HON. B. F. AYCOCK DEAD.

Passed Away Suddenly Tuesday Night at His Home in Fremont.

A telephone message to The Reflector, Tuesday night, announced that Hon. Benjamin F. Aycock died suddenly at 8:30 p. m. at his home in Fremont. He had for some weeks been in poor health, but recently become so much better as to enable him to be out again. He drove out to his farm Tuesday afternoon and ate a hearty supper upon his return home. After supper he was sitting in a chair talking with his family, when suddenly he fell over and passed away in a few moments. His sudden death was a great shock and surprise. His funeral will take place Thursday afternoon. Mr. Aycock was a man of much prominence and well known throughout the State. He was State senator from Wayne county for several years and in the last election was made a member of the State corporation commission which position he filled with ability and credit. He was a brother of ex-Gov. C. B. Aycock.

COMMISSION PLAN.

It is Now Being Talked About Seriously.

It seems that the government-by-commission plan is to have the serious consideration of Salisbury. Since Alderman Thompson pronounced, in an interview in The Post last week in favor of the plan, there has been much discussion of the subject and a movement is on foot to call a mass meeting to the end that the legislature of 1911 be memorialized to give the citizens a chance to vote on the subject. Today Alderman L. Ed. Heilig comes out in favor of the plan. Asked what he thought of a commission for Salisbury he said:

"I think very favorably of the plan. What I say in regard to the plan is from the standpoint of a citizen and from what I believe to be the highest and best interest of the city and in keeping with the progress of the times.

"And what I shall say has not the slightest reference to the administration or any part of it, of which I am a member, or how it will affect the future of myself or any one else politically or otherwise. I believe that every man connected with the administration is trying hard to do his duty.

"I am looking at the matter from the broad standpoint of what will advance and fastest promote the growth and development of the city of Salisbury along all lines.

"I believe that the commission plan will eliminate to a great extent the different factions existing in the city and in other cities, for that matter, which have the usual municipal plan of government the same as ours. These factions will always hinder and hold back the progress of any city.

"I believe the present plan old in years, over the greatest part of the country, obsolete and antiquated."—Salisbury Post.

Straight Wall at Last.

After laying three brick walls, two of them in former years, the town has at last got a straight wall on the line of the Forbes property on the east side of Evans street near the culvert. Altogether there are bricks enough in that sidewalk to build a house.

Invitations to this reception will not include any male residents of Greenville who are not members of the club, but all ladies of the town will be invited. There will be a good musical program, and after the reception there will be a dance for the young people, a fine orchestra having been engaged to furnish music for this.

An Ornamented Egg.

It is too late for Easter eggs, but Caesar Vines, colored, sent The Reflector one that looks like the hen that laid it was trying to ornament it for something. It is odd shaped to begin with, and on it are several designs arranged like a shield with something like a man's head looking over two flags at the top. Or reversed it looks like a man's head and bust in part of a frame. Guess there was a piece of paper with a picture on it in that hen's nest.

STATE NEWS.

Newsy Items of Interest Condensed for Busy Readers.

Washington, N. C., April 26.—A jail delivery took place at the city jail here last night, four white prisoners affecting their escape by knocking a hole through the front wall of the jail.

Rocky Mount, April 26.—The 24th day of this month was a record breaker for handling cars on the Atlantic Coast Line. In South Rocky Mount 2,024 freight cars were handled through there, which is the largest number ever handled in one day by this road. The preceding day however, missed this amount by one car only, the number being 2,023. This is a heavy traffic and speaks well for business. Ninety-four cars of strawberries passed through here yesterday, which is the largest shipment of berries yet made this season. When one considers the unfavorable weather conditions this report is very encouraging.

One day this week as Mrs. W. T. Klutz, who lives on the car line between Salisbury and Spencer was breaking eggs to cook she found a perfectly formed egg, a size larger than a partridge egg, inside the egg, in place of the yolk. The white of the large egg surrounded the small egg the same as the yolk is surrounded in ordinary eggs. The shell of the small egg is as hard as the large one, the difference besides the size, for it is perfectly formed being that the large egg was white and small one is yellow. What looks much like a spider's web is plainly marked on the small egg. Mrs. Klutz is keeping the egg as a curiosity.—Salisbury Post.

Statesville, April 26.—For some months a mining engineer, a foreigner, has been prospecting for gold in the vicinity of county line and the edge of Rowan, and recently he has found small quantities of the valuable mineral on the lands of Mrs. Dave Steele, on the edge of Rowan, about three miles east of Oak Forest. Two prospectors from the north came to Statesville a few days ago and drove from here to the Steele place to examine the samples of ore and look over the grounds and it is said that they were favorably impressed with the outlook. It is not known whether or not mining operations will be attempted. Small veins of gold have been found at a number of places in Rowan and Davie counties but it has not been found profitable to mine the ore.

Tobacco Markets to Open on Aug. 18.

At a meeting of representatives from the tobacco markets of Rocky Mount, Greenville, Kinston and Wilson held in Wilson April 26, it was unanimously agreed that the tobacco markets in these towns would not open the coming season until Aug. 18th, instead of the 1st, as heretofore, and it was agreed that the same be done and that due notice be given thereof through the columns of the newspapers.

THE SECOND HUNDRED THOUSAND

State Superintendent Issues Instructions to County Boards and Supts.

State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner yesterday issued instructions and blanks to the county superintendents and boards of education for the itemized statement to be submitted to the boards of county commissioners of the various counties on the first Monday in June in accordance with the law providing for a more equitable apportionment of the second hundred thousand dollars and the levying of a special tax for the maintenance of one or more public schools in every school district for a term of four months in each year.

At the end of the instructions Superintendent Joyner says:

"Patience, persuasion and persistence will perfect at last our school system. We must be content, however, with gradual, but continuous progress in the right direction. Properly enforced, this law opens the way for great improvement in the public schools in the counties where the need is the greatest and for providing in every district for at least four months in every year the right sort of school, with the right sort of house, the right sort of teachers and the right sort of supervision."—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Master Hail Story from Person.

There was a hail storm in Person county a few days ago and as a result thereof the Durham Herald flashes this story, credited to a Person county farmer:

"He (the farmer aforesaid) declared that so furiously did the balls fly to the earth that his cow had holes beaten in her ear, all the way through, all of the hair was beaten off her back and the hide was stung through. This wasn't done by balls of ice the size of a cow's head, but by marble-like substance that fell so rapidly that it wore the skin out. He says his cow is still living and that the marks will bear him out."

CROP DAMAGE.

Southern Cotton and Other Crops Seriously Injured.

The blizzard also wrought great damage to fruit and grain throughout the middle west. Dispatches from all over the Mississippi Valley indicate that Saturday night's reports of a total damage of $50,000,000 were not exaggerated.

The following are the estimates of the damage caused by the storm in the above sections:

- Illinois, $6,000,000.
- Indiana, $5,000,000.
- Iowa, $8,000,000.
- Ohio, $1,000,000.
- Tennessee, $1,000,000.
- Minnesota and Northwest, $7,000,000.
- Wisconsin, $3,000,000.
- Michigan, $16,000,000.
- Nebraska, $2,000,000.
- Kansas, $5,000,000.
- Missouri, Kentucky and Arkansas, $2,000,000.

Damage to Young Cotton.

Atlanta, Ga., April 26.—Last night's reports of the damage done to young cotton crop by the cold wave which overspread the entire Southland Sunday night and Monday, were not exaggerated. This is proven by reports from all sections of the cotton belt which indicate that at least 50 per cent of the young cotton was destroyed. Further damage was added by the frost on this morning in sections of Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and parts of South and North Carolina. It was reported this morning as far as Thomasville, on the southern boundary of Georgia.

Cotton seed oil mills in this and other States have signified their willingness to supply farmers with seed to the extent of their supplies, but it is thought these will not be sufficient for re-planting the vast area affected by the cold.

Pay your poll tax, and vote.

Not many days more in which to pay your poll tax in time to save your vote.

Peek a boo waists look chilly in the midst of these April weather antics.

The census enumerators in the towns will finish taking stock this week.

It is a fact that more moonshine stills are caught on dark nights than on moonlight nights.

North Carolina loses another excellent man and useful citizen in the death of Corporation Commissioner B. F. Aycock, which occurred Tuesday night in Fremont.

The storm of snow and frost that extended far to the South the last few days materially damaged the young cotton plants and may cause the crop to be quite short.

Since J. B. Sherrill, editor of the Concord Times, has purchased the Daily Tribune, of that town, he has greatly improved it. He is making it a splendid afternoon paper, but nothing else was expected of Sherrill.

A permit is hereby issued, the Greenville Reflector to stick to 'em through the cold spell in May.—Greensboro News.

Thanks, old boy, we shall use the permit.—Greenville Reflector.

Gosh! If a permit is all the brother is going to use why we make a motion to pass the hat for his benefit, because he will get pneumonia sure.—Wilmington Dispatch.

Well, pass the hat quick, and we will use the residue, if any there be, to prolong the stay at Wrightsville.

President Taft had a good eye ahead when he appointed Governor Hughes, of New York, as a justice of the United States Supreme court to succeed Justice Brewer, deceased. Governor Hughes' name was frequently mentioned as a presidential possibility, and his acceptance of this appointment takes him out of the way. Governor Hughes will continue in his present position until October when his duties on the Supreme court bench will begin.

Cattle Raising at Home.

Now and then the newspapers contain accounts of splendid beef-cattle brought from the mountain counties of the State for sale in the markets east of the Blue Ridge, and people wonder why since such fine cattle can be raised there, more attention is not paid this remunerative branch of agriculture.

The question is often asked, but the answer is not so readily forthcoming. What is said as to the mountain counties might be said of many other sections of the State. That fine beef cattle can be raised in the central section is shown by the following from the local columns of the Burlington News: "Malone & Miles, beef dealers of this city, purchased a three year old Dutch Belt cow from the Occonechie farm last week that weighed 840 pounds net, 210 pounds to the quarter. They paid $75 for this one animal." The News says this was the largest cow ever butchered in that section. It cost no more or very little more, to raise that cow than it would have cost for one of half the same weight of a scrub species. If one farmer can raise such cattle, others can do the same. We want to see more of them profit by the experience of those who set them such an example. Charlotte Observer.

If it is not one thing it is another. If the fruit is not killed, it has trouble of some kind. This year it is said the trees are so full that they cannot stand up under the load and that it will be unable to properly mature. One man says if three peaches out of every four will fall off his crop will be fine.—Greensboro Record.

A community is as its citizens make it. People build cities, for cities do not build themselves. Pride is often selfish as an exhibit of one family towards another, but make pride general in a community, make this pride enthusiastic in this character, and it will be found that the next step will be that of a local patriotism, that will push forward not only individual interests, but there will be a general make forward of every interest in the community.—New Bern Journal.

Considerate.
Muggins is not handsome, and he knows it. When his first baby was born he asked, "Does it look like me?" Of course they replied in the affirmative.
"Well," said he, with a sigh, "break it to my wife gently."—London Tit.

ROSE TO THE OCCASION.

A Polite Elephant and a Ready Witted Showman.

That everything should be in its own place is a matter not only of convenience, but of necessity for some people and some animals, as the following examples from John Augustus O'Shea's "Leaves From the Life of a Special Correspondent" go to prove. Certain orders of intellect run smoothly in accustomed grooves, but have no ability to meet any unusual occasion. The author describes a visit to a traveling menagerie.

The showman was repeating his lesson like a schoolboy. He was enlarging on the peculiarities of the ostrich of Africa, upon the uncanny form of which the visitors were supposed to be gazing.

"But, my friend," I remarked in an undertone to that functionary, "that is not the ostrich of Africa; that is the pelican of Australia."

"They're always playing jokes on me!" exclaimed the showman plaintively. "How can a cove tell which is which if they goes on a-changing of the cages when his back is turned?"

In the other instance of the value of order it was the animal which was not equal to the emergency. The showman rose superior to such slight vicissitudes of fortune.

In the illness of the regular showman a substitute was furnished with a piece of paper setting forth the elephant's tricks.

"The behemoth will now walk around the ring on three legs!" shouted the showman.

Behemoth did as ordered, and the audience applauded.

"The behemoth will now stand on his hind legs!" The elephant performing his tasks faithfully.

At last a mistake was made in the order. Throwing his whip on the ground, the showman announced that the behemoth would now lift the whip with his trunk. Nothing of the kind happened. The elephant began moving around the ring backward. A negro attendant whispered to the showman:

"That's his next number!" The showman was equal to the occasion and said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, my favorite is not backing out of his engagement, but he is more polite than I and wishes to make his farewell before he goes. So polished are his manners that he retires as he might at court and presently will follow with the whip."
