," said the Irishman, "just ask the droiver."

Privileges of a Peer.

An English peer can demand a private audience with the sovereign to represent his views on matters of public welfare. For treason or felony he can demand to be tried by his peers. He cannot be outlawed in any civil action, nor can he be arrested unless for an indictable offense, and he is exempt from serving on juries. He may sit with his hat on in courts of justice, and should he be liable to the last penalty of the law he can demand a silken instead of a hempen rope.

One Attraction Missing.

"Say," said the young writer who had been engaged by the circus man to write up a prospectus of the show, "I've about exhausted my vocabulary on this thing. Have you a thesaurus?"

"No, by thunder!" said the circus man. "We've only got a rhinoceros, but I'll cable over and buy one."—New York Times.

A SENSE OF HUMOR.

This Man's Better Half Had It In an Aggravated Form.

There's nothing in that old saying about women not having any sense of humor.

Here's a case that happened: The Campions, Mr. and Mrs., boarded the Euclid car to make the homeward journey.

Campion had just discovered that he was entirely without funds except a check tucked away in his pocketbook—not even a dime for car fare.

"I've spoken to you several times about such carelessness," observed Mrs. Campion in a vexed tone. "If I didn't happen to have 20 or 30 cents in my purse we'd have to walk home, for it's too late for you to get that check cashed. You ought to make sure that you have change in your pocket before you get on the street car."

"Oh, well, s'long as you've got car fare let's don't worry about what might happen," put in Campion irritably. "I've never been put off a street car yet."

The car was so nearly filled that they couldn't get seats together, but sat down on opposite sides of the aisle, still glaring at each other.

"My wife'll hand it to you," says Campion, nodding in the direction of his helpmeet.

The fare taker went over to her. She handed him a quarter, and he gave her 15 cents change.

"What's this for—my change is a nickel short?" she inquired icily.

"Took out for your husband," replied the conductor.

She looked around. "What! That man told you to get his fare from me? Why, I never saw him before. He's an impostor."

Campion was game. And all that saved him from being put off the car was that he persuaded the conductor to accept three two-cent stamps.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

How Bells Are Tuned.

When certain bells in a chime produce discord they can be tuned. The tone of a bell may be raised or lowered by cutting off a little metal in the proper places. To lower the tone the bell tuner puts the bell in his lathe and reams it out from the point where the swell begins nearly down to the rim. As the work proceeds he frequently tests the note with a tuning fork, and the moment the right tone is reached he stops the reaming. To raise the tone, on the contrary, he shaves off the lower edge of the bell, gradually lessening or flattening the bevel, in order to shorten the bell, for of two bells of equal diameter and thickness the shorter will give the higher note.

A notable instance of bell tuning was at Lausanne, where twelve bells in three neighboring steeples produced only seven distinct notes and produced a most curious discord.—Harper's Weekly.

Her Great Question.

This desire to uplift the sisterhood has many drawbacks and discouragements. Mrs. Lysander John Appleton recently conducted such a meeting. She spoke of the blind groping of her sisters for higher ideals and the troubled questions that obtruded themselves upon their subconsciousness all through the day and night. "I would like to hear from you," she said. "Perhaps in your yearning for a solution of the problems that confront you I may be able to help you. Mrs. Boogs, tell us what is the great question of your life." Mrs. Boogs rose, pale and trembling. "It is this," she said: "What shall I get for the next meal?"—Atchison Globe.

A Delicate Proposal.

A Scotchman who had survived three wives and who had a fourth in contemplation decided upon a delicate method of proposing to the latest object of his affections. Accordingly he took her to walk one afternoon, and before she realized where their footsteps tended they had arrived at the graveyard where his lost loves lay buried. Standing before the three tombstones, he said: "There lies Jeannie, there lies Grissel, there lies Maggie, and," he added, pointing to the next vacant space and taking her hand tenderly, "how wad you like to lie there?"

How Did He Know?

"I am not pleased," said the hotel guest to the landlord, "with the lack of confidence you show in your patrons."

"Explain," said the landlord. "In a corner of my room is a chiffonier. On top of it is a card saying in large letters, 'Private property.'"

"Yes?"

"But, besides telling the chance occupant of the room that the chiffonier is private property, you have locked all its drawers."

"Ah! How did you know they are locked?"—Chicago News.

Cobb, one dated July 11, 1909, and the other dated the 1st day of September, 1902, and respectively recorded in the register of deeds office of Pitt county, North Carolina, in book "S. 7," page 231 et seq and in book "S. 7," page 244 et seq the undersigned will expose to public sale, before the court house door in Greenville, the highest bidder on Tuesday, May 24th, 1910, a certain lot or parcel of land lying and being in the county of Pitt and State of North Carolina and in the town of Greenville described known as the Masonic Temple property, fronting on Third street 55 feet and bounded on the south by said street, on the east by lot No. 99 on which the court house of Pitt county stood, on the north by lot No. 77, and on the west by the lot formerly belonging to Dr. W. J. Blow, excepting a part of said lot 30 feet square heretofore conveyed to the town of Greenville and upon which the water stand pipe of said town is located. At the same time and place we will sell the brick and other debris upon said lot, to satisfy said deed of trusts. Terms of sale cash. This 15th day of April, 1910 James L. Little, Robt. J. Cobb, Trustees.

That dreadful burning, itching skin, whether caused by eczema, tetter, salt rheum, weeping skin, scald head, milk crust, puritus or what—there's just one remedy in all the world that cures it forever, and that's Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Because it removes the cause; because it cleanses and purifies the blood. Jno. L. Wooten.
